Genealogies of CONNECTICUT FAMILIES

From The New England Historical and Genealogical Register

GEER NOTES.—Walter Geer in the Geer Genealogy (1923), p. 17, lists the children of Joseph[2] Geer (George[1]), born 14 Oct. 1664, died 10 Aug. 1743, married in Preston, Conn., 7 Jan. 1692, Sarah Howard as follows: Joseph, b. 17 Oct. 1692; Keziah, b. 23 Feb. 1710; Sarah, b. 17 Sept. 1712; Benajah, b. 31 May 1714; Joseph, b. 29 May 1719; Silas, b. 26 March 1722; Ezra, b. 16 May 1724. Joseph[3] Geer is said to have married in Preston, 18 Oct. 1713, Susannah Silsby [not identified] and to have had two children: James, b. 17 Jan. 1715 and Susannah, b. 28 March 1717. He died 19 May 1718 and his father administered his estate. However, his will proves that he died unmarried. In it James and Susannah are called his brother and sister (New London County Probates, Book 1, p. 9).

The Vital Records of Preston, Conn. (Barbour Collection (1919)) show the birth of Benajah, son of Joseph and Sarah Geer, born May 31, 1707-19 from the town records, vol. 1, p. 17 and Benajah, son of Joseph and Sarah Geer, born May 31, 1714, from vol. 1, p. 106. There are similar conflicts in the birth dates of some of the other children; Joseph[3] is said to have been born 17 Oct. 1693; Sarah is entered on page 17 as born on 17-16 Feb. 1712 and on page 106 as born 17 Sept. 1712. The record of the marriage of Joseph[2] Geer to Susannah Silsby (vol. 1, p. 17) calls her Susannah Simsby. An exhaustive search of Connecticut and Massachusetts records fails to turn up a Simsby family. This, together with the fact that James[3] Geer, her son, named a son Silsby, would seem to confirm Mr. Walter Geer's conclusion. She was probably the daughter of Jonathan[2] Silsby (Henry[1]) of Ipswich and Lynn, Mass., and Windham, Conn.

Since Joseph Geer and Susannah Silsby were married 18 Oct. 1713, the birth of a son Banajah to the said Joseph and Sarah on 31 May 1714 is manifestly impossible. A further discrepancy comes to light with the discovery of the baptism of Sarah, daughter of Joseph Geer, in the First Congregational Church, Preston, on 1 June 1707, by the Rev. Salmon Treat. It would appear that the child born to Joseph and Sarah Geer on 31 May 1707 was Sarah—not Benajah—and that the dates of birth had been reversed.

A letter to the town of Preston pointing out the discrepancies and questioning whether volume 1 of the Town Records might be a copy of an earlier record and not the original brought the following response from the Assistant Town Clerk: "I have checked the records and they are as you have stated. Though I cannot verify it I believe that the records were probably copied which would account for the fact that the same family was not carried out on the same page."

There is also the possibility that the original records might have been destroyed and, as has happened in other New England towns, been reconstructed from the memories of the inhabitants.

Sarah Geer, the mother of Benajah, Keziah, and Sarah Geer, died after 17 Sept. 1712 and before October 1713. Was she the first wife Sarah Howard, born in Norwich in 1669, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Wellman) Howard, mother of Joseph[3] Geer or did Joseph[2] Geer have two wives named Sarah? The lapse of fourteen years between Joseph and the next child leaves room for question.

Cambridge, Mass. ANNE BORDEN HARDING.

THE GILBERT FAMILY.

BY J. WINGATE THORNTON, ESQ.*

There is a historical propriety in introducing the name of Gilbert into the pages of the New England Register, as none is more honorably or intimately connected with American discoveries, geography, and early history. It stands conspicuous among the illustrious names of Raleigh, Drake, Cavendish, Gosnold, Hawkins, and a host of naval worthies; and, with singular happiness, is joined with the three first named, in lineage, as well as in the less tangible but generous relationship of mind.

The name Gilbert is Saxon. Camden, in his "Remaines concerning Britaine," thus discourses upon its origin and signification. "Gilbert, German, I supposed heretofore to signifie Gold-like-bright, as Aurelius or Aurelianus; or yellow bright, as Flavius with the Romans. For Geele is yellow in old Saxon, and still in Dutch, as Gilvus according to some in Latine. But, because it is written in Dooms-day booke Gislebert, I judge it rather to signifie Bright or brave pledge; for in old Saxon, Gisle signifieth a pledge, and in the old English booke of S. Augustines of Canterbury, sureties and pledges for keeping the peace are called Fredgisles." It is written on the Roll of Battle Abbey, T. Gilbard. Richard Fitz Gilbert, a kinsman of the conqueror, and a principal personage, was, for his services, advanced to great honors and possessions. His son, Earl Pembroke, died 14 King Stephen, 1149, leaving a son, Richard Gilbert, surnamed Strong Bow. The Earls of Clare were of this lineage. Robertus de Gerebert was a testis to a deed of William de Vernon, Earl of Devon, to the church of Brumor, in the age of King John, 1199–1216. Gilbert de Thornton was "the King's Serjeant at Law," in 1281, and in 1290, chief justice of the King's Bench.

1060. Gilbert de Gaunt came with William the Conqueror.

1100. Gislebert was Archdeacon of Buckingham.

1115. Gilbert, of Saxon origin, was a citizen of London, joined in the Crusades, and was father of Thomas a Becket.

1148. Gilbert, Lord of Sempringham, Lincolnshire, founded the Order of Gilbertine friars.

1215. Gilbert, treasurer of Lincoln Cathedral.

1240. Gilbert, Archdeacon of Stow.

1414. Robert Gilbert, S. T. P., Precentor of Lincoln — 1418, Prebend of Lincoln, and afterward Bishop of London.

1487. Thomas Gilbert, LL. D., Prebendary of Lincoln.

1492. Thomas Gilbert, Vicar-general of Chelsea College.

The name is eminent in the annals of the Church, State, and Learning of England, through several centuries. Its early and principal home is in Devonshire, and from this stock, distinguished in naval and commercial history and geographical science and discoveries, issued many branches, planted in other portions of the country. They possessed lands in Manaton, in or near Dartmoor, in Edward the Confessor's days, 1272–1307. Westcote, who was born in Shobrook, in Devonshire, in 1567, and wrote his history of that county in 1630, says that at Marledon, on the River Darte, is a chapel built by the ancestors of the Gilberts, who have an ancient monument there; one of them lieth in the church, with his wife, their proportions cut into stone." He describes Greenway, the ancient seat of the Gilberts, as "very pleasantly and commodiously placed, with a most delightsome prospect to behold the barks and boats to pass and repass upon the river flowing from Dartmouth to Totnes. This hath long continued in a family of much estimation, the Gilberts alias Jilberts of knightly rank. It is very anciently written Gislebert, or Gerebert, as in the Conqueror's Book of Survey among the Tenures in Devon. Of this progeny have been divers of great desert and sufficiency."

Thomas, son of Jeffrey Gilbert, "married Jane, or Joan, daughter of William Compton of Compton, in the parish of Marldon, near the Torlay, who for her partage brought him Compton, in the days of King Edward II., 1307–1327." Prince, in his "Worthies of Devon," says that the Gilberts "have matched as they descended into honorable houses, as of Champernoon, Croker, Hill, Chudleigh, Agar, Molineux, Pomeroy, &c., and have yielded matches to others, in particular to the noble family of Grenviles. They have married also divers daughters and heirs, as Compton, Champernon, Valetort, (whereby they touch the blood royal,) Reynward, Trenoch, Littleton alias Westcott, Kelley and others from whose loins have proceeded many eminent persons which were of old men of renown. Such was Otho, called also Otis Gilbert, High Sheriff of Devonshire, 15 Edward IV." 1475–6.

Sir Humphry Gilbert, one of the most accomplished men of his day, devoted his early years to liberal studies, "computations astronomicall and cosmographicall, speculations in Alchemy," but especially to mathematics, as appeared by his subsequent life. He was "a man both valiant and well experienced in martial affaires." About 1570, he proposed to Queen Elizabeth a plan for a University in the metropolis, which has been edited recently by Sir H. Ellis, from a MS. in the British Museum. The famous astrologer, Dr. John Dee, entered in his Diary, November 6, 1577, that "Sir Umfrey Gilbert came to see me at Mortlake," curiously showing Gilbert's favorite science of numbers, leading his mind to the supposed occult influences of the stars — but all were believers then, and about four years after, June 17, 1581, Dr. Dee writes, "Young Mr. Hawkins who had byn with Sir Francis Drake came to me at Mortlake." Drake had returned from his famous voyage about nine months before, September 26, 1580, and "young Mr. Hawkins," was without doubt the embryo of Sir Richard Hawkins, whose history is well known. Queen Elizabeth also consulted Dr. Dee. In 1576, S. Humphrey published his learned and ingenious "Discourse to prove a passage by the North West to Cathaia and the East Indies."

The accompanying pedigree is made from the several accounts in Prince, Westcott, Polwhele, Hakluyt, Purchas, Hollingshed, and Gorges, and the manuscripts* in the Herald's College, which seem contradictory one to the other, and inconsistent with themselves; but a cautious collation of the dates and historical references exhibits the true lineage, stated in the tabular form, and, it is believed, reconciling the apparent discrepancies, as will appear by a careful study of the original authorities.

Queen Elizabeth's governess, Mrs. Kate Ashley, to whom she was fondly attached, exercised the most remarkable influence over the mind of her royal pupil from her earliest years. She was aunt to Sir Humphrey Gilbert, to whom Sir Walter Raleigh was uterine brother, and was married to a relative of Anne Boleyn, the queen's unfortunate mother. Queen Elizabeth placed her chief favor and confidence in her maternal kindred to the end of her life, and Mrs. Ashley's powerful influence was of great advantage to her nephews.

The Rev. Dr. Holmes,* following modern writers, says of Sir Walter Raleigh, "one of the greatest and most accomplished persons of the age in which he lived," that "he was the first Englishman who projected settlements in America, and is justly considered the founder of Virginia. To him, and to Sir Humphrey Gilbert, is ascribed the honor of laying the foundation of the trade and naval power of Great Britain;" but a little observation will prove Gilbert's superior title to that distinction, and that Sir Walter was merely his executor. He was thirteen years the senior of Raleigh. The brothers, Sir Humphrey, Sir John, Sir Adrian, and Sir Walter, a goodly company, in youth dwelling under one roof, with congeniality of spirit in their grand and ambitious views, pursued their studies with the enthusiasm of great minds; guided by the genius of Sir Humphrey, in after life, each gave form and action to the thoughts, or rather the thought, which won for them a lasting fame, and has peopled North America with the Anglo-Saxon race. Where can be found a nobler brotherhood? and, with truth, Sir Francis Drake may be added to the family circle at Compton, as their relative.

June 11, 1578, Queen Elizabeth granted letters patent to Sir Humphrey to discover and take possession of all remote and barbarous lands, unoccupied by any Christian prince or people, "for himself and his heirs forever," and soon after, with a fleet of "ten sailes of all sorts of shipping, well and sufficiently furnished for such an enterprise, weighed anchor in the west country and set to sea," upon this first adventure, "having in his companie his two brethren, Walter and Carey Rawley," but returned unsuccessful. Walter, with characteristic ambition, withdrew from the command of the Admiral to accomplish something "worthie of honor," but he too returned, after a disastrous voyage, without success.

Just five years after the date of his patent, June 11, 1583, they again sailed from Plymouth, under the auspices of Sir. Geo. Peckam, the chief adventurer and furtherer of the expedition. Sir Humphrey, the admiral of the fleet, was in the "Delight," of 120 tons, of which William Winter was captain, and part owner, and Richard Clarke, master. Sir Walter, his Vice-Admiral, was obliged to return on account of a contagious sickness on board his bark, which he had built, victualled, and manned at his own expense. On the 5th August, Sir Humphrey took seizen of New Foundland, and the adjacent territories, for the crown of England, by "the ancient ceremony of cutting turf or rod," and his first act was to establish publick worship according to the Church of England. "Edward Haies, gentleman and principal actour" therein, made "A Report of the voyage, and successe thereof, attempted in the yeare of our Lord 1583, by Sir Humfrey Gilbert, knight, with other gentlemen assisting him in that action, intended to discover and to plant Christian inhabitants in place convenient, upon those large and ample countreys extended northward from the cape of Florida lying under very temperate climes, esteemed fertile and rich in minerals, yet not in the actual possession of any Christian prince." The admiral selected the "frigat Squirrel,"* of ten tons, the better to survey the coast. When last seen, he was seated in the stern of his little "frigat," with an open book, and was heard by the people in the "Hind," to say, "We are as near heaven by sea as by land;" and on that night, the 9th of September, 1583, in a violent storm, "the lights of his ship suddenly disappeared," the vessel foundered, and Sir Humphrey was lost. Thus abruptly was terminated his career, glorious in its inception; he was fortunate in leaving an intimate and thorough knowledge of his designs with his brother, Sir Walter, who, soon after, March 25, 1584, obtained from Queen Elizabeth a virtual renewal of Sir Humphrey's Patent, with all its ample prerogatives, fully developed his plans, and became the founder of Virginia.

Sir Humphrey projected and Sir Walter survived to accomplish "his noble attempt to possess and people the remote countries of America."

"And now behold the infinite goodness of our God, who even from evil deriveth good; for out of these crosses, turmoils, and afflictions he hath caused to grow the fruit we already see: and much more we are to hope for in New England, Virginia, and the New Foundland."

Meanwhile, Sir Adrian Gilbert, who had at one time "wrought" silver mines at Combemartin, in Devonshire, in 1583, the year of his brother's death, obtained from Queen Elizabeth a Patent for the discovery of a North-west passage to China, to remain in force five years, by the title of "The Colleagues of the Fellowship for the Discovery of the North-west Passage;" but they accomplished nothing worthy of note.

Bartholomew Gilbert sailed from Plymouth May 10, 1603, in the bark Elizabeth, of 50 tons, for further discovery, and to search for the lost colony of Sir Walter Ralegh, which ended in his death, July 29, being "killed by the savages in the wood." He was probably a nephew of Sir Humphrey.

We now approach more immediately to our own time and shores, and in 1607 find Sir John and Capt. Ralegh Gilbert, perseveringly engaged in their hereditary scheme of peopling America with Englishmen. Holmes relates that Sir John Popham and others sent out two ships under the command of George Popham and Raleigh Gilbert, with 100 men, with ordnance and all provisions necessary until they might receive further supplies. They sailed from Plymouth about the last of May, and, falling in with the land of Monhigon on the 11th of August, encamped on an island at the mouth of the Sagadahock, or Kennebeck River, on the coast of Maine. Here, after a sermon was delivered, and their patent and laws were read, they built and fortified a store-house, which they named Fort St. George. On the 5th of December the two ships sailed for England, leaving a colony of 45 persons, Popham being president, and Gilbert, admiral. The death of Ch. J. Popham depressed the colonists; but, says, Gorges "when [July 5, 1608,] they heard of the death of Sir John Gilbert, elder brother of Rawley Gilbert, that was then their president, a man worthy to be beloved of them all, for his industry and care for their well-being," they unanimously resolved to return to England, and thus ended another fruitless experiment. Says Capt. John Smith, this colony found "nothing but extreme extremities." "During the long winter, and the after time of their abode there, they built a bark, which afforded them some advantage in their return;" probably the first vessel built on these shores.*

*I have made considerable research to ascertain the size of the early ships, and though there was no definite mode of tonnage, their estimates of size agree substantially with the modern calculation. In Wingate's Abr., 514, 39th Elizabeth, is a statute respecting "Ships with cross-sails," as to "customs," showing a want of any more definite description than could be given by the tackle of the ship, though the same statute refers to levying a duty of "50 Soulz per Tun." In Derick's Memoirs of the Rise and Progress of the Royal Navy, 1806, 4°. 59–61, he gives a table of 50 ships existing in 1633, and says this is "the earliest List of the Navy I have met with wherein any of the ships' principal dimensions are inserted, and "the first list in which any nice regard appears to have been paid to the tonnage of the ships. Previous to 1633, the tonnage of almost "every ship seems to have been rather estimated than calculated, being inserted in even numbers."

To what extent these enterprises, of such "great pith and moment," nurtured chiefly by Devonshire, for more than half a century, influenced that and the West country, can only be conjectured; but the generous contributions of Devonshire, to the New England Colonies, may be safely attributed, in a degree, to their locality, and the spirit of colonization begotten among them by the GILBERTS and their associates; and it is natural, therefore, that we find so many of the good old West of England families among the earliest emigrants to our shores, the Vaughans, Tristrams, Waldron, Bonython, Coffin, Conant, Crocker, Edgecomb, Heale, Goodyear, Ridgway, Cammock, Booth, Jordan, Cary, Gee, Champernoon.† Nor are we disappointed in our search among them for the names most prominent among the early voyagers, as Gilbert, Drake, Hawkins, Winter, etc., so many historical ties between Old and New England. They settled chiefly in Maine, where, as late as 1673, a newly organized county was named DEVONSHIRE, a token of honor and filial affection for the birthplace of their fathers, few of whom could be then living. The GILBERTS, at various dates, came to Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Virginia. Richard Gilbert, "remained one whole year in Virginia," in 1585. Joseph Gilbert, as early as 1645. "Will^{m}. Gylbert was admitted a freeman at Wyndsor, in Connecticut, in 1640. Robert Gilbert was a passenger in the 'Plaine Joan' for Virginia, in 1635." "A grave honest gentleman," Mr. JOHN GILBERT, was at Dorchester, as early as 1636, and had sons John, Thomas, and Giles, of whom we have a few particulars. About 1640, four brothers, JONATHAN, Thomas, Obadiah, and Josiah GILBERT were living in Connecticut.‡

"Of our mariners, the whole world brings forth no better; whether you will impress them for valour to adventure or knowledge to perform any action, painfulness to undergo, or patience to endure any extremity, adversity, or want whatsoever." pp. 67–68.

† Francis Champernoon was a nephew of Sir Ferdinando Gorges, the Founder of Maine, and a relative of the mother of the Gilberts and Raleighs. He resided in Kittery, and died there, on his estate, then known as Champernoon's Island, and since as Cutt's Island. He married into the Cutts family, of Essex and Cambridgeshire. His grave, in the family burial-place, on the Island, remains well defined by an oblong pile of stones, carefully replaced within a few years.

‡ In 1685, there was a controversy about a farm on the east side of the river at Weathersfield, (now Glastenbury,) and Josiah Gilbert's testimony was obtained in regard to the boundaries of this farm, which once belonged to John Hollister. Josiah Gilbert stated that he lived on this farm, as a tenant, I think, 12 years, and that his brothers, John and Jonathan Gilbert, were concerned with him some of these years. He was on this farm in 1651, but does not state where the 12 years began or ended. The deposition is in a volume labelled "Private Controversies," in the State House at Hartford. Here are 3 brothers, and Obadiah is the fourth.

JONATHAN GILBERT, in 1645,† being about 27 years of age, was a bachelor landholder in Hartford, and soon after married Mary the daughter of John White. They at once entered into the arrangements of life, and the "General Court," with becoming gravity, "recorded" some of the minor details of their social affairs. "Tenth of March, 1646, the names of people as they were seated in the meeting-house were read in Court; and it was ordered that they should be recorded, which was as followeth; for the women's seats in the middle, 4th seat, Sister Wakeman, Sister Gibbard, Sister Gilbert, and Sister Myles."‡ Gilbert had probably arrived in New England at an earlier date, as in April§ of the next year, he was sufficiently familiar with the language of the aborigines to act as interpreter between them and the English government, rendering important service in the subsequent Indian wars and difficulties, by his facility in their language, and his resolute bravery. He was generally selected as the leader in emergencies of danger and importance. He was a man of business, of respectability and enterprise, engaged in the trade and coasting business of the young colonies, possessed of great wealth for that day, and held various civil offices, was collector of the customs at Hartford, marshal of the colony — an office corresponding to that of High Sheriff — a Representative to the General Court, &c. By grants from the government and by purchase, he acquired large tracts of land in the different settlements, which he subsequently divided among his children. In 1653, he received a grant "at the common landing-place in the little meadow, [at Hartford,] to set up a warehouse," which afterward became a station for considerable traffic, in which Mr. Pynchon, of Springfield, up the river, was largely interested. He imported many goods from abroad, and with him Mr. Gilbert was probably associated in business. Andrew Belcher, of Cambridge and Boston, having business there, married Mary, a daughter of Mr. Gilbert, and their son Jonathan was governor of Massachusetts. To appreciate the position and to picture to the mind the life of Mr. Gilbert, we must turn back two centuries, when the colonists were few, unprotected, and widely separated by dense and unexplored forests and unbridged streams, the chief communication being by water, around the coasts. They were as a handful among the original proprietors, the turbulent, uncivilized savages, then in the meridian of their strength and power, who rather sought the English as allies in their feuds than respected them as equals. For this reason, it is said, they invited the first settlers to Connecticut.

Gookin states that the principal sachem (Uncas) lived at or about Pequot, now called New London, "and held dominion over divers petty Sagamores, as over part of Long Island, over the Mohegans, and over the Sagamores of Quinapeake, yea, even all the people that dwelt upon the Connecticut River and some of the most southerly inhabitants of the Nipmug country, about Quinaboag. They were a very warlike and potent people, and could raise 4000 men fit for war, and held hostility with their neighbors that lived bordering upon them to the east and north, called the Narragansets." Their insolent deportment compelled the English to turn their wars to their own destruction, and, in 1638, many of them were destroyed, and the rest reduced to comparative submission. The increasing power of the white men, and their aggressive policy, excited their jealousy, which was manifested by murders, firings, and all the cruelties of Indian revenge. Such was the state of affairs when the Colony availed itself of Gilbert's services in perilous negotiations with these enraged, crafty, and faithless savages. None but a resolute man, of a cool, penetrating eye, a wary watchfulness, and a fearless temper, could gain respect or safety among them. Uncas, like King Philip, was a patriot, and a settled hatred to his new neighbors fired his heart and mind, and filled the breasts of his people. Thus prefaced, the following relation by Mather,* of incidents in 1646, will be understood: —

"There was Trouble and fears raised in the Country, by reason of the River-Indians, at Waranoke, & Norwoottuck, who it seems were secretly contriving the Death of those famous Worthyes, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Hains, Mr. Whiting, Magistrates in Connecticut Colony. For I find upon publick Record, that complaints and informations about that matter (in September, 1648) were brought before the Commissioners then assembled at New-Haven, where an Indian testified that Sequasson, the Sachim of Waranoke [Westfield?] had given him a sum of money on condition that he would murther the gentlemen mentioned.

*"A relation of the Troubles which have happened in New England, by reason of the Indians there. From the year 1614 to the year 1675; wherein the frequent conspiracyes of the Indians to cutt off the English, and the wonderfull providence of God, in disappointing their devices is declared." By Increase Mather. Boston: 1677. pp. 60, 63–66

"Before the Commissioners convened, Mr. Haines had twice sent to Sequasson: but he neglected to make his appearance: Wherefore Jonathan Gilbert was sent to him again, to signifie from the Commissioners, that they expected Sequassons appearance before them, and to answer what he was accused with, and they promised him free passage both to and from Newhaven, withall intimating that his withdrawing himself would greatly augment the suspition of his guilt. The Messenger quickly returned, bringing word, that he could not speak with Sequasson, who he supposed had received notice of his coming by other Indians, and was thereupon fled.

"Whilst the Commissioners were sitting at New Haven, petitions were presented from Edward Elmere and some others, complaining that Indians had wilfully and maliciously burned some quantity of pitch, and tarr of theirs, together with some bedding and a cart with its furniture, and tooles, &c., in value about an hundred pounds. And particularly they complained of one Wasemose, a Waranoke Indian, as guilty therein, as by sufficient evidence they thought they could prove; and that he hath since avoided all the English Plantations; and that he being sent for by a warrant from one of the magistrates of Connecticut, fled; but being overtaken and seized by some of the English, he was rescued by the Indians, and the English by them jeered and abused, and particularly Chickwallop, Sachim of Norwootuck: Whereupon Jonathan Gilbert and John Griffin were sent to Chickwallop and Manasanes. At their return, they informed that they could not meet either with Chickwallop or Manasanes, but the Sagamores and Indians at Waranoke carried it insolently toward the English, vaunting themselves in their Arms, bows and Arrows, hatchets and Swords, some with their Guns ready charged, before and in the presence of the English Messengers, they primed and cockt them ready to give fire, and told them that if they should offer to carry away any man thence, the Indians were resolved to fight, yet the next morning the Sachim with some others offered the English Messengers eight Fathom of Wampam towards satisfaction and promised to provide more. The Messengers not having anything to that purpose in their Commission, advised the Sachim to send to the Commissioners, but he refused. Hereupon Naymetayhu, one of the Sagamores of Waranoke, who, as before came on Sequasson's behalf, was questioned by the Commissioners about these proud Affronts to the English; at first he denyed what was charged, and excused some part, but one of the English Messengers being present, and he hearing the rest should be sent for, he fell under most of the charge, professing that he intended no harm to the English."

Mr. Gilbert is frequently referred to in the Colonial Records of Connecticut, which, though disconnected, indicate the general current and features of his public life. Thus, in March, 1653, a special warrant was granted to him as marshal, with "power to rayse such considerable forces as hee sees meete" for the arrest of a certain desperado.

*In 1653, and previously, Stuyvesant, the Governor of the Dutch Colony of New York, secretly encouraged the Indians to fall upon the English, hoping, by the destruction of the Connecticut Colony, to enjoy more securely their own Territorial title. The Indian Nations having sided with the English or Dutch, were irritated to hostile attacks, which frequently required the attention of the "Commissioners," they supposing Ninigrate, the chief of the powerful Narragansetts, to be in league with the Dutch, while the rest of the Indians were with the English. Jealousy of the intrigue of Stuyvesant, and the fear of the Southern settlements, induced the Commissioners to make an unjust war on the Indians. Only one of the Commissioners, BRADSTREET, to his honor be it recorded, opposed it, and he was sustained by Massachusetts.

During the hostilities between the Narragansett Indians and the Long Island tribe, in 1654, the Commissioners of the English Colonies appointed JONATHAN GILBERT a Messenger to Ninigrate, the chief of the Narragansetts; who returned, 18th Sept., after a short absence, and brought Ninigrate's answer in the words following: "Having acquainted him that the Commissioners were met at Hartford, and that they had perused the letter sent to the Governor of Massachusetts, he answered, he knew nothing of any such letter, and made strange of it."

Concerning his invading the Long-Islanders, he answered: "Wherefore should he acquaint the Commissioners, when as the Long-Islanders had begun with him and had slain a Sachem's son and sixty others of his men, and therefore he will not make peace with the Long Islanders, but doth desire the English will let him alone, and that the Commissioners would not request him to go to Hartford, for he hath done no hurt. What should he do there? If your Governor's son was slain, and several other men, would you ask counsel of another nation when and how to right yourselves? and added, that he would neither go nor send to Hartford."

Concerning the Upland Indians his answer was, "That they were his friends, and came to help him against the Long-Islanders, which had killed several of his men. Wherefore should he acquaint the Commissioners with it? He did but right his own quarrel, which the Long-Islanders began with him."

A reply worthy of the chief of an independent and patriotic people who understood their national rights.

April 9, 1657, Jonathan Gilbert, with his brother John, to be joined by "an able man," provided by the "Depuities in Windzor," were instructed by the Court "wth all speed to goe to Nortwootuck & Pacumtuck; that they shall acquaint the Sachem and chief there wth the horrible bloody act [of murder] by some Indians that is lately done at Farmington, and tell them that wee expect that they and all or any other Indians whatsoever shall forthwth send Mashupanan or any other that are accessory to that bloody act, either wth these o^{r} messeng^{rs} or so soone as hee or any other accessory thereto bee p^{r}cured by them, & tell them that wee shall looke at them or any other that detaine Mashupanan or any that are accessorie to this act, as our enimyes."

The Commissioners of the United Colonies in September, 1657, again interfering between the hostile tribes, with the authority of superior strength, peremptorily ordered that Uncas, the chief of the Pequots, be required "to p^{r}mit the Podunk Indians to return to theire dwellings & there to ebide in peace & safety, without molestation from him or his, & that the said Indians bee incouraged & invited so to do, by the Government of Connecticott." "And the Gov. of Conn. is desired to signify to the Pocomtick and Norwootick Sachems on charge upon Vnckas in reference to the Podunk Indians, and on desire of their returne to their dwelling and continuance there in Peace; therefore wee desire and expect they will forbeare all hostility against Unckas till the next meeting of the Commissioners." *

* Com^{rs} Rec.

ACCORDINGLY, the authorities of Connecticut appointed Mr. Allen and Jo. Gilbert "to goe to Pacomtuck to declare to the Indians the mind of the Comissioners concerning them, and that there bee a letter sent to Mr. Pinchon to assist them in it: but if he refuse, and Mr. Holliock, then they shall desist from further proceeding."

In March, 1657–8, "The listed persons for Troopers presented to and allowed by the court [of Connecticut] under the command of Major John Mason were, in Hartford, Mr. Willis, Mr. Lord, Mr. Thomas Wells, Jacob Migatt, Jonathan Gilbert, and nine others." This force was probably raised under the authority of the "Commissioners."

Mr. Gilbert, during this period, was actively pursuing his private enterprises. He may have temporarily resided in Westfield, as the Springfield Town Records, under date of Aug. 9, 1656, mention a grant of lands to Jon^{n} & John Gilbert at Wornoco, [Westfield,] provided "they build a house within one year." The request was renewed and granted, Dec. 10, 1658.

In November, 1659, Mr. Gilbert was appointed to compel the payment from the Farmington Indians of the annual sum which was due for the two years past, amounting to "the full summe of eighty faddome of wampum, well strungd and merchantable." This was in satisfaction for damages from a fire occasioned by them. In April, 1660, Mr. John Allyn and Jonath: Gilbert were commissioned to bound out to Tantoninus, the Sachem of the Potuncks, the lands which he held, remaining unsold to the English, and about which he and Uncas, the chiefs of their tribes, had quarrelled.

In August, 1661, the court granted "to Jonathan Gilbert a farm to y^{e} number of 300 acres of vpland and 50 Acres of meadow, provided it be not preiuditiall" to any other plantation; and Mr. Matthew Allyn, at the same time, received a grant "vpon y^{e} same terms."

After this period, Mr. Gilbert was for several years annually elected to the office of "marshall," and was occasionally a representative to the legislature; but his chief attention was given to the improvement of his estate, and the care of his family, many of whom he lived to see happily and honorably settled in life. He was peculiarly fortunate in his wife, who was remarkable for her prudence and energy, which contributed in a great degree to his success, and who was honored in the lives of her children. He died on the 10th of December, 1682, aged 64; and his wife died July 3, 1700, Æ. 74. They lie side by side in the ancient burial-place at Hartford.

Note. Jonathan Gilbert, Jr. married Dorothy (d. of Rev. Samuel and Hope) Stow, of Middletown. She was born about 1658. He petitioned the General Court — in consequence "of the smallness of the legacy bequeathed to [him] by his father's will made about 8 or 9 years before his decease" — for some further provision from the estate, pleading that he was the eldest son by a first wife,* and contended that "the law of God in Deut. 21: 16, 17, seems plainly to hold forth that the first born may not be disinherited on private affection, or deprived of his birthright inheritance." This will was made when his father's "love and affections to ward [him] run lowest, and his displeasure at the highest;" but since his "return from the West Indies," his father had been satisfied with his conduct; to gratify whom, "in order to settlement, [he] proposed [his] desire to join in marriage with the daughter of the Reverend Mr. Stow, which, after consideration had, [his] honored father and mother did freely give their consent to and advice in." Mary, the widow of Jonathan Gilbert, made her will, May 23, 1700, as follows: —

"First, I commit and bequeath my soul & spirit into the hand of Almighty God my Creatour by whome of his meer and only grace I trust to be saved free into eternal Rest through the death and merits of my Saviour & Redeemer Jesus Christ; and my body (hoping for a joyful & glorious Resurrection) to a Christian Burial."

reconciliation was afterwards obtained, — "with that freedom and expression of love which was beyond my expectation." In this petition he refers to "one of the legatees, Nathaniel," — "deceased since the will was made," — and to Samuel, "the youngest brother but one." The widow, Mrs. Mary Gilbert, reminded the court, "that [her] husband's estate came not by descent from his ancestors, but was acquired by himself, and was therefore in a peculiar manner at his dispose," &c.

In 1672, at Boston, Mary, widow and sole executrix of Richard Trusedall, lately deceased, had her will drawn by "Mr. John Hull," and it was approved, Nov. 26, 1674. She mentions her "cousin Richard Emblin," "brother John Hood's two children," "Richard, son of Samuel Truesdale," not of age, "other children of Samuel Truesdale." "William Gilbert, Jun^{r}," not of age, son "of my cousin William Gilbert sole executor of my will," and "other children by Rebeckah Gilbert," his wife [admit^{d} a mem. of Old So. Chh. May 24, 1678,] left "forty pounds" to buy "a convenient tomb stone" for self and husband. She gave "unto Harvard College at Cambridge £40," "Mr. Thomas Thacher, pastor of the third church in Boston £5, to Mr. Seaborn Cotton, £5, to Mr. John Cotton, Senior, £5, to Mrs. Mariah Mather, £5, to the poor of the Old Church £5, to the town of Boston £10, to the third church of Christ in Boston £5." "Mary Mynate, aged about 45 years," was a witness. This William Gilbert, in a letter at "Boston, Novem 10th 1680" to his "most Kynd and Loveing Grandfather, Mr. Arthur Bridge living in Sherborn in Dorsetshire," says he has rec'd the "sorrowful lines" informing him of the death of his "Grandmother," and "uncle Thomas, his wife, at one time"—mentions the death of "Uncle William in Barbadoes." "Myne and my wife's Kynd love, to y^{r} self, to Uncle Pond, and Aunt Joan, to Unckle Napper, his sone and daughter and to Margret Emblem and all the rest of my relations" "my Aunt Roe, Robert and Olive Roe, Uncle Phillips children."

Mr. John Gilbert, "a brave honest gentleman," (Savage's Winthrop, addenda, ii. 346.) probably a Devonshire man, was at Dorchester with his family in the year 163–, then at Taunton after 1636, with sons Thomas, John, and Giles; was the first Deputy from Taunton to the Gen. Thomas Gilbert went to England in 1653, never returned, and d. there in 1676, his daughter Jane married Samuel Williams and has many descendants.

Thomas Gilbert had children born at Taunton, Hannah, Sept. 28, 1677, and Thomas, July 11, 1781. Of this family were the Gilberts of Rochester, New York, and those wonderful children Lucretia H. and Maria Davidson, of Plattsburg, New York. Of this lineage was Col. Thomas Gilbert, the loyalist, a captain at the siege of Louisburg in 1745, and father of the very respectable and wealthy branch of the family in Nova Scotia. He died in 1796, aged 82 years. †

Mrs. Gilbert, born about 1626, was the fourth child of HUGH WELLES, one of the founders of Hartford, and niece of the Rev. and Hon. Thomas Welles, governor of Connecticut, who died at Hartford, January 14, 1660, aged 62. Hugh, with his family, removed to Hadley about 1650. His widow, Frances ———, married Thomas Coleman, and died in 1678, bequeathing property to the family of her son Thomas Wells, deceased, to her son John Welles, of Hatfield, and his children, and to her daughter Gilbert; and appointed her son Jonathan Gilbert the executor of her will. Thomas and Hugh were the first and second sons of Thomas Welles,* a zealous Puritan and wealthy merchant in London, of the Welles family, in the county of Essex, which was "a branch of the noble family of Wells in Lincolnshire, who were barons of the realm." Incurring the suspicion of the Commissioners, he escaped to this country when about 60 years of age, and was soon followed by a numerous family of sons.

Samuel Welles, the Boston banker of Paris, and John Wells, the eminent advocate, of New York, were of this family.

Thomas Gilbert, a younger son of Jonathan, of Hartford, by his second wife, Mary Wells, was born about 1655, and, early in life, imbibed a love for business and nautical pursuits, from the scenes at his father's "warehouse,' in Hartford, where a principal part of the foreign and coasting trade of the settlements on the Connecticut was transacted. His brother-in-law, Andrew Belcher, a young merchant, frequently visited that river with his vessels, for purposes of trade, and doubtless favored young Thomas's choice of a maritime life. Mr. Belcher became one of the wealthiest men in New England, was one of the council of safety, in 1689, and a councillor from 1702 to 1717. Gilbert soon commanded one of Belcher's ships, and his history is chiefly connected with naval affairs. His name occurs occasionally in the purchase or sale of lands, mostly derived from his father's estate, and a portion of which was inherited by his children.*

The few facts preserved show him to have been a brave and successful officer, and a leading man in the primitive navy of the colony, during the early French wars, and the universal license of the ocean, when Turks and Algerines, the common enemies to all, skimmed over every sea for prizes. This navy was a fit nursery for the bravery and nautical skill exhibited three-quarters of a century later, by Manly, Whipple, Tucker, Waters, and others, who appeared from the New England shores, rendering signal service in the war of the revolution by their hardihood and skilful seamanship.

By the deposition of Andrew Belcher, August 15, 1690, it appears that "the ship 'Swan,' Capt. Thomas Gilbert, commander,"† had recently arrived from "her late voyage to London." The "Swan," a heavy ship, carrying an armament of twelve guns and a crew of eighteen or twenty men, was under his command for several years. The tonnage of vessels was much smaller at that time, as may be seen by the diminutive size of the ships employed in the long and perilous expeditions of Sir Humphrey Gilbert and Sir Walter Raleigh, and even by the large vessels of a century later, compared with the noble ships engaged in like service in modern times; the number of those competent to take charge of them was comparatively small, and the hazards, at that day, real as well as apparent, gave an importance and dignity to such a command, greatly diminished by the immense progress of maritime science and commerce.

During King William's war, occurred some of the bloodiest passages in the annals of New England. In 1692,‡ the French sent out a squadron to sweep our commerce from the Eastern seas, already covered by hordes of piratical rovers, who were committing fearful depredations. The memory of their atrocities on the ocean was lost in its waters, while the miseries on shore were recorded.

Gilbert was not idle during this period, and he, with his associates, † "John Coleman, aged 20 years or thereabouts, testifies that, being in the service of Capt. Thomas Gilburtt, in the Swan from London, he was Impoured by s^d^ Gilbert to receive what money was due for freight and passengers. Accordingly, I demanded of Richard Weeks, a passenger in said ship from London, aforesaid, being due from him five pounds ten shillings, which s^d^ Weeks s^d^ he had desired Mr. Seth Perry to Pay to Capt. captured the French ship "Saint Jacob," in the St. Lawrence or "Canady River," at the very entrance of the French possessions, and brought her safely to Boston, where she was condemned as a prize to the captors. This gallant and hazardous exploit was, as usual, a private enterprise, there being technically no government navy; but, having the approbation of the government, it was considered a national undertaking.

The next notice of him is happily preserved in a memoir of the Rev. Dr. Colman,* who in July, in the year 1695, "imbarqued for London (by the will of God)† on board the ship Swan, Capt. Thomas Gilbert, Commander," (then about thirty-nine years of age,) whose fortitude and self-possession in difficulty, manly and generous heart, and desperate and unflinching defence against a superior force, will appear in the following narrative: "On the fourth day the vessel sprang a leak, and the water was heard to pour in on the Starboard tack, which alarmed the sailors. When the winds blew a storm afterward, Mr. Colman governed his fears by looking on the Captain, Mate, and Sailors, to discover what he saw in their faces. When they came into the warm seas a Dolphin, which they had marked with a Scar on his shining back, kept company with the ship for ten or twelve days together, feeding on her bottom.

"At the end of seven weeks a Seeker made after them, and soon came up with them. She was a privateer of 20 guns and 100 men, a light and fleet ship; the 'Swan' was heavy laden — 12 guns, and 24 men, sailors and passengers together. The Swan's company bore their broadsides and volies of small arms six or seven times that afternoon, defending themselves and annoying the enemy, but were taken the next morning, having their Boltsprit shot away, and the Mast's rigging so torn and cut, that the masts fell all together, an hour after, by which means the ship became a perfect wreck, and the Company were much looked at by the French when they came into port. On the quarter deck of the Swan four out of seven were wounded, and one mortally. Mr. Colman was much praised for his courage, when the fight was over. He fought like a Philosopher and Christian and prayed 'while the Boatswain and others made Frolick and sport of it.' 'A young Rake, a passenger on board, that lisped at Atheism, and spit at Religion every day of the Voyage,' when the great Guns roared, would have crept through the boards to hide himself, and when the firing ceased for a moment, he flew down into the Doctor's room and was seen no more till the ship was taken. The sea was very rough during the engagement. When the 'Swan' struck, the French boat came on board, and the Lieutenant took all the crew's money, and put them into the boat. The crew and some of the passengers were plundered of everything, even their clothing, and then dressed in a few rags of the Sailors. Mr. Colman was put down into the Hold of the Ship, among his † Dependence on the Divine Being was recognized in all the common affairs of life, and if the frequency of such reference affords a safe criterion, the sentiment of piety has died with the fathers. In this view, the following "Bill of Lading" presents a contrast with the modern form. It contains the name of God four times: "Shipped by the Grace of God in good Order and well-conditioned by Edward Gray of Boston, Ropemaker in and upon the good Brigantine called the William and Andrew [Pepperell], whereof is Master under God for this present voyage William Pepperill, and now riding at anchor, in the Harbor of Boston and by God's Grace bound for Rotterdam," &c. . . . ragged companions, none of whom knew him till he spoke to them, and they looked at him with astonishment. Mr. Colman bid them divert themselves; "upon which Mr. Grant, the mate of the Swan, (a very grave, prudent, and pious man, fifty years old,) answered with joy: What, Mr. Colman, do you call upon us to be cheerful? What made us sad was to think you would die here, of sorrow; if we do but see you cheerful, we shall all be merry. Madam Allaire, one of the passengers, being brought on board the Captor, about half a day after, entreated that Mr. Colman might be with them in the Great Cabin, or that he might be allowed to see them, — when Madam saw him at the door, half covered with rags and cold, she ran to him and wept upon his neck, & he wept with her. Captain Gilbert burst into tears, and so did Captain Anderson, and his Lieutenant and passengers, moved by the scene. He sat an hour with them, drank, and returned comforted to his hold. Ten days after, they cast anchor before Belle Isle, and proceeded thence up the River Loire, towards the city of Nantz. In the way they were put on board a great hulk, the King's store-ship, and in the morning went to Nantz. The vineyards were very pleasant on the banks of the river, and the fruit delicious to them after so tedious a voyage. After some two months imprisonment within the walls of Dinan, they were freed by an exchange of prisoners with England."

On the 4th of May, 1702, Queen Anne's war with France was declared,* and the Massachusetts fishing vessels suffering much from the depredations of the Canadian French cruisers, a fleet was equipped to rid the Eastern seas of their presence, and incidentally to suppress the barbarities committed by the Indians along the shore.

Mr. Belcher was this year chosen to the council for the first time, and under the new administration, just commenced by Gov. Joseph Dudley,† doubtless exerted an influence in favor of his brother Gilbert, who, in the following letter, copied from the original manuscript, is virtually represented as the commander-in-chief in this expedition: —

What was accomplished in this expedition, and of the remainder of Capt. Gilbert's life, the writer has not learned. His wife Lydia, the mother of his children, whom he married November 25, 1693, was the daughter of Lieut. Samuel Ballat,‡ a respectable citizen of Charlestown, who died November 12, 1708, aged 71. The remains of Captain Gilbert and his wife rest together in the "Granary burial-ground," in Boston, not far from the principal entrance, on the right hand, as shown by their gravestones, from which these inscriptions are taken.

THE GILBERT FAMILY: DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS GILBERT, 1582? - 1659 . . . , BY HOMER W. BRAINARD, HAROLD S. GILBERT AND CLARENCE A. TORREY (1953): CORRECTIONS.—In trying to identify Joseph Gilbert of Harwinton, Conn. (born about 1777), the following affidavit was found among the papers accompanying the pension application (W23112) of Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert, widow of another Joseph Gilbert, a Revolutionary War soldier.

"I Jonathan Marsh, of New Hartford, in County of Litchfield, and State of Connecticut, Now aged 80 years, Testify, and say, that I was born, in the town of New Hartford, on the 1st Day of March 1757, and have always resided in that town, untill the present time. I was intimately acquainted with Joseph Gilbert, of said New Hartford, and with Mirriam Hopkins, whom he married, both before, and after they were married, while they resided in this town. I was not present at their marriage, neither can I recollect the day, or the month, in which they were married, yet I have no doubt of their being legally married, as Early as the year 1773. The said Joseph Gilbert and his wife was [sic] near neighbours to my Father's family, at the time of his marriage, and his family always resided in the neighbourhood with me, while he lived in town, which, was more than twenty five years. One of said Gilberts Brothers, married, my sister. Said Joseph Gilbert, was always a respectable man, in Society, and reared, a large, and respectable family in this town. — I well remember that at the commencement of the Revolutionary War, that the said Joseph Gilbert, Enlisted into a Company Commanded by Captain Griswould, of Torington [sic], for six, or seven months, I think in the month of May 1775, and and [sic] went to lake Champlain, and to S^{t} Johns, and Canada. — Aron Austin, was Lieu^{t} and William Steel, was Ensign, of said Comp^{y} Both of New Hartford. — In the forepart of the year 1777, in the winter or spring, I was knowing [sic] to the aforsaid Joseph Gilberts, Enlisting into Co^{l} Webbs Regiment, of Read [sic] Coats, for three years. The officer who Enlisted him, (if mistake not) was Cap^{t} James Watson, of Hartford. All the above is true, according to my best Recollection and belief. In testimony whereof I have unto here set my hand, and made oath to same, at New Hartford this 2d day of Agust 1837, before William Stover, Notary Public

This document pertains to Joseph[6] Gilbert (#264, pp. 280-281, op. cit.) given as the son of Theodore[5] and Mary (Waters) (#112, pp. 191-192). Note, there is a discrepancy between the birth date of Joseph Gilbert as given on p. 192 ("abt. 1753") and p. 280 ("about 1748-9"). It should be noted that Theodore[5] Gilbert was married 11 June 1850, five months before his 20th birthday.

In this affidavit Jonathan Marsh states that his sister married Joseph Gilbert's brother. John[5] Gilbert (#119, p. 198), son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Marshfield), married Theodosia Marsh, daughter of Jonathan and Theodosia (Kellogg), of New Hartford, Conn. According to the "Marsh Genealogy" (1895), pp. 190-191, Theodosia, wife of John Gilbert, had a brother Jonathan, born 1 March 1757, the affirmant of this affidavit. If his sister was the wife of Joseph Gilbert's brother, as he stated, then Joseph, too, must have been a son of Benjamin[4] and Elizabeth (Marshfield), and his name should be included in the record on page 126 as another son.

This relationship is born out by the fact that Joseph and Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert named their second son, Joseph Marshfield. Marshfield occurs as a "middle name" of another grandchild of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Marshfield) Gilbert, Benjamin Marshfield, son of Elnathan Gilbert (#116, pp. 195-196).

According to "The Gilbert Genealogy" (p. 280) Miriam Hopkins, wife of Joseph Gilbert, was "probably daughter of Consider Hopkins, Jr., of Hartford and New Hartford". Note that their first son was named Elias, and the second daughter, Miriam Webster. According to "The History and Genealogy of the Gov. John Webster Family" (1915), p. 87, #4, Miriam Webster married (1), Elias Hopkins and had a daughter Miriam, born in 1755; married (2), William Sedgwick; married (3), in 1777 John Marsh of New Hartford. Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert, widow of Sgt. Joseph, stated in her application for a pension, 1837, that she was in her 83rd year, hence born about 1754-1755. Moreover, Miriam Webster's third husband, John Marsh, was an uncle of Jonathan Marsh, who made the affidavit.

Joseph and Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert named another daughter Theodosia, obviously after Theodosia (Marsh) Gilbert, wife of Joseph's brother John. They had also a daughter Clarice, born in New Hartford 30 June 1783 (New Hartford records), who is not named in "The Gilbert Family".

In her own statement in her application for this pension Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert stated that she married Sgt. Joseph Gilbert 20 March 1773 ("The Gilbert Family" gives the date as 21 March), and that he died 11 Nov. 1812.

Note also on p. 192 of "The Gilbert Family", that Theodore[5] Gilbert is given a son named Jesse who is #266, p. 282, and married Lucy Chapman. Benjamin and Elizabeth (Marshfield) Gilbert, p. 126, are also given a son named Jesse who "m. Lucy Chapman". The eldest daughter of Joseph and Miriam (Hopkins) Gilbert was Lucy, born 28 Aug. 1774. Could she have been named after an aunt Lucy, wife of Jesse Gilbert? Was not Jesse, called a son of Theodore[5] on p. 192, identical with Jesse, son of Benjamin, on p. 126?

Note also, on p. 192, that Theodore[5] Gilbert is given a daughter Mary, who "m. Theodore Cowles?" Compare this statement with that made on p. 197 under #118, the third child of Benjamin[5] Gilbert (brother of John and Joseph and another son of Benjamin and Elizabeth (Marshfield), p. 126): "Mary . . . m. Aug. 1, 1785, Theodore Cowles".

Thus it appears that Theodore[5] and Mary (Waters) Gilbert (#112, pp. 191-192) had only two known children: Theodore, b. 5 Oct. 1751; and Asa, b. 14 Nov. 1755. This is confirmed by a family Bible which Theodore[5] gave to his son Asa,[6] who passed it on to his son Benjamin Franklin[7]. It is still in the possession of a descendant of the last named.

DESCENDANTS OF JONATHAN GILLET, OF DORCHESTER, MASS., AND WINDSOR, CONN.

By the late SALMON CONE GILLETTE, of Colchester, Conn.

ARRANGED AND ENLARGED

By the Rev. HENRY CLAY ALVORD, A.M., Pastor of the Old South Church, South Weymouth, Mass.

1. JONATHAN[1] GILLET, the progenitor of this branch of the family, belonged, with his brother Nathan, to the company of about one hundred and forty Puritans, which was formed in the counties of Devonshire, Dorsetshire and Somersetshire, England; sailed, with Rev's John Warham and John Maverick as pastors, in the Mary and John, March 20, 1630, and arrived off Nantasket, May 30th following, settlement being made at Dorchester. He was made a freeman there May 6, 1635. There was "graunted to Jonathan Gellet: to fence in halfe an acre of ground about his house leaving a sufficient highway." Further ". . . . the foresayd p'tyes do p'mise to fetch all the Cowes from Jonathan Gillets house to Mr. Woolcotts . . ."; "graunted . . . also to Jonathan Gillet 4 acres" ("over against fox poynt"); "the bounds being from Jonathan Gillets pale &c."; and "one [lot] the other side, which was once Jonathan Gilletes."

With the Dorchester Church and Rev. Mr. Warham, he and Nathan removed about 1636 to Windsor, Conn., where he "had a lot granted to him seventeen rods wide" near Mr. Warhams, and across the Poquonnoc road from Alexander Alvord of the same company, whose descendant, Henry of Bolton in the sixth generation, married Mary W. of Colchester in the sixth generation from Jonathan. He and his wife Mary are included in Matthew Grant's church list, made thirty-seven years after the settlement, of twenty-one "members, who were so in Dorchester and came up with Mr. Warham and are still of us." They were also privileged, having paid six shillings, to sit in the long seats in church. He gave 4s. 6d. to the fund in aid of sufferers by the Indian war at Simsbury and Springfield, and was one of the committee of distribution. He died Aug. 23, 1677, and his wife Jan. 5, 1685. THE BROTHERS JONATHAN AND NATHAN GILLETT AND SOME OF THEIR DESCENDANTS

Compiled by Alice Lucinda Priest, B.L., of Brookline, Mass.

The descendants of the Puritan brothers Jonathan and Nathan Gillett of Dorchester, Mass., and Windsor, Conn., were and almost surely are, numerous, yet there is an interesting opportunity for much further investigation of records to identify all the lines through the genealogical reference library at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

The April 1893 New England Historical and Genealogical Register published a very able nine-page record of * "Descendants of Jonathan Gillet of Dorchester, Mass., and Windsor, Conn.", compiled by Salmon Cone Gillette and arranged and enlarged by the Rev. Henry Clay Alvord, A.M., both descendants. Their record is altogether concerned with the descendants of Jonathan's youngest child, Josiah. Another very important publication is the April 1939 American Genealogist ten-page report of John Insley Coddington, A.M., on "Jonathan Gillett of Dorchester, Mass., and Windsor, Conn., and Mary Dolbere or Dolbiar, his Wife." As the title indicates, its important and convincing mission was to establish the fact of the marriage and the genealogical background of the bride and the believed background of the groom, with no purpose of a record of descendants beyond their children.

This present record concerns principally the early line of Jonathan's third son, Joseph, and, because of later-date opportunities, can correct a few errors in earlier records, make additions, and enlarge on some interesting items.

That Jonathan and Nathan Gillett were brothers is proved by the 8 August 1677 will of Jonathan. To quote: . . . "my wife . . . shall have . . . the Housing & Lands of both my Houselotts, my one and that which was my Brother Nathan Gillett's, . . . "

Henry R. Stiles, A.M., in his 1892 second edition of "Ancient Windsor, Conn." states: "Jonathan Gillett, with his brother Nathan came to Dorchester, Mass., with Rev. Warham, [June 1630] and (both) to Windsor with the first emigration. Both he and his wife were members of the original Dorchester and Windsor churches. . . . There is still extant . . . a copy of the . . . Bible, of 1599 . . . This Bible was brought to New England by this Jonathan Gillett, Sen^{r}, and afterwards passed into the hands of the present Holcomb family. . . . In this Bible occurs the following manuscript record: 'My father Gille(tt) came into new inglan the secon(d) time in June in the yeare 1634 and Jonathan his sonne was born about half a yeare after he came to land.'" The foregoing record proves that Jonathan Gillett's wife accompanied him on his second trip from England to New England; and very strongly suggests that he had married her in England on his return trip to his native land.

Therefore Mr. Coddington's 1939 opening statement is even more than the strongest kind of circumstantial evidence. It is as follows:

"The Parish Register of St. Andrew's Church at Colyton, co. Devon, contains the following marriage record:

"1634 Jonathan Gillett & Mary Dolbiar, 29 March

"This is the answer to the question of the long-sought identity of Mary, wife of Jonathan Gillett, the emigrant from England to Dorchester, Mass., and settler at Windsor, Conn."

Mr. Coddington's next statement is: "There can be very little doubt but that Jonathan Gillett was the son of the Reverend William Gillett or Gyllett, Rector of Chaffcombe, co. Somerset, who was instituted to that benefice 4 Feb. 1609/10, and who died early in 1641", etc. And there are five valuable pages on the ancestry of Mary Dolbiar (Dolbere) that should all be read. They include the Colyton baptisms: "1607 Mary, d. of Rockye Dolebeere, 7 June." "1571 Rawkey, s. of Robarte Dolber of Caddhayn, 17 August." The marriages: "1563 Robert Dolbere of Cadden & Agnes, d. of one Samson, of Hawkechurche, 26 April." "1602 Rockye Dolber, s. of Robert Dolber of Cadhaine & Marie, d. of John Michell of Barretshaine, 10 October."

As is amply confirmed by records to follow, Mr. Coddington states also that the child Jonathan Gillett, Jr., was the first son; and that Cornelius Gillett was named for his mother's brother, Cornelius Dolbere, and was the second Gillett son. (See "Colonial Records of Connecticut", Trumbull, 1850, for lists of Windsor men "made free before the Court." Vol. I, page 297, date 21 May 1657, gives a list of 65 men, and the 5th name is "Jonath: Gillet, Junir." Page 315, date 20 May 1658, gives 70 names, with the 62nd, "Cornel: Gillet." Vol. II, page 100, date 8 Oct. 1668 states "Those presented to stand for freemen" of Windsor, has first of 11 names, "Joseph Gillett." Page 519, date 11 Oct. 1669, freemen of Windsor alphabetically arranged under initial capital letter, one name below another, under "G" has: "Jonathan Gillet, Senr.—Nathan Gillet—Jonathan Gillet, Jr.—Cornelius Gillet—Josep Gillet.") Jonathan, Jr., was admitted to the Windsor Church 6 April 1662; Cornelius, 16 Jan. 1665–6. The order of ages is shown also by the father's 1677 will in listing legacies. (See "Early Connecticut Probate Records", Manwaring, 1904, vol. I, page 200.)

As was customary in certain regions in old England, Jonathan's youngest son, Josiah, was to continue at home and take care of his mother and own the old home place. But if Jonathan, Sr., and his wife Mary should both die within four years, his will states, "my son Josiah shall pay some legacies, as to his Brother Jonathan Gillett £4 and a gunn, and to his Brother Cornelius Gillett £4 & to my daughter, Peter Browne's wife, £2, and to my daughter, Samuel ffyllyes wife £2, and to ye two children which I have taken that ware my son Joseph's Dec'd, as ye little son Jonathan £5, and ye garle £5. My son Jonathan is to have the other 20 acres of Woodland . . . Also Jonathan and Cornelius my sons to have my 11 acres . . . And my son John Gillett to have . . . and Jeremie to have . . ."

There can be no question about Jonathan, Jr., being the oldest son, Cornelius the second, the two married daughters third and fourth, and the deceased son Joseph the fifth child; and that son John was older than son Jeremiah. This is supported by the Windsor records of births and baptisms from 1639, birth of Anna, to 1650, Josiah's baptism.

The fact that the Windsor church record of the birth of Anna or Hannah, 29 Dec. 1639, specifically notes that she was Jonathan Gillett's "first-born in Windsor," seems proof that the entire family was not permanently located in the new town until after the births of the three older children. And the reason might well have been the protective care of the infants. But it is clear that Nathan Gillett went to Windsor in 1636, and remained there, serving in the Pequot War in 1637.

Jonathan Gillett, Sr., died in Windsor 23 Aug. 1677, fifteen days after making his will, and his wife Mary died there 5 Jan. 1685–6, over eight years later, which obviated the payment of legacies by son Josiah. It is important to read the entire will, as well as those of fourteen others of the Gillett family, all to be found in "A Digest of the Early Connecticut Probate Records, Hartford District", 3 volumes, by Charles W. Manwaring, 1904.

What had it meant to Jonathan and Mary Gillett and their seven sons and three daughters to live in New England rather than in Old England? One thing surely, and far the heaviest part of the price, was that not quite two years before Jonathan died they lost their third son, Joseph, aged 34, at the Deerfield, Mass., Bloody Brook Indian massacre: and eight months and a day later, lost their fourth son, Samuel, aged 33, at the Turners Falls, Mass., battle with Indians. Both young men had paid with their lives for going to new settlements along the Connecticut River above the Colony of Connecticut. At a 10 July 1676 meeting of the Connecticut "Councill" (consisting of the Governor, a major, two captains, two "Mr's",), thankfulness was expressed that the people of that Colony have "bountifully" afforded some supply for our brethren in distress in our neighboring "Colonyes", and desire our Windsor brethren to improve what they have gathered of the good people there and that the remainder be distributed to Springfield and those upper towns, "according to the good discretion of Deacon Jn° Moore, John Loomys, Jonath: Gillet, Sen^r and Jacob Drake."

He married first, in Windsor, 23 April 1661 ANNA KELSEY, born about 1634, died in Windsor 18 April 1676, daughter of William Kelsey of Hartford, Conn.; and secondly, in Windsor, 14 Dec. 1676, MIRIAM DIBBLE of Windsor, born there 19 Feb. 1644–5 and baptized there 7 Dec. 1645, died after May 1703 (according to Connecticut Probate Records, Manwaring, vol. 2, pp. 140, 156 Miriam Gillett was living in May 1700 and later), daughter of Thomas Dibble. In two modern Gillett records there have been errors about the dates of death of Jonathan Gillett and his second wife.

The will of Jonathan[2] Gillett was dated 25 August 1694, and reads in part:

"I Jonathan Gillett of Windsor . . . I give to my son William all my Houseing & Lands lying in the Township of Simsbury, except 5 acres of Marsh lying under the Mountains. THE BROTHERS JONATHAN AND NATHAN GILLETT AND SOME OF THEIR DESCENDANTS

Compiled by ALICE LUCINDA PRIEST, B.L., of Brookline, Mass.

4. JOSEPH[2] GILLETT (Jonathan[1]), of Windsor, Conn., and Deerfield, Mass., baptized in Windsor 25 July 1641, died in Deerfield, in the tragic warfare at Bloody Brook, 18 Sept. 1675. He married, probably in Hadley, Mass., in 1663 or 1664, ELIZABETH HAWKES, baptized in Windsor 10 Jan. 1646/7, died almost surely 1681, daughter of John and Elizabeth Hawkes. Elizabeth (Hawkes) Gillett married secondly, 16 Dec. 1680, as his second wife, Nathaniel Dickinson of Hatfield, Mass.

Joseph Gillett was made a freeman in Windwor 8 Oct. 1668 * and is again so listed there 11 Oct. 1669. The births of his seven children are recorded there and the deaths of two.

These records indicate the error of statements that Joseph[2] was of Simsbury, Conn., and had nine children; the probable ground for the latter error to be indicated later by a 1686 probate record. While the Windsor birth records of all seven children suggest that the young family did not move to new-town Deerfield until the spring of 1675, Joseph was financially interested in the projective settlement by 1673.

Another erroneous statement is the Joseph Gillett and Elizabeth Hawkes marriage date, and probably the place: "at Windsor 24 Nov. 1664." There is no known Windsor record of the marriage, and Windsor would not have recorded the birth of Joseph's first child, 2 Nov. 1664 [or even 20 Nov. 1664, as one statement has it] if the parents were then not married. Hence the birth record seems to guarantee the marriage by 1664 before 2 Nov.; and it may have been in 1663, but probably not earlier.

Stiles states that John Hawkes' widow sold Windsor lands to their son-in-law Joseph Gillett in 1666, "who probably resided on the Hawkes lands until about 1673 when he removed to Deerfield". Another Windsor record is: "Joseph Gillett, adult, church member 16 ( )".

In 1669 the first house was built in Deerfield; the second house in 1670; and house lots were drawn 14 May 1671. In 1673 at least twenty families were there and at a 7 Nov. 1673 plantation meeting a few over twenty men were present, Joseph Gillet one of them; also Robert Hinsdell (later Hinsdale) and his five sons; and Robert had married (2) Widow Elizabeth Hawkes, and his son had married her daughter Mary Hawkes in 1672 and gone at once to Deerfield with her. Lots No. 31 and 32, drawn 1671 by Robert Hinsdale and Nathaniel Colburne, in 1673 were owned by "Joseph Gillett, son of Jonathan (1), born 1641", and he "built on No. 32 — the Dr. Willard lot; was killed with Capt. Lothrop, Sept. 18, 1675" (Sheldon, "History of Deerfield"). When the lots were sold in 1694 by Joseph Gillett's son, they are described as "Sometime two town lots, 16½ by 72 rods, with a house on it."

In two or three days after Bloody Brook battle, the garrison and inhabitants of Deerfield abandoned the place, and a third village in Hampshire County was given up to desolation. The surviving inhabitants retired to Hatfield and other places.

In 1680 measures were taken for the reoccupation of their lands by the Proprietors of Deerfield, and the spring of 1682 is considered as the date of the permanent settlement. And by the spring of 1682 Joseph Gillett's widow Elizabeth

*Windwor should be Windsor.

(Hawkes) was also dead, after having married (2) 16 Dec. 1680, as his second wife, Nathaniel Dickinson of Hatfield, Mass.; and at that date her seven children were all living.

Dist. — March 30, 1686 — Additional inventory, of clothes etc. presented by Nathaniel Dickinson, who stated after her marriage to him, the widow of Joseph Gillett "soon after died" . . "the sd Nathaniel Dickinson shewing himself faithful to his trust & also to settled sd children in some comfortable way and there being 4 sons and two daughters" . . eldest son Joseph Gillett, to have a double part, and to have the land for his use till his brothers came of age. Court orders Nathaniel Dickinson, Joseph Barnard & Thomas Wells to make the division.

As Windsor death records show, the youngest child, Hannah,[3] had died 11 Aug. 1683; and Jonathan,[3] second of the four sons referred to in the above probate record, died the following 3rd of June 1686. But there is nowhere suggestion of the deaths of the two older sisters, Elizabeth[3] and Mary,[3] and they were doubtless the "two daughters" of their stepfather's statement; not any imaginary and almost impossible two daughters younger than the Hannah[3] for whom Barbour's Collection gives the birth records of June 30, 1674 and Jan. 30, 1674 (1674–5). There are three records for Joseph's birth, one making it Nov. 2 and two making it Nov. 20; and two different records for sister Mary, one Sept. 1 and the other Sept. 10, 1667.

She married secondly, in Hatfield, 15 May 1677, Stephen Jennings of Hatfield.

On 19 Sept. 1677 Hannah (Dickinson) Gillett Jennings was captured with two of her Gillett children and fourteen others by Indians. She was taken to Canada, rescued by the heroic work of her husband and others and reached home again about June 1678 with her two Gillett children and her new born daughter of March 1678, Captivity Jennings.

THE BROTHERS JONATHAN AND NATHAN GILLETT AND SOME OF THEIR DESCENDANTS

Compiled by Alice Lucinda Priest, B.L., of Brookline, Mass.

11. Lieut. Joseph[3] Gillett (Joseph,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Deerfield, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., West Division, born in Windsor, Conn., 2 Nov. 1664, died shortly before the Hartford 4th March 1745/6 inventory of his estate. He married first in Hatfield, Mass., 3 Nov. 1687, the day after he was 23, Esther Gull, born in Hadley, Mass., 21 Nov. 1665, the third of the four daughters of William and Elizabeth (Smith) (Foote) Gull of Hatfield (the bride's father was the half brother of the bridegroom's stepfather, Nathaniel Dickinson, on their mother's side); and secondly, in Hartford, 17 May 1692, Mary Griswold, born in Windsor, Conn., 16 March 1671, died in Hartford 19 Dec. 1719, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Gaylord) Griswold and granddaughter of Dea. Edward Griswold. The only known record of Joseph[3] Gillett's third marriage is in his 9 July 1743 will that begins: "I give to Elizabeth, my wife, all that estate that she brought with her when she became my wife, and", etc., which suggests that she may have been a widow. There is no known reference to her in the settlement of the estate.

Henry R. Stiles in his 1892 Ancient Windsor, Conn., History and Genealogies (vol. 2, pp. 297–9), gave two compact pages to an account of a Revolutionary War patriot who suffered imprisonment in New York City, Jonathan Gillett. But stated: "Jonathan of West Hartford is one whom we have failed to connect with the main line; but he evidently belonged to the Windsor Gillettes, and is worthy of commemoration in these pages. We therefore reproduce here the substance of what has been told about him in a little privately printed volume entitled 'Letters from the Prisons and Prison-Ships of the Revolution', by Henry R. Stiles, M.D., issued in 1865, in a limited edition of 80 copies."

The mainspring for this present Gillett record was the line of the above Lieut. Joseph[3] Gillett, who is now proved to have been the grandfather (through his second son, Jonathan[4]) of the Revolutionary War Jonathan Gillett. And since this is the first printed record of the line, and, partly, of the descendants of two other sons of Joseph[2] and Elizabeth (Hawkes) Gillett, the detailed proof of the record is important.

It is doubtful whether Joseph[3] got back to Deerfield with the permanent settlement of the spring of 1682, since he was then only 17½ years old. Notice that it was 30 March 1686, the spring after he reached 21, that the probating of his father's estate was concluded. The court then directed that the "eldest son, Joseph Gillett," should have a double part and have the land for his use till his brothers came of age. In line with new settlement methods, Deerfield Proprietors made the following grants to Joseph, as heir of his father: in 1686, 50 acres at Boggy Meadow: 5 Feb. 1686–7, 19 rods, 4 ft., 6 in. in the Common Field (probably the customary "wanting land" to rectify deficiencies in lot areas): 20 April 1688, wood land, lot No. 30: wood lot on the Mountain, No. 45. 1685 — 90 grants of home lots at a new street at Wapping were made to a harmonious group of young men, Joseph[3] Gillett one of them. (Sheldon's Deerfield History.)

Springfield, Mass., Hall of Records: Deeds, vol. H. page 491: — 20 December 1690, John Stebbins and Benoni Stebbins deed to Joseph Gillet, all three of "Dearfield," the following property there; partly "in exchange for other Land in Dearfield already passed over to sd John and Benoni" and "discharge sd Gillet from any further payment." "One House lot Situate within Township of Dearfield" "A butting on the Town Street Westerly & on an highway Easterly. Bounded by an Houselot formerly Sam[ll] Hinsdells Deceas[d], Northerly and on another Lot of sd Hinsdells Southerly containing by Estimation Four acres and a half." The body of the deed also asserted that John Stebbins' wife Dorothy fully assented, but the signatures were only those of John Stebbins and Benoni Stebbins. Witnesses: Joseph Goddard, Edward Goddard. The two signatures were acknowledged April 1st 169(probably 2). And the Deed was "Rec[d] Jan[y] 15th 1735/6 and Recorded from the Originall."

In England in January 1630, Anna[1], widow of Williama * Gull, Sr., married secondly Nathaniel[1] Dickinson, Sr., when her son was probably less than two years old. This Dickinson family came to New England about 1634; were prominently of Wethersfield, Conn., until 1659, by which time there were nine Dickinson sons and two daughters. They moved with a religious group to Hadley, Mass., where prominent Deacon Nathaniel[1] Dickinson died 16 June 1676. He made his will 29 May 1676, and in it states: "To my son William Gull (Son of his wife by her first husband) I give that Three Pounds which he oweth me for a barrell of pork." He gave part of a certain meadow to all his sons and two daughters, to be shared equally; and adds in the will: "The desire of ye testator is yt ye share given unto Frances Dickinson (younger daughter), may, if she see meet, be given to Samuel Gillett's children." The mother of Samuel[2] Gillett's children, Hannah[3] Dickinson, was the oldest child of Frances[2] Dickinson's oldest brother, Sergeant John[2] Dickinson, who also died at the 19 May 1676 Turners Falls battle. (Northampton, Hampshire Co. Probate Records)

It includes a notice of a 4 July 1690 agreement of William Gull's children "about mother Gulls' est." "July 4, 1690 agree. Gull ch. The last known record of Esther[3] (Gull) Gillett is her signature to the probate paper of 4 July 1690. And her father in his will of 10½ years later names only one living child as hers. She died either in the latter part of 1690 or in 1691; almost surely in a home on Town Street, Deerfield, where her husband bought lot 41 in 1690.* Wapping settlement was broken up by "the rough hand of war." Also Joseph[3] Gillett and his brother John[3], and probably young soldier brother Nathaniel[3], became connected with Deerfield garrison. In 1696 Joseph was corporal in that garrison; and was participant in the 16 July 1698 Indian pursuit, usually styled the Promroy Pursuit, as "Corporal gillit" of the 16 Garrison Soldiers at Deerfield, to whom the Mass. General Court granted each an extra £1. (Sheldon, and Mass. Archives). Sept. 16, 1696 brother John[3] Gillett had been captured by the Indians there in Deerfield, and taken to Canada and finally sent to France; and after peace was declared, reached home by 17 June 1698. In 1691, as will be shown in a 17 June 1722 deed, Joseph Gillett sold 20 acres in Deerfield Boggy meadow to John and Benoni Stebbins of Deerfield.

The oldest child of Joseph[3] and Mary (Griswold) Gillett is on the Windsor birth records; but not the next child, and considering the record of Joseph's purchases of land in Hartford it seems probable he was born there. The General Index, Land Records of Hartford, Conn., 1639–1839, pub. 1873, gives the following: Joseph Gillet as Grantee, pages 203–4: From Samuel Sedgwick, 1694 Dec. 10 (vol. 1, p. 134).

*Lot 41, Daniel Fisher. John Stebbins bought it about 1688. His sons John and Benoni Stebbins sell to Joseph Gillett in 1690. Timothy Nash held it after 1699.

In 1755 Jonathan Gillet: in 1759 Asa Gillet: in 1761 Mrs. Asa Gillet: in 1776 Mrs. Jonah Gillet.

The Register, vol. xiii., year 1859, p. 239: Hartford, Conn. Records — Births, Marriages, Deaths: From Book lettered "Records of Town of Hartford, 1685–1709, No. 1" Transcribed by Lucius M. Boltwood of Amherst. Cor. Member of the N. E. H. G. Society. The records arranged under A — B — C etc. Evidently condition of old book such that much could not be deciphered with accuracy; and so left blank. Under G at lower part of page 240 was a double column, the one on the right side as follows:

Joseph Gillet
born May 17
Jona was born
Mary was born Ester was born Ma(
Hanah was born Nov
Sarah was born Sept 30
Abigail was born Aug. 9
[top of page 241]
Matthew was born March 4th Dorothy was born Jan. 1710

Taking the above in connection with the 1743 will of Joseph Gillett of Hartford, and the baptisms of his and Mary's six daughters, it is apparent that here is a record of the order of births of the three sons and six daughters of Joseph and Mary (Griswold) Gillett, entered on a Hartford town book. Why the son Matthew, born between his sisters Abigail and Dorothy, has no baptismal record can only be surmised as perhaps due to infant ill health, or that the baptismal record was overlooked or not clear. The town record must have been together, in one place, and so seemingly reported for record at one time; and if so, after the birth of Dorothy in 1710. This could account for a most probably error in the month of Hannah's birth, "Nov.", since she was bapt. Oct. 18. And if the son Joseph was born May 17 (date of the parents' marriage) then the son Joseph born Feb. 16, 1692 (1692/3) in Windsor to Joseph Gillett (almost surely Joseph[3]) must have died young. A confusion of family dates seems more probable. The son Matthew was doubtless named for his mother's brother, Matthew Griswold. Joseph[2] Griswold made his will 6 Sept. 1716, inventory taken 29 Nov. (Manwaring, vol. II.), and bequeaths to his three sons and " To my daughters, Mary, the wife of Joseph Gillette, and Abigail, the wife of Josiah Phelps, 25 pounds apiece out of moveables. I give to my grandchild Sarah Gillette 5 pounds out of my moveables."

In connection with the military services of Joseph,[3] John,[3] and Nathaniel[3] Gillett, note that their mother's oldest brother, who helped about her husband's estate, was Sergeant John[2] Hawks of Deerfield; and a nephew was Colonel John[3] Hawks, "the Hero of Fort Massachusetts".

THE BROTHERS JONATHAN AND NATHAN GILLETT AND SOME OF THEIR DESCENDANTS

Compiled by Alice Lucinda Priest, B.L., of Brookline, Mass.

12. John[3] Gillett (Joseph,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Deerfield, Mass., and Lebanon, Conn., born in Windsor, Conn., 10 June 1671, died in 1755 (Abridged Compendium of American Genealogy, by Virkus, 1925, vol. 1, p. 342). He married in Lebanon, 3 Jan. 1699/1700, Experience[3] Dewey, born in Westfield, Mass., 9 April 1682, daughter of Josiah[2] and Hepzibah (Lyman) Dewey.

His remarkable experience in the last decade of the 17th century is of high interest to his descendants; and the European part of it was probably duplicated by few New England contemporaries.

As Sheldon's Deerfield History (vol. I. p. 254) states of the year 1696: "From beginning to end this proved another troublesome year to the town. The Court also provided a garrison; and scouting was continued on the frontiers. Although this dangerous service was performed with boldness and fidelity, sudden inroads of the enemy could not always be averted. Like a whirlwind they came and went, leaving destruction in their track." The detailed story of what happened that year to soldier John[3] Gillett is told in the Stephen Williams manuscript, beginning: "7ber 16, 1696, John Smead & John Gillett being in the woods, looking or tracking Bees, were besett by a company of French Mohawks. J. G. was taken prisoner & J. S. escaped — the indians fearing a discovery by S. 16 of them hastened away toward the town, and three were left with J. G. It being lecture day the people were got out of ye meadows, that so yr might attend ye lecture, so that ye enemy came as far as Mr. Danl Beldings house that was within gun shot of ye fort. . . . [Mr. Belding, son Nathaniel, ae. 22, dau. Esther, 13, taken prisoners: wife, 2 sons, 1 dau. killed: 1 son badly wounded: 2 daus. escaped. Other hostilities at fort, in meadow, etc.] . . . the enemy went up Green River & came to their companions that they had left wth Gillett. John Smead came into the Town soon after Mr. Belding's family were well off. Ye 1st night ye enemy lodgd in a round hole near the river, above ye rock, at Nfd st., where ye fires were fresh, thence set away for Canada by ye way of Otter Creek, leaving Connecticut river &c. When they came near Otter creek, they came upon some tracks of Albany indians that were going to Canada, (for in those times ye indians from Albany were wont to go a-scalping, as they call it, to Canada) they sent out their scouts & were upon the look-out, and at length discovered yr smoak; and then they flung down their packs & painted themselves & tyd their English captives to trees & left two men to guard them; & proceeded to yr business, & having dividd themselves into two companies, they sett upon the secure company (wch consistd of six men) & killd two of ym, took two & 2 escapd. Among ye slain was one Uroen an indian known among ye english (& suspectd to be a bloody fellow & sometimes mischievous to ye english). Of their own men one was woundd in ye fleshy part of the thigh (as one had been before at D'f'd). the prisoners were one a Scatocook indian & ye other a young Albany Mohawk. When the skirmish was over, the English were brot up & so they proceedd on their journey. Mr. B. asked the Scatacook Indian, (now his fellow prisoner) what he thought the enemy would do with them, who replyd that they would not kill ye english prisoners, but give some of them to ye french & keep some of them themselves; but he expected to be burnt himself, but when they came to ye lake, one rainy night, they made no fire, and some of them lodgd under ye canoes, from whom this Scatacook made his escape having loosed himself by some means from his cords &c., and altho he was psud the enemy could not recover him &c. As to the young Albany Mohawk, he was kept alive, being of their own nation (the french mohawks went from yr nation over to Canada for ye sak of ye romish religion). Wn Mr. B. & company came to the fort calld Oso, the males were obliged to run the Gauntlet near it. Mr. B being a very nimble or lightfooted man, received but few blows, save at first setting out, but the other men were much abusd by clubs, firebrands, &c;

"They arivd at Canada 8ber 9. Now they found what the Scatacook indian had said, to be true, for the indians kept Mr. B. himself & his daughter with them, & gave J. G. & N. B. to the french. J. G. worked as a servt to ye Nuns at their Farm. N. B. worked for the Holy Sisters. On ye 9th of July following, Mr. B was sold to ye french & lived as a servt with the jesuits at the seminary; his business was to wait upon them & cutt wood, make fires & tend the garden &c. He accounted himself favorably dealt with. In ye winter following Coll Abrm Schyler with some others came to Canada & brought with them a copy of ye Articles of peace between England and France & returnd home wth some Dutch Captives. In Aprill following Coll peter Schyler & Coll A. Colonel Partridge in a message to the Massachusetts General Court told the story of John Gillett compactly, as follows: "Wheras John Gillet who hath been a very active and willing souldr within the County

Samuel Patrigg —

Original Simsbury, Conn., joined Windsor on the west. In 1845 citizen Noah A. Phelps published a significant History of Simsbury, Granby and Canton (two towns set off from original Simsbury) in which he stated that in 1675 the New England Colonies became much alarmed by Indian movements and that it was soon manifest that war was inevitable. In October the legislature ordered the evacuation of Simsbury; and again in March 1676, and on the 26th the "settlement was ravaged," "the ruin complete," town deserted for about a year; and the settlement at a stand still, or nearly so, for about ten years. And "For more than thirty years after Philip's war, in 1675, the inhabitants lived in almost daily apprehension of attacks from the Indians." Consideration of this condition may well have decided their location in safer Lebanon, Conn., to such men as Sergeant Josiah Dewey of Westfield and Northampton, Mass., and Deerfield-experienced John[3] Gillett.

The Lebanon tract was sold by Indians in 1692 to four proprietors, and settlement began in 1695. In 1700 the proprietors deeded the land to 51 persons who had taken lots, and formal organization began. Among the 51 named grantees were Josiah Dewey, Sr. and Jr., John and Nathaniel; and John Gillett. An 1810 meeting of grantee descendants included Isaac Gillet. Josiah Dewey, Sr., assisted the four proprietors in distributing the home lots and in making the first division of the common undivided land. That same year he and William Clark of Saybrook bought land adjoining Lebanon on the north and northwest.

The ancestry record of Experience (Dewey) Gillett is pertinent and interesting from the standpoints of provable accuracy; and one unique genealogical sentence rarely duplicated. Sergeant and Deacon Josiah[2] Dewey (Thomas[1]) was born in Windsor, Conn., 1641; as a young man went to Northampton, Mass., where on 6 Nov. 1662 he married Hepsibah[3] Lyman, daughter of Richard[2] and Hepzibah[2] (Ford) Lyman. And according to a 35-page 1928 Ford Genealogy by J. Montgomery Seaver, American Historical-Genealogical Society, Philadelphia (page 23): "Richard Lyman was a descendant (24 generations removed) of Alfred the Great, King of England; also a descendant (21 generations removed) of Henry I., King of France, and a descendant (21 generations removed) of Donal-Bane, King of Scots."

The very able large 1898 "Life of George Dewey, Rear Admiral; and Dewey Family History," published by the Dewey Publishing Company, Westfield, Mass., gives a very detailed valuable account of this Josiah Dewey family, ancestor of Admiral George Dewey. It shows that he moved to Westfield, Mass., 1670, where he was Sergeant of the Guard during Philip's War, and was Deacon of the Church. And its records correct the error of an 1875 Dewey Genealogy that stated that Josiah's wife Hepzibah (Lyman) died about 1670/1; and he married second, Experience. The final conclusive proof of this error was its picture of the Lebanon tombstones of Josiah and his wife, with inscriptions as follows:

"Here lies ye Body of Dn Josiah Dewey He was born in Windsor 1640 Joined ye Church of Christ in Westfield and ordained Deacon Removed to Lebanon In its beginning where he did much Sarvis for God & Man he lived a holy & a Religious & Lived to a great age & he slept in Jesus Septem 7 1732 in ye 92 year of his age.
"Here lies ye Body of ye Worth Mrs Hephzibah ye Wife of Don Josiah Dewey She was the Daughter of Mr Richard Lyman of Hartford She was one that feared ye Lord & Slept in Jesus June ye 4 1732 in ye 89 year of her age."

But this 1898 Dewey Genealogy omitted the record of the youngest known child of Josiah and Hepzibah Dewey, given in later Westfield publications. In 1945 the Westfield, Mass., Athenaeum published family records from the town files at City Hall. And by January 1937 was published the baptismal records of Westfield Church of Christ from 1679 to 1836, which included, page 8: year 1686, 10 mo. 19 d. Mindewell, daughter Josiah & Hephzibah Dewy.

The list of 22 Lebanon homelots laid out on the east side, south to north, of the highway, includes No. 7 to John Dewey, 9 to Dea. Josiah, 10 to Nathaniel, 18 to Josiah Jr.; 19 to John Gilet. The statement is made (p. 390, 1898 Dewey Gen.) that "all had signed in Dec. 1697 except Thomas Root, whose lot went to John Woodward." If "in" means "by" 1697, it demonstrates John Gillett's precaptivity connection with the settlement. Sheldon's Deerfield History states (p. 173) that after John's Sept. 1696 capture, "Oct. 23, administration was granted on his estate . . . he being killed or captured by the Indians, therefore as to his personal residence in Deerfield is dead." Neither Northampton nor Springfield probate records include this item; perhaps because fire destroyed some in Springfield. 17 Jan. 1728/9 "Josiah Dewey second yeoman" of Lebanon deeded to his son John, two parcels in Lebanon, "one of which is my homelot on which I now live with land adjoining bounded northeastwardly on the main street of Lebanon, northwestwardly on the lot of Dr. Ebenezer Gray and on the southwest by a highway on southeast by land of John Gillett abt 40 acres; the other parcel 18 ac of Timber Hill to the rear of Ebenezer Hunts farm." Recorded Lib. 8 fol 158–9. (p. 393, 1898 Dewey Gen.)

13. NATHANIEL[3] GILLETT (Joseph,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Deerfield, Mass., and Lebanon, Conn., born in Windsor, Conn., 4 May 1673, died in Lebanon 10 July 1714, as the vital records of both towns show. He married SARAH ———. The History of Enfield, Conn., by Allen, 1900, vol. 2, gives the following: "Sarah Gillett widow of Nathll Gillett of Lebbanon; died here in this town ye 6th January 1716/17 in ye 37th yeare of her age." She was therefore born in or near 1680.

The Lebanon records give the births of his five children, and the death of one of them, their ages at the time of his death and that his wife's name was Sarah.

Children, born in Lebanon:

31. i. NATHANIEL,[4] b. 18 Nov. 1702.
32. ii. JOSEPH, b. 11 Oct. 1704.
iii. ELIJAH, b. 31 July 1706.

Joseph and Elijah Gillett were soldiers from Enfield, Conn., 2 May 1724, when they were billeted in Hatfield, Mass., at Dr. Thomas Hastings'.

14. Samuel[3] Gillett (Samuel,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Hatfield, Mass., born in Hatfield 14 May 1672 [sic], died very shortly before the 6 June 1769 probating of his will. Hence he was aged almost exactly 97 years, oldest among the recorded Gilletts. If there was no younger unrecorded child, he and his just four year old sister Hannah were almost surely the two Samuel[2] Gillett children taken captive with their mother in the Indian attack on Hatfield homes that "began suddenly at 11 A.M. with a blood-curdling yell" 19 Sept. 1677, 17 captives taken; Obadiah[2] Dickinson, uncle of Mrs. (Gillett) Jennings, one of them. 12 left dead, and 4 wounded. In the evening an attack in Deerfield, where one was killed and 4 taken prisoners. After months of negotiations, on 2 May 1678, the living captives set out from Sorel, Canada, with an escort of French soldiers, on their return home and reached Albany 22 May. Captivity Jennings, half sister of the Gillett children, was born 16 (or 14?) March. Historians Sheldon and Boltwood specifically include Samuel[3] as one of the captive children.

By 1697 Samuel[3] married Hannah[3] Hastings, born in Hatfield 19 Jan. 1677, daughter of Dr. Thomas[2] (Thomas[1]) and Anna[2] (Hawkes) Hastings of Hatfield, and niece of Elizabeth[2] (Hawkes) Gillett, wife of Joseph[2] Gillett, uncle of Samuel[3]. Doubtless she died before her husband, since no wife is mentioned in his will. Samuel Gillit of Hatfield and Hannah his wife deeded the following land to Nathaniel Dickinson, 20 Feb. 1703/4, consideration 25 pounds: "a certain part of his house lot in Hatfield ½ of The Breadth Thereof Running from the Town Street to the River Containing Two Acres and a half", "abutting on the Town Street west & on the River East, Bounded by the house lot of Sergt Stephen Belding North and the other Part of ye said Jilletts houselott South." Wit.: Samuel Partridge, Henry Dwight. Sgd., Samuel Gillet, Hannah L Gillet [her mark] (Springfield, Mass., Hall of Records, vol. B, p. 151).

15 Oct. 1719 William Randall of Enfield, Conn., gave a warranty deed to 71 acres to Henry Dwight of Hatfield, Mass., and the witnesses were Samuel Gillett, Joseph Jennings, maternal half brothers almost surely. (History Enfield, Conn., vol. I, p. 2100, Public Documents.)

23 Sept. 1720 will of Stephen Belding of Hatfield, Mass.; witnesses, Thomas Hastings, Scribe, John Belding, Sam'll Gillett, John Hastings. 29 Oct. 1720 all 4, named in order above, personally appeared (1898, Belden Gen., p. 88). "Hatfield men, who were of that troop which rode up the dark valley, on the morning of Feb. 29, 1704" after the previous day Deerfield massacre, included Samuel Gillett. (1910, Wells Hist. Hatfield, Mass.) 1922 "Index, Society of Colonial Wars", lists Samuel[2] Gillett, Sr., and "Samuel Gillett, Jr. 1672–1769, Hatfield, Mass. Soldier at Battle of Deerfield Meadow 1703." (1703/4?) "In 1735 Samuel Hunt petitioned 'ye Court' for a grant of land to the survivors of the Falls fight. In 1736 a grant of six miles square was made. It was located on the north bounds of Deerfield and called Falls Fight Town, finally Bernardston." Mass. Archives, vol. 114: Samuel Jellet, of Hatfield, June 1736, grantee of Bernardston, soldier in the Falls Fight (pp. 598–605). P. 606: Samuel Jellet, jr. of Hatfield, grantee Bernardston, 1736. Vol. 116, p. 190: May 8, 1752 Saml Gillet, propr. Falltown (Bernardston). — When and by whom was this land later deeded away? Wells Hist. Hatfield, p. 126: "In 1708 Samuel Gillett had 1500 trees boxed for tar and turpentine."

15. Thomas[3] Gillett (John,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Windsor, Conn., was born there 18 July 1676 and baptized the 23rd. He was doubtless named for his maternal grandfather, Thomas[1] Barber of Windsor and Simsbury or for that deceased grandparent's energetic namesake son, "Lieutenant Thomas Barber" of Simsbury (1845 Phelps Hist. Simsbury, etc., p. 153). Wintonbury Parish records give the date of his death, 28 Feb. 1761 "in 87th year"; doubtless because his three sons lived in that part of Windsor, and he probably lived with them. Descendants of the family became noteworthy there.

The Parish was the Fifth Society in Windsor, located in the southwest part of the town; the first petition of May 1734 by 27 residents asking only for "local winter church privileges" (November–March), since they were "six miles from Windsor North Society house of worship." In October 1736 the Province Assembly granted a larger petition for "parish privileges" by establishing a parish nearly four miles square, about seven-tenths lay in Windsor, one-tenth in Farmington, two-tenths in Simsbury and so named Win-ton-bury. There were 65 families, 325 persons, and the church organized and located in February 1738 had 67 members; four Gillett families among them. In 45 years over 1147 children were baptized there. In 1845 the parish became the town of Bloomfield.

Thomas[3] married first, in Windsor, and both of Windsor, Martha Mills, who died within a very few years with no record of children born, and and secondly in Windsor, 26 Feb. 1704/5, HANNAH[3] CLARK (John,[2] Hon. Daniel[1]), born in Simsbury 15 Aug. 1686, died in Windsor 20 Feb. 1708/9, leaving three sons. Stiles in Ancient Windsor states of her grandfather: "Hon. Daniel Clark, an attorney at law, a first settler and man of much influence and position at Windsor; held many public offices; was Secretary of the Colony, 1658–64; & 1665–6." "Married (1) Mary[2] Newberry (Thomas[1])." There is no known record of a third marriage, though one seems probable. The following 1726 probate record proves that Thomas[3] was then alive, and might suggest a third marriage about 1716.

16. SAMUEL[3] GILLETT (John,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Suffield, Conn., and Granville, Mass., born in Windsor, Conn., 16 Feb. 1677/8. He was five years old when his mother married secondly, Captain George Norton of Suffield, the town that became the boy's home for most of his life. In the later years of his life he lived in Granville, across the line in southwest Mass., and died there "in 1739, aged 60", but was buried in Suffield. (Northampton Probate Records give administration of estate 1934.) He married in Suffield, 22 Jan. 1701/2 (int. 20 Dec. 1701), REBECCA[3] BANCROFT (Thomas,[2] John[1]), born in Springfield, Mass. (part later Enfield, Conn.), 23 Feb. 1680, a family name that connects with both the Jonathan and Nathan Gillett lines, and the Windsor Stiles family. The immigrant ancestor John[1] Bancroft reached Lynn, Mass., in 1632 and died so soon that to his London poet brother Thomas it seemed no landing, and he wrote the lines:

"You sold your land the lighter hence to go To foreign coasts, yet (Fate would have it so) Did ne'er New England reach, but went with them
That journey toward New Jerusalem."

Widow Jane Bancroft received 100 acres in Lynn in 1638. Her daughter Anna[2] married 13 May 1647 Sergt. John Griffin, settled in Simsbury, Conn., had ten children and one of them, Sarah[2] Griffin, married Elias[2] Gillett (Nathan[1]). Son Thomas[2] Bancroft of the Springfield, Mass. region, residence at the "lower wharf," now Enfield, Conn., was a selectman of Westfield; 8 Dec. 1653 married Margaret[2] Wright (Samuel[1]) and their daughter Ruth[3] Bancroft married John Stiles and had many children; and daughter Rebecca[3] married Samuel[3] Gillett; and son Nathaniel[3] had descendants in Granville, Mass. (and Ohio) and it was probably this connection that took Samuel[3] Gillett from Suffield to Granville.

Rev. Ezra[5] Stiles, President of Yale from 1772 to 1795, was the son of Rev. Isaac[4] and the grandson of John[3] and Ruth[3] (Bancroft) Stiles, and he wrote of his grandmother's family: "The Family of Bancroft are of a brisk, smart, quick, sensible & lively cast. Grandmother communicated her family spirit to all (her) children", etc. (Stiles Gens. 1892 & 1895).

17. BENJAMIN[3] GILLETT (John,[2] Jonathan[1]), of Suffield, Conn., probably a twin and born in Windsor, Conn., 3 Oct. 1680 and brought up in Suffield after his mother's second marriage. He married there, 6 Sept. 1705, ELIZABETH[3] AUSTIN, born there 20 April 1684, dau. of Captain Anthony[2] and Esther Austin. Her gravestone in West Suffield cemetery records her death 7 Oct. 1752, in 68th year.

18. JOSIAH[3] GILETT (Josiah,[2] Jonathan[1]) was born 24 Nov. 1678. [For Josiah[3] and succeeding generations see vol. 47, p. 169, The Register.]

Samuel[3]'s probated will is dated March 30, 1769, when he lacked only a month and a half of being 97; and it was signed only by his mark, though formerly he had signed his name. But there is proof that some, perhaps most of it, was written before 1760; half proof, before 1754; and the probability is that it was begun soon after the death of his only son, Samuel,[4] whose estate was in court for administration 14 Aug. 1750. His son Samuel[4]'s record helps the dating of the father's will.

Samuel[4] Gillett had three daughters: Sarah, Martha, who married 16 May 1754 Capt. Perez Graves; Hannah who married 10 Nov. 1757 Oliver Morton. Northampton, Mass., Probate Records for 1750, Book 7, p. 263: Adms. Estate Samuel Gillitt Juner of Hatfield Aug. 14, 1750 to John Billing of Hatfield. Page 276: Invt. by Timothy Cowls, Reuben Wait, John Dickinson Junr. Book 8, p. 18: Feb. 14, 1753 Eleazer Cowl of Hatfield chosen by above 14 year old Hannah Gillit, daughter of Samuel. — This proves that the youngest of the three daughters was born by Feb. 14, 1739, probably a trifle earlier. — Adms., Invt., Settlement Est. Samuel[3] Gillett of Hatfield, 1769: v. 11, p. 77, will, dated 30 March 1769; To my three granddaughters, Sarah Gillet, Martha Gillet & Hannah, daus. of my son Samuel Gillit Dec'd — land in Hatfield — but if any decease before 21, to go to survivors. Remainder to his three daughters, Hannah, Margaret Belding & Mary Evets & to their heirs — to my daughter Elizabeth Bardwell 1 shilling (because of previous gifts) — my son in law Joseph Belding executor. Sgd. Samuel Gillet [his mark]. Wit.: David Wilds, Isr[1] Williams. Probated 1st Tuesday in June 1769 by Israel Williams Esq. Judge of Court.

By Feb. 14, 1760 the youngest granddaughter of Samuel[3] would have been 21; and if the will was written after 16 May 1754 would not granddaughter Martha have been called Martha Graves; and if after 10 Nov. 1757, granddaughter Hannah have been Hannah Morton? The impression is of a grief-absorbed father concentrating impulsively on the three young daughters of his recently deceased only son.

Another important query connected with Samuel[3]'s will concerns his oldest child, Hannah,[4] born 9 Jan. 1697/8. Does the fact that her father's will, written perhaps in 1750, names her only as Hannah, prove that she had never married? No, there are similar proved cases. Her mother's older sister, Margaret[3] Hastings, born in Hatfield in 1674, in 1707 married Nathaniel Evetts. The Guilford, Conn., vital records, Barbour collection, record the marriage in Hatfield, Mass., by Rev. William Williams, May 9, 1722, of Hannah Gillet of Hatfield to Jonathan Evarts of Guilford, Conn. The oldest of their two sons and five daughters, Jonathan, was born 16 Nov. 1723; and the youngest, 7 May 1741. The dates preclude the idea that the bride was Hannah's sister Mary, who was only ten years old at the time of the marriage, though their father's will named her as Mary Evets. The Boltwood genealogies state that Hannah married — Benton of Guilford, Conn., and Mary an Evetts of Killingsworth, Conn.; and another suggestion is that Mary married a Benton. Proof may come later.

Children, born in Hatfield:

i. HANNAH,[4] b. 9 Jan. 1697/8. No known absolute proof of her further record, but the compiler believes that it was as follows: d. in Guilford or East Guilford 13 Feb. 1774; m. in Hatfield, 9 May 1722, JONATHAN[4] EVARTS (James,[3] James,[2] John[1]) of Guilford, d. there 27 March 1779, in 80th year. 7 children.

Hatfield "original old book", page 70, marriage of Joseph Gillit and * Eliza Hawkes, Nov. 24, 166(3 or 4?). The date is clear except for the last figure in the year, which last figure is a combination of a perhaps underlying 3 and overlying double 4; the 3 fainter than the double 4, which suggests that it was earlier. Mr. Walter E. Corbin writes, "probably should be 1663". And the Hadley-Hatfield and Windsor, Conn., records and situations make that year practically the only possible one, as a detailed long recording could demonstrate.

Mr. Corbin wrote later: "I have found another record entry which will clear up the marriage date 1663 mixed with two 4s. In the old Register Book of William Pynchon of Springfield kept at the Pynchon Building of the Connecticut Valley Historical Society at Springfield, in the Hadley marriages is this, 'Joseph Gillett & Elizabeth Hawkes were marryed Nov. 4 1663.' So the year really is 1663. From the looks of this Pynchon Book

Here followeth a Coppy of ye Inventory of ye Estate of Samll Gillit of Hatfield who dyed May 18th 1676 —

The inventory was taken by Phillip Smith, Samll Church, Samll Partregg; included 11 items, ("land at Hatfield, Sword, Cowes, hogges, calf" etc.), and the "Sum totall" was 331 –00– 20.

The only date noticed for this probate record was the initial 1677. Mr. Corbin is expert authority for its May 18th date for Samuel[2] Gillett's death. Wells' 1910 Hatfield History states that the soldiers in the early morning May 19, 1676 Falls Fight set out from Hatfield after sunset on Thursday May 18. That is doubtless authority for the date 18 in the probate record. Wells' further states, that when the expedition reached Hatfield again, 45 men were missing, and two were mortally wounded. Two others reached the settlement that night, two on Sunday, two on Monday, and the total loss was 42. "William Allis, John Colefax and Samuel Gillett were killed." (Hatfield men.) Samuel Gillett signed a May 3, 1667 Hadley "west side" petition; and one or more later ones.

Query. Did Samuel[2] and Hannah Gillett have a younger son who became the John Gillett of Wethersfield, Connecticut? An Illinois descendant of said John believes it probable. Proof seems to lie in the chance of discovery of the division of Samuel's land "amongst ye Children."

(Does this necessarily imply that the home of Joseph and Esther was then in Hatfield or is it possible that the child was born at the Hatfield home of her maternal grandfather, William Gull? But it certainly eliminates the statement that she was born in Deerfield.)

On inventory is: "the names & ages of ye Children: Nathaniel 12 yrs.; Joseph, 10 yrs.; Elihaj, 8 yrs.; Jonathan, 6 yrs." May this signature of Lebanon's Edward Colver, one of its original proprietors, suggest that he was a possible family connection of the widow? In 1723 his family moved to Litchfield, Conn., and both young Nathaniel[4] and Joseph[4] Gillett lived there also.

JONATHAN AND NATHAN GILLETT DESCENDANTS: CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS: — An apology is due for my too hasty and inefficient examination of the Northampton, Mass., 1769 probate record of the will of Samuel[3] Gillett (Samuel,[2] Jonathan[1]), reported in the October 1947 Register.

Genealogist Walter E. Corbin of Florence, Mass., explains the old method of county probate recording and indexing. "There are two indexes. One for the book or volume the probate papers are entered in; and the other for the files of original papers. Often the book entries are just a brief notice or abstract, or summary of the original papers brought in for probating. The wills are usually copied in the books, entire, although the copyists sometimes have taken liberties with the spelling. Some estates (early) have more in the books than in the files; probably they copied off what they wanted and gave the papers back to the person. And some estates are in the books only; no originals. There are many peculiarities found in the different books. Samuel Gillit's will was from the original.

"In the Samuel Gillit will at the end it says, 'Recorded Lib. G. page 78.' That was the old number, and now it is book 11 and page 78. Those old books are numbered only on the top of the right hand page, and the page on the back, or left side when turned over was not numbered. This was a folio, and the back side really was the same number also. This will was on the back side of page 77, but being the left page in the book and opposite page 78, the one who indexed the book called it 78. One would ordinarily call it page 77a or 77½, to indicate which side of the page it was on. The date on the index card for Samuel Gillit was the probation date; in fact all those dates on the card are the date of probating the estate."

Probated — at a court at Hatfield June 6 1769"

This will with its important correction of date of making as 1753 instead of 1769, and completion of daughter Hannah's name as Hannah Evets, practically proves her 1722 marriage to Jonathan Evarts of Guilford, Conn., even though it is a Guilford and not an old Hatfield town record: and proves that daughter Mary was then also a Mrs. "Evets."

Mr. Corbin gives also the Northampton, Mass., Probate record, Box 60, No. 40, of the Estate of Samuel Gillit Jr. of Hatfield, Mass. Aug. 14, 1750 John Billing of Hatfield was made administrator and signed a $500 bond; sureties, Samuel Clark of Northampton, Benjamin Pierce of Hadley. And three appraisers appointed: Timothy Cowles, Reuben Wait, John Dickinson; who gave the inventory Nov. 12, 1750. The earliest record was the following:

"We the Subscribers do hereby declare that we decline taking administration on the Estate of our Kinsman Saml Gillet Junr late of Hatfield in the County of Hampshire Decd & desire it may be Granted to John Billing of sd Hatfield Brother in Law to sd. Decd. Signed May 9th 1750, Elesebeth Bardwell (and below)

NOTE 1.

EDWARD WHALLEY—One of the fifty-nine Judges of Charles 1. who affixed their names to the warrant for the King's Execution. January 29, 1648–9.

He was the second son of Richard Whalley, Esq., by his second wife, Frances, daughter of Sir Henry Cromwell, Hinckinbrooke, Knight, the grandfather of the Protector, Oliver, and a grandson of Thomas, Esq. (by his wife Elizabeth), who was the eldest son and heir of Richard Whalley, Esq. of Kirkton, county of Nottingham, a man of great opulence and member of Parliament for Scarboro', 1 Edward VI., who died in 1583, aged 84.

Being a second son, he "was brought up to merchandize," but joined the Parliamentary army at the commencement of the contest between Charles and his Parliament.

He distinguished himself in many battles and sieges, and as a reward for his bravery at the battle of Naseby in 1645, Parliament, Jan. 21, 1645–6, "voted him to be a Colonel of Horse," &c.

Having great confidence in his cousin, the Protector committed the King's person to the charge of Colonel Whalley, and afterwards entrusted him "with the government of the counties of Lincoln, Nottingham, Derby, Warwick and Leicester, by the name of Major-General," and also made him Commissary-General for Scotland.

He was one of the representatives of Nottinghamshire in the Parliament held in 1654 and 1656, and was called up to the Protector's House of Lords.

Gen. Whalley married the sister of Sir George Middleton, Knight, by whom he had several children—among them John, his eldest son and heir.

Speaking of the characters which Goffe and Whalley sustained in England prior to their flight to the Colonies, President Stiles says, "certainly they were among the personages of the first eminence for great and noble actions in their day."

Gen. Whalley died at Hadley about 1676. Concerning the place of his burial, some have supposed he and Goffe were both buried in New Haven near Judge Dixwell, and the subject is discussed at length in the fourth chapter of Dr. Stiles' History of the Judges; but since the publication of that work in 1794, wherein it is conceded that Whalley died at Hadley, was there buried, and that if he really was buried in New Haven his remains were taken up and removed from Hadley, the south part of the house wherein Mr. Russell the minister of Hadley resided, and where the two regicides were concealed for upwards of fifteen years, has been taken down (in 1795); and in removing the middle part of the front wall next the main street, the workmen discovered the bones of a man, small pieces of wood and some flat stones, which from their position were probably laid on the top of the coffin.

The thigh bone was the only one found to be whole, and was pronounced by Dr. Rogers of Hadley, who examined it, to be that of a large man.

The author of the History of Hadley, page 222, says "these bones must have been those of Gen. Whalley, who was buried near 120 years before."

I am informed that the Rev. Chandler Robbins, D.D., is about publishing some documents relating to the regicides.

Note 2.

William Goffe—likewise a member of the "High Court of Justice" which pronounced judgment upon Charles I., and, like Whalley, one of the fifty-nine who signed the King's death warrant.

He was a son of the Rev. Stephen Goffe, a Puritan Divine and Rector of Stanmer, in Sussex. Although he did not receive an academic education, he was possessed of such fine abilities, so well cultivated by his converse with scientific and literary subjects, that the honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon him by the University of Oxford. Living in London with a Mr. Vaughan, a dry salter, and disliking trade, he entered the Parliamentary army on the breaking out of the war. He soon became Quarter Master, then a Colonel of foot, and was afterwards raised by Cromwell to the rank of Major General for Hampshire, Sussex and Berkshire, "a place of great profit."

In 1654 he, with Col. William White and some "Musqueteers," purged the Parliament of the "Anabaptistical Members;" for which and other services, he was considered "the only fit man" to receive

John Lambert's post of Major General of foot; and by some "to have the Protectorship settled on him in future time."

Was member of Parliament from Great Yarmouth in 1654, and for the County of Southampton in 1656, and was afterwards, like General Whalley, made one of Oliver's Lords, and signed the order for proclaiming the Protector Richard.

He married a daughter of Gen. Whalley—his companion in exile—and corresponded with her, while at Hadley, over the signature of Walter Goldsmith, and received replies signed Frances Goldsmith. This correspondence was carried on as between a mother and son. Goffe's last letter bears date April 2, 1679.

Goffe and Whalley were devout Congregational Puritans and in perfect accord with the New England fathers. It being dangerous for them to remain longer in England, as the Restoration drew near, they took passage in a ship bound for New England, and while yet in the Channel, received tidings of the proclaiming of Charles II.

They arrived in Boston July 27, 1660, where they were kindly received by Governor Endicott, and visited by the principal inhabitants.

Although they did not attempt to conceal their names or the position they had occupied as Judges of King Charles, they preferred taking up their abode at Cambridge, instead of remaining in Boston, and immediately went thither.

The act of indemnity arrived in November of this year, and upon finding that Generals Goffe and Whalley were not excepted the Government of the Massachusetts was alarmed, on account of the friendly reception which they had given these gentlemen on their arrival.

February 22, 1661, the Governor convened the Court of assistants to consult upon the propriety of securing them, and finding it unsafe to remain longer, they left Cambridge on the 26th and arrived at New Haven on the 7th of March.

Here also they met with kind treatment, especially from the ministers, Rev. John Davenport and Rev. Nicholas Street. Among those most forward in their interest was William Leete, Esq., the Deputy-Governor of the Colony.

The news of the King's Proclamation arriving soon after, they were obliged to flee.

While in New Haven, they were concealed in the house of Rev. John Davenport, from whence they removed to the house of William Jones, Esq., afterwards Deputy Governor of Connecticut, where they remained till the 11th of May, the day on which this warrant was issued, when they removed to a Mill, near the outlet of "Beaver Ponds," in the suburbs of New Haven, and on the 13th were conducted by Mr. Jones, first to a place called Hatchet Harbor, and on the 15th to a cave on the top of a hill about two miles and a half north west of New Haven, which the Regicides named "Providence Hill."

After this they were two years at the house of one Tompkins, near Milford meeting-house, and on the 13th of October, 1664, they started for Hadley, travelling only by night, where the minister of the place, the Rev. John Russell, had consented to receive them. Here they remained for about sixteen years, residing a part of the time at the house of Mr. Peter Tilton, who resided near Mr. Russell.

A drawing of the Judges' Chamber at Mr. Russell's, faces page 202 of Stiles' History of the Judges, and is copied into the History of Hadley, page 220.

General Goffe kept a journal or diary, from the time he left Westminster, May 4, 1660, till the year 1667, in small pocket volumes, written in a kind of short hand, which was quite easily deciphered. This, with other of his papers, was long preserved in the library of the Mathers, in Boston, who obtained them from the family of Mr. Russell, the minister of Hadley.

These papers passed into the hands of Governor Hutchinson, while he was writing his History of Massachusetts, and, unfortunately, were in his house on the night of the 26th of August, 1765, and, with other documents of priceless value to the historian, were destroyed.

I have understood, within a few days, that a portion of Goffe's papers, including letters to his wife, are in existence, and are to be given to the public, in print, at an early day.

Goffe probably died in Hadley, in 1679 or 1680, as he is not heard of at any period after 1679; April 2d, of which year, as before stated, he wrote the last letter to his wife.

Interesting sketches of both Goffe and Whalley, are given in Hutchinson's History of Massachusetts, Vol. i. p. 213–19, of the London edition, and in the History of Hadley, page 214 et seq.

NOTE 3.

JONA. GILBERT was of Hartford in 1645, and soon after (Mr. Savage says 29 January, 1646) married Mary, daughter of John White, by whom he had several children.

He was possessed of great wealth, and appears to have been engaged in the "coasting business," and a man of considerable note, holding various civil offices—was Representative, Collector of Customs at Hartford, and for many years held the office of Marshall of the Colony, which corresponds to that of High Sheriff at the present day.

He died December 10, 1682, aged 64, and, with his wife who died July 3, 1700, aged 74, is buried at Hartford.

An extended account of this man, and a copy of his will, are contained in the genealogy of the Gilbert Family. Ante, Vol. iv., July and October.

NOTE 4.

DANIEL CLARK was one of the first settlers of Windsor, Conn., where he was an "attorney at law," and a magistrate.

He was a man of influence, and occupied an honorable position in the affairs of the Colony, of which he was several years Secretary—was Representative 1657–61, an assistant 1662–64, and Captain of the cavalry troop in 1664.

Mr. Clark married in June, 1644, Mary, daughter of Thomas Newberry, of Dorchester, by whom he had a family of ten children. On page 569 of the "History of Ancient Windsor," it is stated that the marriage was solemnized June 15, 1644, while on page 720 I find the date fixed upon to be the 13th of June.

His first wife having died August 29, 1688, he married for his second wife, Martha, widow of Simon Wolcott, and sister of Wm. Pitkin, Esq., of Hartford, by whom he had no children.

He was "appointed," by the town of Windsor, to sit in the "great pew" in the Meeting-house, which was "Wainscotted for the sitting of the Magistrates;" and died August 12, 1710, aged 87.

5. John[4] Gorham (Joseph,[3] Jabez,[2] John[1]), born in Fairfield (Green's Farms), July 4, 1732, married Oct. 2, 1754, Abigail Wakeman. John,[4] of New Fairfield, bought land in Kent, Conn., April 10, 1781. (Land Records, Vol. 7, p. 69.) Joseph[5] Gorham and Timothy St. John were administrators of the estate of John[4] Gorham, of New Milford, Jan. 13, 1806. (Land Records, Vol. 2.) Joseph[5] Gorham, of Kent, gave quit-claim to John[5] and Jared,[5] of Vermont, of all his right in land on east mountain left him in the will of his mother Abigail Gorham, Sept. 4, 1808. (Land Records, Vol. 2, p. 420.) John,[5] of Bakersfield, Vt., sold to James,[5] of Poultney, Vt., land in Kent, Oct. 25, 1809. (Land Records, Vol. 2, p. 401.) Seth[5] Gorham, of Castleton, Vt., and wife Betsey, sold land in Kent, which came from the estate of her father, Eleazer Thompson. (Land Records, Vol. 12, p. 80.) Seth,[5] of Castleton, Vt., sold one seventh part of undivided land in Kent, Jan. 23, 1810. (Land Records, Vol. 12, p. 84.) The will of Abigail Gorham, of Kent, dated Oct. 2, 1805, and probated Jan. 24, 1811, at New Milford, Conn., gave to her daughters Deborah, Abigail, and Lucy, all her household furniture, and to her sons John, James, Seth, Jeremiah, Wakeman, Hezekiah, and Joseph, all her landed estate of every description lying in Kent, or elsewhere. Mrs. Ella Comstock Peckham, of Utica, N. Y., a descendant of John[4] Gorham and his wife Abigail Wakeman, has sent the writer the following list of the children of John[4] Gorham. The baptisms of the first two, Deborah[5] and John,[5] are at Green's Farms. The will of the mother, Abigail Gorham, mentions the seventh child as Jeremiah. The Kent land records, under date of Sept. 4, 1808 (Vol. 2, p. 420), calls the same man Jared, of Vermont. Mrs. Peckham's Bible list of children calls him Jared, and the History of Poultney, Vt., calls him Jared. There were but seven sons.

Children:

i. Deborah,[5] bapt. Apr. 27, 1755; m. Timothy St. John.
ii. John, bapt. June 20, 1756.
iii. James, bapt. May 28, 1758.
iv. Seth, bapt. June 8, 1760; m. Betsy Thompson.
v. Jared, m. Asenath Morgan.
vi. Wakeman, settled in Chittenden, Vt.; m. Polly ———.
vii. Abigail.
viii. Abigail, b. July 19, 1770; m. Solomon Comstock, June 16, 1788.
ix. Hezekiah.
x. Lucy.
xi. Joseph, b. in 1780; m. Lucy Beecher; removed to Pennsylvania.

6. Daniel[5] Gorham (Ichabod,[4] Joseph,[3] Jabez,[2] John[1]), born in Fairfield, Nov., 1749, died in Roxbury, Conn., Jan. 25, 1836, in which year his estate was settled. (Woodbury, Conn., Probate Records.) Mary, wife of Daniel Gorham, died in Roxbury, Conn., Jan. 31, 1817, aged 61. Daniel Gorham appears among the Litchfield County pensioners, placed on the pension roll May 15, 1833, age 83. (This agrees with the record of his birth.) There is on record at New Milford, Conn., an agreement between Daniel[5] and his son Daniel,[6] which gives the farm to the son, subject to the life right of the father. It has been claimed that Daniel[5] was the son of Joseph,[4] who died in Norwalk in 1760, and his wife Abigail Lovell, but that Joseph's family returned, immediately after his death, to Barnstable and Nantucket, where four of his children married. He did have a son Daniel,[5] and the last record of him was in the will of his grandfather, at Barnstable, in 1770. The writer has made many researches to find trace in Connecticut of Daniel[5] the son of Joseph[4] and Abigail (Lovell), but without success. None of that family are recorded in Connecticut after 1760.

Children, born in Roxbury, Conn.:

i. Aaron,[6]

ii. Lucy, b. Sept. 15, 1782; m. Joseph Treat, Dec. 16, 1806.
iii. Daniel, b. Dec. 16, 1784; d. Dec. 2, 1869; m. Polly Randall.
iv. Eli, b. Jan. 2, 1787; d. Apr. 10, 1867; m. Lætitia Hamilton, July 6, 1811. In 1808, he was a manufacturer of woolen machinery in Oswego, N. Y., and he was the first to introduce carding, or cloth dressing, machinery into western Canada. He established a factory in Newmarket, Canada, in 1809. His son Charles,[7] b. Feb. 2, 1818, m. May 20, 1852, Helen Durthie Milne; and their son, Judge Thomas[8] A. Gorham of Milton, Ontario, Canada, b. Nov. 2, 1854, m. Annabella Villiers, Nov. 23, 1893. The writer is indebted to Judge Gorham for some of the Roxbury, Conn., notes.
v. Joseph, b. Dec. 5, 1788; d. Oct. 13, 1839; m. Lydia Haight.
vi. Mary, m. ——— Botsford.
vii. Sarah, m. ——— Bennett.
viii. Hiram, d. July 31, 1826; m. Hannah Peck.

7. Benjamin[5] Gorham (Ichabod,[4] Joseph,[3] Jabez,[2] John[1]), born in Fairfield, Dec. 24, 1752, married Amy Combs, who died in 1829. Benjamin[5] and Amy Gorham deeded land in Danbury, in 1799. Amy Gorham's estate was settled in 1830.

Children:

i. Russell,[6] b. in Danbury, in 1775.
ii. William, b. in Danbury, Jan. 3, 1779; d. in Oneonta, N. Y.; m. at Ridgefield, Mar. 12, 1800, Polly Weed, b. July 1, 1784, d. Aug. 31, 1850. Children, all born in Danbury: 1. Benton,[7] b. Dec. 23, 1800. 2. Sally, b. Dec. 30, 1804. 3. George S., b. Oct. 4, 1807. 4. Charles T., b. May 29, 1812; m. Apr. 10, 1839, Charlotte E. Hart. He was Ambassador to Holland, during the administration of President Grant, and held many other important offices. For many years he was President of the Marshall, Michigan, Bank. He d. in Marshall, March, 1901. (He employed Miss Louise Tracey, of New Haven, Conn., to trace his line of ancestry, and some of her notes, as well as some Kent, Conn., records, have been used by the writer.) 5. Rev. Barlow W., b. June 24, 1814.
iii. Betsy.
iv. Sally.
v. Mary.
vi. Rebecca.
vii. David.
viii. Laura.
ix. Abigail.
x. Amy.

8. Seth[5] Gorham (Ichabod,[4] Joseph,[3] Jabez,[2] John[1]), according to his own family Bible, was born in Danbury, Jan. 18, 1762. The inscription upon his monument at West Rutland, Vt., agrees with the Bible record of his age. He married first, Amelia Dunks, born in Danbury, Mar. 29, 1763, died Oct. 17, 1841; and married second, Louisa Everson, in 1842. He died Aug. 29, 1852. Miss Charity[8] Gorham, of West Rutland, Vt., the owner of the family Bible, writes: "My father Chauncey[7] T. Gorham, son of Judson,[6] and grandson of Seth[5] and Amelia (Dunks), remembers both Seth[5] Gorhams, and says they were cousins."

Children:

vii. Laura, b. Aug. 9, 1804; d. Feb. 6, 1833.

THE GRANT FAMILY.

[Communicated by JOHN WARD DEAN, of Boston.]

THE Rev. P. C. Headley, in his Life and Campaigns of Gen. Grant, says "he is of Scotch descent. More than a century ago, his ancestor came to the shores of America, then comparatively a wilderness, and settled in Pennsylvania, while a brother, who emigrated with him, went to Canada. By honest industry, our hardy pioneer supported his growing family upon his forest-girdled clearing, until the Revolutionary war called him to its field of strife. After bravely following the flag of the rising Republic, he returned with the dawn of peace to his home in Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania."

Richard A. Wheeler, Esq., of Stonington, Ct., in a communication to the Norwich Morning Bulletin, Nov. 21, 1866, after quoting the above statement of Mr. Headley, shows that it is erroneous; and states that Gen. Grant was a lineal descendant of Matthew Grant, who came to this country in 1630, and settled in Dorchester, Mass., but removed to Windsor, Ct. Mr. Wheeler gives the genealogy from Matthew Grant to the General. A genealogy of this family, with fuller details, is found in the History and Genealogies of Ancient Windsor, Conn., by Henry R. Stiles, M.D., published in 1859, and the supplement published in 1862; but, in this line, they bring the family down only to Noah Grant (grandson of the emigrant), whose birth only is given. I copy the early generations from Dr. Stiles's book, and the later ones from Mr. Wheeler's communication. All of the facts and most of the language are from these two writers.

1. Matthew[1] Grant was one of the original company who came in the Mary and John to Dorchester, in 1630; was a freeman there in 1631; removed to Windsor among the very earliest;* was second town clerk there, also the first and for many years the principal surveyor; was a prominent man in the church; evidently was just, and exceedingly conscientious in all his public and private transactions and duties. As recorder, he often added notes, explanatory or in correction, to the records, which have considerable value to the investigator of the present day. He was the compiler of the Old Church Record which Dr. Stiles reprints in his History, and which, in the absence of some of the earliest records of the town of Windsor (1635,–50) assumes a value that can scarcely be overestimated. In short, he was a pious, hardworking, conscientious, Christian man, and a model town clerk. He was b. Tuesday, Oct. 27, 1601, and m. Nov. 16, 1625, his 1st wife Priscilla, who d. April 27, 1644, aged 43 years 2 months. He m. 2d, Susannah, widow of William Rockwell, May 29, 1645, in Windsor. She was b. Monday, April 5, 1602, and d. Nov. 14, 1666. Her children by Mr. Rockwell are given in Dr. Stiles's Supplement, p. 69, "Matthew Grant, Recorder," d Dec. 16, 1681, having, for four years preceding, resided with his son John.

His children by his first wife Priscilla were:—(2) Priscilla,[2] b. Sept. 14, 1626, m. Oct. 14, 1647, Michael Humphrey; for their descendants see Stiles's Windsor, art. Humphrey. (3) Samuel,[2] + b. in Dorchester, Nov. 12, 1631; settled on the little eminence in the rear of East Windsor Theological Institute, which Matthew, the father, speaks of, in 1675–6, in the Old Church Record, as being the only place in the meadow which was not covered with water in the great

* In the State Archives, in vol. of MSS. relating to Private Controversies, p. 138, in a matter concerning lands in dispute between Joseph Loomis, Jr. and Sen., April 21, 1675, Matthew Grant testifies:—

"And if any question my uprightness and legal acting about our town affairs, that I have been employed in, a measuring of land, and getting out of lots of men which has been done by me from our first beginning here, come next Sept. is 40 yere. I never got out any land to any man, until I knew he had a grant to it from the townsmen, and town's approbation, or about recording after the book was turned to me, which is near 23 years since. 17. Noah[4] Grant, was a resident of Windsor until the town of Tolland was settled when he became an inhabitant of the new town. By wife Martha, had :—(23) Noah,[5]+ b. in Windsor, July 12, 1718 ; m. Nov. 5, 1746, Susannah Delano. (24) Adoniram.[5] (25) Solomon.[5] (26) Martha.[5]

By his wife Susannah, he had :—(27) Noah,[6]+ b. June 20, 1748 : m. 1st, Mrs. Anna Richardson ; m. 2d, in Pennsylvania, Rachel Kelly. (28) Peter.[6]

† Dr. Stiles in his History gives another son by his first wife, viz., Josiah,[2] who had a son Josiah,[3] b. Nov. 24, 1678 ; but this does not seem to be confirmed by the record printed by him in his Supplement.

‡ John Miner, the father, was a son of Lieut. Thomas and Grace (Palmer) Miner, of Stonington, the first of the name in this country. He was son of William, of Chew Magna co., Somerset. An ancient pedigree of this family is printed in the Register, Vol. xiii. pp. 161–4.

By his second wife Rachel, he had:—(31) Susan.[7] (32) Jesse Root,[7]+ b. Jan. 1794, still living; m. Grant, Webb, Warner, Holmes.—Seth Grant (Zeth Graunt) emigrated to New England in June 1632. Among his fellow passengers were William Wadsworth, John Talcott, William Goodwin, and John White.* The following year all but Grant had become resident of Newtown, later called Cambridge, Mass. If Grant did not remove to Newtown when his fellow passengers did, he certainly was there in 1634.†

Among the residents of the town was also Richard Webb.

Grant and Webb were among the persons who, in 1636, went through the wilderness and made a settlement on the Connecticut River which they called Newtown and, in February 1636-7, Hartford. On page 359 of the first volume of the Hartford Land Records, which is known as the "Book of Distributions," is a record of the lands of Seth Grant under the date of February 1639.

Thus far no record has been discovered of his marriage or the births of any children, nor is there any record of his death. An inventory of his estate, dated "March the 4th 1646," is printed on pages 481 and 482 of the first volume of the "Colonial Records of Connecticut," but the records do not show any action on the estate.

On pages 313 and 507 of the "Book of Distributions" reference is made to "Seth Grant's children." On page 25 of Vital Records, in volume 1 of Land Records of the Town of Middletown, is entered the marriage, in February 1654, of Robert Warner and Elizabeth Grant, and the births of their children, the second of whom was named Seth, and the youngest Mehetable. March 31, 1687, Robert Warner sold 42 acres of land on the east side of the Connecticut River in Hartford which had been laid out to Seth Grant, and March 1, 1702-3, Robert's son Seth sold land in the same town which had been recorded to Seth Grant's.‡ These facts go to show that Warner's wife was a daughter of Seth Grant.

June 19, 1650, Nathaniel Ely and Richard Olmsted, of Hartford, for themselves and others of that town, one of whom was Richard Webb, entered into an agreement "for the settlinge and plantinge of Norwalke."§

An inventory of the estate of Richard Webb, who "deceased July last," was taken October 5, 1665, and was presented to the court at Fairfield, November 1 following, by the widow, who was appointed administrator.‖ "Elissabeth webb widowe the rellique of Richard webb formerly of norwalke deceased the twentie fowre of January 1680."¶ The Fairfield Probate Records show that in March 1681 several persons appeared in court and made claim to the estates of both Webb and his wife. Part of the entry read thus:

"Alsoe Richard Holmes Impleads right to a portion out of the estate of the said Elizabeth by vertu of his wiues realation to her." The court decreed that "Richard Holmes is to haue Twenty pound part of it in the bed and its furniture as it was prized on the Inuentory which is eight pounds the rest of the

Richard Holmes of Norwalk, "aged 60 years and upwards," made his will October 31, 1704, in which he gave to his wife Sarah the life use of all his real estate "and at her death to her near kinswoman Mehetable Warner now living with me." †

The inventory of the estate of Sarah Holmes, widow of Richard, is among the files of the Fairfield Probate court. On the document is an indorsement which shows that Mehetable Warner, "now surviving," was nearly related to said Sarah Holmes "and was her owne sisters child", and that soon after the death of the child's mother "this sarah holmes the childs own aunt went up to Middletown and brought this child home to her husband." The court decreed that "Sundry children of Robert Warner dec'd of Middletown are the next of kin in equal degree to said Sarah," and ordered the estate divided among them equally.

The foregoing proves beyond question that Seth Grant had at least two children: Elizabeth wife of Robert Warner of Middletown, and Sarah wife of Richard Holmes of Norwalk.

The settlement of the estate of Webb and his wife shows that they had in their possession property which had belonged to the father of Sarah Holmes (Seth Grant), and that Holmes claimed part of the estate of Elizabeth Webb "by vertu of his wiues realation to her." The inference is that Elizabeth, wife of Richard Webb, was the widow of Seth Grant and, at least, step-mother to Sarah Grant, wife of Richard Holmes of Norwalk.

3. Deacon John[2] Graves, or Grave (George[1]), of Guilford, married first, Elizabeth Stillwell, Nov. 26, 1657. She died June 3, 1669, and was buried the next day. He married second, Elizabeth Cruttenden, in 1670. After his death, she married successively John Sperry and Benjamin Burwell. Elizabeth Stillwell was the only child of Jasper Stillwell, one of the first settlers of Guilford, Conn., who was the tenth to take the charge to the freemen, on May 22, 1648. His wife was named Elizabeth. His will was made November, 1656, shortly before his death on the 6th of that month. He was buried on the 8th, and the will was proved on the 23d. His estate amounted to £210. 17. 10. His widow survived him. He was a man of means and built a stone house, one of four in the settlement. John Grave, who was a blacksmith by trade, lived in Guilford after his first marriage, on the land allotted to Stillwell. He naturally sided with the Rossiter, or Hartford, party in the troubles connected with the absorption of New Haven Jurisdiction by Connecticut. He seems to have come to Guilford about 1657, and was a freeman there before 1659. He held several town offices, and was town clerk from 1673 to 1685. He was one of the grantees of the town patent in 1685, and frequently served on commissions to run town boundaries and audit town accounts. He served as a deacon in the church from about 1676 until his death, and represented Guilford twenty-three times in the legislature. In addition to a home lot of 5¼ acres, he owned one parcel of upland in the Great Plaine, 10 acres, and 2½ acres of upland and marsh in the same plain. In 1667, he bought of Robert Kitchel, for £27., the latter's lot in the Little Plain, and six acres of upland on the north side of the country highway.

The Grays of Killingworth and Tiverton. Contributed by H. Eugene Bovis, Fairfax, Virginia.

The compilers of the Kelsey genealogy were not able to identify either Daniel Gray, who married Abigail Kelsey at Killingworth, Connecticut, 5 September 1743, or Mary Gray, who married Ensign Gamaliel Kelsey as his first wife at Saybrook, Connecticut, 11 January 1738/9 (Edward A. Claypool, Azalea Clizbee, and Earl Leland Kelsey, A Genealogy of the Descendants of William Kelsey, 2 vols. [New Haven, Conn., 1928], 1:142, 252). Who were these Grays?

In looking for a solution to this problem we find, in addition to the marriage of Daniel Gray and Abigail Kelsey, the marriages of Edward Gray to Mary Wellman at Killingworth, 7 March 1744, and Philip Gray to Martha Crane at Killingworth, 23 April 1749 (Killingworth Vital Records, Barbour Index, Connecticut State Library, Hartford, Connecticut). Thus, all four of the Gray marriages took place about the same time. The three Gray men married at Killingworth, and Mary Gray married Gamaliel Kelsey who was born at Killingworth. It would be reasonable, therefore, to assume that Daniel, Mary, Edward, and Philip Gray were somehow related.

The Barbour Index does not show the births of any of these Grays. However, we find in the birth records of Tiverton, Rhode Island, the following births: Daniel, of Edward and Rebecca Gray, 1 April 1718; Mary Gray, 8 October 1719; Edward Gray, 12 June 1721; and Philip Gray, 24 January 1723 (James N. Arnold, Vital Records of Rhode Island, 1636-1850 [Providence, 1893], Tiverton, 4:83). The records of the United Congregational Church of Little Compton, Rhode Island, show that Rebecca Gray of Killingworth was admitted 9 March 1717; that Daniel of Edward Gray, Jr., of Tiverton was baptized 1 June 1718; and that Mary of Edward Gray of Tiverton was baptized 11 September 1720 (Arnold, Vital Records of Rhode Island, Episcopal and Congregational, 8:15). Thus, it would seem that Edward Gray of Tiverton married Rebecca ——— of Killingworth about 1717. He and Rebecca had four children: Daniel, Mary, Edward, and Philip.

The question then arises as to when these Grays went to Killingworth. The will of Edward Gray (born 1667) of Tiverton, written 10 December 1722 and proved 7 June 1726, leaves to his sons Philip and Thomas the land "where my son Edward formerly lived" and specified that they were to pay "bonds which testator obliges himself to pay to daughter-in-law Rebecca Gray, to pay to the children of my son Edward, deceased" (Augustus Peck Clarke, Clarke's Kindred Genealogies [Cambridge, Mass., 1896], 77, 78; Benjamin Franklin Wilbour, Little Compton Families [Little Compton, R.I., 1967], 292, 293). Considering that Edward, Jr., was already deceased when his father's will was drawn 10 December 1722 but that his son Philip was born 24 January 1723, he must have died sometime between April and December 1722, and it would seem that his widow and children were no longer living in his house in December. It therefore appears that after Edward's death Rebecca took the children and returned to Killingworth, where they grew up and married. However, it has not been possible to discover a record of Rebecca Gray's death at Killingworth.

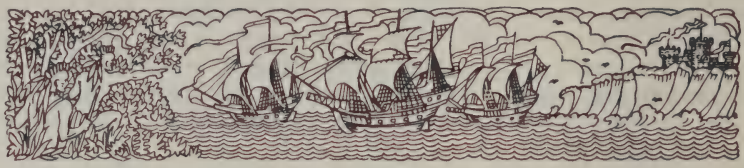
Edward Gray, the father of the four Grays of Killingworth, was born at Tiverton, 10 January 1693, the son of Edward Gray of Plymouth Colony and Tiverton and his first wife Mary Smith, daughter of Philip and Mary Smith of Newport. He was the grandson of Edward Gray of Plymouth Colony and his second wife, Dorothy Lettice (Wilbour, Little Compton Families, 292, 293).

GREEN, TIMOTHY.—Information is desired concerning the parentage of Timothy Green, who was in 1714 printer to the colony of Connecticut, and lived in New-London. Savage says (Gen. Dict. ii. 306) he was son of Samuel (son of Samuel of Cambridge), who was born March 6, 1648, married Elizabeth Sill, 1685, and died of small-pox, 1690. This is improbable, for the reason that no record is found in Boston Registry of the births of any children of Samuel (No. 2) and Elizabeth Green, and that Timothy's tomb-stone in New-London gives 1679 as the date of his birth. Moreover Timothy had a child born in 1703 (Records of second church, Boston). Probably Timothy was the youngest son of Samuel of Cambridge, by his second wife Sarah, dau. of Jonas Clark.

My reasons for this belief are: 1st, that the Boston News-Letter, in an obituary notice of Bartholomew Green, son of Samuel of Cambridge, published in 1732, says that Samuel had eight children by his wife Sarah. Savage gives only six, the last of whom was born Sept. 6, 1671. 2dly, in the Middlesex Registry of Deeds there is a conveyance, dated Aug. 2, 1707, by Jonas Green, of New-London, mariner, Bartholomew Green, printer, Joseph Green, tailor, and Timothy Green, printer, all of Boston, and Sarah Green, relict, widow of Capt. Samuel Green, late of Cambridge, to Nathaniel Hancock, of a house and land in Cambridge. Jonas and Bartholomew are the only sons of Samuel's second marriage given in Savage. It seems clear enough that Joseph and Timothy are the two needed to make out the full number of eight children as stated in the News-Letter. It is true that Samuel, of Cambridge, had a son Joseph by his first marriage, but Savage thinks him the Joseph who died in 1672. Jonas is clearly the person of that name who was in New-London in 1694, according to Savage, and of whose family Savage was ignorant, he says. 3rdly, Jonas was a common name among the descendants of Timothy Green. He had a son of the name, and so did his son Thomas. Timothy was, I believe, married three times. His first wife's name (if he had three wives) I cannot learn. The others were Mary Flint, daughter of Capt. John Flint, of Concord; and Abigail Hill, daughter of Capt. Charles Hill, of New-London. I shall be glad of any information concerning the wives and children of Timothy Green, as well as any other fact corroborating my suggestion as to his parentage.



THE GREEN FAMILY
A DYNASTY OF PRINTERS

By William C. Kiessel, of New York University

It was 4 Sept. 1633, that the ship The Griffin dropped its anchor off shore from the little settlement called Boston. Among the members of Thomas Hooker's Company was Bartholomew Green with his wife Elizabeth and their four children: Samuel, Nathaniel, Sarah, and Phebe.[1] Modern scholarship has disproved Isaiah Thomas' statement that the Green family came to Massachusetts with Governor Winthrop in 1630.[2] Bartholomew moved his family to Cambridge where he became a freeman on 14 May 1634. He died the following year. His widow Elizabeth died on 28 Oct. 1677, at the age of eighty-eight.[3]

Samuel Green, progenitor of a dynasty of printers, was a promising young man of eighteen when he arrived with his parents in America. The early death of his father threw him upon his own resources. In later years, Samuel was fond of telling his children of the early hardships his family endured; "upon their first coming ashore, he and several others were for some time glad to lodge in empty casks to shelter them from the weather".[4] On 4 March 1635, Samuel was made a freeman and on 30 March 1644, he was appointed Doorkeeper to the House of Deputies.[5]

Cambridge, the home of Samuel Green, was also the location of the first printing press in English America. It had been brought to the colony in the spring of 1638 by the widow of Rev. Josse Glover, a wealthy dissenting clergyman, of Sutton, England, who had died en route.[6] The press came under the control of Harvard College by the marriage on 22 June 1641, of the widow Glover to the college president, Henry Dunster. Managed by Stephen Daye, a locksmith, the press was operated by his son, Matthew, who had received some printing training in England.[7]

Matthew Daye died 10 May 1649. Because Stephen Daye was occupied with land speculations for the Winthrop family, the press was turned over to Samuel Green in his capacity as clerk to the college.[8] He was without any printing experience according to his autobiographical letter to Governor Winthrop dated 6 July 1675: "I was not before used unto it . . . "[9] Despite this apparent handicap, Samuel operated the only printing office in the English colonies until 1665, when the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel sent over a press. For the momentous task of printing John Eliot's Indian Bible, Hezekiah Usher, financial agent for the Society, employed Marmaduke Johnson, a professional printer from England.[9]

Samuel's avocation was the colonial militia, and throughout his life he was known as Sergeant Green. At the age of seventy-five, when he was so old that he had to be carried to the reviewing field, he was commissioned a captain. He also became a large land holder, beginning with his first acquisition in 1658 when the General Assembly granted him 300 acres at Haverhill for his services to the Colony.

It is estimated that 190 imprints were issued from the Cambridge press from 1649 until 1692, the year Samuel retired.[10] The last pamphlet issued was Ornaments For The Daughters of Zion by Cotton Mather.[11] The press was subsequently taken to New London where it remained until 1773. It was then moved to Norwich, Conn., five year later to Dresden, now Hanover, N. H., and then to Westminster, Vt., where on 12 Feb. 1781 it was used to print the Vermont Gazette. The press is now preserved in the state capital at Montpelier.[12]

Samuel Green had an old-fashioned family — two wives and at least fifteen children. His first marriage to Jane, daughter of Guy Banebridge, produced seven children for which there are records:

Elizabeth,	16 April 1640	Samuel,	6 March 1648
Sarah,	7 Oct. 1642	Joseph	7 March 1649
Lydia,	23 March 1645	Deborah,	19 March 1655
Lydia,	13 April 1646

After the death of his first wife, 16 Nov. 1657, Samuel married eighteen year old Sarah Clark, daughter of Elder Jonas Clark, on 22 Feb. 1662. Birth records of the children of this marriage are also incomplete. The six recorded children are:

Jonas,	31 Jan. 1664	Bartholomew,	26 Oct. 1667
Lydia,	12 Nov. 1665	Mary,	6 Nov. 1669
Elizabeth,	3 Nov. 1666	Dorcas,	6 Sept. 1671

The only plausible explanation for the omission of a second Jonas and Timothy is that they were living in New London, Conn., when Savage was compiling his genealogical data.[13]

Isaiah Thomas often confuses the descendants of Bartholomew Green with those of Percival Green. It is possible the two pioneers were brothers. Each had large families, each lived in Cambridge. Because of duplication of given names, it is often difficult to distinguish between the two branches. However, Samual Abbott Green, former Librarian of the Massachusetts Historical Society, in his family genealogy, has clarified many problems.[14]

Samuel Green died at the age of eighty-seven 1 Jan. 1702. A will, dated 2 Aug. 1707, is the last known record of his widow. In it Sarah Green lists her surviving children: Jonas, mariner, Bartholomew, printer, Joseph, tailor, and Timothy a printer.[15] This is additional proof that Timothy was the son of Samuel Green, Sr., and not of Samuel, Jr., as stated by Isaiah Thomas.[16]

Jonas, the mariner, lived in New London. He married, 29 March 1694, Jane Pygan (born in February 1670), and had six children none of whom entered the printing trade.[17] Three of Samuel's sons, Samuel, Bartholomew, and Timothy, became printers. However, the veritable dynasty of printers, comparable to the Didot family of type founders of France, is descended through Bartholomew and Timothy of the second marriage of their father.

Samuel, Jr., served his apprenticeship with his father, worked briefly in Hartford, and then was called to Boston by Samuel Sewall to succeed printer John Foster, who had died 9 Sept. 1681. Judge Sewall was surety on the town's books for Samuel Green, Jr., and his family, on 16 Dec. 1681.[18] Later, when Sewall was released as public printer, Samuel, Jr., applied for the monopoly of the Boston press, but it was refused by the city council on 7 May 1685.[19] The press was then under the jealous surveillance of the Church-State in Massachusetts, especially after the appointment of Edward Randolph as licenser of the press by Governor Edmund Andros.[20] In the fall of 1689, Samuel, Jr., came under the disapproval of the government when he printed the first newspaper in America, The Present State of New England Affairs.[21]

That Samuel Green, Jr., was married and had a family is known definitely from remarks in Sewall's Diary. Also, John Dunton, a London bookseller who visited Boston in March 1686, mentioned in his book the particular devotion of Mrs. Green to her children.[22] Isaiah Thomas states that Elizabeth Sill was the wife of Samuel, Jr., but this has been disproved.[23] Elizabeth Alden has also been mentioned as the wife of Samuel, Jr. However, a search through the Alden records does not confirm this assumption.[24] Sewall states that the wife of his employee, Samuel Green, Jr., was Hannah.[25] Students of the Green family agree that Samuel, Jr., married Hannah, daughter of Dea. Richard Butler, of Hartford. The will of Deacon Butler, dated 2 April 1677, bequeathed twenty shillings to his daughter Hannah Green.[26] It is also known that prior to settling in Boston, Samuel, Jr., printed in Hartford.

Equal uncertainty prevailed as to the children of Samuel. One genealogist states that Mary, daughter of Samuel and Hannah Green, married John Kneeland, and that they had eight children, including Samuel Kneeland, a printer.[27] It is more probable, however, that John Kneeland, born in 1668, married Mary, born in 1669, the sister of Samuel, Jr. This same genealogist makes Timothy the son of Samuel, Jr., and calls Bartholomew, brother of Samuel, Jr., by the name of Benjamin, evidently mislead by the signature, "B. Green, printer". Sewall says that Samuel, Jr., had two children, Joseph and Jane, who died in childhood.[28] There are no recorded descendants of Samuel, Jr., in the printing trade. In July 1690, small pox made one of its all too frequent sweeps through Boston. On the 16th of that month, Sewall wrote in his Diary: "Mrs. Green, the Printer's wife, dies this day".[29] Samuel Green, Jr., died the following week.

Bartholomew, the second son of Samuel Green and Sarah Clark, was born in Cambridge 26 Oct. 1667. He served his apprenticeship with his father; in 1687 he went to Boston to work for his brother Samuel, Jr., whom we have just discussed. On Samuel, Jr's., death without heirs in July 1690, Bartholomew succeeded to the printing plant.[30] On September 16th the office was completely destroyed in the fire, which swept Boston, and "the best furnished printing press of those few that we know in America was lost; a loss not presently to be repaired".[31]

After this serious disaster, Bartholomew returned to Cambridge and worked with his father until the latter's retirement in 1692.[32] Bartholomew again went to Boston and rented the press of Richard Pierce. The following year he obtained his own press and was licensed to print by the Governor and Council of Massachusetts. For forty years Bartholomew was public printer and considered the leading craftsman of his time. On 24 April 1704, he published, under the direction of Postmaster John Campbell, the Boston News-Letter, first regularly issued newspaper in America.[33]

Bartholomew married Mary, daughter of Clement Short.[34] This has been disputed by some who confuse the printer with Capt. Bartholomew Green who married Marie Mather.[35] However, if one reads the papers of Cotton Mather, he will notice frequent references to Marie's widowhood in 1709 and her remarriage in 1711.[36] The Mather genealogy[37] and the records of wills in Charlestown, Mass.,[38] also help clarify the family picture.

Bartholomew Green and Mary had Bartholomew, Mary, Elizabeth, and Deborah. Mary Short died 28 March 1709 at age of forty-two.[39] Bartholomew married secondly, Jane, daughter of Jacob Toppan and Hannah Sewall on 10 June 1710. Judge Sewall officiated at the marriage of his niece. A son, Samuel, was born on 28 July 1712, but died in infancy.[40] Bartholomew Green died 28 Jan. 1732.

Again we run into genealogical problems in marrying off the daughters of Bartholomew and Mary Green. Each is reported to have married an apprentice of her father, a familiar custom in those times. Mary married Bezoan Allen, Elizabeth married Samuel Kneeland, and Deborah married John Draper.[41] However, the Kneeland genealogy, which bounds from one illustrous ancestor to another, finally reaching Scottish nobility in 1225, says that Samuel Kneeland married Elizabeth, a descendant of the famous John and Priscilla Alden.[42]

Deborah Green married John Draper on 24 May 1726.[43] Draper inherited the press of his father-in-law. The first issue of the Boston News Letter, published after the death of Bartholomew Green, contained the following notice: "Mr. Bartholomew Green

. . . being dead, . . . it will be carried on . . . by John Draper, son-in-law to the said Mr. Green who has been an assistant with him in the said News-Letter . . . "[44] On 30 Jan. 1734, the house and printing office were destroyed by fire. Neighborly printers lent Draper type until he received new equipment from England, and the Old South Church voted ten pounds to Mrs. Jane Green, widow of its former deacon, Bartholomew Green.[45] Deborah Green died 9 Dec. 1736, at the age of thirty-nine, and John Draper died at the age of sixty on 29 Nov. 1762.[46]

The children of Deborah and John Draper were Richard, born 24 Feb. 1727, and Lydia, born 21 Dec. 1729. Lydia married her cousin, John Green, on 4 Sept. 1755.[47] Richard, who succeeded to the press of his father and to the rôle of printer to the colony, married his cousin, Margaret, daughter of John Green, and granddaughter of Bartholomew Green, on 22 March 1749. There were no children of this marriage.[47] After the death of Richard Draper on 4 June 1774, the press was continued by his widow Margaret or "Mother Draper" as she was referred to in Trumbull's McFingal.

The Drapers espoused the Tory side in the pre-Revolutionary quarrels, and the News-Letter was the medium for conservative Bostonians. During the siege of Boston it was the only paper published in the city.[48] The paper was finally discontinued 22 Feb. 1776, after a continuous existence of seventy-two years. Margaret Green Draper left Boston for Halifax with other royalists on 17 March 1776. The Draper property in Boston was confiscated, and sold on 7 Feb. 1783.[49] The exact date of Margaret Draper's death in London, England, is unknown. Sabine states it was in 1800,[50] but her will dated 1 Dec. 1802, in Pimlico, Middlesex, England, and probated in Boston 12 Feb. 1807, disproves this.[51]

Bartholomew, Jr., born in 1699, was the only surviving son of Bartholomew and Mary Green.[52] He served his apprenticeship with his father, and later worked with John Draper, his brother-in-law. Bartholomew, Jr., then formed a partnership with John Bushell and another brother-in-law, Bezoan Allen. He interrupted his printing business to participate in the Cape Breton campaign in 1744. Upon his return, he petitioned the legislature for the position of Doorkeeper to the General Court. When his request was denied he returned to his printing.

On 19 Nov. 1724, Bartholomew, Jr., married Hannah (born in 1704), daughter of Hannah Harrington and Eleazar Hammond of Newton. They had nine children, all baptised in the Old South Church in Boston:[53]

Mary,	2 Jan. 1726	Nathaniel,	25 April 1735
Bartholomew,	24 Sept. 1727	Elizabeth,	14 May 1738
Hannah,	31 Aug. 1729	Peter,	26 Oct. 1740
John,	15 Aug. 1731	Mary,	27 Feb. 1742
Samuel,	24 Feb. 1733

In September 1751, Bartholomew, Jr., set up the first printing press in Halifax, Canada.[54] However, before he could begin actual operations, Bartholomew, Jr.'s, career was terminated by his death on 29 Oct. 1751.[55] His widow, Hannah, was still living on 29 Nov. 1760, when she was mentioned in her father's will.[56]

Of the surviving children of Hannah and Bartholomew Green, Jr., Elizabeth married Thomas Hichborn and moved to South Carolina, and Mary married James Dennie, a prominent West Indian merchant. Mary died 6 Sept. 1819.[57] Her claim to fame in the Green dynasty of printers is through her son, Joseph Dennie, born 30 Aug. 1768, who became a famous political pamphleteer.[58] He died 7 Jan. 1812.

Bartholomew, II, never operated an independent press. Although trained to be a printer, he was more interested in the sea. For many years he was a customs officer in Boston. He married Hannah Foster on 7 March 1771.[59a] The will of Bartholomew II, dated 18 March 1778 and probated April 17th the same year, named four daughters, Elizabeth, Hannah, Polly, and Lydia.[59]

The other brother, John, after being apprenticed to his uncle John Draper, formed a partnership with Joseph Russell. On 22 Aug. 1757, they issued the Boston Weekly Advertiser "for the purpose of collecting from time to time the newest and best intelligence".[60] This paper continued until 1768 when it merged with Richard Draper's Boston News-Letter and several others. This unusual arrangement lasted until April 1773, when the press of John Green's came under governmental disfavor, and it was succeeded as official printer to the British Commissioners by the firm of Mill and Hicks.

On 4 Sept. 1755, John Green married his cousin, Lydia, daughter of John Draper and Deborah Green.[61] He married secondly, Rebecca, daughter of Knight Leveritt. There were no children of either marriage. John Green died in November 1787, and is believed to have been the last of the descendants of Samuel Green of Cambridge to print in Massachusetts.[62] Isaiah Thomas states that John Green died in 1787 at the age of sixty, thus confusing John's birthdate with that of his brother, Bartholomew, II.[63]

We have now discussed Samuel, Jr., and Bartholomew and their descendants, two of the three printer sons of Samuel Green of Cambridge. The third and most prolific son, Timothy, is he whom Isaiah Thomas calls the son of Samuel Green, Jr.[64] This has already been refuted. Further proof is supplied in a letter, dated 12 Feb. 1732, Timothy wrote to Governor Talbott, lamenting the ill health and death of his brother Bartholomew.[64] Born in Cambridge in 1679, Timothy became the progenitor of a line of printers who carried the typographical art to Connecticut, Maryland, and Virginia.

Timothy served his apprenticeship with his father in Cambridge and later worked with his brother, Bartholomew, in Boston. At the age of twenty-one, he opened his own printing shop at Boston; the first book with his imprint is dated 1700. In 1707 he was invited by Governor Saltonstall of Connecticut to become printer to that colony, but he refused to leave a certainty for an uncertainty.[65] Thomas Short, former apprentice and brother-in-law of Bartholomew Green, accepted the position. After Short's death, Timothy was induced to accept the vacancy pursuant to a vote of the General Assembly at its May Session, 1713. For fifty pounds a year, equivalent to the Deputy Governor's salary, Timothy was to print election sermons, proclamations, and laws enacted at the several sessions of the assembly.[66]

In 1713, Timothy began printing in New London, Conn., but his family did not leave Boston until 10 Aug. 1714.[67] Because of his religious zeal, he was known as "Deacon Timothy", and it as such that we shall refer to him to prevent confusion with future Timothy's. Deacon Timothy continued as public printer to Connecticut until his retirement in 1751.

Deacon Timothy Green was married to Mary Flint in Boston by Rev. Cotton Mather 28 Jan. 1702.[68] Five children were born while the family still lived in Boston:

Timothy,	12 Dec. 1703
Samuel,	21 April 1706
John,	25 July 1708
Nathanial,	2 April 1710
Jonas,	28 Dec. 1712[69]

and three children were born after the family moved to New London:

Thomas,	31 Jan. 1715
John,	20 May 1719
Mary,	4 July 1722[70]

Mary Flint Green died 24 May 1748. Deacon Timothy married secondly, Abigail, daughter of Abigail Field and Charles Hill on 26 March 1749. She died 1 March 1779.[71] At the age of eighty-seven, Deacon Timothy Green died.[72]

It becomes increasingly difficult with the mitosis of the Green family to present the succeeding generations in a lucid manner. Of the children of Deacon Timothy, Mary married Robert Hosmer, of New London, 31 Oct. 1745, and died in East Haddam in 1808. Thomas became a pewterer in Boston. John and Nathanial were minor printers. John never operated an independent press. He worked with his father until 1751 and then with his brother Timothy, Jr. In 1757 John died without issue.

Nathanial was more interested in the local militia than in his trade. In 1744 he served as a Lieutenant with General Walcott against Cape Breton.[73] He then returned to New London and helped in the operation of the family press, first, under his father and then with his brothers. Nathanial married Mary, widow of Richard Christopher and daughter of John Pickett, 17 Jan. 1738. They had two daughters: Katharine, born 6 June 1740, and Lydia, born 22 April 1742.[74] Mary died 11 May 1754, and Nathanial in 1758.[75]

Timothy, Jr., the oldest son of Deacon Timothy, worked for his father for a time, and then returned to Boston, where he entered into partnership with his kinsman, Samuel Kneeland, a partnership which lasted from 1726 until 1752.[76] They published the New Eng- land Weekly Journal until 1751, and printed the first English Bible in America.[77] On the retirement of Deacon Timothy in 1751, Timothy, Jr., returned to New London to operate the family press with his brothers, John, Nathanial, and Samuel. Timothy Green, Jr., died on 3 Oct. 1763.[78]

Samuel, II, second oldest son of Deacon Timothy, never operated an independent press. He was trained by his father and remained in the family business at New London. Samuel II married Abigail, daughter of Elizabeth Whitney and the Rev. Thomas Clark of Chelmsford, 12 Nov. 1733. There were nine children of this marriage:[79]

Abigal,	9 Aug. 1734	Anna,	19 Feb. 1741
Thomas,	25 Aug. 1735	Samuel,	23 Nov. 1743
Timothy,	2 April 1737	Mary,	26 July 1746
Elizabeth	23 Nov. 1738	Margaret,	18 Dec. 1749
Lucy,	22 April 1740

Samuel, II, died in May 1752, and his widow, Abigail, died at the age of seventy-six 17 April 1781.[80]

The three sons, Thomas, Timothy, II, and Samuel, III, all became printers; because of the early death of their father, they served their apprenticeship with their uncle, Timothy, Jr., in New London.

Thomas, after learning his trade, was engaged by Postmaster Benjamin Mecom, who had bought out the printshop of James Parker in New Haven, where he published the Connecticut Gazette.[81] Thomas remained in New Haven from 1760 until 1764, when the paper was discontinued. He then moved to Hartford where 29 Oct. 1764, he began the Connecticut Courant, oldest existing paper in America.[82] In 1767 he took in Ebenezer Watson as a partner, and on February 8th the following year, Thomas returned permanently to New Haven. Here in addition to being a printer, publisher, editor, bookseller, and stationer, he set up a paper mill.[83] Thomas opposed the Stamp Act, but like other Episcopalians he was a Tory. From 1767 until 1809, his press did most of the printing for Yale College. On 2 Aug. 1781, President Ezra Stiles recorded in his diary: "The press in New Haven (Thomas Green) is a Tory Press and unoblidging to the College".[84]

On 30 Sept. 1761, Thomas married Desire Sanford, who died 13 Oct. 1775. There were four children of this marriage:

Thomas, born in Hartford in 1765, baptised 17 Aug. 1766.
Anna, born 21 Sept. 1762, married Amaziah Lucas on 4 May 1794.
Lucy, born 24 March 1764, died of small-pox 13 June 1785.
A son, who died in infancy.[85]

Thomas retired in January 1809, at the age of seventy-four, and died in May (before the 26th) 1812.[86]

Thomas, Jr., was associated with his father in the printing trade. He became a partner in 1799 and on the retirement of his father in January 1809, Thomas, Jr., took full charge of the press. He founded the Middlesex Gazette and continued to publish the Connecticut Gazette and New Haven Post Boy, strong Whig papers.[87]

Thomas, Jr., was married twice. His first wife, Abigail, died 20 Sept. 1781. Their child, Desire, died 11 Aug. 1779. His second marriage was to Abigail Miles 21 March 1782. They had two children: Alfred, born 30 March 1783, and William Samuel, born 16 Dec. 1786. However, there were evidently other unrecorded children, because when Abigail died 24 Feb. 1814, she mentioned Sophia and Lucy in her will. Thomas Green, Jr., continued printing until his death in 1825.[88]

Samuel, III, born in 1743, followed the same pattern as his older brother Thomas. He served his apprenticeship with his uncle Timothy, Jr. Samuel, III, then joined his brother Thomas at New Haven in 1767. He died without issue in February 1799.

The most important of the three sons of Samuel, II, and Abigail Green was Timothy, II, born in 1737. On 1 Nov. 1763, he published the New London Gazette, a continuation of the New London Summary, which had been printed by the Green family prior to Deacon Timothy's death. In 1773, with his brother-in-law, Judah Paddock Spooner, he branched out and set up a press in Norwich, Conn.[89] In the spring of 1778, President Wheelock of Dartmouth College sent his son John to negotiate with Timothy, II, to set up a press at the college.[90] Timothy, II, declined. Therefore, in October 1778, the Vermont Legislature voted to make Spooner printer for the State.[91] Spooner and Timothy's son, Timothy, III, set up the first press in Westminster, Vt., where they published the Vermont Gazette and the Green Mountain Post Boy.[92]

Timothy, II, married Rebecca Spooner 2 July 1763. There were eleven children of this marriage:[93]

Timothy, 23 Sept. 1763
Thomas Clarke, 14 May 1765
Samuel, 29 Feb. 1768
Son, 28 July 1770, died in infancy
William, 14 Sept. 1771
Rebecca, 30 April 1773
A son, died in infancy on 27 Feb. 1775
Elizabeth, 12 June 1779
John, 12 June 1779
Henry, 9 Feb. 1782, died

Timothy, II, continued in business until May 1793, when ill-health forced him to relinquish the press to his son, Samuel, III. Timothy, II, died 10 March 1796, and his wife, Rebecca, died at the age of sixty-three 8 Feb. 1806.[94]

Elizabeth married Stephen Peck, and Rebecca married Samuel Haynes and died 6 March 1841. William became a minister and died 26 Dec. 1861.[95] John and Thomas followed the trade of booksellers and never operated independent presses. Thomas died 10 Sept. 1844, and John on 25 May 1846. Samuel, III, as previously mentioned, took over the press of his father in May 1793. He continued to publish the New London Gazette until his death in September 1860. Timothy, III, helped set up the first press in Westminster, Vt., with his uncle, Judah Paddock Spooner. In 1787, Timothy, III, went to Fredericksburg, Va., where on June 7th he founded the Virginia Herald.[96] Timothy Green, III, died 11 Jan. 1851.

We must now retrace our steps to Jonas, youngest son of Dea. Timothy Green and Mary Flint. Jonas served his apprenticeship with his father in New London and then worked for his brother Timothy, Jr., at Kneeland and Green's in Boston. In 1735, he independently issued A Grammar of the Hebrew Tongue by Judah Morris, Professor of Hebrew at Harvard College.[97] Then as a journeyman, Jonas traveled for several years.

Jonas was in Philadelphia in 1738 with either Franklin or Bradford where he learned of a printing opening in Annapolis. In 1740 he was printer to the Maryland colony at £500 a year, which position he held the remainder of his life. In April 1745, he revived the Maryland Gazette, which William Parker had first established in September 1727. The paper was continued uninterruptedly by Jonas except for a five months suspension in 1765 in objection to the Stamp Act.[98]

Jonas Green became one of the most active men in Maryland. He was not only an outstanding printer, but was postmaster, deacon, clerk to the General Court, Masonic official, and one of the leading literary figures of Annapolis.[99] From 1756 until 1766, William Rind, former apprentice, was associated with Jonas as a partner in the business. Rind severed relationships to set up a press in Williamsburg, Va.[100] In 1765 appeared Bacon's Laws of Maryland, the greatest project that Jonas undertook and on which his fame rests. After 1765 he was the only printer in the colony, with the exception of Nicholas Hasselback in Baltimore.[101]

On 25 April 1738, at Christ's Church, Philadelphia, Jonas Green married Anne Catherine Hoof, a native of Holland.[102] There were fourteen children of this marriage of whom eight died in infancy.[103]

John,	18 Oct. 1738	Frederick,	20 Jan. 1750
Rebecca,	22 Sept. 1740	Deborah,	19 Jan. 1752
Jonas,	12 Feb. 1743	Elizabeth,	10 Nov. 1753
Catherine,	4 Nov. 1743	Samuel,	27 April 1757
Marie,	7 Jan. 1745	Augusta,	4 April 1760
William,	21 Dec. 1746	? ,	29 Aug. 1755[103]
Anne,	19 Jan. 1748

Jonas Green died 7 April 1767.[104] After his death, the business was carried on by his widow. In 1768 her oldest son, William, became a partner, serving until his death in August 1770. Anne then continued the printing business solely in her own name until her death 23 March 1775.[105] Isaiah Thomas gives her age at death as forty-two, which would make Anne only five years old at the time of her marriage in 1738.[106]

Frederick assumed control of the family printing business after the death of his mother. He also was appointed printer to the colony and postmaster of Annapolis.[107] In 1777 his young brother Samuel became a partner in the press. For a brief period and for the second time in its history, the Maryland Gazette ceased publication, when from 25 Dec. 1777, until 30 April 1779, it was discontinued because of political conditions.[108]

The two brothers continued to operate the press until the death of Frederick on 6 Jan. 1811, and of Samuel less than a week later on January 12th. Frederick had married and had five children: Jonas, a printer, William and James, clerks in the House of Delegates, Louis, employed in the Farmer's Bank of Maryland, and Henry. It is believed that Henry, or possibly his father or uncle, temporarily left Annapolis in 1800 and set up a press in Natchez, Miss., where he published the Natchez Intelligensia. "About March or April, 1800 a Mr. Green from Baltimore brought a press to Natchez".[109] The information is so vague that no definite conclusion can be drawn.

Jonas, Jr., the oldest son of Frederick, operated the family press after the death of his father and uncle. He continued to print the Maryland Gazette until 12 Dec. 1839, when ill-health caused his retirement. Jonas Green, Jr., died 1 Nov. 1845.[110]

With the death of Jonas, Jr., the Green family dynasty of printers in Maryland came to an end after one hundred years. Since Samuel Green, Sr., issued the Platform of Church Discipline from the Cambridge Press in 1649, the family tradition of printing had been followed through six generations, and one hundred and ninety years. The distinguished work of Samuel Green, Sr., of Cambridge, and his descendants in spreading the typographic arts through Massachusetts, Connecticut, Canada, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maryland, and Virginia is unprecedented and unequalled. The Green family is definitely an interesting phenomenon in the history of printing in America.

THE GRIFFIN FAMILY OF HAMPTON, CONN.

[By George Chandler, M. D., Worcester, Mass.]

Most of the following facts were furnished by Jonathan Clark, Esq., of Hampton, Conn., who has been constantly engaged, for about sixty-eight years, in carefully noting down all facts of the kind that occurred within his extensive and minute observation in that vicinity.

1. Ebenezer[1] Griffin moved from Cambridge to Pomfret—thence to the Canada parish of Windham, now Hampton, Conn. He was a farmer, and bought of William Durkee there one hundred acres of land. He and his wife joined the church there 28 June, 1733, and he was chosen deacon 1 March, 1744. He married Hannah, who was born 20 Jan. 1713, dau. of Dea. Philemon and Hannah (Clary) Chandler of Pomfret. Their children—

II. Hannah[2] Griffin [i., 1] m. Capt. James Stedman, by Rev. Samuel Moseley of Hampton, 11 April, 1751. She was then 18 years 7 months old. He was a "good farmer, carpenter, joiner, and clock-maker." He was appointed, by the legislature of Connecticut, "captain, in place of Ripley, resigned," 26 June, 1776. Capt. Stedman was, with his company of Hampton militia, in the Revolution, at the battle at "White Plains;" also in Rhode Island; and with his colonel (Thomas Knowlton) when he charged into the very heart of the 42d regiment of Highlanders on Harlem Plains, where he received his mortal wound, from a bullet, in the groin, and was taken off his horse by Captain Stedman's orderly-sergeant Nehemiah Holt, and others, and laid by a fence, out of range of bullets, where he soon bled to death. Capt. S. was with Washington in his retreat before the British through New Jersey. Of that march Sergeant Holt often said, "All night Washington rode at the right of the column, a little in advance, but so near me that I could most of the time put my hand upon the rump of the powerful gray charger upon which he rode, made restive by the cold sleet pouring down upon us, but whose maddened spirit was curbed in and controlled with apparent ease by his more powerful rider, his rein-hand resting upon the pommel of the saddle. Washington spoke scarcely a word during that dreadful march." After the war, Capt. S. was collector of taxes, and held other offices in Hampton. He died of scrofulous disease—beloved, honored, and respected.

From these records the contributor has prepared the following genealogy of the early Haughtons of New London, Conn. In the "History of Montville, Conn.," the records of the two Sampson Haughtons, father and son, with their wives and children, are not correctly given.

1. RICHARD HAUGHTON died at Wethersfield, Conn., 23 May 1682. He married first, CATHERINE ——— (said to have been the widow of Nicholas Charlet of Boston), who died 9 Aug. 1670; and secondly, MARY ———.
In his will, dated 12 May 1682, he calls himself "Richard Haughton of Beverly . . . detained at Wethersfield by sickness." He requests "My beloved friends Mr. Nathaniel Standly and Mr. William Pitkin both of Hartford . . . to take care of the vessel building at Middletown . . . Mr. John Ffoster of Boston to assist them." He appoints executors but mentions no heirs. (Hartford Probate Records, vol. 1, p. 317.) The county court records, p. 56, 21 June 1682, show that "Mr. John Harris appeared in Court and presented letter of Adms. granted by the Hon. Simon Bradstreet Esq. Gov. of Mass. to Capt John Hull Esq. Assistant to Mary Haughton the Relict, widow of Richard Haughton deceased . . ." From this it appears that the name of the widow was Mary and not Alice, as is sometimes given.

His brother Joseph owned property and lived a short distance above on the opposite side of the street. In a will made 1749, he (Robert) mentions his wife Hannah and sisters Elizabeth Freeman and Hannah Hayes. He gave the equal half of all his lands to his brother Joseph; the other half he gave to the sons of his deceased brother Thomas, viz.: Thomas and Daniel.

Sergeant Thomas Hayes in 1696 was chosen by the town "to order the prudential affairs of the neck," i. e. the lands then lying in common, without division fences, east of the present line of the New-Jersey Railroad, constituting three (3) wards of the city. Jan. 1st, 1696–7, "The men chozen to make the town rate and to make assessments on those persons that don't give in a list of their estates are Joseph Harrison, Nathaniel Ward, Seth Tompkins, Zopher Beach, and Thomas Hayes." Seth Tompkins was the son of Deacon Michael Tompkins, who, before the settlement of Newark, secreted in his house at Milford the regicides Goffe and Whalley. In 1698 Thomas Hayes was "with Joseph Harrison, Jasper Crane, and Matthew Canfield to view whether Azariah Crane may have land for a tan-yard out of the common and in case the men above mentioned agree that he shall have the land, he, the said Azariah Crane shall enjoy it so long as he doth follow the trade of tanning."

In 1702 Sergeant Thomas Hayes and Ensign Eliphalet Johnson are chosen assessors for the south end of the town. It is a reasonable conclusion that Thomas Hayes was an intelligent, respectable and influential member of the community. The date of his death is uncertain. Thomas Hayes witnessed a legal instrument in 1712,—perhaps that Thomas Hayes who died in 1749, aged 56. The elder Thomas was living in 1705, when he took a share of land formerly of his brother-in-law John Dennison. There was a Thomas Hayes at Milford in 1645 who came from Wethersfield. Milford was settled in 1639 by people from Wethersfield and New-Haven. This was that Thomas Hayes who with Major Treat, Elder Buckingham and Lieut. Fowler proposed to the town to build a fulling and saw-mill for the town of Milford. Perhaps this Thomas was the father of Sergeant Thomas. There seems to be some foundation for the tradition that three persons of the name of Hayes came to Connecticut, as among the inhabitants of Norwalk in 1651 were a Nathaniel Haies and Samuel Haies. In 1694, Nathaniel, James and Samuel Hayes. The name of Hayes appears in Rev. J. Pruden's list of scholars. It is probable that his children had only a common school education. Joseph Hayes m. Elizabeth Day. He was living in July, 1777. By his will of that date he gives his sons David and Samuel all his lands and meadows, and to his daughter Martha all his personal estate, and directs that the estate left by his son Joseph be divided equally among the three. The following is from Alden's American Epitaphs, Inscriptions, &c.: "Major Samuel Hayes, descendant from one of the original settlers of Newark, died on the 1st of June, 1811, in the 83d year of his age. He sustained the character of an honest and well-informed man. At an early period he took an active part in the revolutionary struggle, and was a distinguished officer in the militia during the war which secured to his beloved country the blessings of freedom and independence. In 1759 he was commissioned as a deputy surveyor for East Jersey, and, until disabled by paralysis, for half a century he traversed more or less, Bergen, Essex and Morris, with his compass and chain. In 1766 he was the master of a vessel on a voyage to Nova Scotia, and subsequently sailed for other ports. He was one of three commissioners for forfeited estates during the revolution, and in the faithful discharge of his duty incurred the displeasure of the royalists. In July, 1780, the refugees surprised and took him from his house at night and lodged him in the Sugar House in New-York, and detained him some months, together with his fellow commissioners," all atrocious rebels. He served the county and town in various offices until 73 years of age; a self-made man, stern, decided and energetic, His wife died June, 1803, aged 71. Thomas Hayes of 1645 possibly was Sergeant Thomas Hayes, but it is doubtful, indeed improbable.

THE HAYES FAMILY OF WINDSOR AND GRANBY, CT.

Communicated by the Rev. CHARLES W. HAYES, A.M., of Westfield, N. Y.

GEORGE HAYES, born in Scotland, 1655, went as a young man to Derbyshire, Eng., where, it is said, he had an uncle, with whom he lived for a time; thence to London, and there, hearing of the new "land of promise in the Western World," embarked for New England, and is first known at Windsor, Ct., 1682.*

Two years earlier, 1680, came John Hayes from Scotland to Dover, N. H., to become the founder of another wide-spread New England family, many of whom still cling around their old homes of Dover, Berwick and North Yarmouth.† The Dover and Windsor Hayeses are certainly of a common Scottish stock; but the degree of relationship between their founders has not yet been traced.

George Hayes married first, Sarah —— (surname illegible in Windsor records), who died at Windsor, March 27, 1683, leaving one child, George, born March 26, died April 3, 1683. He married second, Windsor, August 29, 1683, Abigail Dibble (as now written, but on early records and gravestones, Dibol), daughter of Samuel (fourth son of Thomas of Simsbury, son probably of Robert of Dorchester, 1634), born Windsor, January 19, 1666. The births of three sons and four daughters of this marriage are recorded at Windsor, the last in June, 1697; and in 1698 he is found at Simsbury, in that part now the town of Granby, and in the little hamlet of "Salmon Brook," so called from a little stream, famous in old time for salmon, crossing its one street. A deed of December 30, 1698, from Thomas Griffin to "George Haize formerly of Windsor," consideration £28, is recorded at Simsbury. His name appears in the "Minister's Rate," 1700, "George Hayes, £00–8–11;" in "Wood Rate," Jan. 31, 1700–1, "George Hayz, £00–1–5;" in "Centry Rate," 1701, "Georg Hayse £00–7–6, being 3½d. on y^e^ pound;" in list of freemen same year, "George Hayse;" and in the "Lyst of Simsbury lands taken by y^e^ Sizers," "Georg Haiz Mead 4 ac. 1 r. 8 s. upland £01–16–0." By deed of March 6, 1708, John Matson conveys to "Georg hayse of y^e^ town of Simsbury Husbandman," land "lying between the low^r^ meadow lotts and the uper Meadow Lotts upon a little brook by reason of the windingness of said brooke is called Crooked brooke —being ten acres more or less." Jan. 2, 1723, the town granted to "y^e^ severall persons hereafter named the quantaties of land hereafter express^d^:" to "George Hays Sener 138 acres;" "Daniel Hays 120;" "George Hays Juner 99;" "William Hays 75;" "Samuel Hays 60." (To complete the list of variations in the orthography of the name, it is spelled "Haze" in the before-mentioned deed of 1698, and "Hais" in a deed of 1713 to Daniel, the eldest son.)

George Hayes died at Simsbury, Sept. 2, 1725. By will dated April 30, proved Oct. 5, 1725, he bequeaths to his wife Abigail during her widowhood, his "dwelling house, barn, orchard, home lot and pasture," with household goods as far as needful, and one cow; to the four elder sons,

* Ezekiel Hayes, of New Haven, great-grandson of George.

† Savage, Gen. Dict. ii. 437. Thomas Hayes, of Milford, Ct., 1645 (perhaps founder of the New Jersey family, see REG. xxvii. 79), and Nathaniel, of Norwalk, 1652, have no apparent connection with the Dover and Windsor families.

"Daniell, George, William and Samuell," two-thirds of his residuary estate, and to his six daughters, "Abigail, Sarah, Mary, Johanna, Thankfull and Doritha," the remaining third, with the addition of £10 to Daniel and £5 to Abigail; and to his youngest son Benjamin, who with Abigail was then living with him, the "Bever Marsh" of ten acres, and his share in "oure Saw Mill at Salmon Brook," the said Benjamin to "dwell and live with me and support me in all my wants and necessities," and "to behave himself towards me as a dutyfull Child ought to do towards a dutyfull parent, during my natural life."* The date of his wife's death, and their burial place, are as yet unknown; the latter is probably in the older cemetery at "Hop Meadow," which dates from 1683.†

In his will he calls himself "yeoman," and "about seventy years of age;" and its expression of entire and humble Christian faith we may hope is his own, and more real than formal.

His five sons and six daughters by his second marriage all survived him, married and left descendants.

ity at least five years; finally released (by earning his own ransom, for which he was afterwards reimbursed by order of the General Court of Connecticut) and returned to live to a good old age in Salmon Brook village. The romantic story of his sufferings and heroism in his long captivity is given quite fully in Phelps's History of Simsbury, Hartford, 1845, and in "A Long Journey," by the present writer, Portland, Me., 1876. He built in 1720 the house occupied by him and his descendants for four generations (and the oldest in the town when taken down in 1871) on the east side of "Salmon Brook Street," in the lower or southern part of the village. In this house the first Congregational Society (of which he and his wife became members at its organization, c. 1739) met for worship until 1743, when the first meeting-house was built. "He was," says Phelps, "a prominent citizen, often employed in public affairs, and during many years a pillar in the church at Salmon Brook." He became a freeman October, 1717; received grant of 120 acres from the town, January 2, 1723; deed of release from brothers and sisters, March 22, 1734; died at Salmon Brook, Sept. 23, 1756. His grave in the old Salmon Brook Cemetery is still marked by a substantial stone (the oldest in the ground) with a quaint inscription, copied from the stone by me in 1875, as follows:

At Granby is recorded a deed of March 7, 1787, from Samuel his father to Silas, "in consideration of a valuable sûm, Divers good causes, love and good will which I have received from my son Silas Hayes." From this it would appear that he lived to a great age. He married, Simsbury, July 16, 1719, Elizabeth Willcockson (Willcokson in Sims. DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT HEBERT OF SALEM AND BEVERLY, MASS.

Compiled by HARVEY HEBARD and RALPH D. SMYTH (son of Lovine Hebert); and communicated by BERNARD C. STEINER, Ph.D. (grandson of Ralph D. Smyth).

DURING the latter years of Mr. Smyth's life,* he paid much attention to tracing out his mother's family, and together with Mr. Hebard prepared a complete genealogy of the Heberts. This is still in manuscript, and from it the following facts are taken. The spelling of the family name is extremely varied, and that of each branch is followed.

* Hon. Ralph Dunning Smith of Guilford, Conn., whose collections and those of Harvey Hebard, Esq., have been used in preparing this article, died September 11, 1874, in his seventieth year. See Necrology, REGISTER, vol. 29, pp. 326–28.—J. W. D.

We hear of Robert Hebart and his wife Joan first at Salem, Mass., where he was an early settler. His name appeared in the list of settlers for 1646: "Robert Hibberd and wife Joan." Felt (Annals of Salem, ii., 175, 176) states that he was in Salem in 1639, and refers to him as "Robert Hebard, salt-maker." He may have been one of those who came over for the purpose of assisting John Winthrop, Jr., at his salt works. The records of the First Church of Salem state that "Rob't Hebbert and Joanna his wife" were admitted to communion May 3, 1646. In 1659, he bought thirteen acres of land in Salem from William Hascoll, and is described as "Robert Hibbird, bricklayer." (Essex Deeds, Book i., p. 63.) He later removed to Beverly, and in 1670–1 conveys land there to a married daughter. (Essex Deeds, Book iv., p. 87.) He is then described as "Robert Hibbert, bricklayer." His will is dated April 9, 1684 (Essex Probate Records, Book No. 2, Old Series, p. 35), and to it he makes his mark, which, as he could write, shows him to have been very feeble. In the will, he states that he has already made some provision for his children during his life time, and confirms these grants. A life estate in most of the property is given to his wife, and she is made executrix. The inventory of the estate was £281. 6. 6.

NOTES ON THE FAMILY OF JOHN HILL OF GUILFORD, CONN.

By Edwin A. Hill, Esq., of Washington, D. C.

These notes are prompted by, and intended as a supplement to, Dr. Steiner's articles on Luke and John Hill, in the Register, ante, page 87.[1]

The late Benjamin S. Hill and the writer, his son, were some years engaged in preparing a genealogy of the descendants of John[1] Hill, and the MS.* comprises several hundred pages, bringing the male lines down to a late period.

Those interested in this family might like to know that Dr. Alvan Talcott's manuscript genealogies of Guilford families contain quite an extended account of the descendants of John[1] of Guilford. The original is in the library of the New Haven Colony Historical Society at New Haven, Conn., and a copy is filed in the office of the town clerk of Guilford.

Smith's History of Guilford, page 20, states that "John Hill, by trade a carpenter, came from Northamptonshire, in England, as early as 1654, and settled upon the north side of the green, on the place now [1877] occupied by E. C. Bishop and Tabor Smith." Dr. Steiner, Register, ante, page 87, says south side. In the Talcott MS. it is stated that he was by trade a carpenter, and came early to Guilford, but not in the first company; that he was at Branford in 1646, but came with his family soon after to Guilford, the tradition being that the Hill family were "North Britons." There is a tradition in the family of Michael[3] (James,[2] John[1]), that he was of Welsh descent. That the John Hill of Branford, in 1646, was John of Guilford seems questionable, in view of the fact that in Vol. 1, Part 2, page 71, of New Haven Probate Records will be found an "Inventory of the estate of John Hill late of Branford deceased taken by Moses Craft and John Frisbye," in 1678, while John of Guilford died there some years later. The latter does not appear in the list of Guilford freemen of 1650, though Dr. Steiner states he was a freeman there before 1657. On the 14th of May, 1655, however, John Hill and Goodwife Hill testified in court at Guilford. Of his English ancestry and date of birth nothing is known. The inventory of his estate, dated June 13, 1689, and taken by Thomas Macoke and Stephen Bradlye, is headed "The inventory of the estate of John Hill the aged, deceased," and amounted to £123. 00. 09.

As his son John was born in 1644, and his daughters Sarah and Elizabeth may have been older than John, he presumably must have been born before 1624, especially to have been called "the aged" at the time of his death.

He was twice married: First to Frances ———, prior to his arrival at Guilford, and, according to Dr. Talcott, before his emigration; and second to Katharine Chalker. "John Hill of Guilford m. Katern Chalker 23 September, 1673." (Records of Saybrook, Ct., in Register, IV., 138.) Savage (II., 417) says she was "probably the widow of Alexander Chalker," concerning whom Hinman, in his "Early Puritan Settlers," page 517, remarks: "Alexander Chalker was an early settler in Saybrook; on page 96, vol. 1, at Saybrook, he m. Kathrine Post, Sept. 29, 1649, and had issue," among others, "4. Catern, b. Sept. 8, 1657; m. John Hill, of Greenfield [Guilford], 1673." If we follow Hinman, she was only sixteen years old when she became John Hill's second wife, at which time his eldest son was nearly thirty-three years old; but Savage is most likely correct. In 1670, John Hill is first styled "Sr." He died June 8, 1689. According to Savage, his will was made in September preceding his death, but my copy gives the date Sept. 28, 1680. It was proved June 17, 1689, and names his wife Katharine, his sons John and James, his daughter Tapping, and the children of his deceased daughters Sarah and Elizabeth, of whom Frances Allen was to receive a double portion. On the second Monday of June, 1695, the following record was made (New Haven County Court Records, I., 232): "The legacies yet due out of y^e^ estate of John Hill of Guilford deceased is 9lb 20s which is to be distributed to 13 grandchildren of the deceased the eldest of them viz. Frances Allen to have 1lb 5s 5d as a double portion, and each of the rest to have 12s 20d as a single portion to every of them."

The writer has a short manuscript genealogy, written Dec. 26, 1847, by his grandfather, Julius[6] (Reuben,[5] Reuben,[4] Daniel,[3] James,[2] John[1]), of Madison, Conn., who was much interested in genealogy, in which he gives the children of the first John as: 1. John, born 1644. 2. James, born 1646. 3. Ann, born 1648; died 1706. This Ann is perhaps the Hannah whom Dr. Steiner says was born Jan. 18, 1652–3, though it may be that there was both an Ann and a Hannah. Dr. Talcott, also, gives the dates 1644 for John, and May 15, 1646, for James. The writer has the death date of John, Jr., as May 8, 1690, and of James as Oct. 8, 1707.

Ann,[2] or Hannah, Hill (John[1]) evidently married a Tapping. Savage, (IV., 254) mentions a James Tapping, of Milford, whose wife's name was Ann. She died in 1732. This James Tapping may have been the son, born Feb. 12, 1643, of Capt. Thomas Tapping (or Topping) of Wethersfield, Milford, and Branford, by his wife, Emma (Savage, IV., 255).

Sarah[2] and Elizabeth[2] Hill (John[1]) seem to have married and died before their father's will was made in 1680. One of them had married —— Allen, and had had a daughter Frances, who in 1695 was older than the other living children of these daughters. Henry Allen, of Milford, Conn., according to Savage (I., 31), had wife Sarah, who died in 1680, and a daughter Frances, born in 1676. Orcutt (History of Stratford, II., 1115) gives only John (not mentioned by Savage) and Frances—who married, in 1704, John Hall of Middletown, whose heirs in 1742 were Joseph Cornell and wife Elizabeth, Joseph Sage, Jr., and wife Mary, James Ward and wife Abigail, and Samuel Stow and wife Mary, all of Middletown—as the children of Henry Allen, so it would appear that the four children named by Savage as born before Frances, 1676, died before John[1] Hill's will was made.

James[2] Hill (John[1]) had wife Sarah ———, whose surname is not given by Dr. Steiner. Dr. Talcott's MS. on the Griswold family states that Sarah, daughter of Michael Griswold of Wethersfield, born Sept. 30, 1662, married —— Hill. There seems to be no other male member of the Guilford family of Hill having a wife Sarah, at a sufficiently early date, except him. The will, dated in 1678, of Michael Griswold, of Wethersfield, who died in 1684, refers to his daughter Sarah Hill. James[2] and Sarah Hill had children named Isaac and Michael; and Michael Griswold, of Wethersfield, and wife Ann had sons Michael and Isaac.

With reference to the various lines of descendants traced by Smyth and Steiner, they agree in general quite closely with the writer's MS., except with an occasional difference in dates, and a child of James[3] (John,[2] John[1]), not given by them, viz., Lydia, born Sept. 9, 1713; also their Zenas,[4] son of Isaac[3] (James,[2] John[1]), is Jonas in the writer's account. The baptism June 4, 1738, was of Jonas, not Zenas (see Cothren's Woodbury, III., 146). The births of the children of Zenas and Keziah are correctly given (Cothren's Woodbury, III., 55, 57, 59), but there is no known evidence to connect Zenas with Isaac,[3] and Zenas may prove to be a descendant of Luke Hill, for Ebenezer[3] Hill (Luke,[2] Luke[1]) had a son Zenas, born in Goshen, Conn., Jan. 4, 1730. It may be that Jonas[4] never married. Cothren (Woodbury, III., 565) gives his death as June 12, 1802, aged 63.

LUKE HILL OF WINDSOR, CONN., AND JOHN HILL OF GUILFORD, CONN., AND THEIR DESCENDANTS: ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS: — These additions and corrections are to the article which appeared in THE REGISTER, vol. 57, p. 87 et * seq., and are taken from the notes of Donald Lines Jacobus.

LUKE[1] HILL married 6 May 1651 MARY HOUT (Windsor Records, THE REGISTER, 5:228). Her name is shown as Hoyt in Stiles' "History of Windsor", 2:292, and in Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary", 2:418. The spelling Hart, appearing in THE REGISTER, 57:87, may be a mis-reading of the original text. The possibility exists that Mary may have been an unrecorded daughter of Reverend Ephraim Huit or of Simon Hoyt, both among the earliest settlers of Windsor. Note that the eldest daughters of both Rev. Ephraim and Luke were named Lydia.

ISAAC[3] HILL (Luke,[2] Luke[1]), born 27 May 1703 in Branford, Conn., married 16 Jan. 1733, ESTHER STONE, daughter of Benajah and Hannah of Guilford (Wallingford V.R., 5:509). He died 25 Oct. 1741 (Wallingford V.R., 5:549). Esther married secondly, 9 May 1745, Ebenezer Shelley of Guilford (Guilford V.R., 2:59).

The above vital records had been previously erroneously assigned to Isaac[4] Hill of the family of John Hill of Guilford.

Isaac[4] Hill (Isaac,[3] Luke,[2] Luke[1]), Revolutionary soldier. Data from National Archives File S31–747 states he was born 16 April 1740 in Guilford, but records of that town do not show his birth. More likely he was born in Goshen or Wallingford shortly before his father's death and lived in Guilford after his mother's second marriage to Ebenezer Shelley in 1745. He was pensioned on Certificate 28920 under the Act of 7 June 1832. He married, 29 Sept. 1762, Eunice Mallory (Stratford L.R., 5:72).

Children:

Abraham Enoch, born 9 Oct. 1763 (Stratford L.R.:72)

Benajah, born 1774 (National Archives S31–747); bapt. 18 Sept. 1774 by Mr. Lewis of the Plains (Shelton, Huntington Cong. Ch., vol. 3, p. 105).

Seth, born 1776 (D.A.R. Lineage Book, Vol. 160)

Seth married Polly Stinson.

Isaac (probably). He is mentioned with Benajah in Southbury land records, vol. 8:305.

Previously, at the age of sixteen, he became a soldier in the French and Indian war, and at the capture of Fort Edward, on the Hudson, was made prisoner by the Indians, adopted by an Indian chief, taken to Montreal, and was finally bought by a lady for sixteen gallons of rum, and by her was sent home to Westfield, Mass. Dea. William[6] Cleveland (Aaron,[5] Aaron,[4] Aaron,[3] Aaron,[2] Moses[1]) was born in Norwich, Conn., Dec. 20, 1770, and died at Black Rock, near Buffalo, N. Y., August 18, 1837, at the residence of his son-in-law, Hon. Lewis Falley Allen. He learned the trade of silversmith and watchmaker, and lived some time in Salem, Mass., but finally settled in Norwich, his native place. He married in ———, Mass., 1795–6, Miss Margaret Falley, a granddaughter of Richard Falley, who was a native of the Isle of Guernsey, France, but kidnapped when a lad at school and brought to Nova Scotia. She was born in Westfield, Mass., Nov. 15, 1776, and died at Black Rock, near Buffalo, August 10, 1850. Children were as follows:

JOHN HOBSON, OR HOPSON, OF GUILFORD, CONN., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

Compiled by Hon. RALPH D. SMYTH, and communicated by Dr. BERNARD C. STEINER.

1. JOHN[1] HOBSON came to Guilford probably about 1660. He may have been a son of John Hobson of Rowley, Mass. On June 1, 1665, he was made constable, and on Sept. 20, 1667, he was chairman of a committee of six to search and report what lands in the town were suitable for a third division. On Feb. 19, 1667–8, he was made townsman, and reelected until 1671. He appears to have rented the Whitfield or Major Thompson farm, and Nov. 22, 1706, sold 84¼ acres of land for rent of the farm. No home lot is recorded to him until about 1690, when he bought one of Aaron Blachley, containing nine acres and seven rods of upland and swamp, between the land of the Wrights, Hughes, Thompson, and Abraham Cruttenden. On Aug. 12, 1685, he was appointed ordinary keeper. In 1671 he was on the committee to run the boundary between Guilford and Branford; and was made planter, Dec. 11, 1672. He married first, Sarah ———, who died Sept. 8, 1669; married second, Dec. 9, 1672, Elizabeth, daughter of Edward Shipman of Saybrook, who died in 1683; and married third, Elizabeth, daughter of John Allin of New Haven. Hodgkin Genealogy: Additions.—The following genealogy extends the line of Beniah[6] Hotchkin (Hodgkin) (6, vi, 1) as given in "John Hodgkin of Guilford, Conn., and His Descendants," by Hon. Ralph D. Smyth, in the Register, vol. 58, p. 282. *

As stated by Hon. Ralph D. Smyth, in his "History of Guilford, Conn.," 1877, p. 29, "John Hodgkin's descendants gradually modified the name in Hotchkin." Rev. James Hervey[5] Hotchkin, grandson of Noah[4] Hotchkin, in a letter (now in possession of the contributor) written 19 March 1849 to his grandson, Dr. Gurdon Beriah[7] Hotchkin, stated "Our name was originally spelled 'Hodgkin.' My grandfather, Noah, spelt it 'Hochkin.' My father, Rev. Beriah, inserted the 't', and this is the present spelling in our different branches of the family." This spelling is confirmed by an original letter (also in the possession of the contributor) of Rev. Beriah[5] Hotchkin written to his son, Rev. James H.[6] Hotchkin, in November 1813, in which the names, both in address and signature, are spelled "Hotchkin."

Thus, while Hon. Ralph D. Smyth, to be consistent in his tabuation in the Register, spelled all the names "Hodgkin," the above quoted letters show the names of Beriah[4] and James Hervey,[5] as written by those men themselves, to have already been changed to the present form.

The name is found in Farmington records as Hossenton, Horsington and Hoisington, and appears to relate to the same family; the last is the recent spelling. What is known of the ancestry and previous residence of this family? What are the dates of births of sons Joab and Ebenezer? These last emigrated to Windsor, Vt., about 1765.

John Hassenton, described as of Hadley, Mass., took freeman's oath, Feb. 8, 1678–9. See Reg., vol. iv. p. 25 (1850). What is known of his ancestry, family and descendants? Was John of Farmington of his descendents? Address,

[A copy of the foregoing Letter was inserted in the Register, vol. x. p. 242. This appears to have been in many particulars incorrect. D. Williams Patterson, formerly of West Winsted, Conn., but now of Newark Valley, N. Y., a well known antiquary and genealogist, has prepared an exact transcript of the original Letter of Directions, which he has had published in New York, in a tasty manner, with notes, being No. 1 of the publications of the "U. Q. Club." (See Book Notices in this number.)

Instead of making corrections and placing them in the errata, as is usual, it was thought better to reprint the Letter entire, as given by Mr. Patterson. A few explanations, taken from the notes made by the above named gentleman, are appended as foot-notes.

We learn from the genealogy annexed, in the pamphlet by Mr. Patterson, that Thomas^{2} Holmes, who was the father of John,^{3} the writer of the letter, died at the age of 98. John,^{3} b. in New London, Conn.,

ANCESTORS OF REV. SAMUEL HOPKINS, D.D., OF NEWPORT, AND THEIR CHILDREN.

[Communicated by Sylvester Judd, Esq., of Northampton.]

John Hopkins settled at Cambridge in 1634, was admitted freeman in 1635, and removed to Hartford in 1636. He died in 1654, leaving a widow, Jane, and two children, Stephen and Bethia. The widow married Nathaniel Ward, of Hadley, and the daughter married in 1652, Samuel Stocking, of Middletown, and, after his decease, James Steele, of Hartford. John Hopkins may have been related to Edward Hopkins, Esq., of Hartford.

Stephen Hopkins, only son of John, married Dorcas Bronson, daughter of John Bronson, of Farmington, and resided at Hartford. He died in 1689, and his widow in 1697. He names, in his will, six children, viz.: John, Stephen, Ebenezer, Joseph, Dorcas, Webster, and Mary Hopkins.

John Hopkins, son of Stephen, settled in Waterbury, where he died, Nov. 4, 1732. His wife died May 30, 1730. Their children were: — John, b. March 29, 1686; Consider, b. March 29, 1687; Stephen, b. Nov. 19, 1689; Timothy, b. Nov. 16, 1691; Samuel, b. Dec. 27, 1693, graduated at Yale College 1718 — Minister of West Springfield; Mary, b. Jan. 27, 1696–7; Hannah, b. April, 25, 1699; Dorcas, b. Feb. 12, 1706.

Timothy Hopkins, son of John, of Waterbury, married Mary Judd, daughter of Dea. Thomas Judd, of Waterbury, June 25, 1719. He died in W., Feb. 5, 1748–9, aged 57. Their children were: — Samuel, b. Sept. 17, 1721, Y. C. 1741 — Minister at Great Barrington and Newport; Timothy, b. Sept. 8, 1723; Huldah, b. Dec. 22, 1725; Hannah, b. April 11, 1728; Sarah, b. May 25, 1730: James, b. June 26, 1732; Daniel, b. Oct, 16, 1734, Y. C. 1758 — Minister at Salem; Mary, b. June 27, 1737; Mark, b. Sept. 18, 1739, Y. C., 1758 — was a lawyer, as I am informed.

Newport, Nov. 5, 1798.

Dear Sir — It is near thirty years since I have had anything direct from you, and I do not remember that I have written you since; which I am now disposed to consider as my fault. The import of your line to me then was, that you considered me as a great and wicked heretic, highly deserving rebuke.* I believe I have published nothing since that would lead you to have a better opinion of me, had you read my writings, which to me is improbable.

However, considering our consanguinity;† that we originated in the same town, were classmates at college, and the intimacy which took place between us when we were young, and entering on the stage of life, there is, perhaps, no reason for our living strangers to each other. I therefore now sit down to write you by post, as I know of no other way of conveyance, presuming you are yet in this world, though I have heard nothing of you for a considerable time.

* Mr. Judd was strongly opposed to some of the opinions of Dr. Hopkins.

† The mother of Dr. Hopkins was a sister of Mr. Judd's father.

You are about a year older or younger than I am, I think; but I do not remember which. I was 77 years old on the 17th day of last September. But very few of our cotemporaries are now living, and we shall soon be called off the stage of life. I think I have heard of the death of the wife of your youth; and that you have since married another wife, but who, or from whence, or whether she be yet alive, I know not. You have children, I conclude, some or all of them grown up and settled in the world; but how many you have had, whether they be all alive, and what proportion of males and females, I have not been informed.

I have had eight children — five sons and three daughters — which were all born in Great Barrington. Four of them are deceased, viz.: my youngest son, Daniel, who died in Maryland in the year 1788, in the 25th year of his age; my three daughters, Betsy, Joanna, and Rhoda, all lived to marry, and left issue. My oldest daughter left two sons who are now with their father in North Carolina. Joanna married a Fisher, in Medway, and has left but one child, a daughter, now in her 17th year, who lives with me. Rhoda married to John Anthony, and died in this town, soon after her first child was born, in 1792. Her child, a son, is now living, and is with his father's parents at Killington, in Vermont. My first wife died at Great Barrington, in August, 1793, having gone there on a visit to her children, and hoping that it might be for her health, having been in a decline many years. Since that, I have married a second wife, a maiden lady, who originated from Boston, with the entire approbation of all my congregation and friends, who is a very great help and comfort to me in my advanced years.

My church and congregation were large and flourished, before the war with Britain, but in that war were greatly diminished and impoverished; from which state they have not risen. However, I have my daily food and live comfortably and in peace, having neither poverty nor riches, as a temptation to lead me astray. My family consists only of myself, Mrs. Hopkins, and my grand-daughter above mentioned.

I have only one brother and one sister living. The latter lives with a married daughter of hers, whose husband has lately moved from Waterbury to the north-west part of Connecticut, or in the bounds of New York State. The former is at Salem I suppose you know. He is minister of a large and flourishing congregation, who are very kind to him, and they attend his ministry better than congregations commonly do at this day. They give him many valuable presents, and 600 dollars per annum. He preaches three sermons every Sabbath.

My oldest son, David, lives in Maryland, near Baltimore. He has a large plantation; has had two wives, both of which are dead. He is left a widower, with three daughters. Is now chosen General of the Militia of the County in which he lives. My third son, Levi, lives in the north-west part of Virginia, near the Apalachian mountains. Has a wife and six children living. He lost his eldest daughter lately, who was a promising young woman. My second and fourth sons, Moses and Samuel, live at Great Barrington. Moses is a man of business. He is a farmer and a merchant. He is Register of that part of the County in which he lives, and Justice of the Peace. Owns a grist-mill and a saw-mill on the river, which can go the whole year. He has nine children, all likely. None of them have yet left him. Samuel lives in my house and occupies the farm. He has a wife and three children. He is an honest, industrious man; lives much within himself, by the produce of the farm; owes nobody, and has money in his pocket.

I enjoy a comfortable measure of health, through the distinguishing mercy of God, and have fewer complaints than men of my years commonly have. Am able to attend the public services of the Sabbath constantly, and we have a weekly conference at my house every Thursday evening. But religion is very low with us, and in these parts.

I have printed seven sermons. Five of them have been reprinted in America, and three of the five have been printed in Scotland. I have also printed two other pamphlets — a Dialogue concerning the slavery of the Africans, and another small pamphlet. The former has had a second edition in New York. I have also published an answer to Dr. Mayhew's two sermons, to prove there are promises to the unregenerate, of 145 pages. A reply to Mr. Mill's exceptions to some passages in the 10th section of the foregoing, containing 184 pages. In the year 1773, I published a book of 220 pages, containing "An Inquiry concerning the nature of true holiness," of 78 pages, which has since been reprinted at New York. It also contained answers to Messrs. Moses Mather, William Hart, of Saybroook, and M. Hemmenway, who had written in opposition to something which I had published, and to some writings of Mr. Edwards and Dr. Bellamy. In the year 1783, I published a book of 194 pages, entitled, "An Inquiry concerning the future state of those who die in their sins."

In 1793, I published "A System of Doctrines contained in Divine Revelation, with a treatise on the Millenium," in two volumes, octavo, containing 1244 pages. The Treatise on the Millenium, of 158 pages, has been reprinted in Europe.

In 1796, I published The Life of Miss Susanna Anthony, of 193 pages; of which a second edition is agreed upon with the printers, Hudson and Goodwin, at Hartford.

I have written "Memoirs of the Life of Mrs. Osborn," which is now at the press at Worcester, which is to contain about 400 pages, and is expected to be published before next spring.

We are going into a world of light, where it will be known what truth and what errors we have imbibed and contended for in this dark world; and then all matters will be set right; to which I feel no reluctance — hoping I sincerely love the truth, and that I am building on the sure foundation laid in Zion, whatever hay and stubble may be found with me. And as to others, who are the professed friends of Christ, I desire not to judge any of them before the time.

If this should find you alive and in health, and you should find it in your heart to write me by the same conveyance in which this goes, you would much oblige

Your kinsman and old friend,

Rev. Jonathan Judd. S. Hopkins.

P. S. Mrs. Hopkins wishes you to think of her as your respectful friend.

Of the many unplaced Hotchkisses whose records come to hand only the following need be considered here:

(1) TIMOTHY HOTCHKISS of Cheshire (perhaps identical with 27, iii, who was born at New Haven 16 Mar. 1742) married, 4 Mar. 1762, LUCY ANDRUS, who died 27 Apr. 1772.

Children:

i. SAMUEL, b. 14 Dec. 1762; m. 12 Feb. 1784 MIRIAM[6] HOTCHKISS, daughter of Amos (54), b. 10 Jan. 1764.

iv. BRIANT, b. 31 May 1769.
v. LUCY, b. 23 Apr. 1772; d. 6 May 1772.

(2) The descendants of John Hotchkin of Guilford, sometimes supposed (despite the spelling of the name) to be brother of Samuel[1] Hotchkiss, are given in REGISTER, vol. 58, p. 281. One branch, which settled in New Haven, is not carried out there, and is given here in order to prevent any confusion between this family and the New Haven Hotchkisses.

JOSEPH[5] HOTCHKIN (Abraham,[4] Abraham,[3] Joseph,[2] John[1]), born at Guilford 17 Nov. 1758, married ABIGAIL HORTON, daughter of Samuel and Sarah of Wolcott, who was baptized at Woodbridge 30 Sept. 1759. He removed to Richmond, Mass., and later, together with his brother Oliver, to New Haven., Conn., where he died 29 Apr. 1827. His widow died 4 Dec. 1829.

Children:

i. ELIAS,[6] b. abt. 1783; d. at New Haven 17 Aug. 1824, leaving children: 1. Charles,[7] b. abt. 1810. 2. Mary Ann, b. abt. 1812. 3. Amanda Charlotte.
ii. TABITHA, m. ——— GASTON.
iii. LOVINIA, m. ——— KINGSLEY.
iv. ABIGAIL, m. ——— DUDLEY.

(3) A Hotchkiss family settled in Norfolk, Conn., about 1763, but it was not connected with the line of Samuel[1] in time to be inserted in its proper place. It is now nearly certain that James, Enos, and Samuel, the heads of the Norfolk branch, were two sons and a grandson of Samuel[3] (12) of East Haven.

12, viii. JAMES[4] HOTCHKISS (Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] Samuel[1]), born at East Haven 13 Jan. 1728, married DOROTHY ASPINWALL of Norfolk.

xi. CHARLOTTE, bapt. 16 Apr. 1780.

12, ix. ENOS[4] HOTCHKISS (Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] Samuel[1]), born at East Haven 13 May 1731, married, 5 Feb. 1756, ELIZABETH

SHEPARD. The birth of their child Elihu is recorded at East Haven, but unfortunately the name was given as Enos in Dodd's East Haven Register, and this error was followed in the account given above (REGISTER, vol. 66, p. 330). Elihu, Elizabeth, and Ruth, children of Enos and Elizabeth, were baptized at Norfolk 2 Oct. 1763, together with three children of James and Dorothy, a fact which serves to identify Enos and James as the East Haven brothers.

Children:

i. ELIHU,[5] b. at East Haven 1757; bapt. at Norfolk 2 Oct. 1763.
ii. ELIZABETH, } bapt. 2 Oct. 1763.

34, iii. SAMUEL[5] HOTCHKISS (Samuel,[4] Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] Samuel[1]), removed from Northford to Norfolk, and died Jan. 1799. He married ELIZABETH ———.

Children:

iii. ASAHEL, } bapt. 15 Oct. 1799.
iv. ASENATH, }

viii. CHARLOTTE, bapt. 27 Aug. 1801.

(4) THOMAS[4] HOTCHKISS (18, i) was probably the man reported dead or captured in the French War, 7 Sept. 1756. If so, his family may not have removed from Hamden as supposed. It will be noted that he had a son Samuel, born 7 July 1732. In 1816 the estate of Samuel Hotchkiss, Jr., of Hamden was distributed to his children Samuel, Amasa, and Sarah, and the children of his daughter Mary, deceased.

(5) Thanks to the courtesy of Mrs. F. A. Sanford of Westfield, Mass., it is possible to make additions and corrections in the line of DEA. GIDEON[4] HOTCHKISS (36). Descendants are certain that the twelfth child attributed to him, Asahel,[5] was in reality the child of Gideon's eldest son, Jesse.[5] Gideon's daughter Olive (36, xviii) married William Jones.

36, i. JESSE[5] HOTCHKISS (Gideon,[4] Stephen,[3] Joshua,[2] Samuel[1]), born 9 Oct. 1738, died 29 Sept. 1776. He married, 2 Oct. 1759, CHARITY MALLORY of Stratford.

HOTCHKISS-JOHNSON-THOMPSON: ADDITIONS.—The following items relate to genealogies that have recently appeared in the REGISTER.

Elias Hotchkiss (96. REGISTER, vol. 67, p. 224) married first Almira Woodward and secondly Julia ———. I am indebted to Mrs. Natalie R. Fernald of Washington, D. C., for the name of his first wife. Probably all of his children were by his first wife. [1]

In REGISTER, vol. 66, pp. 15–17, evidence was presented to prove that Walter Johnson of Wallingford was son of Jan Wouters of Branford, Conn., Flatbush, L. I., and New York. The following record from Branford, contributed by Miss Ethel Lord Scofield of East Haven, confirms this conjecture: On 31 Jan. 1703/4 John Wooters, "some time since a resident of Branford, now a Sojourner in the town of Wallingford," conveys land in Branford. Witnesses: John Hall and Walter Janson. (Branford Deeds, vol. 2, p. 203.) [2]

Eleanor Johnson, who married 14 Oct. 1714 Joseph Cook of Wallingford and Goshen, and whose parentage has not hitherto been determined, was probably a daughter of Walter Johnson by his second wife. The names Walter and Lambert appear among her children.

John Thompson (4. REGISTER, vol. 66, p. 200) married Anne Vicaris at Boston 4th of the 6th month 1656. Mary Thompson (17, x. ib., p. 208) did not marry William Hotchkiss, whose wife Mary was daughter of Isaac Thompson (9, iii, 3. ib., p. 204). [3] [4]

NOTE.—Daniel Hubbard, the writer of the above letter, was the son of Rev. John Hubbard, Jr. (H. C. 1695), and was born April 3, 1706, probably in New Haven. He was graduated at Yale College in 1727. A sketch of his life will be found in "Yale Biographies and Annals," by Prof. F. B. Dexter, page 354. His proposal was accepted, and he was married August 13 (or 18), 1731, to Martha, daughter of John Coit of New London, to whom the letter is addressed. He settled at New London in the practice of the law. He was appointed sheriff in 1735, and held the office till his death March 24, 1741-2. He left three sons and two daughters. His widow married, Sept. 6, 1744, Thomas Greene of Boston (see Coit Genealogy, page 32). There used to be twin portraits of Mr. Greene and his wife, a little above miniature size in ovals in one frame on copper painted by Copley, which was in the possession of Miss Mary G. Chapman of Boston. I used to see the picture often when a child. Augustus T. Perkins describes it in his Sketch of Copley and some of his Works, page 66. I am not quite sure that the lady was the adorable Miss Coit, though the probability is that she was. Thomas Greene had two wives. His first wife was Eliza daughter of John Gardiner of Gardiner's Island, and his second the above Mrs. Martha (Coit) Hubbard. There are portraits of Thomas Greene and his wife Martha, painted by Copley, in the possession of their great-grandson, Rev. David Greene Haskins D.D., of Cambridge. They are described by Mr. Perkins, pp. 65-6. Mr. Greene's portrait is dated Sept. 25, 1758. It was therefore painted when Copley was only 21 years old.

RICHARD HUGHES OF GUILFORD, CONN., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

Compiled by Hon. RALPH D. SMYTH, and communicated by DR. BERNARD C. STEINER.

1. RICHARD[1] HUGHES, the name also spelled Hewes, Hues, and Huse, was one of the earliest settlers of Guilford, as he drew one of the early lots of land. His name appears in the first list of planters for 1650, where it is spelt "Hues." He may have come from Dorchester, Mass., as one of his name was there in 1639. At Guilford he was a member of the church, and appears to have been an esteemed and worthy citizen. At a particular Court held at Guilford, May 5, 1659, "The inventory of the estate of Richard Hughes, late of Guilford deceased, was presented by William Stone who had married the widow of the deceased, which was proved by said William Stone and his wife for the quantity, and by Robert Kitchel and Abraham Cruttenden, Sr., for the value—amount £96 . 4s . 7d."

Administration of the estate was granted, May 23, 1659, to William Stone, upon promise and engagement to perform the payment of all debts and portions according to the court's appointment.

At a particular court (Guilford), Aug. 21, 1659, William Stone appeared bringing in a parcel of goods sent as a token from friends in England to be distributed betwixt Widow Hughes and her eight children but not specifying how. The Court, with consent of William Stone, who married said widow, divided what part of them as was sent with such general order only, one third to said William Stone for the widow and the two children that are yet remaining with her—viz., Martha and Rebecca—and the other six parts between the other six children in equal proportions, appointing Mr. Kitchel and Abraham Cruttenden, Sr., to see the distribution made accordingly.

Richard[1] Hughes died July 3, 1658, and his widow, Mary, married second, May, 1659, William Stone, who died Nov., 1683.

Children:

i. Richard,[2] b. 1638, in England; was in England in Feb., 1661, in the settlement of his father's estate.
2. ii. Samuel, b. Feb., 1640-1; d. May 11, 1693.
iii. Mary.
iv. Deborah, m. Oct. 10, 1665, Thomas Buck of Wethersfield.
3. v. Nicholas, of Guilford and Stratford, Conn.; d. 1691.
vi. Sarah, b. Aug. 1, 1651; the Guilford School Dame; d. unmarried, Apr. 17, 1714.
vii. Elizabeth, b. Apr. 14, 1653.

2. Samuel[2] Hughes (Richard[1]), of Guilford, a freeman there Mar. 13, 1669, inherited his father's home-lot of 5 acres, and a parcel of marsh land adjoining, which contained 1¾ acres, and bought 8 acres more in 1670. He married, Apr. 26, 1665, Mary, daughter of Henry Dowd.

Children:

i. Mary,[3] b. Feb. 14, 1666; d. June 26, 1676.
ii. Abigail, b. July 22, 1668; d. young.

3. Nicholas[2] Hughes (Richard[1]) was a blacksmith, and lived in Guilford, with the encouragement of the town, in 1669 and 1670. He inherited from his father a parcel of land containing 6 acres in the little plain. In 1684, he lived in Stratford, and married, about 1692, Abigail, daughter of John Thompson and widow of Jonathan Curtiss, who married third, Aug., 1695, Samuel Sherman, Jr., and died Feb., 1719.

He probably had no children.

NOTICE OF THE HUNTINGTON FAMILY.

Albany, N. Y., July 10, 1847.

Rev. William Cogswell, D. D.,

Editor of the N. E. Historical and Genealogical Register:

Sir, — Being related to the Huntington family on the maternal side, and having found a manuscript letter from Joseph Huntington to Roger Huntington, dated Coventry, Ct., March 25, 1793, giving an account of the early ancestors of the family, I send you the following extract from it in order to furnish some of the facts which may be wanted in making out a sketch for publication.

As this family has been considerably prominent, and highly respectable in this country, I have taken it for granted, that you will give it a place in your Register.

"Near the close of the reign of Charles the first, (1648,) the original stock of our family in America, who was a citizen of Norwich in England, and a Religious Puritan under persecution, with his wife and three sons, embarked for America. His name was Simon. He was nearly fifty years of age; his wife was some years younger. Their three sons who were in the bloom of youth, were named Christopher, Simon, and Samuel.

They made their course for the mouth of Connecticut river, but our progenitor being seized with a violent fever and dysentary, died within sight of the shore, whither he was brought, and now lies buried in Saybrook or Lyme, as both towns were but one at first. I have in vain enquired for his grave when I have been there, as no monument has been erected to his memory.

His widow who was a lady of a good family, piety and virtue, and had a valuable fortune left her in money; not long after his death, was married to a gentleman in Windsor, named Stoughton, and there she finished her life in affluence and comfort.

The three sons settled first at Saybrook: but soon after, the youngest, namely, Samuel, removed to New Jersey and settled in Newark.

About the time that Samuel removed to New Jersey, the other two brothers, namely, Christopher and Simon, came to Norwich, and there lived in honor and piety to a good old age.

The sons of Christopher, were Christopher, Thomas and John; the sons of Christopher last mentioned, were Christopher, Isaac, Jabez, Matthew, Hezekiah, John and Jeremiah; the sons of Thomas, were Thomas, Jedediah, Christopher, Eleazer, William and Simon; John left but one son, bearing his own name.

The branch of Simon, the son of Simon: — His sons were Simon, Joseph, Samuel, Daniel and James; the sons of the last mentioned Simon, were Simon, Eleazer and Joshua; the sons of Joseph were Nathaniel, Jonathan, David and Solomon; the sons of Samuel were Samuel, Caleb, John and Simon; the sons of Daniel were Daniel, Jonathan and Benjamin; the sons of James were James, Peter and Nathaniel.

Samuel who removed to New Jersey, left one son, Samuel, who had three sons, Thomas, Simon and Samuel.

At the time of the emigration of Simon, a brother of his, whose name was Samuel, was Captain of the king's life guard, and much in his favor." Yours,

Fred. S. Pease.

FAMILY OF HUNTINGTON.

Esteemed Friend, the Publisher of the N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register:

I inclose a copy of a letter written by Dr. Joseph Huntington, minister a long time in Coventry, Ct. I have nothing to show the date of the letter. I take some interest in this account, being a descendant of the Huntington family — my mother being of that name. — I am of the seventh generation from the original Simon, in the line of his son Christopher.

Very Respectfully thy Friend,

DEXTER M. LEONARD.

Copy of a letter from Dr. Joseph Huntington, of Coventry, Ct., to his brother, Mr. Eliphalet Huntington, of Windham, Ct., who remained on the homestead.

Near the close of the reign and tragical death of Charles the first, who was then the king of Great Britain, (ie.) near the year 1640, (for in 1648 the king was beheaded) the original stock [progenitor] of our family in America, who was a citizen of Norwich in England, and a religious Puritan under persecution, (with many others in those days) with his wife and three sons embarked for America.

His name was Simon Huntington. This good man was grandfather to your grandfather and mine. He was nearly fifty years of age, and his wife some years younger. Their three sons were in the bloom of youth. Their names were Christopher, Simon, and Samuel. They made their course for the mouth of Connecticut river. But our progenitor being seized with a violent fever and dysentery, died within sight of the shore; whither he was brought, and now lies buried, either in Saybrook or Lyme, as both towns were but one at first. His widow, our grandfather's grandmother, was a lady of good family, piety, and virtue, and had a valuable fortune left her in money; and not long after, she married to a gentleman in Windsor, which town was settled almost as early as any in Connecticut. His name was Stoughton. There the good lady finished her life in affluence and comfort. The three sons settled first at Saybrook; but soon after, the younger, viz., Samuel, removed into New Jersey and settled at Newark, where there is a respectable family of our name and kindred, though not very numerous in the branches of it. Not long after the settlement of our ancestors at Saybrook, the venerable Mr. Fitch came over, to take the pastoral charge of them. Soon after this, they made a discovery of the township that we call Norwich, and which they so named in regard to the city of Norwich in England, from whence the most respectable part of them came. The people began to emigrate from Saybrook to Norwich in considerable numbers, and all dearly loved their minister. A warm contention arose between the emigrants and those that remained at Saybrook, with regard to their minister, which Mr. Fitch decided very wisely. He told them that he had a dear love for them all; but that he could do no other than cleave to the major part, wheresoever their residence might be. Accordingly, as the greater part of his charge soon removed to Norwich, he also settled there; was the first minister of that town, a faithful and worthy servant of Christ, and a friend to the souls of men. Laboring many years in the sacred work there, until old age deprived him of farther usefulness; he then removed to Lebanon and there died. This good man was the progenitor of all who bear the name in Norwich, and the towns adjacent.

But to return to our family; about the time that Samuel, before mentioned, removed to Newark, the other two brethren came to Norwich, viz., Christopher and Simon, and there lived in honor, piety and prosperity, to a good old age. The sons of Christopher were, Christopher, Thomas, and John. The sons of this last mentioned Christopher, were Christopher, Isaac, Jabez, Mathew, Hezekiah, John, and Jeremiah. The sons of Thomas were, Thomas, Jeddidiah, Christopher, Eliezer, William, and Simon. John left but one son, bearing his own name. This you will note, brings the pedigree of our family down in one branch of it, to a collateral line with your father and mine, i. e., in the branch of Christopher the son of Simon, who was the original stock of all who bear the name in this country. I [will] next acquaint you with another branch, i. e., the branch [of] Simon, son of the original Simon, from whence you and I have our descent direct. His sons were Simon, Joseph, Samuel, Daniel, and James. The sons of the last mentioned Simon, were Simon, Ebenezer, and Joshua. The sons of Joseph, were, Joseph, Nathaniel, Jonathan, David, and Solomon. The sons [of] Samuel, were, Samuel, Caleb, John, and Simon The sons of Daniel, were Daniel, Jonathan, and Benjamin. The sons of James, were James, Peter, and Nathaniel. With regard to that branch in New Jersey, descended from Samuel, son of the original Simon, he left one son, Samuel by name, on a collateral line with our grandfather Joseph. This Samuel had three sons, Thomas, Simon, and Samuel, which were on a collateral line with your father and mine. This is an account of all the male issue of our family, from the original Simon, down to our immediate parents, and contains a series of about a century and a half.

We have kindred of the same name now in England, and among them some very respectable, as the family was at the time of the emigration of our progenitors.

A brother of the orignal Simon, whose name was Samuel, was captain of the king's life guard, and much in his favor. With regard to the succeeding branches of our family in this country, they are somewhat numerous, though not so much dispersed as some other families.

ERRATA.—In vol. v. p. 163, for "Samuel" read "Thomas," which* was the name of the Huntington who went to Newark, N. J. He m. Hannah, da. of Jasper Crane. "Samuel" was son of Thomas. S. H. C.

Thomas was the name of that son of Simon Huntington who removed to New Jersey, not Samuel, as is stated in the January number of the Register, * p. 46. It appears from the printed colonial records of Connecticut, that Thomas Huntington was made a freeman of Con. in May, 1657, Cris. Huntington, in May, 1658, and Simon Huntington in Oct. 1663. Thomas Huntington married Hannah, daugh. of Jasper Crane, and, with Robert Treat, Sam Swaine, and their associates, the first settlers of Newark, N. J., signed the agreements, "none shall be admitted freemen or free Burgesses within our Town upon Passaic river, in the province of New Jersey, but such Planters as are members of some or other of the Congregational churches," and "we will with care and diligence provide for the maintenance of the purity of Religion professed in the Congregational churches." Thomas Huntington was of the Brandford company, which consisted of the Rev. Abraham Pierson and a very large part of his church. His name is found often on the records of the town. In 1675, the General Assembly "being invited hereunto by the Insolence and outrages of the Heathens in our neighboring colonies, not knowing how soon we may be surprised," enacted "that there shall be a place of Fortification or Fortifications made in every Town of the province, and a House therein for the securing of women and children, provision and ammunition, in case of eminent danger by the Indians." Capt. Swain, Sarg. Johnson, and Sarg. Huntington were "chosen by vote to join with the commissioned Military officers to consider about and contrive for the fortifications belonging to our Town," it having been previously agreed "that two Flanckers shall be made at two corners of the meeting house with Palisadoes or Stockades." In 1675 Thomas Huntington was one of seven "Townsmen" chosen "to carry all Town business according to the best of their judgment for the good of the Town, except disposing of land, admitting Inhabitants, and the way of levying rates." He appears as one of the Townsmen until Jan. 1, 1684–5, when he was chosen a Deputy to the General Assembly. We have no record of his death, or notice of him after that year. In 1702, "Samuel Huntington, (son and heir in law of Thomas Huntington, dec.,) inhabitant of Newark, planter," sold lands "formerly belonging to Thomas Huntington aforesaid," and "for fifteen pound current silver money," six acres, &c. The will of this Samuel is dated Nov. 11, 1704, and it was proved Nov. 19, 1712. His children were Thomas, Simon, and a dau. Hannah. The two sons, in 1724, were inhabitants of the district west of Newark mountains, now called Morris County. There Simon died in 1770, aged 74. A Samuel Huntington died in Newark in 1784, aged 74, who, though not mentioned in his father's will, seems to have been the brother of Simon the son of Samuel, to whom he bequeathed "my sermon book the Ten Virgins."

The above facts may be of some interest to the numerous descendants of Simon Huntington. The error, with respect to the name of the brother who settled in Newark, though trivial, is important enough to demand a short notice from one having access to documentary evidence sufficient for its correction.

HUNTINGTON.

A reverential and an historical regard for this family, and particularly for the family of my maternal grandfather, has led me to collect some of the facts relative thereto for publication in the Register.

Doct. Thomas Huntington was the youngest son of John Huntington* and his wife Civil Tracy, born at Norwich, Ct., 13 January, 1745. He removed to Ashford, Ct., about 1770, where, on the 7th January, 1773, he married Molly, daughter of Ichabod Ward and his wife Phebe Tyler, who was born at Attleborough, Mass., 8 March, 1753. He was a graduate of Yale College, Class of 1768. While at Ashford he followed the practice of medicine as a profession, and was also engaged in mercantile pursuits, in which he accumulated considerable property. In the spring of 1799, he removed to Longmeadow, Mass.; thence, in December, 1800, he removed to Hartford, Ct.; and thence, in June, 1801, to Canaan, Litchfield Co., Ct., where he purchased a farm under cultivation, with dwelling-house and other buildings, of Gideon Lawrence, son of Daniel Lawrence of the same place.

This westward movement to a point very much short of what we are now familiar with as the far West, was then thought to be a very considerable reach into the land, which lie beneath the setting sun. Here he resumed the practice of medicine, and was variously engaged in farming, manufacturing and mercantile pursuits. Somewhat eccentric in his habits and manners, he was a pattern of persevering industry, temperance, frugality, and other virtues. He died at Canaan, 22 Feb. 1835. His wife d. 31 Mar. 1828. Their children were all born in Ashford.

Thomas, the eldest, was born 29 September, 1773, and was married to Mary Burbidge, of New York, about 1808. He was liberally educated, and opened a law office in Hartford, Ct., where he continued until his decease, which occurred 9 Nov., 1833. His wife died at New York, about 1839. They had a son named Erastus.

Molly (or Mary as she was generally called,) was born 17 Oct., 1776. She married Alban Rose, of Canaan, in 1821, and is now living with her husband at Geneva, N. Y.

Erastus was born 8 January, 1779. He was engaged in mercantile pursuits, in Albany, in 1804–5–6, in company with a person named Pratt. They kept a dry goods store. He died at Havana, Cuba, 17 Sept., 1807, where his monument still remains.

Matilda was born 29 December, 1780. She married Salmon Pease, of Canaan, 14 June, 1803, and is now living with her husband at Charlotte, Vermont.

Clarissa was born 17 June, 1784, and is now living at Charlotte, Vt.

Horace was born 18 July, 1786, and died at Canaan, 13 March, 1846. He married Chloe Franklin, daughter of Silas Franklin, of Canaan, in 1813, who died 23 Feb. 1843, aged 50. Their children were Horace F., Mary, Miles H., John and Martha.

He died lamentably in the wilds of California, in the fall of 1850, whither he went in the spring of the same year, where his remains are laid, without a stone to mark the spot. He had the melancholy satisfaction of stopping at Havana, on his way out, and seeing the stone which commemorated the death of his brother Erastus.

JOHN HUNTLEY AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

Contributed by Mrs. Alice P. Huntley of Hanover, Mass.

The ancestry of John[1] Huntley who was in Boston as early as 1640, and settled in Lyme, Conn., about 1660, is still in question. Some authorities presume that he was of the Huntley Sept of the Clan Gordon, whose estates are located in the Town of Huntley, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Sir George Gordon, Earl of Huntley, was associated with the founding of the Virginia Company in 1613, and there are various families of Huntleys who settled in Northumberland and Westmorland Counties in Virginia. Other authorities say that the family descends from the Gloucestershire family, who traces its descent from one Baderon who went with his brother Wythenoec from Brittany to England with William the Conqueror in 1066. In an ancient charter of Virginia, 23 May 1606, there appears the name of John Huntley, who states that he was from the City of London. In either case the name is very old, and the descendants in America have reason to be proud of their lineage.

The Aspinwall records of Boston have the first record of John Huntley in 1647 when he signs as witness for power of attorney for Thomas Bayes (Asp. 323) and again in 1648 when he signs for Thomas Foster (Asp. 233). On page 140 of these same records there appears an account between John Huntley and John Pease in regard to a load of fish which Huntley sold in the Barbadoes, shipped in the "Welcome, Mr. John Allen, Mr."

The deposition of John Prace ae 65 yrs. dated 1 July 1679, states: "29 or 30 years ago, Mr. Hanniford, Mariner, lived in Boston in the house next adjoining the house and grounds of Hope Allison, standing on land on which William Griggs lately built a house, and this house and land was accounted to be Hanniford's own property, and John Huntley lived on and thereof and paid the said Hanniford rent for the same, and said Huntley's wife died there of small pox. They were Mr. Hanniford's tenants." This statement gives the proof of Mr. Huntley's first marriage.

An Elizabeth Huntley married in Beverly, Mass., Samuel Corning and had children, Samuel, Elizabeth and Remember. She died 18 Aug. 1688, aged about 85 years. Could this be John Huntley's sister? He was in Salem, Mass., about 1650, as the Ipswich Quarterly Court Records contain a deposition by Richard Smith who states: "Jno Huntley being at the Iron Works." Many citizens of Salem migrated to Lyme, Conn., about the same time that John Huntley went, and it may be that his second wife Jane was from this town. William Bennet of Manchester, Mass., had children Moses, Aaron, Jane and Elizabeth, which correspond to the names of John Huntley's children. Also Henry Bennet settled next to the farm of John Huntley in Lyme.

On the other hand the surname "Curtis" persists throughout the generations of Huntleys until about 1750. John Huntley had a mortgage of Philip Curtis of Roxbury. There being no proof of either of these suppositions, we only await further research, concerning the name of John Huntley's second wife.

Probably about 1650 John Huntley married for the second time, and we find recorded in the Boston records:

Moses sonne of John and Jane Huntley bourne 1 July 1652
Aaron sonne of John and Jane Huntley bourne 15 Apr. 1654

The next record of the family is in Roxbury, where they attended the church there, and where the baptisms of the family are recorded;

Oct. 20, 1657 ——— Huntley, wife of John Huntley adm. to the Church
Oct. 27, 1657 baptized Moses Huntley
Aaron Huntley
Elizabeth Huntley
Dec. 3, 1660 baptized Mary Huntley.

This is the record of John Eliot, pastor of the church.

In Suffolk Deeds, vol. 3, p. 334 is a deed dated Roxbury 27 Feb. 1659, as follows:

John Huntley, cooper, in company with John Chandler both of Roxbury, deed to Philip Curtis 27 Feb. 1659, for £23 worth of cattle, the house and shop of John Huntley with an orchard of 1 acre in Roxbury, and also four acres of pasture land of John Chandler. (mortgage)

Shortly after this deed, Mr. Huntley must have migrated to Lyme, Conn., for on the town records of Lyme, 12 July 1665, John Huntley shared in the fourth division of land as follows:

John Huntley hath laid out for his portion of land granted by the town (Saybrooke) on the East side of Saybrooke (Lyme) for an hundred pound estate, from . . . . 71 acres, for his lott and twenty acres for his calf pasture land. The meadow within it is bounded south by the land of William Measurer; on the North by the common, on the west by the highway; on the east by the common.

From the Lyme Land Records, 20 July 1674:

John Huntley hath laid out to him one the midell of Wolfe Oyland, tow ackers of meadow more or less bounded every way with the water. He hath also laid out to him a home lott containing forty three ackers and half of upland more or less, bounded west one the highway; north one Balishazzer DeWolfes land; South upon Wm. Waller's land; East upon the commons. Lying one both sides of Duck River with one dwelling house. Also three ackers and halfe of meadow at the head of Duck River bounded one the meadow of Wm. Measurer, North one the swamp of Balishazzer DeWolfe; East and West with his own land. Att. Mathew Griswold, Renold Marvin.
John Huntleys' ear mark is one halfe pene out one the under side of each ear, and a slitte one the of ear. 11 Mar. 1674.

Sometime before 1669 Jane, the wife of John Huntley, died and in the diary of Thomas Minor of Stonington appears the following: "The fouerth moneth is June, and hath 30 day. tusday the first, the day the court began, that court I maried huntley and marie barons" 1669.

Marie barons, or Mary Barnes, appears to be the daughter of John Barnes of Gloucester, Mass., and his divorced wife Sarah who married John Tinker. After the death of Sarah, Mary Barnes was brought up by John Tinker's second wife, Alice Smith, who afterwards married William Measurer and came to live in the next farm to John Huntley. She named her first child Sarah for her mother and her second child Alice for the woman who brought her up. (Gen. John Tinker of Lancaster)

The only mention of John Huntley in public life was his participation in the New London-Lyme riot, when he with many of his neighbors protested the boundary line between Lyme and New London 12 Mar. 1671/2.

John Huntley died in Lyme 16 Nov. 1676 (Lyme Land Records, vol. 1, p. 30), leaving his widow Mary and his six children whom he mentions in his will, proved in court 1677.

The last will & testament of John Huntley being very sick & weak of body, but of perfect memory 16 Nov. 1676

He married, 22 Feb. 1676, MARY CHAMPION, died 10 Dec. 1732, aged 84, daughter of Henry Champion. (Lyme Town Records, Book 2, p. 6.)

Aaron Huntley lived with his parents in Lyme in the section now called East Lyme or Huntley Hollow, until his father's death when he built himself a house upon the lot his father gave him and managed his father's estate for the widow.

In the Lyme Town Records, Book 2, p. 6, is the following:

"We the heirs of Henry Champion dec'd . . . do mutually agree to divide the estate of our honored father above sd. into 4 equal shares; one to the children of Henry Champion dec'd, son of Henry aforesd. one to children of Thomas dec'd; and one to Sarah Benet, and one to Mary Huntley, daus. of sd. Henry Champion.

Aaron Huntley in behalf of wife
Henry Benet " " " "
John Waide " " " " and children"

On the town records the maiden name of Mary was left blank and at some later date the name Chamberlain was inserted. The above record corrects this misstatement.

Aaron Huntley was a soldier in King Philip's War and on the enrollment list at Voluntown having drawn Lot No. 148. He drew Cedar Swamp Lot No. 50 in lists compiled 1 July 1701.

Lyme Land Records, p. 265: 2 Oct. 1702:

Moses Huntley lived in Lyme on land deeded to him from his father Moses, selling 14 Oct. 1726 to Nathaniel Clark, Jr., land at Walnut Hill and on 28 Aug. 1728 50 acres at Sunkepogset to William Borden. He lived in Lyme all his life on land bequeathed him by his father. He acted as Deputy to the General Assembly with Thomas Lee, for the Town of Lyme 13 Oct. 1720 (Conn. Col. Public Rec., Hoadley). The northern boundary of Aaron Huntley's farm, and a list of his neighbors is contained by a record in Trumbell's Col. Rec. which reads as follows:

The rights of a distinct society were granted to the northern inhabitants of Lyme, and the dividing line given as follows; . . . beginning by the cove at the N.W. Cor. of Lt. Lord's farm, thence by sd. farm, and Thomas Lord's farm, easterly, then more southerly taking into the sd. society Joseph Ransom's farm, then easterly to the middle of the pond called Roger's Pond, including the farm of Peter Pierson and John Mack, from thence easterly to the line of the East Society in Lyme, at the North End of Aaron Huntley's farm. . . . 20 Jan. 1702/3 he received a gift of land from his father, "a parcel of upland, marsh, bogs, meadow, 28 acres and halfe more or less in Lyme. He divides his remaining house and lands equally between his sons Nathan and Timothy as follows:

Joshua Hempstead in his diary speaks of this Munsell family, records the marriages of the children, including Mary's and tells of the tragic death of the mother. There is reason to believe that David Huntley lived for a time in Scotland precinct near the town of Norwich, Conn. All civil and church records of this town are destroyed, and therefore there is no record of the births of children.

The relationship of the other sons is proved by affidavits filed by Hoel Huntley and wife of Adriel, Moses Huntley of Waterford, Vt., and Jonathan of Dummerston, Vt. These are on file in Washington, D. C.

He enlisted in the 9th Company, Capt. Zebulon Butler of Lyme, 4th Regiment, Col. Eleazer Fitch 1759. Reported from the 4th Regiment in the hospital in Ft. Edwards 30 July to 24 Oct. 1760.

Child:

36. i. Moses,[5] b. about 1739.

13. Jabez[4] Huntley (John,[3] Moses,[2] John[1]), possibly born in 1718, died at the home of his son Jabez in East Machias, Maine, in 1810, ae. 93.

The ancestry of this man, the founder of the Machias branch of the family, has long been debated. The names of the men in the family would lead one to suppose that they originated from the Moses branch, but the only space that he fits in is as the son of John. He migrated to Nova Scotia in 1760 at the same time that a number of the DeWolfe family went, and it may be that he was put in charge of his mother's family. He settled around Kingsport and Canard, but after about ten years sold out his holdings of 250 acres, including 150 acres dyked marsh which stretched across the Canard and Habitant R. for ten pounds, a suit of clothes and a beaver hat. The reason he gave for selling was "The upland is no good, it has no stones in it". He went to what is now the state of Maine, where his descendants still live among the stones he found growing there. He went with David Gardner to what is now Machias, and settled around Gardner's Lake.

The tradition at Machias states that his wife was a Caldwell, but another writer claims that she was a Longfellow. The son Frederick without doubt married a Caldwell, and many confuse the father with the son as a first settler.

Jabez Huntley served in the Revolutionary War from 14 Sep. 1775 to 13 Dec. 1775 as Sergeant in Capt. Smith's company. Was reduced to private 1 Nov. 1775. Company stationed at Machias, Lincoln Co., for the defence of the seacoast. Also priv. in Capt. Jos. Seavey's co., Col. Benj.

Foster, from 5 Dec. to 25 Dec. 1778. He was among the men who were paid a bounty of one pound each at Machias 18 Oct. 1777 for enlistment in service of U. S. by Col. John Allen. Mrs. Elizabeth Sanborn in her writing states that the tradition exists that General Warren died in his arms at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Children:

i. TAPHENAS,[5] b. in 1749; d. 30 April 1841, ae. 92; m. NATHAN LONGFELLOW and came from Cornwallis, N. S., with Mrs. Jonathan Longfellow to Machias in 1767.

iii. RUFUS, b. in Nova Scotia. He went to sea. He was taken prisoner by the British and was found by his brother Jabez when the latter went west. There was a Rufus Huntley a seaman on State Sloop Winthrop, commanded by Capt. George Little, engaged 30 May 1782, discharged 1 Oct. 1782. Roll sworn to at Boston.

At the time of Joseph's first marriage he was living in New London on land laid out to him on the "west side of Fergoes." (Joshua Hempstead's Diary 22 Nov. 1733). HUNTLEY GENEALOGY: CORRECTION. — In regard to the Chapman family, mentioned in the Huntley Genealogy, page 61, of The Register of January 1947, * may I submit that recent investigation indicates that Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Huntley) Chapman had only twelve children, not fourteen, and that the last two named in Mrs. Alice P. Huntley's fine article were actually grandchildren, sons of her son Edward, born 1 July 1760.

The Barbour Index of Connecticut Vital Statistics record the marriage of Ebenezer Chapman and Elizabeth Huntley on 17 June, 1755; give Ebenezer's death as 12 Sept. 1785, and the births of twelve children between 1756 and 1782 — Eunice, Edward, John, Bersheba, Robert, Ezekiel, Phebe, Rachel, Elizabeth, Asahel, Moses, and Susan, the same as Mrs. Huntley's first twelve. The same twelve are assigned to Ebenezer and Elizabeth in the Chapman genealogy by Rev. Edward M. Chapman, in the William Chapman of the New London line.

The will of Capt. Edward Chapman, brother of Ebenezer who married Elizabeth Huntley, is number 1038 in the probate department at the Connecticut State Library, made 31 Oct. 1793. He gives land to Asel Chapman, his nephew and to his nephew Moses Chapman, son of brother Ebenezer. Distribution of his estate was made 20 Feb. 1795 to his brothers and sisters. Ebenezer was already dead so his children are all named among the heirs, "to nephew Edward Chapman, Elizabeth Chapman, heirs of Eunice Harris and niece Susanna Chapman. Asahel and Moses to have no part in this" — as they were given land in the will. No Ebenezer or John is mentioned.

Again in the Lyme Records, vol. I, p. 171 (Barbour Index): "Edward Chapman 2nd married Barsheba Chapman July 3, 1781. Children: Caleb, son of Edw. & Basheba b. 1782; John, son of Edw. & Barsheba, b. 1785; Ebenezer, son of Edw. & Barsheba, b. 1788.

"John, the son of Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Huntley) Chapman, died in 1783 and his sister Phebe d. y."

HUNTLEY GENEALOGY: ADDITIONS: — Recent study into the ancestry of Jabez Huntley (13), THE REGISTER, January 1947, page 58, has brought to light certain interesting new facts. In this issue Jabez Huntley is claimed to be the son of John,[2] Moses,[2] John.[1] I believe in the light of new facts found that he is the son of Moses,[3] Moses,[2] John.[1] *

In the Lyme, Conn., Land Records three separate entries lead one to suppose they were recorded for immigration purposes: "Jabez Huntley b. in Lyme 21 Sept. 1721; Patience Huntley b. 1 Dec. 1722; Jabez m. at Lyme, 27 Mar. 1746 Patience Vaughan."

This Jabez Huntley was the son of Moses Huntley (4) and Rachel Harris and was a brother of Abigail, William and Benejah. No further records appear in Lyme in respect to this Jabez, although there was another Jabez living in Lyme with his wife Sarah in 1776. This may have been the Jabez Huntley who lived in Westfield, Mass., in 1790.

Jabez Huntley (13), as previously reported, removed to Horton, N.S., where a deed concluded 10 Jan. 1768 names his wife Patience.

A deed recorded at Horton Twp., King's Co., N. S., concerns Jabez Huntley of Machias in the County of Lincoln, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and Jonathan Crane of Horton 1808.

In all these deeds at King's County, Jabez Huntley calls himself proprietor of the township of Horton, and one states that the grant or patent was issued 29 May 1761. The deed conveys a lot of 450 acres, being all the share not yet divided or set off, except the marsh on Grand Pré and along the River Cornwallis.

It would seem by these records that if Jabez Huntley did not get to Nova Scotia until 1760 and was married in Lyme 1746 that the majority of his children were born in Lyme, Conn.

NEHEMIAH[4] JACKSON OF WOODSTOCK, CONN., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

Contributed by RUSSELL LEIGH JACKSON, of Salem, Mass.

1. NEHEMIAH[4] JACKSON (Joseph,[3] Jonathan,[2] Nicholas[1]), born at Cumberland, R. I., 11 Sept. 1744, died at Woodstock, Conn., 18 Apr. 1825. He married 2 Feb. 1767 ESTHER ABBOT, born at Ashford, Conn., in 1748, died at Woodstock 15 Sept. 1833, daughter of Nathaniel and Esther (Lyon) Abbot.

Early in life Nehemiah Jackson moved from Cumberland to Woodstock, where he was a successful farmer, owning a large tract of land in the northern part of the town (now known as North Woodstock) near the Massachusetts line. The house which he built still stands, although it is not now owned by any member of the family. Like the majority of the townspeople, he espoused the cause of the colonists and enlisted for service in the Revolution as a corporal in Capt. Peter Perritt's company, serving from 10 July to 10 Dec. 1776.

Although he was the first of Joseph Jackson's children to take up residence in Connecticut, he was not the only member of the family to do so. His brother Jeremiah[4] Jackson, born 2 Aug. 1739, lived at Woodstock, where he married Phoebe Murray and was the father of Matthew Murray[5] Jackson and John[5] Jackson, both soldiers of the Revolution. Sometime before 1721 Caleb Jackson, son of Caleb and grandson of Nicholas, married Mary Averill and moved to Enfield and Ashford, Conn., where his four children were born, among them Dr. James Jackson who settled at Rochester and Madison, N. H. Three of Nehemiah Jackson's brothers, Lieut. Eleazer Jackson, Michael Jackson, and Benjamin Jackson, took up lands in Cornish, N. H., and left numerous progeny in that State.

Both Nehemiah Jackson and his wife are buried in the Bradford-Marcy burying ground at Woodstock, and in 1933, at a reunion of the family, a Revolutionary War marker was placed on his grave and unveiled by his great-great-great-grandson, Edward Lawrence Jackson.

Alfred Andrew Jackson was educated in village schools and for a time attended the University of Pennsylvania. On 26 May 1862 he enlisted in Company F, Ninth Rhode Island Infantry, and was mustered out 2 Sept. 1862. After teaching school at Pomfret, Conn., he was appointed by President Hayes in 1878 an inspector in the Counterfeit Money Bureau of the Department of Justice and was stationed for some time in Winnipeg, Canada, and Niagara Falls, N. Y. He was intensely interested in the subject of immigration and devoted many years trying to persuade Congress to pass an immigration restriction bill. A bill was finally enacted during the administration of President Harding, several years after the death of Mr. Jackson. Interested in journalism, he at one time published a magazine in which he expressed his views on the subject of immigration, which incidentally furnished the subject for many addresses delivered by him in various parts of the country. He was president and one of the founders of the Stephen Hopkins Literary Society of Providence, R. I. He was also an expert mechanic.

Jagger Family of Southampton, Long Island, N. Y.: Correction.—It has been the impression of the descendants of the early Jagger family of Southampton, Long Island, N. Y., that they are descended from John, son of the first

Jeremiah Jagger (also known as Gager) of Stamford, Conn., proprietor 1641, formerly of Wethersfield, Conn., 1637, and Watertown, Mass., 1630, who is said to have come to America in 1630 in the ship Arbella, one of Gov. John Winthrop's fleet (THE REGISTER, vol. 78, p. 288) and settled in Watertown (Ancient Wethersfield by Henry R. Stiles, vol. 2, p. 459; History of Stamford, Conn., by E. B. Huntington).

This theory probably originated in the History of Southampton, L. I., by George R. Howell, 1887, p. 327, but it is an error. They are descended from John Jagger of Southampton, 1641, said to have probably been a brother (not a son of Jeremiah Jagger (Gager) of Stamford (Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England by James Savage, vol. 2, p. 534).

A comparison of the two family records which follow, viz., John Jagger of Southampton and John Jagger of Stamford will show that they were two different persons.

1. JOHN[1] JAGGER, of Southampton, Long Island, N. Y., will made 18 Aug. 1698 and proved 29 Oct. 1699. He married HANNAH ———.

iv. SAMUEL, d. before 1726.
v. JONATHAN, b. in 1678; d. 1 March 1761.

2. JOHN[2] JAGGER (also known as Gager) (Jeremiah[1]), of Stamford, Conn., born in Wethersfield or Stamford, Conn., in 1640/45, will dated 20 Oct. 1682 and probated in Stamford 16 Feb. 1684. He married HANNAH[3] CROSS, daughter of John[2] Cross (William[1]) of Windsor, Conn. John[2] Jagger was in Stamford in 1641.

Children:

i. ELIZABETH,[3] b. in 1665/66; d. before May 1686.

Authorities: Probate Records, Stamford, Conn., by E. B. Huntington; Will of John Cross of Windsor, Conn.; Early Connecticut Probate Records by Charles W. Manwaring, vol. 2, pp. 53, 375; Will of John Jagger of Stamford, Conn.; Probate Records, Stamford, Fairfield Co., Conn.; Miner and Allied Families by Lillian L. (Miner) Selleck; History and Genealogy of the Families of Old Fairfield, Conn., by Donald L. Jacobus; American Genealogist, vol. ix, p. 56; History of Stamford, Conn., by E. B. Huntington.

I determine the date of birth (1640/45) of John[2] Jagger (Gager) of Stamford from the following records of the age of his next younger brother Jeremiah:

"Jeremiah Gager, 1666, in Court of Records is said to be 25 years of age" (b. 1641). (History of Stamford, Conn., by E. B. Huntington.)

The same record is chronicled in the Stamford Town Records, pp. 50–51, gives his age as about 20 (b. 1646). Therefore, I state the date of birth of his older brother John as 1640 to 1645.

All three sons of the first Jeremiah, that is, John, Jeremiah and Jonathan were also known as Gager.

"John Jagger propounded for Freeman in Stamford, Conn. 1670" (Author, James Savage). He was a large land holder in Stamford, probably land granted him in 1667 in Stamford in recognition of his father's service in the Pequot Indian War. He dealt extensively in real estate and records of his sales and purchases of land in Stamford appear several times a year from 1667 to 1684. The time of his death will be found in the Stamford Land Records.

He was also known as Gager to wit: "John Gager has land assigned him in 1667 in Court of Records" (History of Stamford, Conn., by E. B. Huntington, p. 183).

All this proves that John Jagger (Gager), oldest son of the first Jeremiah, lived all his life or from infancy in Stamford, and did not go to Southampton, Long Island, as stated by Howell. He states that the first mention of John Jagger on the town records of Southampton was in 1651 when he was granted a house lot, but he appears to have overlooked mention in this same book, p. 30, of "John Jagger on a list of persons who came to Southampton within a few years after the settlement of the town" (in 1639).

It is not certain in the mind of the writer whether the John Jagger of Southampton 1641 and the John Jagger of 1651 were one and the same persons or whether the John of 1641 was the father of John 1651. I have not found any mention in records of this John between 1641 and 1651. Therefore, it would seem that they were one and the same person.

According to the History of Southampton, L. I., page 31A., a reconstruction of the town and transfer of the site took place about 1648. It is possible that John Jagger was allotted a house lot shortly after that and moved from the old town to the new site in 1651.

John Jagger (Gager), son of the first Jeremiah of Stamford, could not have been granted a house lot in Southampton "on condition that he continue to work at his trade as a carpenter" in 1651 as he was only a boy of 11 to 16 years old at that time.

John Jagger of Southampton had three daughters born in 1699 and after. These could not have been the children of John Jagger (Gager) of Stamford as he died in 1684. And they could not have been his grandchildren (children of a son John) because he had only one son and he was named Jonathan, born in 1674.

The Southampton family were much younger than the Stamford family.

Historians state that most of the people who settled Southampton came from Lynn, Dorchester and Watertown, Mass. It is possible that John Jagger 1641 of Southampton went from Watertown, where his supposed to be brother Jeremiah settled.

The tradition in our family is that we are descended from two brothers who came to this country at an early date and they were seafaring people.

Jeremiah Jagger (Gager) of Stamford was captain of a trading vessel plying between New England and the British West Indies.

My ancestors changed their name definitely and permanently from Jagger to Gager in the fifth generation.

The same misconception occurs between the family of Jonathan[2] Jagger, son of the first John of Long Island, and the family of Jonathan,[3] son of the first John of Stamford. They have been interchanged by historians. The Jagger family genealogy as contained in Howell's History of Southampton, L. I., is very much confused and contains many errors.

JAGGER-GAGER GENEALOGY

By Harry G. Gager, of San Francisco, Calif.

Jeremiah Jagger was born probably about 1600–10 in England or Holland. The surname Jagger or its equivalent dates back in England to about 1272–1300 (William Jaggard, a census of England, 1272). Prior to that time the family probably resided in Holland where the name Jager is found at an early date. Surnames came into use on the continent of Europe as early as the year 1000 before they did in England.

The name is an occupational name probably derived from the personal name "Jack" and related to "Jockey"; also one who works draught horses for hire; teamster, and has its origin in Holland. The family tradition is that the name had its origin in Holland.

Jager is found in the 14th century in the parish of Kirkburton and West Riding District of Yorkshire Co., England, and in the 16th century is found in the same places as Jagger, and in 1602 in Elland, also in Yorkshire Co. (Dictionary of English and Welsh surnames by Charles W. Bardsley. 1901) and others.

Jeremiah Jagger married Elizabeth and is said to have come to America in 1630 in the ship Arbella one of Gov. Winthrop's fleet (New England Historical and Genealogical Register, 1924, vol. 78, p. 288) and settled in Watertown, Mass.; from there he went in 1636 to Wethersfield, Conn. He fought in the Pequot Indian War of 1637 and he and his three sons were granted tracts of land in recognition of this service.

In 1641 he went to Stamford, Conn., as one of the original proprietors. Was master of a trading vessel plying between New England ports and the British West Indies. He died Aug. 14, 1658 in the West Indies where he went four years before his death. He probably died in the Island of Barbados where we find a Francis Jagger (presumably a relation) was a land owner in 1638 (New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 39, p. 134). His widow married Robert Usher.

After he came to this country he became known as Gager as well as Jagger. He and his three sons are all recorded in various histories under both names. In the fifth generation the name Gager was definitely and permanently adopted. This family are not related to Dr. William Gager who also was a passenger on the Arbella in 1630, nor to John Gage another passenger on the same ship.

Because Jeremiah Jagger-Gager came to America with Gov. Winthrop's fleet which sailed from England does not necessarily prove whether he was born in England or Holland, or which country he started from on his voyage to America. He may have gone from England to Holland in 1608 as many Englishmen did to escape religious persecution. Most of them went to Leyden. Later becoming dissatisfied with conditions in Holland many of them emigrated to America. Gov. Winthrop states in his "Journal" that there were passengers on board the Arbella from Holland.

THE REVEREND SAMUEL JOHNSON, D.D., OF CONNECTICUT.[1]

Communicated by the Rev. George D. Johnson, A.M., Rector of St. Paul's Church, Newburyport.

The subject of this sketch, Samuel Johnson, was born in the year 1696, Oct. 14, in Guilford, Conn. His great-grandfather, Robert, was one of the early settlers of New-Haven, having emigrated from Kingston-upon-Hull, in Yorkshire, about 1637. The family seems to have been distinguished by no professional or civil eminence, till at the beginning of the eighteenth century, when, from the peculiar state of the religious world, Samuel Johnson was forced into a position of prominence, which mude his name widely known, both in England and America. In the century and a half which has elapsed since Johnson was on the stage of the world, such wonderful progress has been made in every department of knowledge and thought, that his name is now in danger of being ranked among the "forgotten worthies" of New-England: but no more pure and noble life was ever lived among men, whose sole aim it was to serve God, and do good, as far as in them lay, in their day and generation. The era in which he lived, was one on which we are beginning to look back with somewhat the feelings with which we regard the age of romance, — when mailed knights, by the might of a single arm, and the valor of one dauntless heart, overthrew hosts of infidel enemies, and joined battle, with the most serene confidence in their own invincible prowess, with giants and monsters whose very description made our childhood shiver with fright. In this age, when faith sits so lightly on the best of us, and the form of religion is changed with so little concern and interest, I am afraid it is almost impossible to understand the intense earnestness of the men of a hundred years ago, — with whom the form of faith was as vital as the faith itself, and quite as nearly concerned their temporal, as their eternal salvation. When Johnson was born, England was yet engaged, as Buckle expresses it, in the last struggle between barbarism and civilization, though "good" King William and Queen Mary sat on the throne,—Spain was bound hand and foot under the awful tyranny of the holy office of the inquisition, and men dared not breathe a word against its power. France was slowly awaking to something resembling spiritual freedom, though the expulsion of the Jesuits was only just thought of, and Voltaire was not yet in long clothes. In this country, New-England was illustrating the grand principle for which our venerated Puritan forefathers are popularly supposed to have left the shores of their mother country, — religious toleration, — by cutting off the ears of Quakers, and hanging witches in Salem. The name of a bishop was considered a synonym for the fines of a star chamber, the tortures of rack and thumb-screw, or the flames of Smithfield. The Church of England was looked upon by those who had come to this country, as a shade worse, if possible, than the scarlet-robed woman who sat on her seven hills: and the determination to resist her encroachments, and keep her prelates from these shores, was as fierce and unbending, as was the resolution of the so-called pioneers of religious liberty to abolish every form of religion but their own. The prominent point of interest to churchmen, in Dr. Johnson's long and varied career, is the mental conflict through which he came out of congregationalism into the Church of England, — and the untiring zeal with which he labored to promote her interests in this country: but he was a man of so large an understanding, so prominently connected with the progress of education and knowledge generally, during his life, that even to those who have no sympathy with him in his views of church government, his life cannot but be interesting. The quiet beauty of his autobiography and diary, — the inimitable quaintness and modesty of his own account of the great events, quorum magna pars fuit, — make it a strong temptation to the writer of this article to let him speak entirely for himself: but the propriety of condensing for such a sketch as this, entails the necessity of diluting with comment what would be infinitely stronger in its unadorned simplicity.

His education must have begun at an exceedingly tender age, as we find him, before he had arrived at the mature period of six years, suddenly and overwhelmingly impressed with the necessity of acquiring the Hebrew language, from the fact of his coming upon certain words in that tongue, in one of his grandfather's books, and learning that the scriptures were written originally in Hebrew and not in English. After a fruitless effort to embark him in a business life, his father gave him the opportunity to "be bred to learning in that college [Yale] which was about that time founding." At the age of ten, we find him complaining that his tutor, whose name is not mentioned, was "such a wretched poor scholar, though a minister, that he could teach him little or nothing, so that he in a manner lost half a year." At fourteen he entered Yale College, then at Saybrook, graduating in 1714, with hardly as much progress as boys are now required to have made for entrance into college. In his own words: "But this lad considered these as only the beginning of things on which he was to go on and make a much greater proficiency in the course of his studies, — and for the rest of his time he was under the tuition of one Mr. Fiske, for Logic, Physics, Metaphysics and Ethics, — for Mathematics, further than the golden rule in Arithmetic, or a little surveying, was not yet tho't of." They heard, indeed, in 1714, when he took his bachelor's degree, of a new philosophy, that of late was all in vogue, — and of such names as DesCartes, Boyle, Locke and Newton: but they were cautioned against thinking anything of them, because the new philosophy, it was said, would soon bring in a new divinity and corrupt the pure religion of the country: and they were not allowed to vary an ace in their thoughts from Dr. Ames's Medulla Theologiæ and Cases of Conscience, and Wollebius, which were the only systems of divinity that were thumbed in those days, and considered with equal, if not greater, veneration than the bible itself: for the contrivance of those and the like scholastical authors was to make curious systems in a scientific way out of their own heads, and under each head to pick up a few texts of scripture, which seemed to sound favorably, and accommodate them to their preconceived schemes.

It was a work of no great difficulty for a young man of this period, to acquire all the learning then within reach in this country, and Johnson having become master of all that was ordinarily accessible, was regarded as an adept, an opinion in which he confesses to have himself shared: but the accidental discovery of Bacon's Instauratio Magna, and a most thorough and repeated study of it, as he says, "soon brought down his towering imaginations. He soon saw his own littleness in comparison with Lord Bacon's greatness, whom he considered over and over again, so that he found himself like one at once emerging out of the glimmer of twilight into the full sunshine of open day."

Yale College might be described, at this time, as in a state of schism. Complaints of the inefficiency of the instructors at Saybrook were so frequent, that some of the students had withdrawn to Hartford, to pursue their studies under the direction of the ministers settled there; while others came to Guilford, to study with Mr. Johnson. There was a strong movement to change the place of the college from Saybrook to Wethersfield, near Hartford; and the matter assumed such importance that it was brought before the general court, which decided unanimously that the college should be removed to New-Haven. This, of course, failed to give satisfaction to the Wethersfield faction, and for some time longer the feud was kept up, till by a peremptory act of the government, all the scholars "were ordered to repair to the established college." Dr. Johnson's own account of the obedience rendered to this order, written half a century after, shows that time had not much softened his wrath at these obstinate collegiate schismatics. "They made," he says, "an appearance of submission, and came all at once, in a caravan; but it soon appeared, they had no good intention. They found fault with everything, and made all the mischief they could, as they were doubtless instructed to do: and after six weeks, went all off, two and two at once, and continued in their former faction till the next general assembly, when the difference was compromised by this agreement, that they should return to their duty, and abide; and that in case they did so, the degrees that had been given them, should be allowed good, and a state-house should be built at the public expense at Hartford. In consequence of this they put an end to the faction, and the scholars came and abode at New-Haven, but proved a very vicious and turbulent sett of fellows." As yet the college had had no president; and about this time, Mr. Timothy Cutler, who graduated at Harvard in 1701, was chosen to the office. For a year, Johnson continued to act under him as a tutor, when he accepted the position of minister in West Haven, in 1720, at the age of twenty-four. There is a document existing which shows that he already entertained strong doubts of the validity of presbyterian orders; and I give an extract from this, as showing his deep conscientiousness, as well as his remarkable modesty. The title is: "My present thoughts of Episcopacy, with what I conceive may justifie me in accepting Presbyterian ordination. Written at West Haven, Dec. 20, An. Dom. 1719." The argument is lengthy, showing that he believes Episcopacy to be of divine right, but of a "positive," not a "moral" nature. Therefore, as Providence had placed him in the circumstances in which he stood, the obligation on him was "dissolved" for the "observance of this institution:" and then, in his own words: "Having thus stated the case, I leave it to impartial advice whether this be good divinity or not, that any circumstances will justifie me in what I propose to do: and if so, I submit it also to be considered whether my circumstances are such, which are these.

1. The passionate intreaties of a tender mother.

2. That my breaking forth upon an attempt of that nature, would be of vastly more disservice to the best interest of the Church itself, than my going over to it could be of service to it.

3. That it can't be without most fatal jealousies to this Colledg, and the effects of it must be mischievous.

4. That I must thereby be exposed to great dangers and difficulties, to which I am a great stranger.

5. My want of that politeness and those qualifications which would be requisite in making such an appearance.

6. That in order to taking Episcopal orders, there are many things to be complied with, which I do not sufficiently understand.

7. That the times, 'tis to be feared, are very difficult at home, and it's likely not so good encouragement to such designs as might be wished for.

8. That although I seem tolerably well satisfied in these my thoughts of the right of Episcopacy, yet considering the meanness of my advantages, and the scantiness of my time hitherto, I have reason to be very jealous whether I have not too much precipitated into these opinions.

And then, finally, perhaps I may in the meantime be doing some service to promote the main interest of religion, tho' it be not in a method so desirable."

A note, added two years afterwards, gives the result: "Upon these principles I continued easy about two years, and then upon a more careful examination of the matter, I found I could not, with a good conscience, continue to administer in the name of Christ, when I was under persuasion I had never had a regular commission from him. And therefore, I thought it my bounden duty to come over to the Episcopal side, that I might live and die in the unity of the Church. Accordingly I, with Dr. Cutler, Mr. Hart, Mr. Whittlesey, Mr. Elliott, Mr. Wetmore, and Mr. Browne, made our public declaration for the Church, Sept. 13, 1722, at Yale College, New Haven."

These facts are so well known in Connecticut ecclesiastical history, and so well described by Dr. Beardslee in his most excellent work on that subject, that no apology is necessary for omitting the various steps by which these gentlemen were brought to this conclusion. But there is something wonderfully striking in the picture suggested by the thought of these men standing calmly before the assembled dignitaries of the college, as champions of an ecclesiastical body whose name was as hateful to our worthy New-England fathers, as ever it was to the most bitter Scotch covenanter. An argument followed, of course, before Gov. Saltonstall, in which a vigorous effort was made to "reclame" these erring brethren. The discussion was begun "with calmness and decency," but the steadiness of the men who declined to be reclaimed, and the unpleasant strength of their position, based as it was entirely on the words of scripture, and unquestioned history, seem to have had anything but a soothing effect on the minds of the theological champions, whose aim was always to be first pure, then gentle. Dr. Johnson describes the result, — "A harangue against them by an old minister in a declamatory way" was delivered with an amount of energy and directness that convinced the governor of the uselessness of the debate, so that he "genteelly" put an end to the conference. It is impossible, at this day, to imagine the horror and dismay which spread over the land at this awful defection on the part of men of such prominence as the president and professors of Yale College. It was too much to believe that men could deliberately come out of the glorious sunlight of congregational freedom, into the dismal twilight, if not the infernal gloom, of prelatic superstition. President Woolsey, as Dr. Beardslee quotes, speaking of the event, says: "that greater alarm would scarcely be awakened now, if the theological faculty of the College were to declare for the Church of Rome, avow their belief in transubstantiation, and pray to the Virgin Mary."

The year following, Cutler, Johnson and Browne sailed for England, followed by Wetmore, where they received orders in the Established Church, and, with the exception of Browne, who died of small-pox, returned the following year, 1723, to enter on their labors as missionaries under the venerable society for the propagation of the gospel in foreign parts. Dr. Cutler was chosen rector of Christ Church, Boston, which was erected that year. Johnson was appointed missionary in Stratford, Conn., where the church had been established for some years, but was struggling against many and painful difficulties.

The diary of Dr. Johnson, during his year's stay in England, is, in itself, a most delightful piece of reading, but its spirit can hardly be shown by extracts. The fervent piety and earnest devotion of these pilgrims from the new to the old world, — their unfeigned awe and veneration, as they came in contact with the grand old monuments of England's past and present glory, — the glimpses of social life, whose freedom is somewhat startling to our more rigid modern ideas, — all make the temptation to quote almost too strong for the duty suggested by a sense of propriety, in abbreviating as much as possible, in a sketch of this kind.

Thirty years were spent by Dr. Johnson in the work of the ministry, his field being a large part of the colony of Connecticut, west of the river. During this period, Bishop Berkeley visited America; and for two years there was a most intimate communion between the two, on which, in his autobiography, Dr. Johnson dwells with extraordinary pleasure. In 1754, he was chosen president of King's College, New-York, which was founded at this time. In this capacity he served for nine years, resigning the office, at last, in terror of the small-pox. This scourge had been particularly fatal to him, in his family and friends, as it had taken away his wife, his eldest son, and his friend the Rev. Mr. Browne, — and his fear of the disease seemed to amount to an absolute horror. His resignation of the presidency was in 1763; and Mr. Myles Cooper succeeded him in the office. The church in Stratford received him again as rector, and here the remainder of his days were spent, in the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, in correspondence with many of the bishops and clergy of the mother church in England, and in an active share in the literary and religious controversies of the day.[1]

His son, William Samuel Johnson,[2] LL.D., had been sent abroad to England, as agent for the colonies in a law-suit with regard to the claims of

[1] Mr. Johnson received the degree of Master of Arts from both Oxford and Cambridge, while he was in England. His publications were chiefly controversial. In 1746 he published a work on ethics, entitled "A System of Morality;" and in 1752, a compend of logic and metaphysics, and another of ethics, orgially prepared for the use of his sons. The two latter were printed in Philadelphia, by Franklin, as text books for use in the university of Pennsylvania. He was also the author of an English and a Hebrew Grammar, 1767. His Memoir by Dr. Chandler was published in 1805. (See Drake's Dictionary.)—[Editor.]

[2] William Samuel Johnson. LL.D. (Y. C. 1788), D.C.L. (Oxon. 1766), was born in Stratford, Conn., Oct. 7, 1727, and died there Nov. 14, 1819. He was graduated at Yale in 1746. He inherited the intellectual and moral traits of his distinguished father, and, as will be seen below, left his mark upon the political fabric under which we live. He was a delegate to the Congress in New-York, in 1765; member of the council (Colonial); from October, 1766, to 1771, agent of Connecticut in England; from 1772 to 1774, a judge of the superior court of Connecticut; a commissioner for adjusting the boundary between the proprietors of the Philadelphia and Susquehanna Co.; delegate to the Congress in 1784-7; one of the framers of the federal constitution, and his great influence there is evident from the published and unpublished debates of that memorable convention. He first proposed the Senate as a branch of the legislative department. He was United States senator in 1789–91, and aided in drawing up the federal judiciary act. He succeeded Dr. Myles Cooper in the presidency of Columbia College, and held the office from 1787 to 1800. (See sketch of his life by John T. Irving, 1830; Drake's Dictionary.)—[Editor.]

the eastern states on the newly settled lands at the west. In October, 1771, the year following the Boston Massacre, he returned, in time to close the eyes of his venerable father, who died on the festival of the Epiphany, Jan. 6, 1772. His remains lie in the church-yard in Stratford; but the frosts of a hundred winters have shivered the marble on which was inscribed the epitaph written by his devoted friend, Myles Cooper. As a worthy tribute to a noble life, I give it here, though it would seem as if so honored a tomb should not have been suffered to have been left without name or inscription, to mark the spot where Dr. Johnson lies:—

"If decent dignity and modest mien,
The cheerful heart and countenance serene;
If pure religion and unsullied truth,
His age's solace, and his search in youth;
If piety, in all the paths he trod,
Still rising vig'rous to the Lord his God;
If charity, through all the race he ran,
Still wishing well, and doing good to man;
If learning, free from pedantry and pride;
If faith and virtue walking side by side;
If well to mark his being's aim and end,
To shine thro' life, a husband, father, friend;
If these ambition in thy soul can raise,
Excite thy reverence, or demand thy praise,
Reader — ere yet thou quit this earthly scene Revere his name, and be what he has been."

In conclusion, it may be mentioned that his son, Dr. Johnson the second, served after the revolution as president of King's College, when the name was changed to the more patriotic title which it now bears, Columbia. By one of those singular "revenges of time," the son of William Samuel, and grandson of the father of Episcopacy in Connecticut, married the granddaughter of Jonathan Edwards, the great New-England apostle of Calvinism, — and thus the blood of the two grand, opposing phases of New-England theology, flowed on in one stream, in the veins of their descendants. Calvinism and Arminianism, Prelacy and Congregationalism, — Cavalier and Roundhead, — were blended in the bewildering mixture; and as the swords of Prescott and Linzee will hang peacefully, side by side, as long as this country lasts, in the city for whose possession they were brandished by hostile hands, — so let discord end between the two theologies. May they go on, working their own work, in their own way, under the same Almighty Guide, — respecting each other's merits, forgetting each other's faults, till the great day comes, which shall decide the vexed questions between them, forever, when we render our final account to our Maker.

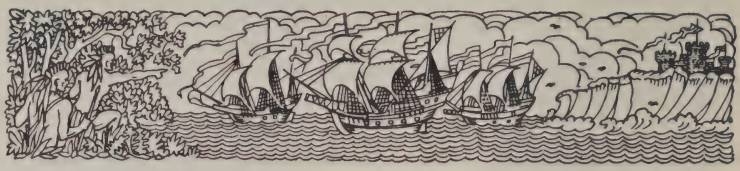
(born 1847), present Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Los Angeles, California.



THE NEW HAVEN AND WALLINGFORD (CONN.) JOHNSONS.

By James Shepard, Esq., of New Britain, Conn.

There were three brothers by the name of Johnson quite early at New Haven, Conn., viz.: 1. John. 2. Robert. 3. Thomas.

1. John[1] Johnson consented to the covenant at New Haven in 1639. At a court held the third of Nov., 1641, Robert Johnson made claim to the house and lot that was his brother's, John Johnson's deceased. The said Johnson had, before his death, removed to "the Bay" (Massachusetts), and settled at Rowley.

2. Robert[1] Johnson is said to have come from Yorkshire, England (see Salisbury's "Family Histories," Vol. 2, p. 288), as early as 1641, with his four sons, viz.:

4. i. John,[2]
5. ii. Robert.
6. iii. Thomas.
7. iv. William.

They are generally named in the order here given, but the order of their birth is uncertain. The only clew we have to the date of birth of Robert's children is that Dr. Steiner says William was "born about 1630," that Robert's son Robert graduated from Harvard in the class of 1645, and that Thomas, the son of Thomas, is called "Thomas Senr." in the record of his second marriage at New Haven, in 1663, thereby showing that he was older than Thomas the son of Robert. The death record at Newark, N. J., of Thomas Senr., makes the date of his birth 1630. Thomas the son of Robert was probably born soon after 1630, and judging from the college record, his brother

Robert was a number of years older. The first we find of Robert Johnson in New Haven is when he made claim to his brother's house, in 1641, upon which he had a verbal claim to secure a loan made in England to his brother John. Robert appears to have been undecided as to whether he would remain in New Haven or go with his brother to "the Bay." In 1644 he was appointed by the General Court a viewer of damage done by "cattell and hoggs" in the Yorkshire quarter; in 1648 he was on a committee entrusted by the General Court to devise means for effectually protecting from such damage; and in 1649 he was made a committee to ascertain "what quantity of corne every man hath sowen or planted this yere that he is to be paid for." In 1649 he "desired that he might haue libertie to make a well in ye streete neere his house." In 1646 he bought six and a half acres of land "in the Necke," and in that year it was recorded that "Thomas yale hath sôld unto Robert Johnson 62 acres of upland." (Hoadly's New Haven Colony Records, Vol. 1.) He lived in that part of New Haven then called Yorkshire quarter, now represented by York Street. The name of this quarter may have been derived from Johnson's former residence in England. He died in 1661. The inventory of his estate is dated Nov. 26, 1661, and amounts to £404, 04, 03. His will is recorded at New Haven, in Vol. 1, first part, page 101, and is as follows—

"A writing exhibited as the last Will and Testament of Robert Johnson of New Haven, Deceased."

"Imp. I bequeath my soul to Jesus Christ and my body to the Dust. Also I give to my son Thomas twentie pound as ye other two John and William have had and then my sonne Thomas after my wife has had her thirds to make an equall division among ye sd. three brothers and the land in ye sd. yorkshire quarter I would have my sonn Thomas to have that is ye nine acres belongs to ye housse in part of his portion and I give Jeremiah Johnson a little red cow. ".

The witnesses, ROBERT JOHNSON
CHRISTOPHER TOD, his C T mark."

Jeremiah Johnson, to whom Robert Johnson gave "a little red cow" in his will, was probably Robert's nephew, the son of his deceased brother Thomas.

The name of Robert Johnson's first wife is unknown. He left a widow Adeline, who became the second wife of Robert Hill of New Haven, Jan. 7, 1662. He died in Aug., 1663. On May 22, 1666, she became the second wife of John Scranton of Guilford, Ct., who died Aug. 27, 1671. She deeds land, on Oct. 21, 1781, to "her two sons-in-law, sons to * * * Robert Johnson, of New Haven deceased, to wit, Thomas Johnson and John Johnson husbandman," thereby showing that she was not the mother of the said sons. In this deed she is described as "Adelin Scranton Widow & Relict of John Scranton." She was therefore the step mother of Thomas and John, and after successively marrying three widowers, we find her a widow in 1681. She died in April, 1685.

3. THOMAS[1] JOHNSON was early in New Haven, and was drowned, with Thomas Ashley, in the harbor, in 1640. It is said that he came with his brother Robert, and he left four sons: i. Thomas,[2] of New Haven and Newark, N. J., 1666, the progenitor of the New Jersey Johnsons. He died Nov. 5, 1694, aged 64. ii. Daniel, of New Haven. iii. William, of New Haven and Wallingford, Ct., married Sarah Hall, and had 14 children. iv. Jeremiah, of New Haven. Another account omits Jeremiah, and places John of Guilford as the first son; and still another says that William was an independent emigrant from Co. Essex, England, and no relation to these Johnsons from Hull. I have been unable to find any original record of the children of Thomas who, according to Hoadly's New Haven Colony Records, Vol. 1, died in 1640. The children of William, and his descendants in the line of Jacob, are given in the REGISTER, Vol. 55, page 369; and the family of William's son John is given in the Street Genealogy, of 1895, page 15.

4. JOHN[2] JOHNSON (Robert[1]) doubtless was born in England. He married Hannah, daughter of John and Hannah Parmlee of Guilford, Ct., Sept., 30, 1651. According to the General Index No. 1, of the New Haven Probate Records, his estate was probated in 1687. His name is in the Index of Vol. 2, with references to pages 5 and 20, but page 5 is missing. The original page 20 is now the first remaining page of records in the said volume, and refers to a petition of John Hodkins, Thomas Tuttle and John Penderson, upon which the Court orders the administrators of the estate of John Johnson deceased, namely, Samuel Johnson and John Johnson, to give an account of their administration within 21 days. This is the only matter concerning his estate that now remains in the Probate Records. No date is given, but the New Haven County Court Records show that his estate was probated as early as 1689. On June 17, 1689, "Samll Johnson and John Johnson Adm. to the estate of their late father John Johnson late of New Haven deceased, intestate, appearing in court was enquired of why they had not put an issue to their paymt. of Debts & deviding of lands according to court order. * * * After much debate about the matter Samll. Johnson propounded that they might choose two men to divide the land & he should be satisfied therein. Whereupon Samll. Johnson chose Ensgn. Samll. Munson & John Johnson chose Lieut. Abraham Dickinson, which the Court approved." (County Court Records, Vol. 1, p. 171.) What interest, if any, John Hodkins, Thomas Tuttle and John Penderson had in the estate is still unknown.

There was some difficulty about the estate, and Samuel left for parts unknown before June 11, 1690, when he was summoned to appear before the court "for his breach of the peace, but it was sd he had withdrawn himself out of towne. * * * John appearing but his brother Samll. being gone it was referred to another time." (County Court Records, Vol. 1, p. 179.) This is the last record found appertaining to the estate. Their mother, the widow Hannah Johnson, was also present at this hearing. Several deeds in the land records by Samuel and John Johnson administrators, show that they were the sons of the deceased John, and their mother Hannah was living as late as March 15, 1693.

i. DAVID,[3] b. Feb. —, bapt. Mar. 1, 1652.
ii. SAMUEL, b. Feb. 25, 1653, bapt. Mar. following; left New Haven before June 11, 1690.
iii. HANNAH, b. Feb. 4, 1656.
iv. HANNAH, m. Samuel Hummason, June 21, 1677.

8. v. JOHN, b. Aug. 27, 1661; m. Mabel Grannis, Mar. 2, 1684–5.
vi. SARAH, b. Aug. 26, 1664, baptized the next day; m. John Wolcott of New Haven, Feb. 8, 1683.
vii. RUTH, b. April 3, 1667; m. Benjamin Dorman, Oct. 10, 1698.
viii. ABIGAIL, b. Apr. 9, 1670; m. Joseph Foot of Branford, before March 15, 1693.
ix. DANIEL, b. Feb. 21, 1671; m. Mary, dau. of Andrew Sanford of Milford, Dec. 23, 1707. She was the widow of Thomas Tuttle. (Tuttle Family, page 141.)

5. ROBERT[2] JOHNSON (Robert[1]), says Dr. Samuel Johnson, "was bred at Cambridge whose name you see near the beginning of their catalogue. He went to his unkle at Rowley and was said to be a very promising candidate for the ministry and was to be settled there but died young." He graduated in the class of 1645. His will was made 13 Sept., 1649, and probated March, 1650. This explains why he is not mentioned in his father's will.

6. THOMAS[2] JOHNSON (Robert[1]) died Jan. 4, 1694–5. The "Tuttle Family" gives him several children, but he gave his homestead, that was his father's, and other lands, to his nephew John Johnson, son of John, before his death; and after his decease his nephew John, with wife Mabel, appeared before the Probate Court and swore that it was the will of their uncle Thomas Johnson that all his cattle should be given to his brother William, of Guilford. This disposition of his property indicates that he had no children living at the time of his death; and this inference is corroborated by Dr. Samuel Johnson, who said, in 1757, that this Thomas died a batchelor. The children given in the "Tuttle Family" belong to Thomas the son of Thomas, and the three sons recorded to Thomas Johnson in New Haven, between 1651 and 1664, are, according to Mrs. Salisbury, named in the will of Thomas of Newark.

7. WILLIAM[2] JOHNSON (Robert[1]), born about 1630, settled at Guilford, Conn., as early as 1653. He was deacon, town clerk, and many times deputy, from 1665 to 1694. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Bushnell, and died Oct. 27, 1702. (Steiner's History of Guilford, Conn., page 128). He had eleven children, of whom Samuel[3] was the father of the celebrated divine, and first President of Columbia College, Dr. Samuel[4] Johnson of Stratford, Conn. For his family, and other Guilford Johnsons, see Dr. Alvin Talcott's mss. genealogies of Guilford, Conn., families, at the rooms of the New Haven Colony Historical Society, at New Haven, or the copy of the same at the Town Clerk's office at Guilford.

8. JOHN JOHNSON[3] (John,[2] Robert[1]) was born Aug. 27, 1661, and married, March 2, 1684–5, Mabel, daughter of Edward Granniss and (according to Savage) his second wife Hannah, daughter of John Wakefield of New Haven, Conn. Although sometimes called "Mabel," her name was Mehitable, as appears by numerous deeds, &c. These names are sometimes used interchangeably, and that they belong to the same person in this case is shown by the fact that her brothers John and Joseph Granniss, on Feb. 17, 1721, deed her a piece of land under the name of Mabel Johnson, and on May 14, 1725, she sells the same land under the name of Mehitable Johnson.

John and Mabel Johnson at one time lived in what is now Westfield, New Haven, and he had also his grandfather Robert's homestead in Yorkshire quarter, which was given him by his uncle Thomas. He made his will Dec. 10, 1712. His widow Mehitable was appointed administratrix, the first Monday of Feb., 1712–13. His will is recorded at New Haven, Vol. 4, page 117, and is as follows:

"In the name of God Amen. I John Johnson Senior of New Haven being at this time Sick and weak in my Body Yet of perfect mind and memory thanks be to God for it I Do make and ordain this my Last will and Testament. John, Thomas, Ann, Sarah, Joseph 14, Benjamin 11, Robert 8, James 6, Mahitabell 5, Hannah 3, year old."

Various deeds show that widow Mehitable resided in New Haven until 1729 or later, but in 1732 was living in Middletown, Conn., and in 1738 at Branford, Conn. In a deed dated Dec. 31, 1751, Thomas of Middletown, Joseph of Hartford, Benjamin of Durham, Robert of Middletown, Timothy Rose of Woodbury and Mehitable his wife, give to "our brother in law Benjamin Hands of Middletown" land that was "our Honrd. Father's Mr. John Johnson of New Haven, decd.," and also landsold by Moses Blackslee to "our Honrd. Mother Mrs. Mehitable Johnson decd.," thus showing that she died between 1738 and 1751. Her tombstone at Durham, Conn., says she died Dec. 9, 1745, aged 79.

The children of John and Mabel Johnson were :

9. i. JOHN,[4] b. March 3, 1686–7. He is John of Wallingford.
ii. THOMAS, b. Jan. 12, 1689–90; removed to Middletown, Conn., in or before 1722. He was called Capt.
iii. ANNE, b. Feb., 1691; m. Willet Rauney of Middletown, Conn., April 20, 1720.
iv. SARAH, b. April 9, 1694.
v. DANIEL, b. April 22, 1696; not named in the list of children appended to his father's will.
vi. JOSEPH, b. Dec. 2, 1698; was living in Durham, Conn., in 1732, Middletown, Conn., 1738, and Hartford, Conn., in 1751.
vii. BENJAMIN, b. March 9, 1701; removed to Durham, Conn.
viii. ROBERT, b. June 5, 1703; lived at Middletown, Conn., 1732.
ix. JAMES, b. Sept. 3, 1705.
x. MEHITABLE, b. Feb. 29, 1707–8; Timothy Rose of Branford, Conn., Sept. 22, 1730. She was living there in 1738, but lived at Woodbury, Conn., in 1751.
xi. HANNAH, b. May 23, 1710; m. Benjamin Hands of Middletown, Conn., between 1732 and 1738. (New Haven Land Records, Vol. 9, p. 277, and Vol. 10, p. 460.) He was son of Benjamin and Sarah (Ward) Hands, b. Oct. 4, 1706. (Steiner.)

9. JOHN[4] JOHNSON (John,[3] John,[2] Robert[1]) was born March 3, 1687–8. He removed to Wallingford, and there married, Jan. 12, 1711, Sarah Jennings, the widow of Nathaniel Hitchcock who died May 12, 1710. She at that time had three Hitchcock children, viz.: i. Sarah, born March 31, 1705; married Aaron Cook, June 14, 1722. ii. Elizabeth, born Jan. 11, 1707. iii. Hannah, born Jan. 11, 1709; married Caleb Mathews, March 7, 1727; died Dec. 5, 1731. The John Johnson of Wallingford (see John,[2] son of Walter,[1] post), who married Mary Chatterton in 1710, should not be confounded with this (No. 9) John, who lived in the south western part of the town, by "Fresh medows," near the Cheshire line; while the former lived at what is now Meriden. I find no record after 1722 of more than one John Johnson in Wallingford. He is identified by two deeds in New Haven Land Records, Vol. 6, pages 644–5, in the first of which Mehitable Johnson, of New Haven, gives her "loving son John Johnson of the town of Wallingford" 9 acres of land, being part of land laid out to "my Honoured ffather-in-law John Johnson late of New Haven deceased," dated April 30, 1725. The same day, John Johnson of Wallingford deeds this land to Benjamin Todd, and describes it as part of the land of "my Honoured grand ffather John Johnson Decd."

In Mrs. Evelyn MacCurdy Salisbury's "Family Histories and Genealogies" (Vol. 2, page 288), containing much valuable information, but some mistakes, is a letter from a great-grandson of Robert[1] Johnson, Dr. Samuel[4] Johnson of Stratford, written to his son Hon. William Samuel[5] Johnson, and dated Jan. 6, 1757, a part of which (with generation numbers added to indicate the line of John of Wallingford) is as follows:

"* * And now I proceed to set down to you all I know of our progenitors. The Father of our Family in this country was John [Robert] Johnson, one of the first founders of New Haven, and lived on the northwest Corner of the Square of Lots Mr. Mix and the Colleges are on, over against Darling's. He came from the noted town of Hull (al Kingston-upon-Hull) near York in Yorkshire, and it was said he had two Brothers, one the Father of the Johnsons at Newark in the Jersies, the other the Father of those in Boston Government, who settled at Rowley about 20 miles eastward of Boston. John [Robert] our ancestor had John[2], Robert[2], Thomas,[2] and William.[2] John[2] had John,[3] Samuel,[3] and Daniel,[3] the two last * * died * * leaving no male issue. * * * [John[2]] was Father to John[4] (who settled at Wallingford * * *) and Thomas[4], who is Capt. Johnson of Middletown * * * "

It is interesting to note that the male line as given by Dr. Johnson, largely from his personal knowledge, is identical with the lineage as here worked out from the records, in 1897, one hundred and forty years later, and without any knowledge of that letter. This is especially important, as all published Johnson genealogy of this branch omits one generation, leaving out the middle John. This was probably caused by his living at New Haven, cotemporaneously with John the son of William, or Wingle.*

While John[3] (John,[2] Robert[1]) may have been obscure in a sense, as stated, he was by no means an unworthy man. The large amount of property received by deeds of gift from his uncle Thomas shows him to have been a favorite with that uncle, and he must have been in some respects the superior of his cousins and brothers, in order to have merited these favors. The numerous deeds given by his widow after his decease shows that he was a large land owner. His son John,[4] of Wallingford, left an unusually large estate for those times, over three thousand pounds, and although there was another John Johnson in Wallingford with him, for more than ten years, he was considered of such importance that any reference to John Johnson of Wallingford was always understood as referring to John the son of John, Jr. One deed in the Wallingford records describes John Johnson as a weaver, and, judging from the inventory, this John was the one who died in 1744. John Johnson, of Wallingford, died Oct. 17, 1744. His widow died July 14, 1748. His will, dated Feb., 1743–4, is recorded in New Haven, Vol. 6, page 573. It names wife Sarah, son Daniel, son Jennings, son Amos, daughter Barbary, wife of Abraham Ives, daughter Ester, wife of Merriman Munson, daughter Phebe, wife of Dydimos Parker, daughter Ruth, wife of Abel Hall, daughter Patience, " who is unmarried." The land given to his three sons was to " be entailed unto my said sons and to their heirs for ye space of one hundred years from ye date of this present will," but notwithstanding this provision, most of it passed out of the family in a few years. The inventory of his estate amounted to the unusually large sum of £3017. 7. 1.

The children of John and Sarah Johnson were:

i. Esther,[5] b. May 4, 1712; m. Merriam Munson, Jan. 24, 1733.
ii. Barbara, b. Feb. 5, 1714; m. Abraham Ives, May 11, 1736.
iii. Damaris, b. Jan. 31, 1716; m. Wait Ebernantha, Dec. 29, 1737.
iv. Daniel, b. Dec. 14, 1717; m. Ruth Todd, Dec. 26, 1744. He d. in 1761.
v. Phebe, b. April 28, 1720; m. Dydimus Parker.
vi. Jennings, b. Jan. 7, 1722; m. Sarah Johnson, Oct. 20, 1748. He removed to Southington, Conn., where the land he left is still owned by his descendants. His family is given in Timlow's History of that town, page cxxxvii.
vii. Ruth, b. Oct. 1, 1723; m. Abel Hall.
viii. Amos, b. Mar. 4, 1726; m. Abigail Holt, Apr. 24, 1746.
ix. Patience, b. July 28, 1728; m. Daniel Culver, Dec. 17, 1746.

We thus find that Sarah (Jennings) Johnson was the mother of twelve children, three by her first and nine by her second husband.

10. Amos[5] Johnson (John,[4] John,[3] John,[2] Robert[1]), born March 4, 1726; married April 24, 1746, Abigail, daughter of Joseph and Abigail (Curtis) Holt. This parentage is shown by a deed from William Johnson and Tamer (Holt) Johnson of Durham, and Amos Johnson and Abigail (Holt) Johnson of Wallingford, conveying "Two Rights of land which formerly belonged to Ensign Thomas Curtiss late of Wallingford Deceased," Jan. 16, 1748–9. (Wallingford Land Records, Vol. 11, p. 521.) He resided in the parish of Northford, in the town of Wallingford, near the Branford town line. He served in the French and Indian war, 1758–9. Davis's History of Wallingford says that he died in the Revolutionary War, at White Plains, N. Y., 1776, but this is an error, because he was living at Northford, Dec. 9, 1783, when he and his wife Abigail leased their house, &c., at Northford, to Moses and Esther Peck. (Wallingford Land Records, Vol. 23, page 423.) It is certain, however, that one Amos Johnson of Wallingford, Conn., was in Capt. James Peck's Co., Sept. 17, 1777, but I do not know whether it was this Amos or his son. Amos Johnson who died at White Plains was probably from Branford, Conn., and son of Edward and Elizabeth (Barnes) Johnson. (Woodruff's Litchfield, Conn., Register, page 113.) Amos of Wallingford gave numerous deeds of land, between 1747 and 1785, the last of which bears date April 27, 1785. Family tradition says that he removed west, about 1785, where he died, and that his widow returned and married Jonah Todd. Jonah Todd of Woodbridge, Conn., died between 1802 and 1804, leaving a widow Abigail.

The children of Amos and Abigail Johnson were:

i. Lucy,[6] b. Sept. 11, 1747; m. Samuel Preston, Sept. 7, 1769.
ii. Esther, b. Nov. 16, 1749; m. Moses Peck.
iii. Sibyl, b, Sept. 16, 1751.
iv. Amos, m. at Wallingford, Eunice Daly, Sept. 15, 1777; bought land at Farmington, Conn., Oct. 14, 1780.
v. Simeon, m. Merriam Johnson, March 4, 1773. His father deeds him land in 1772.
vi. Elihu, b. June 7, 1773.

1. Walter[1] Johnson. Savage says he was at Middletown, Conn., 1684, but no record of him is now found there, neither has his parentage or previous history been learned. He was at Wallingford, Conn., as early as Feb. 23, 1691–2, when he agrees "with Roger Tyler for a certain piece of land that was granted to him in lieu of a home lott at the north end of said town." (Wallingford Land Records, Vol. 1, page 151.) Several other pieces "laid out to Walter Johnson" are referred to on page 175, the same book, under date May 4, 1692. Several deeds to and from his sons Lambert and John are also of record, on various dates up to 1718. Two deeds in 1714 give each of his sons their portion of his estate, and refer to land they had already received that was their "own mother's." His wife was a daughter of Nehemiah Roys of Wallingford, as is shown by the will of the said Roys, which gives 5 shillings to his grandson John Johnson, and a cross cut saw to John's father, Walter Johnson. (Wallingford Land Records, Vol. 2, page 75.) In a deed dated April 11, 1721, John Johnson refers to land "that has, may or should come unto me * * * in the right of my Honored grandfather Mr. Nehemiah Roys." (Ibid, Vol. 3, page 401.) Walter Johnson died Feb. 6, 1731.

His children were :

2. i. JOHN,[2] m. Mary Chatterton, Nov. 2, 1710.
3. ii. LAMBERT, m. Rebecca Curtis, Mar. 1, 1716.

2. JOHN[2] JOHNSON (Walter[1]). No birth record. He married Mary, daughter of John and Mary (Clements) Chatterton of New Haven, Conn., who was born April 28, 1692. Davis's History of Wallingford says "she died within that year," the year of her marriage, but she was living March 19, 1719, when "John Johnson and Mary his wife, formerly Mary Chatterton," deed a portion of the estate of John Chatterton her father, and Lydia Chatterton her sister, to Barnabas Baldwin. (New Haven Land Records, Vol. 5, page 270.) The genealogies in Davis's History were compiled by Elihu Yale, and he appears to have repeatedly overcome seemingly conflicting records by putting some one out of the way and creating for them a death record. Thus, when he supposed that he had found one John Johnson with two wives, he disposed of the matter by saying the first wife "died," and so Mr. Yale got out of trouble by making trouble for all who consult these premature death records in his work. But this did not kill Mary Johnson, for in fact she lived until Sept. 21, 1774, when she died a widow in New Jersey. Instead of one John with two wives, there were two Johns each with his own wife, living at Wallingford at the same time for over ten years; just as there had been in the prior generation two John Johnsons living at the same time in New Haven.

John,[2] the son of Walter,[1] lived in the north part of Wallingford, which is now Meriden. He removed to Whippenny, N. J., before June 9, 1722, as is shown by a deed of that date. (New Haven Land Records, Vol. 4, page 115.) This is the second branch of Connecticut Johnsons in New Jersey.

His children, recorded at Wallingford, Conn., were :

i. JOHN,[3] b. Aug. 12, 1711; d. in N. J., May 4, 1776.
ii. HANNAH, b. Dec. 31, 1712.
iii. ELISHA, b. Sept. 8, 1714.
iv. MOSES, b. July 26, 1716.
v. CAZIAH, b. April 22, 1718.
vi. ESTHER, b. April 20, 172–.

3. LAMBERT[2] JOHNSON (Walter[1]). No birth record. He married Rebecca, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Merriman) Curtis, March 1, 1716, who was born Aug. 21, 1697. He died at Wallingford, Conn., Nov. 27, 1726. His widow "Ribeckah" was appointed to administer on his estate, April 3, 1726. (New Haven Probate Records, Vol. 5, page 360.) His will is recorded in the same Vol., page 426, and names Benjamin, eldest son, son Cornelius, and daughters Mary, Anna and Rebekah.

His children were :

i. BENJAMIN,[3] b. Dec. 10, 1716.
ii. CORNELIUS, b. Feb. 13, 1719.
iii. MARY, b. June 3, 1720.
iv. ANNA, no birth record.
v. REBECCA, no birth record.

DUTCH JOHNSONS IN CONNECTICUT

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., of New Haven, Conn.

Among the numerous Johnson families of old Connecticut we have reason to suppose that two, at least, were of Dutch origin. There has been much speculation concerning the antecedents of William Johnson of New Haven and Wallingford, Conn., whose family is given in the Register, vol. 55, p. 369. Mr. James Shepard surmises that he might have [1] been a son of Thomas Johnson, one of the three brothers from Yorkshire, Eng., who was drowned in New Haven harbor in 1640 (Register, vol. 56, [2] p. 133). This poor Thomas has been of inestimable value to the genealogists, who have bestowed on him as offspring a large number of stray Johnsons. In strict fact, he left two sons, Thomas of Newark, N. J., and Jeremiah of Derby, Conn. (New Haven Proprietors' Records, vol. 2, pp. 329–330); and there is not a shadow of evidence to prove that William was his son.

Then, who was William Johnson? Perhaps the following facts will throw some light on the question. The death of a certain "Old Richard" Johnson is recorded in New Haven on 25 March 1679. His estate was administered 1 April 1679, when we find him called, not Richard, but "Dericke" Johnson (Probate Records, vol. 1, p. 182), and after the payment of debts, the court granted the remainder of his estate to William Johnson (County Court Records, vol. 1, p. 115; and Deeds, vol. 1, p. 73). No mention is made of the relationship between them, but it is evident that they were not father and son. If, however, we remember that Richard is called Derrick, and that William himself frequently appears on record as Wingle, it is pretty safe to assume that they were of Dutch descent, and very likely stood in the relation of uncle and nephew to each other.

Much more perplexing is the origin of Walter Johnson of Wallingford, Conn., whose immediate family has been carefully compiled by Mr. James Shepard and published in the Register, vol. 56, p. 139. Up to the [3] present time nothing has been known concerning him, except that he appeared in Wallingford before 1692, married a nameless daughter of Nehemiah and Hannah (Morgan) Royce, and died in 1731, leaving two sons, John and Lambert. The following record from the Dutch church of Flatbush, L. I., adds considerably to our meagre information: "1689, July 5. Wouter Jansen widv. of Johana Rys of N. Eng. at Wallinford, to Tryntie Henerig, wid. of Wm. Edwards, liv. Pennu (?)." Two facts are made clear by this record of our Walter Johnson's second marriage. In the first place it discloses the full name of his first wife, Joanna Royce. In the second place, taken in connection with his signing his name Janson in Wallingford deeds, it indicates Dutch blood. Moreover, it leads to the surmise that John was Walter's only child by the Royce alliance, and that Lambert was the offspring of this second marriage. At any rate, John is named in his grandfather Royce's will, while Lambert is not; and John deeds away Royce land, while Lambert does not. Moreover, late in life, Walter Johnson deeds a piece of land to his son Lambert, in consideration of which the latter is to maintain his father and mother for the rest of their lives. It looks very much as if this widow Tryntie was Lambert's mother.

Yet, interesting as these discoveries are, they do not go very far toward lifting the veil that obscures the early life of Walter Johnson. The problem is made more complex by a power of attorney (Wallingford Deeds, vol. 5, p. 454), granted in 1728 by John Benham of Kings Co., N. Y., Lambert Johnson and wife Anna of Richmond, N.Y., Jacob Johnson and wife Sara of Richmond, and Evert Van Namen and wife Winefrut. John, Anna, Sarah, and Winifred were four of the children of Joseph Benham of Wallingford by his wife Winifred King of Boston. Lambert and Jacob Johnson and Evert Van Namen, husbands of the three Benham girls, lived on Staten Island, where they belonged to the Dutch Reformed Church. This document is surprising, as it proves that two Dutch Johnsons, of the same generation as Walter, married Wallingford girls; and one of them bore the name of Lambert, which was also the name of one of Walter's sons. A natural supposition is that they were brothers of his, and met the Benham girls while visiting his home.

As is well known, the Dutch rarely bore a permanent surname, but went by a patronymic derived from the father's Christian name. Thus, Lambert Johnson and Jacob Johnson were simply Lambert and Jacob, sons of John or Jan; but before 1700 the Dutch in America had begun to retain the father's patronymic after the English fashion, so it need not surprise us to find in the Staten Island records that Lambert and Jacob Johnson were sometimes known as Lambert and Jacob Wouters. This implies that they were sons of a certain Jan Wouters (John son of Walter), and that they sometimes retained the Wouters and sometimes called themselves Jansen after their father's Christian name. This makes it all the more likely that Walter Johnson was their brother, for, as the son of Jan Wouters, he would be named after his grandfather Walter or Wouter.

Consequently, it is necessary to locate a Jan Wouters who could have been father of Walter, Lambert, and Jacob. And what is our amazement to learn that Jacob Johnson, son of John Wooters, was born in Branford, Conn., 31 December 1672 (Branford Records, vol. 1, p. 174). Here is a Dutch Jacob Johnson who, learning the English tongue in his infancy, would be most eligible to marry an English girl. That he is identical with the Jacob of Staten Island is proved by the father's name; and his wife, Sarah Benham, was born four years later, 6 September 1676. According to Savage, Jan Wouters lived at Branford from 1667 to 1673; and, when we come to search for his antecedents we find that in 1667 he owned salt meadows in Flatbush, L. I., the very place where Walter Johnson, undoubtedly his son, married his second wife. From Branford he returned to Flatbush, where in 1678 he hired out his son Ruth (Rutgert) to his brother-in-law Laurens Jurianse. He was living in 1695, when he calls himself of New York.

Jan Wouters is by no means an uncommon name, and it will therefore require some evidence to prove that our man of that name, who was a master-shoemaker by trade, was identical with Jan Wouters Van der Bosch, whose name appears in the Flatbush Church Records of this period. On 12 May 1678 were baptized Jacobus, aged $5\frac{1}{2}$, Judith, aged $2\frac{5}{6}$, and Jan, aged $1\frac{1}{4}$, children of Jan Wouters Van der Bosch and Weintie Peters, who came from Stanford, New England. It is probable that the original record reads "Branford," and that "Stanford" is an error of the copyist who prepared these records for the press; for a limited search in Stamford, Conn., has failed to reveal the presence there of any Jan Wouters or Van der Bosches. Moreover, the age of Jacobus (the Latinized form of Jacob or James) exactly corresponds with the age of Jacob Johnson, son of Jan Wouters, who was born at Branford in December 1672. On the whole, it is extremely improbable that two Jan Wouters, one at Branford and the other at Stamford, each had a son Jacob born in the same month of the same year. Another proof of identity is the fact that Jan Wouters Van der Bosch married Weintie Peters, while Laurens Jurianse Haf married Kenira Peters; and we have already mentioned that Laurens Jurianse was brother-in-law of our Jan Wouters.

With these facts established, it is possible to sketch the earlier generations of Walter Johnson's family.

1. JAN[1] WOUTERS VAN DER BOSCH, son of Wouter Van der Bosch, born about 1638, resided at Flatbush, L. I., and Branford, Conn., and died after 1695. He married first ARENTJE ARENTS; and secondly WEINTIE PETERS, whose sister Kenira Peters married, 5 July 1676, Laurens Jurianse Haf. The Peters family came from Amersfoort.

He was one of the founders of the town of Woburn, where, as well as in the Colony at large, he held many important public offices. He is famous as the author of the "Wonderworking Providence of Sion's Savior in New England." He married, about 1620, Susan Munnter, who was born about 1597 and died at Woburn 7 Mar. 1689/90.

Children, all except the second baptized at Canterbury, England:

i. Edward,[2] bapt. 18 Feb. 1620/1.

2. John[2] Johnson (Capt. Edward[1]), baptized at Canterbury, England, 10 May 1635, died at Canterbury, Conn., about 1720. He married, 28 Apr. 1657, Bethia Reed, who died at Canterbury, Conn., 2 Dec. 1717, probably daughter of Esdras of Salem, Wenham, Chelmsford, Woburn, and Boston, Mass. He was by occupation a housewright or carpenter, and owned a sawmill in Woburn. In 1712 he and his wife Bethia were taken to the home of their son Obadiah in Canterbury, Conn., where they passed the remainder of their days.

Children, born at Woburn:

i. John,[3] b. 24 Jan. 1657/8; m. Mary Carley.
ii. Bethia, b. 20 Jan. 1659/60; m. (1) Jonathan Knight of Cambridge, Mass.; m. (2) Joseph Woolcott of Cambridge.

*Cf. records of the birth and baptism of Isaac K. Newton, pp. 40, 90, of the original records.

† For further information about Capt. Edward Johnson, his wife, and children, and for his paternal and maternal ancestry, see Register, vol. 67, pp. 169–180.

3. Obadiah[3] Johnson (John,[2] Capt. Edward[1]), born at Woburn, Mass., 15 June 1664, died at Canterbury, Conn., before 17 July 1740, when his will was proved. He married, 7 Sept. 1696, Rebecca Brooks,* who died 1 Dec. 1752, daughter of Thomas of Canterbury. He removed when a young man to Plainfield and Canterbury, Conn., where he purchased a tract of land on the Quinebaug River, and was one of the first settlers and a prominent man. He was town clerk, and town meetings and religious services were held at his house. For upwards of forty years there seems to have been scarcely any progressive public movement in the community, either political, patriotic, or religious, which did not receive his support, and scarcely a petition or agreement which does not bear his signature.

Children:

i. Mary,[4] b. at Plainfield 10 Oct. 1697; d. a widow after 1772; m. 19 Oct. 1717 Moses Cleaveland.

He married, 6 Nov. 1723, Lydia Cleaveland, born 7 Dec. 1704, died 5 June 1775, daughter of Josiah and Mary (Bates). Like his father, Obadiah was a leading man in church and town affairs, and his will shows that he was possessed of considerable wealth in notes and lands. He was lieutenant and later captain, and served in the French and Indian War; and he was a deacon in the Separatist Church.

Children, born at Canterbury:

i. William,[5] b. 13 Aug. 1724; d. at Canterbury 2 Oct. 1810; m. (1) 29 Nov. 1750 Betty Fasset, b. at Canterbury 13 Jan. 1727, d. there 1 Apr. 1779; m. (2) 23 Feb. 1780 Lodema Fuller, who d. 14 Sept. 1797; m. (3) 7 Oct. 1798 Elizabeth Dyar.

He inherited the farm on Black Hill in Plainfield where he lived. In 1788 he and his family left the declining Separatist Society, and returned to the Orthodox Church.

He married at Newburyport, Mass., 26 May 1788, Sarah Cross, born at Newburyport 17 June 1764, died at Belfast 6 Apr. 1838, daughter of Gen. Ralph and Miriam (Atkinson). He was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1785, studied divinity with the Rev. John Murray of Newburyport and with the Rev. Levi Hart of Preston, Conn., and was ordained a clergyman of the Orthodox Congregational Church at Freeport, Me., 29 Dec. 1789, being the first minister of that town. In 1805 he was called to Belfast, where he remained as minister until he resigned in 1813. He is spoken of by Governor Crosby in his Annals as a man of commanding presence, a bold, strong thinker, and learned in his profession. He represented Freeport in the General Court of Massachusetts in 1791, and served as chaplain during the War of 1812. He was one of the founders of Bowdoin College, and was for seventeen years a member of its Board of Government, a position which has since been filled by his son and grandson, bearing the same name. The finances of Belfast being embarrassed during the War of 1812, Mr. Johnson voluntarily relinquished his salary to the town.

Children, born at Freeport:

7. i. ALFRED,[7] b. 13 Aug. 1789.
   ii. RALPH CROSS, b. 25 Sept. 1790; d. at Belfast 14 Nov. 1874; m. (1) at Camden, Me., 25 Nov. 1839, SARAH WINSLOW CUSHING; m. (2) at Warren, Me., 16 Nov. 1847, FRANCES DECKER MCLELLAN.

He married at Newbury, Mass., 5 Oct. 1817, NANCY ATKINSON, born at Newbury 22 July 1797, died in Boston 10 May 1864, daughter of Lieut. Amos and Anna (Knowlton). He was graduated at Bowdoin College in the Class of 1808, and was admitted to the Maine bar in 1811. For a period of twenty years he was judge of probate for Hancock (later Waldo) County, and during that time no appeal was ever taken from any of his decisions. He served as captain during the War of 1812, and for several years as judge advocate in the militia. In 1819 he was elected representative to the General Court of Massachusetts. In the same year he was a member of the convention which formed the constitution of the State of Maine, and was immediately chosen a representative to the Legislature of the new State. From 1838 until his decease, fourteen years later, he was one of the trustees of Bowdoin College, having been elected to this position to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father. Judge Williamson, in his History of Belfast, vol. 1, says: "As a lawyer and as a literary man, the opinion of Judge Johnson was often sought, and as often cited for its weight and authority; but in matters of business, or on questions of expediency, it was proved to be no less valuable."

Children, born at Belfast:

ON THE SAYBROOK BRANCH OF THE FAMILY OF DEPUTY GOVERNOR WILLIAM JONES OF NEW HAVEN, CONN.

By Edwin A. Hill, Esq., of New Haven, Ct.

When the Strong Genealogy was published some years since, the statement was made on page 161 that Isaac Jones of New Haven (son of Deputy Governor William), by wife Deborah Clark, had a son Isaac born 1698 at New Haven, who resided at North Bolton, Conn., and died in 1782, and who was the father of Joel, born 1721, and, through him, the ancestor of the Hon. Anson Jones, ex-president of the Republic of Texas, etc., etc.

This statement is incorrect. Isaac, the grandson of the Deputy Governor, was born Dec. 23, 1702, lived in Saybrook, and died there Aug. 3, 1759, and was one of the ancestors of the Saybrook family; the other being his brother James Jones, born May 16, 1709, who died in Saybrook in May, 1768.

There was another Jones family in Saybrook, descended from Thomas Jones of Guilford, 1639, who returned to England about 1654. Of his four children, (1) Sarah married John Pratt of Saybrook, June 8, 1665; (2) Samuel moved to Saybrook and married Mary Bushnell (who was undoubtedly one of the daughters of Deacon Francis Bushnell), where he had issue and perpetuated the name; (3) Nathaniel died at Branford in 1668, and (4) Thomas died January, 1651. I have never found proof of any relationship between Thomas of Guilford and Deputy Gov. William of New Haven, though such relationship is not impossible. Mrs. Amelia D. Stearns, of West Newton St., Boston, has for some time been collecting information concerning the descendants of Thomas Jones of Guilford, and has a fine collection of records pertaining to that family.

The statement in the Strong Genealogy was criticized in The New York Biographical and Genealogical Record (vol. iv., page 40) in the following language: —

"Mr. Allyn S. Kellogg of Vernon, Conn., has called my attention lately to the fact, which we discussed in 1861, that Isaac Jones of North Bolton, Ct., was not a descendant of Depty. Gov. William Jones. Mr. Savage shows (Gen. Dict. 11, 561) that Isaac Jones, son of Isaac of New Haven, was born Dec. 23, 1702, and the Rev. Isaac Jones of Litchfield, Conn., himself a member of the New Haven family, when writing some years before 1850 to Miss Sophia Jones, a sister of Hon. Anson Jones, M.D., ex-president of the Republic of Texas, referred to this Isaac Jones, giving for his birth the same date given by Savage, and saying that he lived and died in Saybrook, and assuming that he was the grandfather of Miss Sophia Jones' father. Here begin the kinks in this pedigree, and the Hon. Anson Jones, M.D., though he saw the discrepancy, and tried to explain it, seems never to have found the true solution of the difficulty. He died Jan. 9, 1858, and from his papers his son Cromwell Anson Jones, when not more than 20 years old, took the defective pedigree, which he furnished to Rev. Mr. Dwight for the Strong Genealogy."

When the late Alvan Talcott, M.D., compiled his manuscript Genealogies of Guilford Families (the original of which is now deposited in the library of the New Haven Colony Historical Society, and a copy of same with the town clerk of Guilford), he fell into this same error and incorporated into his record of the descendants of Dept. Gov. William all of the known descendants of Isaac of North Bolton. At a later date, however, either himself or some other person has made entries on the MSS. in the N.H. Col. Hist. Society, to the effect that Isaac of North Bolton was not a descendant of Dep. Governor William, but of Lewis Jones of Watertown, Mass., and that Isaac of North Bolton was No. 25 of the descendants of Lewis in Goodwin's Genealogical Notes of Connecticut Families (see page 129). My own descent is through the Saybrook family; and in 1874 I spent several days visiting my great aunts — the Misses Harriet and Temperance Jones — in the old Jones homestead, near the railroad station in Old Saybrook, for the purpose of gathering up for future use all that could be derived from their records, documents and memories pertaining to the genealogy and history of the Saybrook branch of the family; and I then made abstracts of documents which fully settle the question of the connection of the Saybrook with the New Haven family. Quite recently a case came to my notice where a family of the name, misled either by the Strong Genealogy or the Talcott MSS., before they were corrected, traced back to Isaac of North Bolton, and confidently claimed descent from Dep. Governor William. I have thought, therefore, that the present was a proper time to settle this question for all time.

The following are abstracts made by me in Saybrook, in 1874, from the original documents then in the possession of the Misses Harriet and Temperance Jones: —

N° 1. Quit Claim Deed dated Feb. 10 1742-3 from Timothy Jones of New Haven and Samuel Jones of Wallingford, Conn. "to their bretheren" Isaac Jones and James Jones of Saybrook and Jacob Jones of Ridgefield, Ct.

N° 2. Receipt dated Feb. 11 1742-3 — John Tallmadge of New Haven and Samuel Elwell of Fairfield Ct acknowledge receipt from their brethren Isaac Jones, Jacob Jones, and James Jones, their share of the estate of their honored father Mr Isaac Jones late of New Haven deceased.

Other documents could be given, but the two abstracted above settle the question fully, and enough is enough. It is not my intention now to give more than a very brief sketch of the descendants of Isaac and James of Saybrook. Mr. Timothy Jones of Danbury, Conn., (who is a descendant through Jacob of Ridgefield), is co-operating with me in preparing for publication a genealogy of the descendants of Deputy Governor William Jones of New Haven, which we desire to make as complete as possible, and I wish to call attention to the fact and request all who claim descent from the Deputy Governor, whether of the name Jones or not, to forward their family records to either Mr. Timothy Jones or myself. I am also investigating the ancestry of the Deputy Governor and would be very glad to hear from any one who can throw any light, however small, upon this question, which we shall discuss in the genealogy. We have very little on the descendants of James Jones of Saybrook, and I trust this article will meet the eye of some one of his descendants who will communicate with me at once.

Among the lines of the family not well traced out at the present time, and concerning which I would be very glad to receive information, are the following: —

1. Descendants of James Jones of Saybrook, born May 16, 1709 (as already noted).
2. Of Theophilus Eaton Jones of Norwalk, Conn., born March 20, 1706, who married Sarah Cornell, daughter of Paul and Susanna Cornell.
3. Isaac Jones, son of John Jones and Hannah Bassett, born at Milford? May 6, 1748, who married Mary Pond.
4. Phineas Jones, brother of Isaac, born Dec. 4, 1751, married Mary Brooks.
5. James Jones, brother of Isaac, born Oct. 16, 1758, said to have served in Revolution.
6. William Jones, born May 31, 1722, Eaton born Aug. 26, 1730, John born May 25, 1747, and Daniel born Mch. 18, 1745-6, all children of Samuel and Sarah Jones of Wallingford, Ct.
7. Basil Jones, son of William of Marblehead, residing in New Haven in 1739-40.
8. Harris Jones, born Sept. 9, 1734, son of Timothy of New Haven.
9. Isaac Jones, born July 7, 1740, son of Ensign Isaac of Saybrook by wife Deborah Parker.

10. Zachariah Jones, born Sept. 3, 1744; Caleb born Sept. 3, 1748, and Samuel born May 15, 1754, sons of Caleb Jones and Mary How of Wallingford, Conn.

11. Nathaniel Jones, of Wallingford, born Mch. 20, 1717, who married Sarah Merriman (except his sons Reuben and Nathaniel).

This list could be extended, but I will go no further with it, but, instead, will request all descended from Deputy Governor William to send in their family records at once to either Mr. Timothy Jones of Danbury or to the writer, Edwin A. Hill, care of A. F. Wood's Sons, 2 Church St., New Haven, Ct.

MEMORANDUM OF THE SAYBROOK FAMILY.

1. Ensign Isaac Jones of Saybrook, son of Isaac and Deborah (Clark) Jones of New Haven and guardian of Depty Gov^{r} William, born in New Haven Dec. 23, 1702, married prior to Nov. 9, 1726, Deborah, daughter of John and Mary (Buckingham) Parker, of Saybrook, born May 12, 1704. Mr Jones died Aug. 3, 1759. Children:

   i. Hester, b. Oct., 1726; d. June 27, 1811, æ 77.
   ii. Parker, b. about 1734.
   iii. Isaac, } b. July 7, 1740; d. Dec. 25, 1822.
   iv. Son, } b. July 7, 1740; d. in two days.
   v. Mabel (some say Temperance), married Ezekiel Butler.
   vi. Molly.
   vii. Sybil.

Mrs. Amelia D. Stearns has lately written me as follows: "My record of the family of Isaac and Deborah (Parker) Jones is not just like yours. My record begins with Hester, b. Oct. 11, 1726; then Isaac, b. July 7, 1730, d. May 2, 1739; a son, twin to Isaac, died the same month; then Temperance, without date; then Parker; then Mabel; then Molly, who died Feb. 24, 1866, æt. 70; then Sybil; lastly Isaac, who is called a minor in the will. I do not assert that this is a correct list of the children. It is made up of such names and dates as were in my collection, and placed as nearly in correct order as I could determine. I did not suppose that Temperance was the same as Mabel. Probably the daughter, Hannah, who was baptized March 17, 1742, died before the will was made."

The descendants of Parker Jones are the only ones that have been traced as yet. We are desirous of hearing from descendants of the other children, particularly of Isaac.

2. James Jones of Saybrook, brother of the preceding and son of Isaac and Deborah (Clark) Jones, of New Haven, born May 16, 1709 (or 1708 according to Savage), married Sarah Willard.
   Of his children I have record of:—

   i. Sarah, b. May 27, 1741.
   ii. James, b. Jan. 19, 1743-4.
   iii. Timothy, b. June 5, 1755.
   iv. George, b. Feb. 14, 1759.

The probate records name in addition (will dated Mch. 2, 1768) sons William, Elisha, Joseph, and daughters Deborah Stevens and Hannah Gladding.

There are also probate proceedings on the estate of one Joseph Jones of Saybrook (whom I presume to be the son of Isaac). His Joseph's will is dated Mch. 29, 1773, and mentions wife Mary, sons Morris and Samuel, and daughters Temperance, Ruth, Margaret, Mary and Elizabeth; also a brother Benjamin, who is made executor.

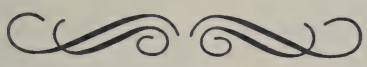
This is about all that we know at present about the descendants of James of Saybrook, and we would be very glad to know more. The Saybrook records are very incomplete, and it is quite difficult to make much headway in genealogical researches in Saybrook without the use of private family records. Hence this article, in the hopes that those interested in the family and having access to original records, will kindly copy, and forward the same for use in our work in hand.



THOMAS JONES OF GUILFORD, CONN., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

Compiled by Hon. Ralph D. Smyth, and communicated by Dr. Bernard C. Steiner.

1. Thomas[1] Jones was one of the pioneer settlers of Guilford, and came with Mr. Whitfield. His name is the sixth on the plantation Covenant signed June 1, 1639, on the passage of Mr. Whitfield's company to Guilford. He was evidently a young man, and probably was a relation of William Jones of New Haven. He appears to have been the first Marshal at Guilford, and to have held that office without a dissenting vote. Perhaps he was not married when he came to Guilford, though this is not certain. He married a Mrs. Mary Carter, probably a widow, with a daughter Mary Carter who subsequently married Samuel Ward of Branford, Jan. 1, 1658.

He was a witness in the first court, Aug. 14, 1645, and was chosen or rather reappointed Marshal at a court held Oct. 7, 1646. To this office he was annually rechosen until June 17, 1650, when George Bartlett was chosen "to succeed in his room in that office when he removes," Thomas Jones to retain office until then. On June 9th, 1651, "George Bartlett was chosen to succeed brother Jones in the Marshal's place, when Providence shall remove him." Before June 10th, 1652, he had removed, and John Fowler was chosen Marshal. He left his property and family in Guilford, and may have intended to return. His wife died Sept. 16, 1650, and probably soon afterward his place was sold and transferred to John Meigs. The deed was given many years later, however, on Mar. 4, 1667–8, by Lieut. William Chittenden, "the said Thomas Jones's Agent." Thomas Jones had died many years before that date. Mr. Davenport, in a letter to Gov. John Winthrop, Jr., dated about Mar. 10, 1655, wrote as follows: "Mr. Disborough and Goodman Jones died lately of the small pox in England or Scotland."

Thomas Jones evidently came to Guilford for a more free exercise of his religious and perhaps political opinions, and returned to England when his friends came in power. When Mr. Whitfield tendered his reasons to the Church of Guilford, Feb. 20, 1649–50, for his removal, and enquiry was made of every man concerning his particular ability in paying to the ministers for the present, and in probability to continue according to ordinary providence, "Thomas Jones professed his willingness and hoped to be able to continue his present payments."

His home lot lay next that of John Bishop, on the east side of the Green, and he held in addition 6 acres of upland and swamp near by, 4½ acres of upland in the East Creek Quarter, and 5½ acres of marsh land there. In the Neck he held 9¾ acres of upland, and also owned 8 acres of marsh at "Salt-holes."

On June 12, 1656, Mary Carter demanded £40 sterling from Thomas Jones's estate, which the court ordered to be paid her. This sum consumed all the inventory but £1.3.8., which was ordered to be kept for the children.

Children:

2. i. Samuel,[2] b. in Guilford; d. Nov. 1704.
   ii. Nathaniel, d. single, in Branford, May, 1668, leaving an estate of £52.6.0., of which £45.15.0 was due him as a portion of his father's will in England.

1. Lieut. Gov. William[1] Jones, emigrant to New Haven, styles himself, in a deed dated March 3, 1689/90, "sometime of Martins in the fields, Westminster, Esquire, now of New Haven in the County of New Haven in New England, Planter." He may have been a son of Col. John Jones the Regicide, executed Oct. 16, 1660, who married, as a second or third wife, Jane, the widow of Roger Whetstone and sister of Oliver Cromwell the Protector.

William[1] Jones is said to have been born in 1624, at London, where he was an attorney. He arrived at Boston, July 27, 1660, in the same ship with Whaley and Goffe, and brought his sons William and Nathaniel with him, born by a first wife. He married second, at London, Hannah, born in London in 1633, daughter of Gov. Theophilus Eaton of New Haven, July 7, 1659. By a deed of indenture, dated Mar. 20, 1658/9, Theophilus

An agreement made by some of his heirs is on the New Haven County records. Among them are Andrew Morrison, in right of his wife Sarah, and John Morgan, in right of his wife Elizabeth. JOHN AND THOMAS JORDAN OF GUILFORD, CONN., AND THEIR DESCENDANTS.

Communicated by Bernard C. Steiner from notes compiled by Hon. Ralph D. Smyth and Matt B. Jones, Esq., of Boston.

1. John[1] and Thomas[1] Jordan, probably brothers, were among the first planters of Guilford. John Jordan signed the plantation Covenant of June 1, 1639. Thomas may have been too young at that time. They were both persons of distinction among the early Colonists. John Jordan's name appears as one of the trustees in the Deed of Uncas to the settlers of Guilford, Dec. 17, 1641, and again with Mr. Disborow's and his brother Thomas Jordan's in the deed of Weekwash to Mr. Whitfield, Sept. 20, 1641. He died, probably, early in Jan., 1649–50, as his inventory is dated Feb. 1, 1649–50. In 1654 Thomas Clarke of Milford had married Ann, widow of John Jordan.

Thomas[1] Jordan, one of the most prominent of the settlers of Guilford, was young, perhaps not quite of age, when the colony was planted. He was one of the associate Judges of the Particular Court chosen Oct. 7, 1646, and Treasurer from an early period. He was Representative in the Plantation Court, 1651–1654, at all the sessions, and was appointed by the Plantation Court to go to Boston with an answer to the General Court of Massachusetts, 1653. At a court at Guilford, Sept. 1, 1654, he took down the evidence in "short hand." About 1655 he returned to England, as he no longer appears on the Town and Colony Records. In a letter written by him to Mr. Leete, from England, he gives his house to Andrew Leete, who had married his daughter, Elizabeth Jordan, June 1, 1669. In 1706, William Leete and Caleb Leete were administrators of their grandfather "Mr. Thomas Jordan dec'd late of old England," part of whose land had been laid out first to Mr. William Leete and Mr. Thomas Jordan in common and never divided. His grandchildren were, besides William and Caleb, Samuel, Dorothy, Abigail, and Mercy Leete.

On Sept. 12, 1666, William Leete wrote to Gov. John Winthrop asking him (4 Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., vii., p. 558) to try to gain Mr. Jordan's consent to the intermarriage of Jordan's daughter Elizabeth to Leete's son Andrew. On Mch. 25, 1674, a letter was shown the townsmen of Guilford, from Thomas Jordan to Gov. Leete, authorizing the recording of Jordan's land to Andrew Leete, with the condition that "should he bury her and take another wife," after his death the land "shall go to the children of my daughter, or for want of heirs of her body to my lawful heirs."

1. John[1] Jordan married Ann, daughter of John Bishop, and had the following children:

   i. Hannah,[2] m. June 28, 1666, Esbon Wakeman.
   ii. Elizabeth, d. 1720; m. Nov. 17, 1664, Daniel Hubbard, who d. 1720.
   iii. Mary, m. Abraham Post (wrongly called Abner in Register, vol. 59, p. 132).
2. iv. John, b. Mar., 1646–7.

2. John[2] Jordan (John[1]) was a cooper, and married Deborah ———, who died in 1677. He removed to Middletown, and sold his home-lot in Guilford to William Leete, Jr., on June 24, 1679. Before 1689 he was in Saybrook. He died, presumably, about 1713, as on June 26 of that year, Abraham Chalker, executor of the last will and testament of "Mr. John Jordan, late of Saybrook," sets off to the deceased's daughter Mary her part of the lands of her father at Ironmine plain. (Saybrook Records, vol. 2, p. 372.) From Saybrook Records, vol. 2, pp. 372 and 386, and vol. 3, p. 386, it appears that John Jordan had a son James, and a daughter Mary who married John Ingham, Mar. 2, 1716. (Saybrook Records, vol. 2, p. 401.) He also had a daughter Hannah, as appears from Saybrook Records, vol. 3, p. 310, where James Jordan conveys land, Apr. 4, 1716, to "my loving sister Hannah Bate, of Saybrook aforesaid, widow and Relique of Samuel Bate, late of Saybrook." Hannah married first, Samuel Bates of Haddam, who died before 1716; and married second, in 1717, John Stannard. It is also reasonably certain that John[2] Jordan had a daughter Catherine, who married William Bushnell, Apr. 10, 1701. This view is strengthened by the fact that Mary Jordan, on the same day upon which Abraham Chalker set off to her a portion of the land of her father, as above described, deeds to William Bushnell (husband of Catherine) two parcels of land, "being the whole of that land given to me by my Honored father, Mr. John Jordan, late of Saybrook, deceased," and "one-third part of that meadow commonly called Pond Meadow that was my Honored Father's Mr. John Jordan's aforesaid."

THOMAS[1] JORDAN married Dorothy ———, and had the following children:

i. ELIZABETH,[2] b. 1650; d. Mar. 4, 1704; m. June 1, 1669, Andrew Leete, who d. Oct. 31, 1702.
ii. MARY, b. May 27, 1652.

JORDAN OF GUILFORD, CONN.—Supplementary to the notes of Dr. Bernard C. Steiner on John and Thomas Jordan of Guilford, Conn., and their descendants, printed in the REGISTER vol. 62, page 333, it may be said that John[2] Jordan * (John[1]) married a second time, and the evidence seems reasonably satisfactory that his second wife was Katharine, daughter of Alexander and Katharine (Post) Chalker, and that she was the mother of James[3] (John,[2] John[1]) Jordan, and probably of Catherine Jordan who married William Bushnell.

A return of arbitrators to settle a difficulty between Thomas Avery et al. and James Jordan and Stephen Post, in behalf of his brethren, concerning a piece of land in Saybrook (Saybrook Records, vol. 2, p. 137), dated Oct. 25, 1705, recites that "the meadow descended from Mr. Stephen Post, now in possession of his grand-children Abram and James Post and his great-grand-child James Jurdan."

Abraham, son of Stephen Post of Saybrook, married Mary, the sister of John[2] Jordan, as noted by Dr. Steiner. Katharine, daughter of Stephen Post, married Alexander Chalker, and was the mother of four daughters: Mary, b. 1653, who married Richard Cozzens; Katharine, b. 1657; Sarah, b. 1659; Jane, b. 1662.

It has been stated that Katharine, daughter of Alexander Chalker, married John Hills, but Saybrook Records (vol. 1, p. 123) afford ample proof that John Hills married the widow, and not the daughter, of Alexander Chalker. The process of elimination shows that in this Chalker family must be found the granddaughter of Stephen Post, who married John[2] Jordan, and further proof appears from the fact that Abraham, son of Alexander Chalker, executor of John[2] Jordan's will (will not found), recites himself as the "cousin" (uncle) of Mary[3] Jordan (John,[2] John[1]). Of the three younger Chalker girls, Katherine, by reason of age and the passing down of the name in the next generation, seems probably to have been the wife of John[2] Jordan (John[1]). MATT B. JONES.

GENEALOGICAL ITEMS OF THE KELLOGG FAMILY.

[By D. O. Kellogg, a member of the N. E. Hist. Gen. Soc.]

There seems a propriety in introducing the name of Kellogg into this "Register," as the earliest history of the family locates them in New England, and connects them with its annals. For several generations they are believed to have remained there, though now the name is found in many parts of the United States, and their descendants have become numerous. The name is found in the early records of the first settlements on the Connecticut River, but no connected history of the family of those days has been discovered.

It is not pretended that these fragments embrace more than a brief record of a portion of the family, and it is admitted that they are entirely deficient in relation to the immigration of its progenitors from Europe, as well as to the history of their early descendants. Much remains to be known before a complete genealogy can be written. It is, however, hoped that this beginning may stimulate some one having leisure, and feeling sufficient interest in the research, to continue the subject, until a full record shall be published.

The present writer has been unable, in the limited investigations his pursuits have permitted, to trace back the progenitors to their first settlement in America, or to their European home immediately prior to their immigration. An existing similarity of name, now in Scotland, gives a probable clue to their early history. Tradition relates that they were originally Scotch, and that, being partizans of James VI., of Scotland, they came with that prince to England when he ascended the throne of Great Britain as James I.—where they remained until their settlement in New England. They came here soon after the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, and settled somewhere in Massachusetts.

The Herald's College, London, records two ancient families in Scotland, bearing the name of KELLOCK. One was of the nobility,—the head of which was a duke. No trace of such rank now remains. The other were commoners, having a heraldic claim to the distinction of a coat of arms, the description of which is, for the present, omitted. The simplicity of American institutions suggests that the claim of descent should be based on the latter.

Late inquiries in Scotland, by the writer, led to the discovery of two families, now residing there,—one in Fifeshire, the other in Dumfriesshire,—there may be others, of the same name as that in heraldry. The Gaelic idiom justifies the belief that, originally, the name was written Killoch. The guttural sound given by the Scotch to the letter h, at the termination of words, is very nearly the American sound of g, and accounts for the change of spelling in this country. When surnames were first introduced into Britain, the names of cities, towns, manors, estates, and local objects were often adopted by families. This suggests a probable explanation of the origin and meaning of the name. In the Gaelic language, Kil is a burial place, and Loch a lake. Thus Killoch indicates Lake Cemetery, or the family of the Lake Burial Ground. In process of time the name has become Kellock, in Scotland, and Kellogg in the United States.

Materials now at hand serve only to give an imperfect account of that branch of the family settled in western Massachusetts, a century and a half ago, and of such of their descents as were among the early emigrants to the State of New York.

GENEALOGICAL ITEMS OF THE KELLOGG FAMILY.

[By D. O. Kellogg, member of N. E. Hist. Gen. Society.]

The hope expressed in the article, to which this is a continuation, that it might be the means of eliciting earlier, more correct, and more comprehensive genealogical items of the Kellogg family, has happily not been disappointed. Though the information gathered to this time, does not carry us back to the immigration of its progenitors from Europe, nor to its previous history, yet the progress made in that direction is highly satisfactory, and encourages the further hope that some more persevering hand, interested in the inquiry, will, with the materials now at command, pursue it to that result.

It will be seen, by this article, that the former supposition, that the first of the name, in this country, settled originally in Massachusetts, is probably erroneous. The earliest knowledge of the family now obtained, locates it in Connecticut. As early as 1639—only 19 years from the arrival of the Plymouth colony—the name is found on the records of Hartford in that State.

The writer is chiefly indebted for these additional items to Lucius M. Boltwood, Esq., of Amherst, Mass., and to the Hon. Ensign H. Kellogg, of Pittsfield, in the same State, to both of whom he returns his acknowledgmeets, with thanks. The latter remarks, in his correspondence, "he has little doubt that a vigorous inquirer might go up and down the Connecticut River, the home of the early emigrants and their immediate descendants, and put the American part of our family genealogy in a perfectly satisfactory light." Entirely concurring in this belief, the question arises, who will make the investigation? The sooner it is done, the easier it will be accomplished.

The former article began with Stephen Kellogg, of Westfield, Mass., and indicated him as of the first generation, noting the successive generations from him, by the corresponding numerals. As we are now carried back one generation, the same numbers will be continued to the same generations, to avoid confusion, designating the generation of the father of Stephen by the superior letter ^{A}. In some instances the individuals then referred to will be re-introduced, for the purpose of adding such additional items as have since been gathered. With these preliminary remarks I proceed.

82. Lieut. Joseph^{a} Kellogg, makes his first cis-Atlantic appearance in Farmington, Ct., at an early period of the settlement of that town. Whence he came, and the date of his settlement there, has not been ascertained. He joined the church, in that town, Oct. 9, 1653. Removed to Boston in 1659, and there purchased a homestead. The Boston records show the registry of a deed, from Peter Oliver, merchant, to him, spelling his name Kelog, dated Oct. 9, 1659, describing him as "formerly of Farmington, but now of Boston, weaver," conveying a house and lot "fronting on the street leading to Roxbury,"—now Washington street. The place is so indefinitely described that it cannot, at this distance of time, be located. The records also show a mortgage from him, of a subsequent date, to Sergeant Thomas Clark of Boston, merchant, on the same place, for £100, payable within 5 years, with £10 annual rent till paid, but do not disclose how he alienated it. Thence he removed to Hadley, Mass., about 1662, where he died about 1707. His will was dated 1707, and the inventory of his estate, in probate, bears date Feb. 4, 1708. His residence there was the place where the Rev. John Brown, D.D., subsequently lived and died, and on which Dea. Hitchcock now resides.

These further investigations have served to confirm the opinion, before expressed, that the family originally came from Scotland.

There was a Nathaniel Kellogg in Hartford, Ct., as early as 1639, who afterwards removed to Farmington. Whether he was father or brother of Joseph, or neither, does not appear. There was also a Samuel Kellogg, supposed to have been a brother, who settled in Hatfield. Daniel Kellogg, whose previous history is unknown, was settled in Norwalk, Ct., in 1655. He died there in 1688, leaving a large family of sons and daughters. Nothing has come to the writer's knowledge connecting him with the family of Lieut. Joseph; and yet it seems highly probable they had a common origin. The coincidence of family names, particularly that of Martin, which is found in almost every stock of Kelloggs in this country, is sufficient to make us suspect a relationship. For whatever items may be given of this latter family, I am indebted to A. S. Kellogg, Esq., of Vernon, Ct., who is, no doubt, able to fill up the record of this branch to a more satisfactory extent.

107. Dea. Daniel[2] Kellogg resided in Sheffield, and is said to have gone on the expedition of Montgomery to Quebec. This must be an error, that service having occurred in 1775. He probably went on Wolfe's expedition, and d. at Westfield on his return. He and Philip Callender were the first deacons in the church first established in Sheffield, under Rev. Jonathan Hubbard. By wife, Hannah Noble, he had: (113) Hannah,[3] b. May 15, 1732, d. May 26, 1732;---(114) Hannah,[3] b. June 25, 1734, d. Sept. 10, 1738;---(115) Abigail,[3] b. Oct. 29, 1736, d. The records of Sheffield show several families of the name that the writer has been unable to trace, who, no doubt, descended from the same stock. Will not some of their descendents show where they belong? With the publication of this, the further investigation of the subject will be resigned to other hands. William Kellogg m. Nov. 11, 1747, Keziah Dewey; Nathan Loomis K. m. Aug. 1752, Diadama Austin. Timothy m. Keziah ———; Jason m. Miriam ———; Joel m. Susanna ———; Jacob m. April, 1758, Mary Harmon; and Stephen m. Mindwell ———. All these had children from 1747 to 1790.

Many of the name are now residing in Hadley, Amherst, New Salem, &c., Mass., descendants, probably, of Nathaniel,[1] (85), son of Lieut. Joseph,[A] (82). From this branch it is believed descended Rev. David, D.D., of Framingham; Hon. Daniel, LL.D., of Brattleboro', Vt., many years Judge of the Supreme Court of that State; and Henry, Counsellor-at-law, of Bennington, Vt., brother of the latter.

For what follows the writer hopes he may not be regarded, in any quarter, as trespassing on the prerogatives or sensibilities of the other branch, to which he claims kindred. His chief object is to make such a beginning as shall stimulate others, more directly concerned, to pursue the investigation, until the genealogy of the entire family shall have been recovered and traced to its European origin.

202. Capt. Joseph[4] Kellogg, b. in Connecticut 1742, d. at Somers, in that State, 1795, whose family genealogy has been communicated, appears to have descended directly from Daniel[1] (174) of Norwalk. Information from one of his descendants gives the name of Joseph as his grandfather, and states that the latter was carried away by the Indians and lived with them, a captive in the wilderness, six years. The name thus given places him in this descent as the son of David[3] (202), the son of Joseph[2] (183), the son of Daniel.[1] Capt. Joseph[4] is said to have served in the revolutionary army under Gen. Washington.

THE KELLOGG FAMILIES OF COLCHESTER, CONN.

By James H. Perrin, Esq., of Lafayette, Indiana.

The chief sources from which the following is taken are the town records of Hebron, Colchester, Hadley and Hatfield; Judd's History of Hadley; Randall's Colchester Epitaphs, in the Register for 1889; and the Kellogg articles in the Register, xii., 201–6, xiv., xv., 125–32. The last articles[1] mention four early Kelloggs, antecedents unknown:

i. Lieut. Joseph, of Farmington, Boston, and Hadley, descendants given.
ii. Nathaniel, Hartford 1639, removed to Farmington.
iii. Samuel, supposedly brother of the above Nathaniel, settled at Hatfield.
iv. Daniel, settled at Norwalk 1655, descendants given.

The present article gives some account of the Samuel falsely supposed to be a "brother of the above Nathaniel." As Nathaniel was adult in 1639, while Samuel was not married until 1664, they seem unlikely to have been brothers, especially as Samuel is not mentioned in the will of Nathaniel.* An account is also given of the descendants of Ebenezer and Jonathan Kellogg, sons of Lieut. Joseph, referred to in the Register for April, 1860, as having removed to Colchester. Pedigrees of allied families have been traced back, whenever possible, to the first person of the name in Colchester.

The writer will be grateful for any information concerning the ancestry of the Samuel Kellogg whose descendants are here given.

DOROTHY, UNIDENTIFIED WIFE OF EDWARD KELLOGG

By Ruth Lincoln Kaye, of Alexandria, Va.

Was Dorothy, wife of Edward Kellogg (1660-1729?) of Hadley and Brookfield, Mass., and Lebanon, Conn., identical with Dorothy, daughter of John and Isabel (Mason) Bissell, born in 1665 in Windsor, Conn.?

The identity of this colonial wife, long sought by the Kellogg family, has never been established. The writer, after years of research among colonial families up and down the Connecticut River and following many will-o'-the-wisps named Dorothy, has come up with a circumstantial case which is submitted herewith for critical appraisal.

The search for Dorothy Kellogg's own surname started in Hadley where she was married, but no family of the time had a reported daughter by name of Dorothy. Next followed Hatfield, Northampton, Westfield, Springfield, Longmeadow, Simsbury, Windsor, Hartford, Wethersfield, Farmington, and other towns on the river. Family books and genealogical sections of town histories were gone over minutely. Next, the families of girls whom the brothers of Edward Kellogg married and the families of boys whom the Kellogg girls married were researched. Finally, even the families that intermarried with Dorothy's children were studied. There was only one Dorothy of the right period unaccounted for; only one who hadn't died unmarried or been reported as marrying someone other than Edward Kellogg. This was Dorothy Bissell. Naturally, this does not prove she is the one looked for, but the writer has discovered circumstantial evidence which suggests the identification.

First consider the facts:

Dorothy, wife of Edward Kellogg

The known facts about Dorothy Kellogg are these. Before 1692 she was married to Edward Kellogg, born in 1660, living in 1729, fourth son of the emigrant, Joseph Kellogg (1626-1708) and his first wife, Joanna (d. 1666), of Hadley, Mass. Joseph operated the ferry across the Connecticut at Hadley and ran an inn or hostel; hence his sons had plenty of opportunity to become acquainted with many families who lived some distance away and stopped at the inn.

Edward and Dorothy Kellogg had nine children: Joseph (b. 1692), Joanna (b. 1694), Thomas (b. 1696), Dorothy (b. 1700), Catherine (b. 1702), Mary (b. 1703), Ephraim (b. 1707), Eleanor (b. 1710), and Edward (b. 1713). The first four children were born in Hadley, and the last five in Brookfield, whence the family had moved by 1701.

Their home in Brookfield was near the intersection of the Bay Path from Hadley and the road from Springfield to Boston. They lived here until 1729, at which time the family that remained (Edward, his wife Dorothy and their son Edward) removed to Lebanon, Conn. Possibly the main reason for the move was that their second son Thomas (the eldest, Joseph, was killed by the Indians in Brookfield in 1710) had removed to Lebanon where he married in 1720 and prospered, buying and selling land. Thomas joined the Goshen Parish Church there and, significantly, was baptized as an adult in 1722, as his mother and brother Edward were later baptized. He seems to have persuaded his parents and youngest brother to join him in Lebanon, though he himself did not live there after 1731. There is no mention of his father Edward, Sr., after 1729, and until now there has been no published record of his mother, Dorothy, after that date.

In perusing the original records of the Goshen Church of Lebanon, the writer recently discovered that Dorothy Kellogg agreed to the church covenant 25 September 1737, and was baptized "at Mr. Loomas's" 29 September four days later. (This could not have been her daughter Dorothy, who had married Thomas Ainsworth and may even have died by that date.) The fact of her adult baptism at a friend's or relative's home instead of at church, as was customary, indicates that Dorothy was too ill or infirm to go to the church, indeed, may have been on her deathbed. There is no further mention of Dorothy in the church records after that date. The circumstance of her baptism is significant, both because it points to the possible time of her last illness and because it gives a clue to the home in which she lived, possibly with relatives. Her children known from records to be living in 1737 were Ephraim, who was serving at Fort Dummer, and Edward as yet unmarried, else he and his wife might have provided a home for their mother.

Who then was "Mr. Loomis", in whose home presumably Dorothy was living? His identification might point to Dorothy's own family. Perhaps he was a nephew, cousin, brother or an "in-law."

Examination of church records, Loomis genealogies and Connecticut local histories disclosed that there were the brothers, John and Thomas Loomis, who lived in Lebanon at the time, having removed there in 1707/8 with their uncle, Deacon John Loomis who died there in 1715, and their mother and stepfather, Sarah and John Bissell. Sarah (b. 1662) was the daughter of Daniel and Sarah (Crow) White of Hatfield, Mass., and had married (1) Thomas Loomis (1653-1688) of Hatfield, by whom she had John (1681-1755) and Thomas (1684-1765). After her first husband's death she married (2) in 1689 John Bissell (1661-1740), and had four more children in Windsor: Benjamin, Sarah, John and Daniel Bissell. The whole family, Sarah, John Bissell, their four children and her two children by Thomas Loomis, Sr., removed to Lebanon 1707/8.

John Loomis, called in colonial records "Ensign Loomis", married (1) Martha Osborn of Lebanon and (2) Ann Lyman. His brother Thomas was an original member of the Goshen Parish Church of Lebanon, organized 1729, and married (1) Elizabeth Fowler and (2) Hannah Hunt of Lebanon. The writer concludes that Dorothy Kellogg was baptized at Thomas's house rather than at Ensign John's because of the appellation "Mr.", rather than "Ensign": "Dorothy Kellogg was baptized at Mr. Loomis's."

Exhaustive search of the families of the four wives of John and Thomas Loomis disclosed no Dorothys, the thought being that Dorothy Kellogg might have been a relative of one of them. Finally, with the clue that "Mr. Loomis" was probably Thomas Loomis whose stepfather John Bissell of Windsor, had removed with children and stepchildren to Lebanon in 1707/8, the writer studied the Bissell family of Windsor.

Dorothy Bissell

The emigrant John Bissell (1591-1677) was keeper of the ferry at Windsor, Conn. By his wife, Mary Drake, he had six children, the oldest named John also (d. 1693), who kept the ferry from 1658 on. John, Jr., had eight children, the first four by his first wife, Isabel Mason (d. 1663): Mary (b. 1659), John (1661-1740), hereinafter, Daniel (b. 1663) and Dorothy (b. 1665).

This is the sole record of Dorothy Bissell which has been found. There is no record of her baptism, marriage or death. If she lived to maturity, she was, however, certainly the aunt by marriage to John and Thomas Loomis, aforementioned.

Her brother John Bissell (1661-1740) married in 1689 as her second husband the widow Sarah (White) Loomis, who had two small sons aged 4 and 8, John and Thomas, surnamed Loomis. John and Sarah had four children and the whole family removed to Lebanon 1707/8, as has been said above.

The circumstantial evidence

Evidence identifying Dorothy Kellogg as identical with Dorothy Bissell centers around baptism, the location of the families, their occupation and family names.

Baptism: Mrs. Dorothy Kellogg was baptized as an adult in 1737 in Lebanon, Conn., therefore she had not been baptized as a child. Dorothy Bissell was born in 1665 in Windsor; there is no record of her baptism there, either as child or adult. By this circumstance it is possible Dorothy Bissell may have been Dorothy, wife of Edward Kellogg.

Location: John Bissell the 3rd removed to Lebanon in 1707/8 with his family including the stepsons, John and Thomas Loomis. Edward and Dorothy Kellogg removed from Brookfield to Lebanon 1729. Edward presumably died not long after, since there is no further mention of him. His wife (or widow) Dorothy Kellogg is mentioned twice more in official records, namely when she took the church covenant and when she was baptized "at Mr. Loomas's" in 1737. If Dorothy Kellogg was born Dorothy Bissell, she could have been baptized at the home of her step-nephew Thomas Loomis, her brother John Bissell's stepson.

Occupation: Dorothy Kellogg's husband was the son of the ferryman at Hadley, Mass., just upstream from Windsor where Dorothy Bissell's father John operated the ferry. Possibility: Dorothy Bissell, daughter of the Windsor ferryman could have easily met and married Edward Kellogg, son of the Hadley ferryman.

Family names: Dorothy Kellogg gave three of her children Kellogg family names: Joseph, Joanna, Edward; the other six were named

THOMAS, DOROTHY, Catherine, MARY, EPHRAIM, and Eleanor. Dorothy Bissell has a sister MARY, an aunt MARY, an uncle THOMAS, and these first cousins, all children of her Uncle Thomas: THOMAS, JOSEPH, EPHRAIM and EPHRAIM again.

Lost wives have been identified on less evidence than this. In this instance has a case been made? Has anyone corroborating evidence from other unpublished records?

DOROTHY, UNIDENTIFIED WIFE OF EDWARD KELLOGG

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., of New Haven, Conn.

Under the above title, an attempt was made (The Register, vol. 123, p. 114-117, April 1969) to identify Dorothy, wife of Edward [1] Kellogg, with Dorothy Bissell, the daughter of John[2] Bissell by his wife Israel (wrongly called Isabel) Mason. The Bissell-Mason connections were considered and set forth at considerable length in two articles in The American Genealogist, 26:84-94 and 27:100-101. Most of the mistakes in the recent article were caused by trusting the most unreliable account of the Bissell family in Henry R. Stiles' The History of Ancient Windsor (1859).*

May I try to set the record straight once again? John[1] Bissell did indeed die in 1677; there is no authority that I know of for calling his wife Mary Drake. A nameless wife, perhaps mother of his children, died in 1641; he thereafter had another nameless wife whose death, as wife of John "Sr.", was recorded in 1665. Stiles made the mistake of applying the last record to John Jr., thus killing off his one and only wife and making it necessary to postulate a second wife for him.

John[2] Bissell did not die in 1693 as stated in the recent article, but died as Cornet of the Troop at "Yorke" prior to 15 Oct. 1688 (Colonial Records of Connecticut, 3:91, 450). An inventory of the estate of Lt. John Bissell who "died at New York, 1688," was exhibited 7 Mar. 1688/9 and a later one on 15 Mar. 1693/4 which, however, was dated 7 Nov. 1688; the distribution in 1693/4 names the surviving children and calls the daughter Dorothy, Dorothy Stoughton (C. W. Manwaring's A Digest of Early Connecticut Probate Records, 1:406-407, which is inaccurate in omitting the name of the son Hezekiah from the distribution, though it appears in the original paper on file).

The recent article states that John Bissell, Jr., "had eight children, the first four by his first wife, Isabel Mason (d. 1663)." He had nine children, the birth of the youngest, Samuel, not being recorded, but Samuel was named in the distribution of his father's estate and had later probate of his own. All the children were by Israel (not Isabel) Mason, the one and only wife, and she did not die in 1663 (evidently meant for 1665 when John's stepmother died) but survived her husband. Her administration bond, dated 7 Mar. 1688/9, completely omitted in Manwaring, op. cit., is in File No. 586 of the Hartford Probate District; in it her name is twice written Izraell and once Israell. At marriage, the recorder Matthew Grant spelled her name "Izrell." She was admitted to the Windsor Church in 1686 as Israel Bissell. So it cannot be doubted that her name was actually Israel, not Isabel. The name Israel means "warrior of God" and if her birth was expected when Capt. John Mason left to fight the Pequots in 1637 (quite likely since she married in 1658), the name may have been chosen before he left and was bestowed even though the child turned out to be a girl.

The recent article states that it was Dorothy Bissell's brother John[3] Bissell who married Sarah (White) Loomis and moved to Lebanon. Not so. John[3] Bissell (John,[2] John[1]), born 4 May 1661, died without issue prior to 30 May 1690 when the Court ordered distribution of the estates of John Bissell sen. of Windsor and John Bissell Junr. In 1694 the Court approved a distribution of "the Estate of Lt. John Bissell, sen., of Windsor, and John Bissell, son" (Manwaring, op. cit., 1:407-408). A complaint was made and the following month the distribution was rectified; in this later record, the two decedents are called John Bissell, sen. and John Bissell, Jr., and it is clear that the widow and mother (Israel) was then still living. This distribution also calls one of the heirs Dorothy Stoughton. The John who settled in Lebanon was John[3] (Thomas,[2] John[1]).

The circumstantial evidence on which the theory was built that Dorothy[3] Bissell married Edward Kellogg therefore evaporates completely. Not only was she called Stoughton in two probates of the family, but the New London deed of Peter Mason which mentions several quitclaims he had received from other Mason heirs refers to a quitclaim dated 23 June 1710 from Samuel Stoughton and Dorothy Stoughton (New London Deeds, 7:70).

Since my two articles above mentioned were published in 1950 and 1951, I have learned that Dorothy[3] Bissell was a widow when she married Samuel Stoughton. To complete her record, the following is offered.

Dorothy Bissell, born at Windsor 10 Aug. 1665, married first, at Windsor, 21 Jan. 1685, Nathaniel[2] Watson, b. 28 Jan. 1663/4, son of Robert and Mary (Rockwell) Watson; he died 19 Aug. 1690 and she married second, no record found, Samuel Stoughton, b. 8 Sept. 1665, d. in 1711/12, son of Ens. Thomas and Mary (Wadsworth) Stoughton. Dorothy survived her second husband. She had two Watson children: i. Anna, b. 1686, mar. (1) 18 Dec. 1707, Benjamin Allen, b. 14 Oct. 1686, d. 14 Dec. 1712, and (2) 27 March 1718, Nathaniel Loomis, b. 7 March 1694/5, d. 2 Aug. 1758; ii. Nathaniel, b. 1690, d. 10 Sept. 1733, administration on whose estate was granted to his brother-in-law Nathaniel Loomis. Dorothy had two known children by her Stoughton husband: iii. [Capt.] Samuel, b. 10 Sept. 1702, d. in 1789, mar. Abial ——; and iv. Israel, d. 14 Dec. 1712.

THE KIMBERLY GENEALOGY

Compiled by Mrs. Arthur J. Trethewey of Roslindale, Mass., for James C. Kimberly of Neenah, Wis.

The name Kimmerley or Kimmerly is derived from the parish of Kimberley or Kimberly in county Norfolk, England. Various spellings of the name appear in the early English records, thus: Eustace de Kimberle, co. Norfolk, A.D. 1308 ("History of Norfolk County", p. 442); Hugh de Kymberly, Burgess of Great Yarmouth (ibid.); 1571, Robert Kymberlie and Ross Ives, marriage license in London; 1611, Baptized John, son of William Kemberley, St. James, Clarkenwell. Other spellings found are Kimersley, Kimerly, Kommerly and even Cimerly.

1. Thomas Kimberly was baptized in Wotten-sub-Edge, Gloucestershire, on 24 June 1604. He was the son of Abraham and Katherine (Howe) Kimberly, who were married 4 Oct. 1602. He was a tailor by trade and served his time in London.

Thomas Kimberly and his wife, Alice, came with the Non-Conformists to Dorchester in New England in 1636*. In 1638 the family removed to the new settlement of New Haven, Conn., where Thomas Kimberly was admitted a freeman in November 1639. He was a member of the train band in 1640 and marshal of the New Haven Colony from 1643 to 1661 and was one of the seventy proprietors.

Alice Kimberly died 10 Oct. 1659 in New Haven and Thomas Kimberly married as his second wife, Mary, daughter of Robert Seabrook of Stratford, Conn., and widow of William Preston of New Haven. She died in 1673.

In 1659 Thomas Kimberly was in Stratford and bought land there of Joseph Hawley "18–10–1663". In 1667 he was admitted a "sojourner" of Stratford and died there in 1673. His will, dated 11 January 1671–2, names his wife Mary, sons Nathaniel, Thomas, Eleazer and Abraham, daughter Abiah Boardman and her three children, Hachaliah and Joseph Preston and grandchildren: Nathaniel, Elizabeth and Mary Hayes. The inventory value of the estate was £160 16s.

Children by first wife:

2. ii. Abraham, b. in 1635.
3. iii. Nathaniel, b. in 1636.

ever, in "the County of Albemarle in the Province of Charolina", when their four younger children were born. The family returned to Connecticut and resided in Stratford, where Abraham Kimberly, Senior, died before 1680 and his widow married John Curtis. She died before 21 October 1701, as the following proves:

"John Blakeman, Senr. of Stratford, and Benjamin Hurd of Woodbury, legatees of our late mother Hannah Curtis, deceased, by virtue of marriage with our present wives, the daughters of said Hannah, conveyed 21 Oct. 1701, to brother Abraham Kimberly of Stratford, all right to dwelling house which belonged to our mother."

Children:

i. HANNAH,[3] b. 11 Jan. 1655 in New Haven.
ii. MARY, bapt. 25 July 1659 in New Haven.
iii. MARY, b. 4 May 1668 in "Albemarle, Charolina"; m. JOHN BLAKEMAN.
iv. ABIGAIL, b. in 1670 in "Albemarle, Charolina"; m. EBENEZER BLAKEMAN.
v. SARAH, b. 1 Aug. 1672 in "Albemarle, Charolina"; m. BENJ. HURD.
5. vi. ABRAHAM, b. 4 March 1674–5 in "Albemarle, Charolina".

3. NATHANIEL[2] KIMBERLY (Thomas[1]), of Stratford and West Haven, Conn., was born in 1636, died in West Haven in 1705. His wife's surname is unknown, but her Christian name was MIRIAM, for in 1668 Winthrop mentioned Miriam, wife of Nathaniel Kimberly.

In his will, which is dated 26 Oct. 1705 and proved the following November, Nathaniel Kimberly calls himself "tailor". The will names his wife, daughters Elizabeth Mallory, Sarah Blakeslee and Mary Chittenden, only son Nathaniel and granddaughter Abiah Kirby.

Children, born in New Haven:

i. SARAH,[3] m. 20 Nov. 1684 SAMUEL BLAKESLEE.
ii. ELIZABETH, m. (1) 30 Dec. 1686, in New Haven, THOMAS OR JOHN MALLORY; m. (2) BENJAMIN BARNES of Waterbury, Conn.
6. iii. NATHANIEL.
iv. ABIAH, b. 19 Jan. 1670; d. 28 April 1704 in New Haven; m. JOSEPH KIRBY.
v. MARY m. JOSEPH CHITTENDEN of Guilford.

4. ELEAZER[2] KIMBERLY (Thomas[1]), baptized 17 Nov. 1639 in New Haven, died in Glastonbury, Conn., 5 Feb. 1708–9, "about the 70th y. of his age". The inscription on his gravestone at Glastonbury, Conn., states that he was the first male child born in New Haven. He married first, about 1662, MARY ROBBINS, born 20 Jan. 1641–2, died before 1680, daughter of "Gentleman John Robbins" and his wife, Mary Wells. Her identity is established by a document filed in the distribution of the estate of John Robbins (1660), one clause reading, "Granted to Mr. Kimberly that is to match with Mary Robbins. . . ." Eleazer Kimberly married secondly, about 1680, RUTH CURTIS, died 29 Dec. 1683 in Wethersfield, two months after the birth of her daughter Mary, daughter of Thomas Curtis; and thirdly ———.

He was schoolmaster in Wethersfield in 1661 with a salary of £25 a year; this was increased in 1677 to £32 and from 1682 to 1689 he received £42.

Admitted a freeman of Wethersfield in 1677, he recorded that year "132 acres of land on east side of river". This was Lot No. 28, Naubec Farms, and was his "wife's portion", being part of the estate of John Robbins, Gentleman. Cattle ear-marks were registered to him in 1674 and he was chosen rate-maker in 1675.

Eleazer Kimberly represented Glastonbury in the General Assembly from 1696 to 1698, and he was Town Clerk from 1692 to 1708.

In 1693 he was elected Commissioner of Glastonbury and in May 1696 he was chosen to succeed John Allyn, the veteran secretary. He held the office of secretary until his death. In October 1696 he was appointed with John Allyn and Maj. James Fitch as a committee to revise the laws of the Colony. In May 1698 he received the appointment of Justice of Hartford County.

Eleazer Kimberly was one of the best penman of his time, as is attested by the town and colony records. On 20 May 1708 he recorded in the Connecticut Records (vol. III, fol. 397–9) "A list of the names of the proprietors of New Haven," containing 251 names, among them those of his brothers Thomas and Nathaniel. The record is all in his handwriting and in its mechanical execution is one of the finest original documents extant.

His will was dated 30 Jan. 1708–9 and devised his property to his son Thomas and daughters Elizabeth and Ruth. Thomas and Elizabeth were named executors with Samuel Hale and John Curtis as overseers. The inventory of his estate, dated 11 Feb. 1708–9, was made by John Kilborn and William Wickham and the inventory value was £356–04–11.

Children by first wife, born in Weathersfield:

7. i. THOMAS,[3] b. 27 or 29 Sept. 1681.
   ii. MARY, b. 29 Oct. 1683.

Children by third wife:

   iii. ELIZABETH.
   iv. RUTH, d. 4 Nov. 1711 in Glastonbury.
   v. A DAUGHTER living in 1708–9.

5. ABRAHAM[3] KIMBERLY (Abraham,[2] Thomas[1]), born "in the County of Albemarle in The Province of Charolina", 4 March 1674–5, died in Newtown, Conn., in 1727 or 1728. He married in Stratford, 11 May 1696, ABIGAIL FITCH, daughter of Thomas and Abigail (Goodrich) Fitch of Wethersfield.

In 1701 Abraham Kimberly bought the interest of his sisters in their mother's homestead; in 1706 he bought rights in Stratford from his Uncle Eleazer Kimberly of Glastonbury, and in 1706 he sold the latter property as well as land laid out to Thomas Kimberly. In 1726, when he was of Newtown, he sold land in Stratford. (See Stratford Deeds.)

Administration of the estate of Abraham Kimberly, Sr., was granted 26 July 1727 to his son Abraham and on 17 May 1742, an agreement for the division of this estate was entered into by Abraham Kimberly, Jr., John and Abigail Lake, Joseph and Sarah Prindle, Thomas and Mary Leavenworth, all of Newtown, Gideon Kimberly of Wilton, Conn., Thomas Kimberly of Woodbury, Conn., Josiah and Prudence Smith of Stratford, and John and Abiah Curtis of Woodbury.

Children, first three born in Stratford, the others in Newtown:

i. HANNAH,[4] b. 19 Jan. 1698; m. JAMES HURD.
ii. ABIGAIL, b. 25 April 1699; m. JOHN LAKE, b. in 1688, son of Thomas and Sarah (Peet) Lake.

Page 102, line 3 from bottom. Abraham[2] Kimberly was not born in Stratford that town not being settled until 1639, and his father not coming to New England until 1636. He was born in England, and probably earlier than 1635, the date given in the text.

Page 103, remove Abigail, fourth child of Abraham[2] Kimberly. The error originated in Orcutt's History of Stratford. The births of Mary, Sarah and Abraham, in Carolina, are entered in Stratford records, but no Abigail. These three were evidently the only surviving children of their mother Hannah, as witness the deed cited in the text. Ebenezer Blakeman married Abigail Curtis, not Kimberly.

Page 103. Elizabeth, second child of Nathaniel[2] Kimberly, m. John (not Thomas) Mallory. Delete date of birth of the fourth child, Abiah; the date given is actually the birth date of her brother Nathaniel's wife.

Pages 103–4. The only two known wives of Eleazer[2] Kimberly are correctly stated, and no proof has been found that he had a third wife. By the first wife there was probably a son Eleazer who died in youth. The five surviving children were probably all by the second wife, Ruth, the two recorded children, Thomas and Mary, probably being younger than the other three. The daughter Mary m. at Glastonbury, 17 June 1708, John Hubbard. The unnamed daughter was Sarah, and she m. at Wethersfield, 25 Jan. 1699/1700, John Kilborn. These two daughters and their husbands are named in records of Eleazer's estate, to be seen in print in Manwaring's Digest. The daughter Elizabeth died at Glastonbury, unmarried, in Nov. 1746, leaving a will; the abstract of this, in Manwaring's Digest, contains very serious errors, and the original should be consulted.

Page 105, children of Abraham[3] Kimberly. The daughter Sarah was bapt. at Stratford, 23 July 1704 (Stratfield Church records), and was therefore older than Gideon. An omitted child, Jedidiah, was bapt. at Stratfield, 4 July 1708, but d. young. The Newtown deed mentioned in line 3 was dated 1724, not 1726 (see Jacobus, Families of Old Fairfield, vol. 1, p. 362, from which the deed items were quoted). The husband of the eighth child, Prudence, was Josiah Smith as given in the agreement of heirs, and the name Joseph Smith in the list of children is erroneous.

Page 106. Thomas Kimberly (No. 7) served as representative from Glastonbury to the General Court at 41 sessions between 1708 and 1729, and at times held the offices of Clerk of the House and Speaker; he was also chosen Ensign of the Glastonbury company.

Page 106. Abraham Kimberly (No. 8) was hardly one of the original proprietors of Newtown, as stated, as the town was incorporated in 1711, and this Abraham was born in 1702. Transfer this statement to the account of his father. His sixth child, Fitch, did not die "there" (Newtown), but at Watertown, Conn., 31 May 1813; the wife of Fitch, Abigail Woodruff, was bapt. at Milford, Conn., 20 Aug. 1738, and died at Watertown, 12 Feb. 1827, not 1837, her age being stated as 90.

Page 107. The first wife of Zuriel Kimberly (No. 10) died 8 June 1766, not 1768; his second marriage occurred, as correctly stated, 17 Dec. 1766. The first child, Sarah, was born 16 Aug. 1731. The second child, Nathaniel, was born and bapt. 1734/5.

Page 107. Abraham Kimberly (No. 11) founded the Guilford branch of the family, and the account given of his children and grandchildren is apparently drawn to some extent from Dr. Alvan Talcott's manuscript genealogies of Guilford families, the original of which is owned by the New Haven Colony Historical Society; a photostatic copy is at the State Library, Hartford, Conn. Discrepancies of both dates and names are noted, but since Dr. Talcott's manuscript is not an original source, it is thought best to refer readers who are interested in this branch to the Talcott manuscript and to the original vital, church, probate and land records of Guilford.

Page 108. Samuel Kimberly (No. 12) did not die in 1750; he served as representative of Glastonbury at thirty sessions of the General Assembly between 1751 and 1760. He was confirmed lieutenant in 1752. His last legislative service was in October 1760; his will was dated 28 Oct. 1760 and probated 13 May 1761. His wife was Mary Talcott, and he had four children.

Page 108. John Kimberly (No. 13) was elected to twenty-one sessions of the General Assembly between 1761 and 1773, but his death occurred slightly before the Assembly met at the last session to which he had been elected. His will and other original sources show that he had thirteen children. They were mostly girls, and the only sons died young. The husband of the first child, Mary, was Samuel Gibson, not Gibbons, of Middletown and Eastbury, Conn.

Page 108, next to bottom line. The recorded date of the first marriage of Israel Kimberly was 10 Sept. 1744, and this wife, Esther Smith, died 30 Nov. 1744 aged under 16.

Page 109, line 15. For Newton, read Newtown. The date of the third marriage, in same line, was 2 Apr. 1803.

Page 111. It is doubted that David (No. 39), fourth child of Azel (No. 23), was born in Farmington.

THE KING FAMILY OF SUFFIELD, CONNECTICUT.

Communicated by EDMUND JANES CLEVELAND, Esq., of Hartford, Conn.

FROM the year 1634, or an earlier date, immigrants by the name of King have continued to arrive in America; a large number, evidently, in addition to the considerable list given by Savage, and those mentioned in the foregoing volumes of the REGISTER, and also in other publications.

1. WILLIAM[1] KING lived in Uxborough, Devonshire,* England; a fisherman. While on his last voyage, upon his business, he was cast away and drowned upon the banks of Newfoundland. This statement (made in 1796 by Alexander King, from whose genealogical notes much of the following is taken) may have been tradition, for Savage mentions: William King of the Isle of Shoals [New Hampshire and Maine, inhabited chiefly by fishermen], died May 28, 1664, leaving William.

   William[1] King, according to the above narrative, had two sons, who both came to America:

   2. i. JAMES,[2] of Ipswich, Mass., and Suffield, Conn., m. 1st, Elizabeth Emerson; 2d, widow Hannah Loomis.
   ii. WILLIAM, settled in one of the southern States; of him there is no further account.

2. JAMES[2] KING (William[1]) was born probably in England (is inferred from the above account); settled in Ipswich prior to 1672; about 1678 he came with his family to Suffield, of which town he was one of the original proprietors, his name being the 58th in the list of one hundred of the first grantees, in the order of their grants. The first grant of land made to him was in October, 1678, which lot was laid out south of the School lot, and upon which he built and lived. He dug a well that was still used 1803. Suffield (previously called Stoney River, and Southfield) was a part of Hampshire Co., Mass., until 1749. Among the names of the localities in Suffield found upon the early records is King's Hill. He was by trade a cooper. He died at Suffield, May 13, 1722, leaving a large landed estate. He married 1st, Elizabeth Emerson, who descended from a respectable family in England. She reared her daughters in habits of industry, and in making lace. Her mother was by Queen Elizabeth presented a piece of linen, afterwards a carefully preserved heirloom, and given to her daughter Agnes. She died January 30, 1715. He married 2d, February 27, 1716, widow Hannah Loomis. By his 1st marriage he had children:

   3. i. JAMES,[3] b. at Ipswich, March 14, 1675; m. Elizabeth Huxley.
   ii. WILLIAM, b. at Suffield, Jan. 4, 1679: d. Sept. 30, 1680.

* Devonshire was apparently the seat of a large King family. Burke's General Armory blazons 38 King and 15 Kinge arms. KING (Devonshire, and Towcaster co. Northampton). Sable, a lion rampant between three crosses crosslet or, ducally crowned argent.

AGNES, b. at Suffield, July 15, 1681 [Savage mentions "Annis b. 1681"*]; d. at Suffield, Jan. 7, 1732–3; m. at Suffield, Oct. 5, 1699, as first wife, John Austin, b. at Rowley, Mass., Oct. 22, 1672, d. at Suffield, May 18, 1737, a son of Captain Anthony and Esther. He married, June 23, 1698, Elizabeth Huxley, who died August 20, 1745, daughter of Thomas Huxley of Hartford, Conn., and Suffield, by his first wife, Sarah Spencer, daughter of Sergt. Thomas Spencer (brother of Jared and John) of Cambridge and Hartford, by his second wife, Sarah[2] (Nathaniel[1]) Bearding. Their children were:

4. Capt. JOSEPH[3] KING (James,[2] William[1]) was born at Suffield, May 10, 1689; died March 6, 1756; was captain of a military company, and much occupied in public business. He married 1st, at Hartford, May 2, 1717, Mrs. Mary (Wilson) Jesse of Hartford, who died September 11, 1737, widow of David Jesse, and evidently sister of Nathaniel Wilson† and daughter of Phineas Wilson from Dublin, KINGSLEY (ante, p. 215).—It is probable that the John Kingsley who married in Windham, Conn., Feb. 19, 1755, Mary Burnap, was the son of Amos and Ruth (Adams) Kingsley, of Windham, who were married Jan. 12, 1723, and had ten children as follows: 1, Amos; 2, Isaiah, b. June 11, 1725; 3, Nathaniel, b. 1726; 4, JOHN; 5, Samuel; 6, Joseph; 7, Eliza; 8, Alice; 9, Abiah; 10, Ruth.

John,[1] of Dorchester, Mass. and Taunton, Mass. He was in Dorchester in 1635, and he died in Rehoboth, Mass. His wife's name is not known. He was NOT John Kingsley of Milton, whose wife was a Daniels, though often confused with said John of Milton.

THE KIRTLAND OR KIRKLAND FAMILY.

By V. C. Sanborn, of La Grange, Ill.

Although from time to time many facts have come to light as to the origin of the Kirkland family, no published collection of these facts exists. The four principal sources of information about this family are:

1. Dr. Lothrop's Memoir of Rev. Samuel Kirkland, in Sparks's "Library of American Biography."
2. Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary."
3. Mr. F. W. Chapman's "Kirtland Family" (Register, Vol. xiv.), * and his published "Pratt Genealogy."
4. Lewis and Newhall's "History of Lynn."

Dr. Lothrop's account was the earliest, forming a basis for future researches; and as his account has been very generally accepted, it seems advisable to quote it here, in order, by the genealogy given later, to emphasize the corrections which have been made by discoveries subsequent to 1845, when Dr. Lothrop published his memoir. He says:

"The Kirkland family, as the name shows, is of Scotch descent. In this country it may be traced back to Saybrook, Ct., in 1635. Among the 36 heads of families who were the early settlers of that place, the name of John Kirkland appears, who is said to have come from Silver St., London. He had a son John, who was the father of ten children, of whom Rev. Daniel Kirkland was the youngest but one, and born in 1701."

In fact, John Kirtland was not one of the early settlers of Saybrook, for he did not move there till 1672, nor have I been able to find any authority for the statement that he came from Silver St., London. Mr. Chapman, I believe, discovered in the Saybrook records the connection between John Kirtland of Saybrook and Nathaniel of Lynn; and Mr. S. G. Drake published in his "Founders of New England" (Register, Vol. xiv.) the sailing list of the Hopewell in 1635, with names of the brothers Philip and Nathaniel Kirtland as passengers. Lewis and Newhall's "History of Lynn" gives much fragmentary information about Philip and Nathaniel; and Savage supplements this with many dates and facts. But an essential link in the Lynn records seems to have been overlooked by these authors, namely, that in 1638, when Philip and Nathaniel were but 24 and 22 years of age respectively, there were two Philip Kirtlands in Lynn. This point establishes a connection between the American settlers and a certain John Kirtland of Buckinghamshire, whose will I quote hereafter.

Before tabulating the early generations, let me say a word as to the family name. All the records show that the name of our family was spelled "Kirtland," "Kyrtland" or "Kertland" from 1616 to 1773, both in this country and in England. On what authority rests the present spelling, I cannot say; Dr. Lothrop thought that the family was of Scotch descent; and probably the change from Kirtland to Kirkland, as a supposed original spelling, was made about 1780 by Rev. Samuel Kirkland, and soon after was adopted by his connections. His brother Joseph, writing in 1773 to another brother, John, announcing the death of their father, Rev. Daniel Kirtland, signs his name and directs his letter "Kirtland." This letter is now in the possession of Major Kirkland of Chicago.

The name "Kirtland" is not to be found in English records or pedigrees, so far as I have been able to ascertain. In Essex, in the 13th century, Peter de Kirteling appears as the witness to a grant of land; but no further mention of the name occurs. No family of that name registered its pedigree at the Herald's Visitations of Buckinghamshire or elsewhere. "Kirtland" may be derived from "Curtland" (meaning lack-land), and Burke's "General Amory" describes the arms of Curtland (no location given) as, Or, three cinquefoils pierced gules. The name "Kirkland," however, is an old English name; the family being situated principally in Cumberland, and the "General Armory" gives the coat of—"KIRKLAND": (Kirkland, County Lancaster, Brampton, County Derby; founded by Gamel, Lord of Kirkland, County Derby, and Eastbourne, County Sussex, temp. William I.) Sable, three mullets argent within a bordure engrailed or, quartering KIRKLAND (ancient) Sable, three mullets argent."

A clue to the origin of the American family is furnished by the will of John Kirtland of Newport-Pagnell, Bucks., England, dated 1616. Mr. H. F. Waters printed this will in the REGISTER, Vol. xli., page 60, and I quote his abstract:

"John Kirtland of Tickford in the parish of Newport-Pagnell, County Bucks., Gentleman, 12 Dec, 1616, proved 1 Aug. 1617. To son Nathaniel all that part of my dwelling house in Tickford wherein I now inhabit, sometime called by the name of Emberton's,* adjoining to the tenement in tenure of William Conigham and to the house and ground of me the said John Kirtland, sometime Thomas Horton's. Legacies to Mary Kirtland my now wife, sons Francis and Joseph Kirtland and daughters Abigail, Susanna and Mary Kirtland. To my eldest son John Kirtland the house or tenement sometime Thomas Horton's (next the above) and adjoining a tenement of heirs of William Barton deceased. Wife Mary and her five children as above. To godson John Kirtland, son of my brother Philip Kirtland, 14s 4d, and to the rest of the children of the said Philip 2s 6d each to be paid unto the said Philip for their use. To the children of my brother Fras. Kirtland 2s 6d apiece. To Francis Foster clerk 10s. Wife Mary to be executrix, friends Geo. Hull and Jno. Horley of Newport-Pagnell to be overseers.

* "Paganus de Emberton, of Tykford Priory, Bucks., 1187," Dugdale's "Monasticon."

From the above it will be seen that the American Kirtland family starts with:—

1. (JOHN[1] ?) KIRTLAND,—of whom we know only (from his son John's will) that he had,—

   2. i. JOHN,[2] born about 1580.
   3. ii. PHILIP, born about 1585.
   iii. FRANCIS, born about 1590, married and had children.

2. JOHN[2] KIRTLAND (John?[1]) of Tickford in the parish of Newport-Pagnell, Bucks., "Gentleman"; his will quoted above, names the following children:

   i. JOHN.[3]
   ii. NATHANIEL.[3]
   iii. FRANCIS.[3]
   iv. JOSEPH.[3]
   v. ABIGAIL.[3]
   vi. SUSANNA.[3]
   vii. MARY.[3]

3. PHILIP[2] KYRTLAND or KERTLAND (John?[1]) probably of Sherrington, Bucks., witness to his brother John's will in 1616, mentioned in that will as having son John and other children. No record of his taking passage for New England. Lewis says Philip Kertland, first shoemaker of Lynn, Mass., came there in 1635. This may have been Philip[2] the father or Philip[3] his son; the latter we know came over in 1635. Probably Lewis confused the two, as have others. The first definite record of Philip Kertland Senior is in 1638, when 10 acres in Lynn were granted to "Philip Kertland Senior" and 10 acres to "Philip Kertland Junior." (Lewis & Newhall). In 1643 the father's signature appears on Goody Armitage's petition, a facsimile of the signatures being given in the REGISTER for January 1879, page 61. (This may have been the signature of son Philip, but I think he was then on Long Island.) Children of Philip[2] by wife unknown,—

   1. JOHN[3], born 1607, mentioned by name in his godfather and uncle John's will, 1616. In 1659 he made deposition as to his brother Philip's estate. Residence unknown; perhaps at Saybrook, where lived his sister Susanna Wastall, who in 1683 gave to her "childless brother John" a small house and lot in Saybrook. Perhaps also this is the John who was supposed by Dr. Lothrop to have been the father of John[4]. No record is found of his death.
   4. ii. PHILIP[3], born 1614.
   5. iii. NATHANIEL,[3] born 1616.
   iv. SUSANNA,[3] birth unknown, married John Wastall or Westall of Wethersfield. He was a Deputy there in 1643, Goodwin says, and moved to Saybrook in 1653, says Savage; selectman in Saybrook, a prominent man there, and allowed to keep an Inn in 1663. He died in 1683, and left a good estate to adopted son John[4] Kertland. Susanna Wastall died 1684.

4. PHILIP[3] KYRTLAND or KERTLAND (Philip,[2] John?[1]), born in 1614, was too young to be mentioned by name in his uncle John's will in 1616; he was one of the other "children of brother Philip" there mentioned. His earliest definite record is on the sailing list of the ship Hopewell from London April 1, 1635,—"Philip Kyrtland, from Sherrington in Bucks., aged 21; Nathaniel Kyrtland from Sherrington in Bucks, aged 19." (See under Philip[2] for possible items about him in Lynn records.) In 1638 was granted 10 acres by town of Lynn. In 1640, he and his brother Nathaniel,[3] with many other Lynn people, settled on Long Island, but Philip[3] must soon have returned to Lynn, from the dates of his children's births on the Lynn records. In 1652 he bought from Nathaniel Tyler his house and lands in Lynn. Philip[3] died before 1659, for we find in Salem Court Files July 17th, 1659, the following:

"Deposition of John Kirtland, aged about 52. I often heard my brother Phylip say oft times that his wife should have all hee had to dispose of so long as she live; and to my best rememberance hee gave £15 to his dafter Mary and £10 to his dafter Sara, £10 to his dafter Susanna and £10 to his dafter Hanna, this to be giuen to them at ye day of marriag, the land not to be sould so long as she liues."

William Harcher of Lynn, aged about 65, stated that when Philip Kertland was going to sea he told him substantially as above. On October 14th, 1659, Evan Thomas (a vintner who came to Boston from Wales, with wife Jane and four children, in 1640), announces his intention of marrying the widow Alice Kertland of Lynn; and he made convevance of estate in trust for her children April 24, 1661. By wife Alice, Philip Kertland had the following children, all born in Lynn:

i. Mary[4], born June 3, 1640.
ii. Sarah[4], born September 27, 1646, married John Davis, October 5, 1664.
iii. Susanna[4], born March 8, 1652.
iv. Hannah[4], } twins, born June 12, 1654.
v. Ebenezer[4], }

5. Nathaniel[3] Kyrtland or Kertland (Philip,[2] John?[1]), born in 1616. He was an infant (or perhaps unborn) at the date of his uncle John's will. Came over with his brother Philip[3] on the Hopewell and settled in Lynn. Not named in the division of land in Lynn, 1638; in that year was defendant in law suit brought by Isaack Disberowe (Register, 1887, page 361). Went to Long Island with his brother Philip, and, Savage says, staid there some years, marrying Parnell ——— and settling in Southold, L. I. Returned to Lynn before 1658, was selectman there 1678, and died there in 1686 (Lewis & Newhall). Savage gives the following children:

6. i. Nathaniel,[4] born at Southold, L. I.
ii. Philip[4] (perhaps a son of Philip[3]), probably born on Long Island. Married Ruth Pierce (Query: daughter of Capt. Michael Pierce?) October 14, 1677. Was a soldier in King Philip's war, at Hadley, credited from Lynn, April 6, 1676 (Register, 1887, page 79). In 1685 with other Lynn ex-soldiers, petitioned for a tract of land in the Nipmugg Country, on account of services in the late wars.
iii. Ann[4], born in Lynn April 16, 1658.
7. iv. John[4], born in Lynn, August, 1659.
v. Hannah[4], born in Lynn, April 15, 1662.
vi. Elizabeth[4], born in Lynn, March 20, 1664, married William[2] Pratt of Saybrook, son of Lieut. William Pratt.
vii. Mary[4], } twins, born in Lynn, May 15, 1667.
viii. Martha[4], }

6. Nathaniel[4] Kertland or Kyrtland (Nathaniel,[3] Philip,[2] John?[1]). Fined at Lynn in 1667, with two others for "Prophaining ye Lord's Day by going to William Crafts' house and drinkeing of his Sider and Rosteing of his aples without his or his wife's consent" (Lewis & Newhall). Was a soldier in King Philip's War, credited to Capt.

Manning in 1676 (REGISTER, 1888, page 95). Married Mary Rand (probably daughter of Robert of Lynn), who survived him, and in 1690 married Dr. John Henry Burchsted of Lynn (Lewis & Newhall). Children were:

i. NATHANIEL[5] born May 3, 1677.
ii. MARY[5], born Feb'y 1, 1680.
iii. PRISCILLA[5], born April 9, 1683.
iv. ELIZABETH[5], born June 22, 1685.

7. LIEUT. JOHN[4] KERTLAND or KIRTLAND (Nathaniel,[3] Philip,[2] John?[1]), adopted in minority by his aunt Susanna[3] (Kertland) Wastall. Mr. Chapman in his Pratt Genealogy quotes Saybrook Records, Vol. 1, page 78, year 1672:

"This agreement, between Mr. John Wastall of Saybrook and Mr. Nathaniel Cortland (sic) of Linne in Mattachewsetts. . . Ye said Cortland doth resign up his sonne John to ye disposal of ye said Wastall and his wife Susanna. . . . The said Wastall both promise that ye said John Cortland shall succeed in ye estate of ye said Wastall."

John Kertland married Nov. 18th, 1679, Lydia, daughter of Lieut. Wm. Pratt, an early and influential settler of Saybrook, and upon the death of Mr. and Mrs. Wastall succeeded to a good estate left by them. John Kirtland was somewhat prominent in local affairs, and was appointed Lieutenant of the fort at Saybrook in 1702 and again in 1708. (Colonial Records of Ct., Vols. 4 & 5). He died January 20, 1716, having had the following children:

i. JOHN,[5] born July 11, 1681, married 1st, Temperance Buckingham; 2d, Lydia Belden.
ii. PRISCILLA, born February 1, 1683, married Thos. Jones.
iii. LYDIA, born October 11, 1685, married 1st, Mr. Griffin; 2d, ——— Conklin.
iv. ELIZABETH, born Jan'y 27, 1688, married John Chapman.
v. NATHANIEL, born Oct. 24, 1690, married 1st, Sara Chapman; 2d, Phœbe De Wolf.
vi. PHILIP, born May 28, 1693.
vii. MARTHA, born August 11, 1695, married Rev. H. Wills.
viii. SAMUEL, born Jan'y 19, 1699, married Martha Whittlesey.
ix. REV. DANIEL, born June 17, 1701 (Yale 1720), ordained first pastor of Newent church at Norwich, Ct., 1721, married July 15, 1723, Mary Perkins, probably daughter of Jabez Perkins and Hannah (Lothrop), and had five sons and seven daughters, among them Rev. Sam'l Kirkland, Missionary to the Oneidas, and father of President John Thornton Kirkland of Harvard University.
x. PARNELL, born October 16, 1704, married John Tully.

Mr. F. W. Chapman's "Kirtland Family" (REGISTER, Vol. xiv.),* to which I have alluded, gives the family record of John[4] Kirtland, from the point reached above, for several generations; and so this article is merely intended to present a record of the first three generations in this country, and to call attention to their English connection.

The will of John Kirtland, which Mr. Waters discovered and printed (REGISTER, Vol. 41, p. 60) is valuable in the proof it furnishes as to the location of the family in England; and it is to be hoped that further research will be made to trace the pedigree of the English Kirtlands or Kirklands.

Both Sherrington and Newport Pagnell are towns in the northern part of Buckinghamshire, within a few miles of each other.

MEMOIR OF COL. THOMAS KNOWLTON, WITH A GENEALOGY OF THE KNOWLTON FAMILY.

[By Ashbel Woodward, M. D., of Franklin, Conn.]

Were you to make inquiries among the people of New England generally concerning their ancestry, in nine cases out of ten they would tell you that they were descended from one of three brothers who came over from Old England about the year 16—; and in nine times out of ten they would be wrong. But it so happens in the Knowlton family that three brothers did actually come to New England and settle in Ipswich; John[1], William[1], and Dea. Thomas;[1] for both John[1] and Thomas[1] call William[1] their brother; evidence of the most satisfactory character.

The second brother, William[1] Knowlton, was a bricklayer. He married Elizabeth ———. He died in 1654 or 5. The inventory of his estate, taken July 17, 1655, was £37 2s. 1d. His debts were £27 14s. 1. We have his descendants for several generations, but it is not our present purpose to include his branch of the family in this brief sketch.

The third brother, Dea. Thomas[1] Knowlton, was born in 1622. He m. first, Susanna ———. His second wife was Mary Kimball, to whom he was m. May 17, 1682. It does not appear that he had children.

On the 19th of Nov. 1678, Dea. Thomas[1] thus writes: "I gave a coat to brother William, and his two boys I keept to scool from the age of 5 to 8 years, and a girl from the age of one & a half years till she was married." He died April 3, 1692, aged 70 years.

(1) JOHN,[1] though the last to be noticed, was the eldest of the three brothers. He took the freeman's oath in 1641, was in Ipswich in 1641 perhaps, or earlier. He made his will Nov. 29, 1653. He m. Margery ———, and had John,[2] Abraham,[2] and Elizabeth.[2]

* The memorable battle in which Gen. Lyon lost his life was fought near Springfield, Missouri, August 10th, last. He engaged the enemy at immense odds, having but 5500 men, while the rebels Price and McCullough had 21,000; yet, with his few brave men, he so cut the enemy to pieces that they were forced to retreat. He was shot dead at the head of his column, early in the day, but Gen. Siegel and Maj. Sturgis conducted the battle, and secured a retreat, capturing many prisoners. Gen. Lyon knew he attacked at great risk, but he knew the enemy were immediately to be reinforced, and he decided to fight him before he was stronger. The slaughter of the rebels was very great, but the extent is not known. We lost some 200 of our men. As yet, it is the hardest battle of the war, unless that of Lexington be greater, the facts of which have not yet reached us.

KNOWLTON.—On pages 344-346 of this magazine for October, 1861, Volume * 15, there is given a Genealogical Table of the Knowlton Family by Ashbel Woodward, M.D., in which several omissions and errors appear. THE ANCESTRY OF ANNA KNOWLTON

Anna Knowlton of Preston, Conn., married Jabez[3] Fitch (Samuel,[2] Rev. James[1]) of Norwich, Conn., 1 April 1719.

The "Brewster Genealogy" says Anna was the daughter of Joseph Knowlton. Miss Mary Perkins, in "Old Houses of ye Ancient Town of Norwich", says Anna was probably a daughter of Thomas Knowlton. There were several Joseph and Thomas Knowltons of the right age to be the father of Anna and at least one of each was living in or near Norwich, shortly before Anna's marriage.

But no vital record or Bible record has been found giving Anna's place or date of birth. The "Brewster Genealogy" says Anna died 25 Aug. 1778, "in ye 81st year of her age"; so she was born in 1698.

Despite this lack of a positive record of birth, it has been possible, through the suggestion of Mrs. B. L. Benn, and largely through careful, persistent research through countless probate and land records, through deeds and wills in Salem and Boston, Mass.; in Providence, Scituate, and Glocester, R. I.; in Hartford, Norwich, Preston, and Ashford, Conn., to assemble seven separate pieces of circumstantial evidence (or lack of evidence) which together make such a strong case that there can no longer be any reasonable doubt as to the identity of Anna's ancestors. They are Joseph[2] Knowlton (William[1]) who married in Ipswich, Mass., 14 Aug. 1677, Mary[3] Wilson (Thomas,[2] Theophilus[1]).

The evidence follows:

(1) Anna (Knowlton) Fitch named her first child, Elisha. There had been only one Elisha in either the Fitch or Knowlton family prior to this, namely, Justice Elisha Knowlton, of Providence, son of Joseph,[2] and now seen to be Anna's brother, as will appear.

(2) Anna's son, Jabez[4] Fitch, Jr., named one of his children Theophilus Wilson Fitch. Note that Mary[3] Wilson, wife of Joseph[2] Knowlton above, was a grand-daughter of Theophilus Wilson.

(1) and (2) indicate clearly that Anna must have been closely related to Mary Wilson. This eliminates the possibility of any Thomas Knowlton being Anna's father and narrows the search to Joseph[2] or his son, Joseph[3].

(3) Joseph,[3] born in 1681, would have been only seventeen when Anna was born in 1698.

(4) The only record of any wife of Joseph[3] Knowlton appears in Rhode Island Law Cases, vol. 10, pp. 6–10, where "Deborah Knolton of Newport, widow and admin. of Joseph Knolton, house carpenter", sued John Coddington, 21 March 1739, re a bond, dated in 1736, which he had given to Joseph Knolton and on which Joseph had signed for receipt of sums of money in 1737. This shows that Joseph[3] died between September 1737 and March 1739.

Joseph[3] Knowlton was in Newport, R. I., as early as 1709, and was "of Newport" in 1729, when he was employed by Capt. Godfrey Malbone and made a deposition (Rhode Island Law Cases, vol. 2, p. 2). He was employed by a committee to build Block Island pier in 1735, and when the construction was discontinued he petitioned the General Assembly (ibid., vol. 3, p. 52) for a refund of 200 pounds which was granted on 17 Aug. 1735. He was known to have also resided in Providence and Glocester, R. I., and several of his deeds in Newport were dated from June 1713 to August 1728.

"Deborah Knowlton, wife of Joseph, died Sept. 20, 1744, aged 67". Her tombstone was found, inscribed as above, in the Common Ground Cemetery, in Newport.

Joseph's daughter, Mary, was married in 1734 to William Hagan (or Haggen).

Joseph[2] had died prior to 16 March 1722/3 as evidenced by the following:

Essex Deeds, 50:8—Claim dated 16 March 1723 of Joseph Knowlton of Newport, R. I., son and heir of Joseph Knowlton, deceased, formerly of Ipswich, Essex Co., N.E.———I, Joseph Knowlton, house carpenter, by right which was my great grand fathers, Theophilus Wilson, late of Ipswich . . . etc Witnessed 18 March 1722/3; received for record 15 Dec. 1727.

(5) The search for Lucy Whipple, suggested by the Rev. Mr. Stocking as a possible wife of Joseph,[3] was fruitless. Although a careful search was made in Salem, Mass., and in Rhode Island, no one of that name and of the proper age was found in either the Ipswich or the Providence Whipple family.

So 3, 4, and 5 leave Joseph[3] as a possible very young father of Anna, but a very doubtful one.

(6) Anna's presence in Norwich and Preston before her marriage made it seem doubtful that she was a daughter of Joseph and Mary, largely because it was believed that they had removed from Ipswich to Wenham, Mass., and died there. But this was found in Salem records. . . .

Essex Bk 58:77 I, Mary Knowlton of Providence, R. I., relict of Joseph Knowlton, deceased———[concerning money] "which came from my grand father, Theophilus Wilson." This was signed 11 Oct. 1730, by Mary Knowlton, Colony of R. I.

It was found that Joseph[2] had sold some of his property in 1684 and 1696, prior to the birth of Anna, and the two deeds which follow apparently ended any further ownership in Ipswich.

Essex Deeds, 15:184: On 9 June 1703, a deed was signed by Joseph Knowlton, Sr., of Ipswich and Mary W(ilson) Knowlton and witnessed by "Jane Wil/son, relict, widow of Thomas Wilson late deceased". Thomas and Jane were the parents of Mary Wilson.

Essex Deeds, 21:53: On 22 March 1708/9, Joseph and Mary Knowlton signed a deed and Jane Willson also signed and was mentioned as "honored mother".

It will be seen from Essex Deed, 50:8, quoted above, that Joseph[2] had died before 18 March 1722/3. From Mary Knowlton's deposition above, we see that she was residing in 1730 in Providence, perhaps with or near her son, Elisha; and it is reasonable to assume that Anna had come to Connecticut or Rhode Island with her father and mother.

We know there were Knowlton cousins in Norwich, and Providence would not be too far away for cousins to visit.

Further investigation may, however, place all three, Joseph,[2] his wife Mary, and daughter Anna, as residents of Preston, Conn., for a few years prior to Anna's marriage in 1719.

A Joseph Knowlton was accidentally killed in Norwich in 1718. He may have been Anna's father.

The Rev. Mr. Stocking wrote that the Joseph so killed was the son of Benjamin Knowlton of Springfield. But there were many land records signed or witnessed by a Joseph Knowlton of Springfield from 1715/16 to 1734 (Springfield Deeds, Books C 179, D 172, D 563 . . . . G 394, et al.). As yet the writer has found no other Joseph "of Springfield" at that time; so there is little doubt that the man who was killed was some other Joseph Knowlton.

The "Brewster Genealogy" records the marriage of Jabez Fitch to "Anna, daughter of Joseph Knowlton of Preston, Conn": and Preston and Norwich were so near that it would not be at all strange for a man from Preston to have an accident in Norwich.

(7) Jabez[4] Fitch kept a diary for forty years. It is printed in Mayflower Descendant. See particularly, volume 1, page 39, for Sept. 4th to 9th, 1755.

Jabez had travelled from Norwich to Stonington, thence to Scituate, R. I. On the fourth he "went to Uncle Knowlton's. Ye fifth I went to Squire Brown's—Sunday, ye 7th, I came back to my uncle's—Ye 8th went to hunt bairs with Cozen Thos. Ye 9th. I set out to come home".

This could mean only that Anna must have had a brother who had a son, Thomas, or that someone other than a real uncle, was so called.

The Rev. Mr. Stocking gives us a list, seemingly complete, of eight children of Elisha Knowlton, but no Thomas is included. Elisha had a brother, Daniel, but he is supposed to have died childless. If the remaining brother, Joseph[3], had a son Thomas, no record of him has been found.

So all the towns mentioned above were searched for probate and land records and it was found that Elisha removed from Providence to Glocester, had many land transactions there, and finally, in 1745, sold his homestead and removed to Scituate. He was living there in 1755 when Jabez Fitch, Jr., came avisiting. Elisha had a grown son, Thomas, there with whom to go hunting bears, and there were two more previously unrecorded daughters, Keziah and Lydia.

See the following for authority:

Scituate, R. I.—Probate Book 1, page 401: Will of Thomas Knowlton, late of Scituate, yeoman; presented 13 Feb. 1759, — mentions "honored father, Elisha Knowlton, who in his lifetime had not given so much to my two sisters, Keziah Knowlton and Lydia Wheaton — other sisters (another copy of the will on page 414 reads 'sister') and my beloved wife, Lydia (now pregnant), my daughters, Susanna, Mary, and Lydia, and that child" to be.

In Providence Land Records, Elisha appears in nineteen transactions, beginning as Grantee, 13 March 1713/14, and appearing lastly as Grantor 25 May 1734. About 1728, he begins to be called Elisha Knowlton of Glocester (see Book 71:9), where he appears in seven land transactions.

He signed a deed as Town Clerk in Glocester, 4 March 1731/2; see Book 1:36.

As early as 1738, he and Ruth Place were witnesses together; see Book 67:163. In 1740, Elisha and son, Thomas, were jointly witnessing deeds; see Book 71:24/25.

Elisha's wife Lydia appears to have died between 1737 and 1741; and on 16 Feb. 1742, Elisha and Ruth Place were married by Richard Steere, Justice.

In Book 69:11 Glocester Land Evidence, 2:p 52, we find that on 4 Dec. 1743, the signatures are now Elisha and Ruth Knowlton.

The Annals of Providence—649 lists Thomas, Keziah, and Lydia as children of Elisha and Lydia Knowlton, and says Thomas married Lydia Tourtellotte.

Keziah was a witness to the signing of one of Elisha's deeds in 1734/5 (Glocester Deeds Book 1: p 181). Note in her brother's will above that Keziah had not married, but that Lydia had apparently married ——— Wheaton.

Book 2:124—On 20 Nov. 1745, Elisha and Ruth Knowlton of Glocester sell "my homestead farm on which I now dwell—Township of Glocester, R. I.", and there is mention of "Ruth, wife of said Elisha".

Book 4, page 61, Scituate Deeds — Elisha Knowlton mentions "my son Thomas Knowlton of Scituate".

Book 6, page 25 — Glocester Deeds — Thomas Knowlton of Scituate refers to "my honored father, Elisha", and signs a receipt on the 12 April 1756.

Book 1, page 215 — Scituate R. I., Probates — Thomas Knowlton who had been appointed guardian of the estate of his father Elisha, became "not capable of taking care of himself — nor yet of his father's" so on 7 Dec. 1752, a guardian was appointed; but from Book 1:219 we find Thomas recovered and again appointed 7 July 1753, but Elisha is still unable to care for his estate.

Book 1: page 399 — Elisha Knowlton died intestate, 20 Oct. 1757, and Ruth Knowlton, widow of said Elisha, was appointed Adminx 5 March 1759.

Scituate V.R., Vol. 3, Thomas Knowlton was called "Elder" and performed several marriages, 1756 to 1764.

These records leave no doubt that Anna had a brother, Elisha, living, not far from Norwich, Conn., in Glocester and later in Scituate, R. I., and they therefore establish her identity as the daughter of Joseph[2] and Mary (Wilson) Knowlton.

LAMBERT.—Miss Annie C. Miller of Roxbury owns a very old and imperfect primer, or catechism, on which appears the words: "Jesse Lambert brought from England in 1680. Milford, Conn." The handwriting is of the Colonial period. This confirms Savage's statement that Lambert was of Milford in the year mentioned. C. K. BOLTON.

LARKHAM. — BRUEN. — PERCIVAL. — Thomas Larkham, Pastor of the church of Northam, in Piscataquake—have an adventure or stocke in the Patents or Plantation at Pascataquake sold by one Obadiah Brewen, of Cape Anne, Alias Glocester in New England, to the proper vse of me, my executors, &c.—which was sold said Bruen by Richard Percivall, now or heretofore of Shrewsbury, in Old England, as appears by a writting of sale drawn by Richard Percivall, bearing date 22 Oct., 1635.

[The above is an abstract of a document, dated Sept. 13, 1642, to be found in the Massachusetts Archives. Northam is now Dover, in New Hampshire. Thomas Larkham, the successor of Hanserd Knollys, and the fourth minister there, born in Lyme, Eng., May 2, 1601, was a grad. of Jesus' College, Cambridge, and had been settled at Northam, Eng., prior to coming to this country. His ministry at Dover ended in 1642, and he returned to England, where he died in 1669. He was succeeded at Dover by Rev. Daniel Maud, a former schoolmaster in Boston.

Obadiah Bruen, youngest son of John Bruen of Bruen Stapleford, county of Chester, Eng., bap. Dec. 22, 1606, came to Plymouth with Rev. Richard Blynman—went afterward to Gloucester—was made freeman in 1642; clerk of the writs, and commissioner to end small causes, in 1643; was selectman and representative—went to New London, 1650, and was there recorder many years, and one of the patentees of the Colony of Connecticut. He emigrated to Newark, N. J., in company with about fifty families, and bought the place of the Indians in 1667. He had a wife, Sarah, and two children born in Gloucester; Hannah, in 1643, and John, in 1646. Rev. Matthias Bruen born in Newark, April 11, 1793, who was a noted minister in New York City, and died there Sept. 6, 1829, was of this family. A memoir of Rev. Mr. Bruen was published, anonymously, in 1831. There is a notice of him in Sprague's Annals of the American Pulpit, Vol. iv. pp. 543—548. See Babson's History of Gloucester, pages 65 and 66. A notice of Obadiah Bruen, the ancestor, with a fac-simile of his autograph, may be found in Caulkins's History of New London, pages 155, 156, 141. His "Life" was originally published in 1641, again in 1799, and reprinted in New York in 1857, with a portrait. To the last edition is added a preface of 4 pages and a folding tabular pedigree of Bruen of Stapleford. See Whitmore's Handbook of American Genealogy.]

THE DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT LAY OF SAYBROOK, CONN.

By Edwin A. Hill, Ph.D., of Washington, D. C.

The account of the Lay family given in the Salisbury Family Histories and Genealogies, relates almost wholly to the descendants of the first John Lay of Saybrook, and the authors, in their text, Vol. I., page 333, as also in the Lay Pedigree Chart, No. VII., given in the Supplement to Vol. III, place Robert[3] Lay, the Westbrook tavern keeper, husband of Mary Grinnell, as the son of John[2] and Sarah (Marvin) Lay, and grandson of John[1] Lay by his second wife Abigail; but the matter is presented in such a way as to plainly indicate a doubt as to the accuracy of the line. In fact, John[2] Lay, husband of Sarah Marvin, was born in 1670, and would have been only eleven years old at the birth, in 1681, of his reputed son Robert,[3] and the line is unquestionably wrong, as has been often noted. In 1895, I obtained from Miss E. E. Lay of Guilford, Conn. (No. 22-vii of this genealogy), a manuscript upon the descendants of Robert[1] Lay, the joint compilation of herself and her nephew the Rev. E. C. Starr of Cornwall, Conn. (No. 44-i of this genealogy), which was based upon family records, and various conversations had by herself (born 1828) with her great uncle James Lay (No. 13), a brother of her grandfather Col. Asa Lay (No. 14), of the Revolutionary army, one of the individuals referred to in Prof. Murdock's account as quoted in the Salisbury genealogies, her father Steuben Lay (No. 22), and her own brothers and sisters. This document I then copied in part, and upon it this genealogy is to some extent based. This partial copy, with notations made by myself, I shall file in manuscript in the library of this Society, and it will contain considerable biographical matter which cannot here be published for lack of space.

1. Robert[1] Lay was the first of a line of at least eight successive individuals of the name, in lineal descent. The surmise of Savage, that he was a brother of Edward of Hartford, Saybrook, and Portsmouth, R. I., and of John of Saybrook and Lyme, is confirmed by many family traditions. He was born about 1617, and died July 9, 1689, aged 72, the gravestone being still extant in Essex, Conn., cemetery.

He married, Dec., 1647 (Lay MSS. and Saybrook Records, I-143), Sarah Fenner, widow of John Tully, who died in England in 1644–5. She came to America in 1646–7, with son John, who was baptized in 1638, and a younger daughter, and in the company of her brothers Arthur and William, and died May 25, 1676, aged 59. Her son, the ancestor of the Tully family of Saybrook, was a noted teacher of mathematics and navigation, and a compiler of almanacs. The will of William Fenner, proved at Newport, R. I., Sept. 6, 1680, names his brothers Arthur and John, his "late sister Lay" and her two surviving children, and his sister Phebe Ward.

Robert[1] Lay was of Lynn, Mass., in 1638, and came to Saybrook in 1649. He lived in the present town of Essex (formerly a part of Old Saybrook), on the north side of what is now the street on Essex Point, leading to the steamboat dock. He was a freeman, May 21, 1657 (Col. Rec., I–297), and "desired," May 17, 1660, "to take care of any of the estate of Mr. Fenwick, y^t^ is subject to loss and damage" (Col. Rec., I–535); a deputy to the General Court, 1666 and 1678, and a large land owner, being one of the patentees of Saybrook, and owning land both near Essex Point and in the "Oyster River Quarter" (now Westbrook).

There is recorded in Saybrook Records an agreement between Capt. George Denison and wife Ann, of the one part, and Mr. Robert Lay of Saybrook, of the other part, providing for the marriage of their children John Denison and Phebe Lay.

Children:

i. PHEBE,[2] b. 5 Jan., 1651; d. 1699; m. 26 Nov., 1667, John, son of Capt. George and Ann (Borodell) Denison of Stonington. (See Denison Genealogy, and Hist. of Stonington, Conn., page 389 et seq.) Children: 1. Phebe, b. 1667; d. young. 2. John, b. 1 Jan., 1669. 3. George, b. 28 Mch., 1671. 4. Robert, b. 17 Sept., 1673. 5. William, b. 7 Apr., 1677. 6. Daniel, b. 28 Mch., 1680. 7. Samuel, b. 23 Feb., 1683; d. young. 8. Ann, b. 3 Oct., 1684. 9. Sarah, b. 29 July, 1692. 10. Phebe, b. probably between 1684 and 1692.

2. ii. ROBERT, b. 6 Mch., 1654.

2. ROBERT[2] LAY (Robert[1]), called "Jr." on the Town Records (Vol. I, page 143), where his marriage and the births of his children are recorded, born 6 Mch., 1654, died in 1742, married 22 Jan., 1679–80, Mary, born in 1660, daughter of Thomas Stanton by wife Sarah, daughter of Capt. George Denison. He lived in Essex, at the Lay homestead.

His will was dated Apl. 22, 1731, and the estate was appraised at £6,712. 19s. 7d. The widow, Mary, was executrix, Oct. 11, 1743. The will names all the children except Phebe, who probably died single before her father. (For baptisms of the first three children, see History of the First Church of Stonington, pages 196–197.)

Children:

3. i. ROBERT,[3] b. 27 Jan., 1681.
ii. SARAH, b. 19 Feb., 1682–3.
4. iii. MARY, b. 3 Oct., 1685; probably m. (1) Christopher Miner, 9 Mch., 1704; m. (2) Samuel Denison (see Wheeler's Stonington, 343, 468).
iv. THOMAS, b. 10 May, 1688; mention of his lands occurs in 1711, on Saybrook Records (see Vol. II., p. 474).
v. SAMUEL, b. 25 July, 1691; d. 5 Aug., 1691.
vi. TEMPERANCE, b. 25 July, 1691; d. 1755.
5. vii. SAMUEL, b. 13 Feb., 1694–5.
viii. PHEBE, b. 14 Aug., 1698.
ix. DOROTHY, b. 3 June, 1701.

3. ROBERT[3] (Robert,[2] Robert[1]), "son of Robert Lay Jr. and Mary Stanton, born Jan. 27th 1680." (See Savage, Stanton Genealogy, and Saybrook Records, I., 143).

"Robert Lay jr. and Mary Grenell were married each to the other the 12th day of December in the year 1703" (Saybrook Records, II, 168), following which entry are the birth records of all the children, as given below, except Jonathan and John.

Two adjoining tombstones in Westbrook cemetery read as follows:

"Here lies the body of Robert Lay died July 1st 1738 aged 57 years."

"Here lies the body of Mrs Mary y^e^ wife of Mr Robert Lay, who died June y^e^ 9th, A. D. 1755, in y^e^ 71st year of her age."

The will of Robert Lay, "secundus," dated June 27, 1738, proved July 26 following, in Guilford Probate Court, mentions wife Mary, and all of the eight children except John; Peabody Grinnell, a brother-in-law, being appraiser of the estate.

Robert[3] Lay lived at Westbrook, was the first of the name to settle there, and was the well known "tavern keeper" who kept the tavern near the so-called Dr. Cone house. Mary his wife was the daughter of Daniel and Lydia (Peabody) Grinnell, granddaughter of Daniel Grinnell, of Little Compton, R. I., by wife Mary, daughter of William and Mary Wodell of Boston, Mass., and Portsmouth and Tiverton, R. I., and great-granddaughter of Matthew and Rose Grinnell, of Newport, R. I. (See Austin's Gen. Dict. of R. I. Settlers.) Daniel Grinnell in his will mentions his daughter "Mary Lay," although Austin makes no mention of her. Lydia Peabody, her mother, was the daughter of William and Elizabeth (Alden) Peabody, of Little Compton, R. I., and granddaughter of John Alden of the Mayflower. The Grinnell family were of Huguenot extraction. Mary (Grinnell) Lay was one of the original members of the church at Westbrook.

Children:

6. i. ROBERT,[4] b. 20 Dec., 1705.
7. ii. CHRISTOPHER, b. 27 Feb., 1707–8.
   iii. LYDIA, b. 26 June, 1710; m. 3 Feb., 1730–1, John Waterhouse (Bailey II, 113).
8. iv. DANIEL, b. 3 Oct., 1712.
9. v. JEREMIAH, b. 13 Jan., 1715.
   vi. PHEBE, b. 27 May, 1717; m. 1 June, 1740, Benjamin Merrill (Bailey, II, 114). (See Hyde Gen., No. 6052.)
10. vii. JONATHAN, b. 1721.
   viii. JOHN, m. Deborah ———; evidently died without issue, as his will, dated Sept. 17, 1756 (Guilford Probate Rec., VII, 104), names no children, and at death of his wife, Deborah, leaves all his lands to his brothers Christopher, Daniel, Jeremiah and Jonathan, and names his sisters Lydia Watrous and Phebe Merrill, who receive bequests of money.

4. MARY[3] LAY (Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born in Saybrook (now Essex), 3 Oct., 1685, is, I think, the one referred to in Wheeler's Stonington, pages 343, 468, because, while the descendants of John Lay are quite fully traced by Prof. Salisbury, there seems to be no Mary Lay among them who could have been the one mentioned by Wheeler, who states that Christopher, son of Dr. Joseph and Mary (Avery) Miner, of Stonington, baptized July 13, 1684, married Mary Lay, Mch. 9, 1704. The death of her first husband, Christopher,* is not given, but her marriage to Samuel[4] Denison (George,[3] Capt. George,[2] John[1] of Stortford, Eng.), occurred probably in 1709. They lived in Stonington till July 4, 1716, when they removed to Westbrook. The wife of George Denison was Mercy, daughter of John and Desire (Howland) Gorham, and granddaughter of John Howland of the Mayflower. The children are as given below (see Denison Genealogy, page 208), but the descendants can be more fully traced in Wheeler's Stonington, page 343 et seq.

* In Wheeler's History of the First Church of Stonington, Conn., is the admission, 28 April, 1708, of widow Mary Miner (page 192), and the baptisms, 6 June, 1708, of Mary and Joanna, daughters of Christopher Miner (page 207). These entries doubtless are of Mary[3] Lay and her children by her first husband.

Children by second husband:

i. Sarah Denison, b. 6 Jan., 1710; m. William Babcock.
ii. Samuel Denison, b. 23 Oct., 1711.
iii. Mercy Denison, b. 1713; m. Nathaniel Chapman. (See Chapman's Chapman Family.)
iv. Elizabeth Denison, bapt. 6 June, 1714.
v. Joanna Denison, b. 13 Dec., 1716; m. Moses Tyler.
vi. Mary Denison, b. 6 Jan., 1718.
vii. George Denison, b. 6 Jan., 1718.
viii. Christopher Denison, b. 1720.
ix. Gideon Denison, b. 1724.
x. Stephen Denison, b. 6 Feb., 1725.

5. Samuel[3] Lay (Robert,[2] Robert[1]) was born in Saybrook (now Essex), 13 Feb., 1694–5. The following from Vol. II of Saybrook Records refers, I presume, to him, since no Samuel of this generation is given in the Salisbury Genealogies among the descendants of John Lay:

"Samuel Lay and Hannah Hayden married 1st June, 1726."

Children, from Saybrook records:

i. Mary,[4] b. 29 Dec., 1728.
ii. Sarah, b. 7 Feb., 1731–2. The marriage of Reuben Chapman and Sarah Lay (Bailey, II, 115) may refer to her; and if so, their descendants can be traced at page 79 et seq. of Chapman's Chapman Family.
iii. Hannah, b. 17 Mch., 1734-5.
iv. Phebe, b. 26 Feb., 1737–8. Bailey (II, 115) gives the marriage of John Hull and Phebe Lay, Sept. 27, 1764, which may refer to her.
v. Temperance, b. 30 Sept., 1740.
vi. Samuel, b. 1 Mch., 1743–4.
vii. Robert, b. 4 Jany., 1746–7.

6. Dea. Robert[4] Lay (Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born in Saybrook West Parish (Westbrook), 20 Dec., 1705 (or 1706, as stated in the Lay MSS.), married, 3 Nov., 1729, Jemima Pratt (not mentioned in Chapman's Pratt Family), and had seven children, as recorded on page 234, Vol. IV, of Saybrook records.

He was for forty years Deacon of the Westbrook Congregational Church. By the terms of his father's will he received "my grandfather's silver cup." He lived in the old Lay homestead in Westbrook, situated on the principal street leading to the shore, and directly opposite the cemetery.

The following inscriptions are from adjoining stones in Westbrook Cemetery:

"In memory of Dea. Robert Lay who departed this life Jany. 1, 1790 in the 84th year of his age."

"In memory of Jemima Lay wife of Robert Lay, who departed this life Mch. 9, 1766, in the 56th year of her age."

That there was a second marriage is indicated by the following from Vol. II, page 116, of Bailey's Early Conn. Marriages: "Deacon Robert Lay and Elizabeth Denison married June 24, 1768."

Children, from town records:

i. Jemima,[5] b. 3 Jan., 1733.
ii. Lydia, b. 5 Jan., 1735.
iii. Sarah, b. 14 Jan., 1737.
11. iv. Robert, "Son of Dea. Robert and Mrs. Jemima Lay died Oct. 10, 1740 æ 1 year" (Westbrook Cemetery).

v. Anna, b. 30 Apl., 1741. The marriage of George Wright and Anna Lay, 1 Oct., 1760 (Bailey, II, 115) probably refers to her.
vi. Phebe, b. 15 Feb., 1743.
vii. Robert, b. 8 June, 1745.
viii. Abigail, b. 25 June, 1747. She became the wife of Dea. Jonathan Lay (No. 15), according to Salisbury Genealogies; but in the Lay MSS. the first wife of Dea. Jonathan is given as Mary Lay, daughter of Robert and Jemima, who died in 1831.

7. Lieut. Christopher[4] Lay (Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]) was born 27 Feb., 1708–9, in Saybrook West Parish. My account of this family is based almost wholly upon the stones extant in Westbrook Cemetery. Whether there were any children other than those mentioned below I am not advised. The widow's name was Mary, and the marriage (see Bailey) 5 Dec., 1765, of "Capt. Samuel Crane and Widow Mary Lay," undoubtedly refers to her. "Lieut. Christopher Lay died Oct. 3, 1759 in his 52^{d} year" (Westbrook Cemetery).

Children:

i. Lucretia,[5] b. 1749; d. "25 Nov., 1754, æ. 5 years."
ii. Deney, b. 1754; d. "6 Nov., 1759, æ. 5 years."
iii. John, b. 1755–6; d. "7 Nov., 1759, in 3d year."

8. Daniel[4] Lay (Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born 3 Oct., 1712, in Westbrook, married Anna, daughter of Edward and Mary (Post) Bull, who was born 15 Mar., 1712. The gravestones in the Westbrook Cemetery read:

"In memory of Mr. Daniel Lay who died Dec. 28, 1782, in the 70th year of his age."

"In memory of Mrs. Anne wife of Mr. Daniel Lay, who died March 5, 1790, in the 76th year of her age."

He settled on land deeded to him 22 Feb., 1734–5, by his father, at Chestnut Hill, so called, in Saybrook West Parish. His will (Saybrook records, at Deep River, Vol. I, p. 37) mentions his son Daniel, who received various tracts of land.

Children:

12. i. Daniel,[5] bapt. Feb., 1738–9.
13. ii. James.
14. iii. Asa, b. 1749.
iv. Anna Bull, probably m. Joseph Denison, 5 May, 1771 (Bailey, II, 117).

8. Jeremiah[4] Lay (Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born 13 Jan., 1715–6, in Westbrook, married, 20 Mch., 1739–40, Prudence Belden, at Westbrook (Bailey, II, 114). He died probably after 24 Feb., 1792. Saybrook records (II, 415) give: "Jeremiah, son of Jeremiah and Prudence Lay, born Oct. 5, 1745"; and in Westbrook Cemetery is the gravestone inscription: "Mrs Deborah wife of Mr Jeremiah Lay, died Feby 24 1792 æ 72," perhaps a second wife. The Lay MSS. credits Jeremiah[4] with the six children named below, but gives no dates.

Children:

i. Prudence,[5] probably m. Ezra Crane, 27 Nov., 1760 (Bailey, II, 115).
ii. Sybil, probably m. Job Kelsey, 1 Dec., 1763 (Bailey, II, 115).
iii. Jeremiah, b. 5 Oct., 1745; probably d. in New York, in 1778, on the prison ship Blazmon Castle; and probably m. Statia Bushnell, 8 Mch., 1773 (Bailey, II, 118).

iv. AARON.
v. LOIS.
vi. HULDAH.

10. JONATHAN[4] LAY (Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), whose birth is not found on the town records, is named in his father's will, and also in the will of his brother John, so there can be no question as to the relationship. He is evidently the innkeeper referred to by Prof. Murdock, and in the Salisbury Genealogies, where it is stated that he was born in 1721, died of the smallpox in 1779, and that he married Mary Spencer, who was born in 1721, and died in 1793. The gravestones in Westbrook Cemetery, however, give as follows:

"In memory of Mr Jonathan Lay who died Feby 12 1777, in the 69th year of his age."

"In memory of Jonathan Lay, who died Oct 7 1793, in the 8th (or 80th, stone rather illegible) year of his age."

Neither of which agree well with the Salisbury date of birth, but it is not absolutely certain that they refer to this family.

Children:

i. JONATHAN,[5] "son of Jonathan Lay, bapt Apr. 11, 1742–3" (Church records quoted by Rev. E. C. Starr); probably d. young.
15. ii. JONATHAN, b. 10 Apl., 1748; d. 13 Apr., 1831.
16. iii. MARY, b. 21 Oct., 1749.
17. iv. EZRA, b. 26 Apl., 1752; d. 31 Jan., 1793.
18. v. HANNAH, b. 27 Apl., 1754; d. 16 May, 1824.
vi. PHEBE, b. 20 Mch., 1758; d. 1789 or '90; m. Dr. William Gayle, and had several children.
19. vii. JOHN, b. 28 Aug., 1760; d. 5 Feb., 1844.
viii. LYDIA, b. 7 Sept., 1763; d. 7 Dec., 1764.

11. ROBERT[5] LAY (Robert,[4] Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born 8 June, 1745, in Westbrook, married 5 Mch., 1772 (Bailey, II, 117), Desire, born 15 Jan., 1751, daughter of Josiah Wolcott of Hebron and Saybrook. The following inscriptions, from Westbrook Cemetery, refer to this family:

"In memory of Mr Robert Lay who died June 4 1813 aged 68 years"

"Lucy, dau. of Robt and Desier Lay, died Aug 31 1794 in 10th year"

His son Robert[6] Lay, who married Chloe Chapman (see Chapman Family No. 813 and 937, pp. 106, 126), sold the estate, and removed to Springfield, New York; his son Robert[7] Lay lived and died in Montreal; and his son Robert[8] Lay at one time lived in Scranton, Penn.

No records of the children of Robert[5] Lay, except as above, have been obtained by me, but are probably in Saybrook town records (at Deep River, Conn.), and the Westbrook Congregational Church Records (at Westbrook).

12. DANIEL[5] LAY (Daniel,[4] Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born in 1734 or '7, bapt. Feb., 1738–9, died in 1807, married first, 15 May, 1763 (Bailey, II, 45), Mercy, born 27 Dec., 1742, died 29 Dec., 1775 (No. 2583 of Chapman's Chapman Family), daughter of Nathaniel Chapman, and a descendant of John Howland of the Mayflower (see No. 4–iii of this genealogy); and married second, 14 Jan., 1779 (Bailey, II, 118), Hannah (Stannard), widow of Francis Kelsey.

Daniel[5] Lay subsequently removed, with his family, to western New York.

Children by first wife:

i. CHRISTOPHER.[6]
ii. NATHANIEL, bapt. 1 Apl., 1764.
20. iii. JERUSHA, born 9 Oct., bapt. 13 Dec., 1767.
iv. ANN. } These three died, respectively, 26 Nov., 1769, 15

xvii. A DAUGHTER.

13. JAMES[5] LAY (Daniel,[4] Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), styled "Lieut.," lived to an old age in Westbrook, and is said to have had some musical ability. He married, Nov., 1767, Abigail Bushnell. No record of any children has been obtained, but "Our New England Ancestors," page 93, states that Capt. Jedediah Post married Abigail, daughter of James and Abigail (Bushnell) Lay, and granddaughter of Daniel and Ann (Bull) Lay.

Child:

21. i. ABIGAIL.[6]
Perhaps others.

14. COL. ASA[5] LAY (Daniel,[4] Robert,[3] Robert,[2] Robert[1]), born in 1749, died 23 Feb., 1814, married, 18 Apr., 1770, Sarah, daughter of Josiah and Lucy (White) Wolcott, of Hebron and Saybrook, Conn. (Bailey, II, 117). He served with distinction in the war of the Revolution, and lived and died in Westbrook.

LEAVENS (ante, page 224).—I made a similar inquiry for the maiden name of Elizabeth, second wife of John Leavens, who died at Woodstock, Conn., Oct. 26, 1696, in the REGISTER, Vol. 51, p. 361, and at last am able to give the answer. At my request, Miss Louise Tracy, of New Haven, has examined records in that city and has perfectly determined the identity of the person in question. She was the daughter of Edward Preston and granddaughter of William Preston, and born 29 Sept., 1655.

The records show that Elizabeth Preston, daughter of Edward, married John Levins, Nov. 23, 1674; and the home of this new family was at Stratford. Then the family was called back to Roxbury, the birthplace of John Leavens; and again removed, in the migration that went out from Roxbury, to found Woodstock, Conn., in 1686. It is a singular fact that the widow, notwithstanding her large incumbrance of children, attracted the attention of Peter Aspinwall, a bachelor some years younger than herself. He, too, had come out in the migration from Roxbury, and had been in full acquaintance and church fellowship with the family many years. He married Elizabeth Leavens in the second year of her widowhood, and she bore to him one daughter. The Aspinwall records do not speak kindly of this alliance, but she seems to have been a faithful wife, and he was a man of versatile power and eminent usefulness. He was a pioneer of Killingly, and a great benefactor to the incipient town and its primitive church. It is a pitiful fact that there is no monument to him, or even record of his death. The wife Elizabeth, too, "fell on sleep" unnoticed, and her grave cannot be found.

We are glad to have rescued her identity from utter forgetfulness. She sprang from an excellent family, her career was eminently diversified with adventure, and it becomes her Leavens posterity to honor her memory.

LEAVENWORTH. — A private graveyard was once in existence on Good Hill in Roxbury, Conn., near the Woodbury town line, on the road leading to "Tophet." It was established in 1805 (Roxbury Deeds, vol. 2, p. 538) by Elihu Leavenworth, who for this purpose conveyed a corner of his farm to Capt. David Leavenworth, Gideon Leavenworth, Morse Leavenworth, Thomas Beardslee, Ephraim Beardslee, and Samuel Thompson, reserving one seventh of the lot to himself. About forty years ago the Elihu Leavenworth farm, adjoining the graveyard, came into possession of a man who resided there until recently, when it was again transferred. The present owner found the graveyard under cultivation, the only indication that it had been used as a burial ground being gravestones which had been thrown alongside the wall. Other stones and fragments were found in the cellar, where they were used as table tops and as props for a stove.

The Beardslee stones were removed several years ago to the modern cemetery in Roxbury, so that all but one of those still remaining on Good Hill are Leavenworth stones. The facts derived from the records still decipherable are given below, the words in brackets having been supplied by the contributor.

The Leavenworth Genealogy (followed therein by later publications) states that Thomas[2] Leavenworth, son of Thomas[1] and Grace, married Mary Jenkins, daughter of David, basing the assertion on the fact that Thomas[2] called David Jenkins his father-in-law. This is erroneous. Grace, widow of Thomas[1] Leavenworth, married secondly David Jenkins, as surmised by Cothren (History of Woodbury). Thomas[2] Leavenworth married Mary Dorman, born 12 May 1680, daughter of Edmund and Hannah (Hull) of New Haven, Conn. In the settlement of the estate of Edmund Dorman in 1711 his daughter Mary is called wife of Thomas Levensworth of Stratford. It is likely that Mary Dorman was mother of all the children of Thomas, since the youngest was named Edmund, and the son Thomas[3] named a son Dorman.

John[3] Leavenworth, son of Thomas[2] and Mary (Dorman), married first Deborah Moss, born 10 Feb. 1714/15. They were parents of the Capt. David and grandparents of the Morse Leavenworth whose gravestone inscriptions are given above. The Leavenworth Genealogy gives Deborah's maiden name as Hurd instead of Moss.

The same publication assumes that John[2] Leavenworth, the only other son (besides Thomas[2]) of Thomas[1] and Grace, left no issue. John removed from Stratford, Conn., to Newtown, Conn., married Phebe Wooster of Derby, Conn., (see New Haven Probate Records and Derby Deeds), and died in Feb. 1762. In his will he mentioned wife Phebe, son Thomas, and daughters Alice Camp, Sarah Botsford, and Abigail Turner; also son Lemuel Camp and grandsons Jabez Botsford and Jeremiah Turner, Jr. (Danbury Probate Records, vol. 1, p. 229.)

GENEALOGY OF THE DESCENDANTS OF JOHN LEE.

By the Rev. Samuel Lee, A.M., of New-Ipswich, N. H.

AMONG the early emigrants to New-England there are several,—six or seven at least,—of the name of Lee. John Lee, of Farmington, Connecticut, came to this country in 1634. I find the following notices of him:

In the "Book of Rolls," so called, in London, there is a list[1] of a company who sailed from Ipswich in the ship Francis, John Cutting, master, bound for New-England "the last of April, 1634", (in an official paper containing the above list, the date is "the Tenth daye of April"), in which we find the name of "John Lea," aged 13, in the care of William Westwood. Westwood was 28 and his wife, Bridget, 32 years of age.

In the "Records of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay" we find the following notices of Westwood: He took the freeman's oath March 4, 1635; is "sworn Constable" of the plantation at Connecticut, Sept. 5, 1635. On the 3rd of March following he is made a member of a "Commission" "to govern the people att Connecticut." He was among the original proprietors of Hartford. May 22, 1661, he is called "Mr." and made a member of a commission for Hadley, and with authority, not given to other members, "to join persons in marriage at Hadley."

In Stuart's "Hartford in the Olden Time" we find the following: William Westwood was a native of Essex County, in England; he settled in Newtown, now Cambridge, and moved to Connecticut in 1635; was present at the first court held in Connecticut, April 26, 1636, and at every subsequent court during the continuance of the commission. He was a deputy from Hartford for several years,—the last time in 1656. In or about the year 1658 he removed to Hadley, Mass., where he spent the remainder of his life.

John Lee, of course, was under the care of Westwood, and went with him from Boston to Hartford. In 1641 a colony from Hartford settled the town of Farmington. John Lee was one of them. His house was where is now Miss Porter's school for young ladies. It is a common tradition among his descendants that he came from Colchester,—whose nearest port was Ipswich,—and the name, Lee, is a very common one in the records of that town. Among the first proprietors of Farmington was Deacon Stephen Hart, and young Lee may have had special reasons for emigrating with Deacon H. He afterward married his daughter Mary.

[1] This list is printed in the Register (for October, 1860), xiv. 331.

The following are such facts as the writer has been able to obtain in relation to our family:

JOHN[1] LEE, the emigrant, born in England, about 1620; came to New-England, 1634; removed to Hartford, Ct., 1635; one of the original settlers of Farmington, 1641; married Mary Hart, 1658; himself and wife joined the church, Aug. 15, 1660; his inventory, £359, dated Oct. 30, 1690. In the old cemetery in Farmington is his tombstone, with the following inscription. It is a coarse unhewn slab, some two feet in height and eighteen inches wide, that must have been broken out of the stone by a dull tool driven lengthwise and leaving the letters jagged:

She died Oct. 10, 1710. The cause of her death was the falling of the horse on which she was riding, while on her way with her husband to visit their children in Coventry, Conn. She was over 70 years of age. Her husband went to reside with his children in Coventry, and died there May 22, 1753, aged 96.

He was street and land surveyor, and was one of the committee appointed by the proprietors to treat with the Sachem Marsakepe, and to obtain his signature to a deed conveying to them the tract of land named Farmington. He joined the church Nov. 24, 1686; his wife, Jan. 3, 1687. He married, Dec. 27, 1682, Elizabeth (b. in 1664), daughter of Thomas Loomis, of Windsor, Conn. 3. STEPHEN[2] LEE (John[1]) was a physician, and one of the first settlers in that portion of the original tract of land which is now called New Britain. He received a grant of five roods of land from the town in January, 1689, on the westerly side of the highway (provided it doth not hinder former grants) and the watering place, he building on it within four years, or else it is to return to the town again; and in March following "the Court" was applied to, to lay out Stephen Lee's lot as near as they can according to grant. Kensington was made an independent society about 1708, the church was organized in 1710, and the Rev. Mr. Burnham settled over the society in 1712. At the time of his settlement there were but fourteen families in the place, and the church consisted of ten members, seven males and three females. Stephen Lee and wife stand at the head of the list of the original members of this church, having united with the church in Farmington, Oct. 5, 1709.

Compiled by Hon. Ralph D. Smyth, and communicated by Dr. Bernard C. Steiner, of Baltimore.

Edward[1] Lee, or Leigh, or Lees, came to Guilford about 1675, and married Elizabeth Wright, daughter of Benjamin, a resident of that place, in 1676. She died about 1685, and he married again, Abigail Stevens, daughter of Thomas of Guilford. She died August, 1727. He died in the preceding April. Wright gave by will, land to his daughter, in October, 1685. This land, Edward Lee conveyed to his son Samuel[2], the only surviving child of his first wife. LELLOCK—KELLOGG.—On page 77, vol. iii. of his Genealogical Dictionary of New-England, Mr. Savage devotes quite a paragraph to what he styles the "almost impossible name" of Lellock, Joseph, Boston, who by wife Joanna, had born to him son Martin, 22 Nov., 1658, as appears by the second copy of the Records, the original of which is lost. This name, which Mr. Savage afterward thinks should be Sellock (iv. 51), should doubtless read Kellogg. Joseph Kellogg, whose first wife was Joanna, removed, between 1656 and 1658, from Farmington to Boston, and thence as early as 1662 to Hadley. Between 1656 and 1660, Savage gives him son Martin, but does not mention the date of his birth, which undoubtedly should be 22 Nov., 1658.

Lineage of Lydia Lincoln, Second Wife of William Chapman of New London, Connecticut. Contributed by Grace Louise Knox, West Hartford, Connecticut.

For some time, researchers of the William Chapman line have sought further information about his second wife, Lydia Lincoln. I believe she was the daughter of Samuel[3] Lincoln (Thomas[2], Thomas[1]) and Sarah[3] Royce (Jonathan[2], Robert[1]). Sarah, one of ten children, was born October 1665 to Jonathan and Deborah (Calkins) Royce (Norwich, Connecticut, Vital Records, 1:33). Samuel Lincoln was born at Taunton, Massachusetts, 16 March 1658 (Vital Records of Taunton, Massachusetts. . . 2 vols. [Boston, 1929], 1:269). The County Court Records of New London, Connecticut, for September 1682 states "Samuel Linkhorns of Taunton and Sarah Roice of Norwich being legally convicted of fornication before marriage, the court has adjudged them to pay a fine to the County Treasury, the sum of five pounds. Capt. James Fitch of the County in behalf of the above named, for the payment of their fine" (6:34). The Norwich Land Records (1:132) record eighteen acres of pasture land belonging to Samuel Lincoln of Windham, Connecticut, more or less at Yantick butting south on land of Hugh Calkin, west on Thomas Post and Hugh Calkin, north and east on commons. Part of it was his father-in-law Royce's pasture lot and part a grant from the town, this parcel delivered to him as part of his mother-in-law Royce as appears upon the record entered 21 January 1694/5.

As further evidence of the parentage of Lydia: in the distribution of the estate of Jonathan Royce, 22 September 1690, "Samuel Linkon" received five pounds. Again the Norwich Deeds (3B:443) show that William Chapman was one of those mentioned in David Royce's estate as one of the heirs. He joins others in a deed dated 5 March 1712/3 to Samuel Gager of Norwich.

Lydia is mentioned in the distribution of her grandfather Thomas Lincoln of Taunton, 1694, in which he distributes his property to his surviving children: to Thomas, his son, he gave "5 parcels of land which he may sell if needed for his maintenance provided that Thomas cause to be payable to Lidiah, daughter of Thomas Senior's son, Samuel, 50 shillings when she shall arrive at the age of 18 years" (Bristol County Deeds, 2:260). The same provision is requested for "Lidiah" in the deed of land to Jonah Lincoln, son of Thomas, Sr.

Sarah (Royce) Lincoln must have died soon after the birth of Lydia and before 2 June 1692, when Samuel Lincoln married Elizabeth Jacobs (Windham Vital Records, A-24). Seven children were born to them: Samuel, Thomas, Marcy, Elizabeth, Jonah, Jacob, and Nathaniel. When Elizabeth (Jacobs) died around 1727, Samuel married in 1729 Experience (————) Lanphere, widow of Shadrack Lanphere who died 29 January 1728 (Register, 14[1860]: 167). Experience and her son Joseph were administers of his estate. On 23 February 1732 Samuel Lincoln and Experience his wife, "for love to our children, Oliver, Ann, Prudence, Experience, and Mary Lanphere of Westerly and Solomon and John of Norwich, and Hezekiah of Lebanon, Connecticut, deeded to said eight children, 48 acres in Westerly which former husband, Shadrach Lanphere, had possessed" (John O. Austin, Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island [Albany, 1887], 119).

On 9 May 1732 Samuel Lincoln made his will which was exhibited at the Court of Probate held at Windham, 3 March 1737/8. Portions of it read:

> Imprimas: I having already given to my daughter Lydia Chapman sundry things out of my estate, I now give her five shillings in or as money out of my estate as her portion.
> Item: I having formerly given to my son Samuel Linkon and Jacob Linkon and Jonah Linkon sundry tracts of land as may appear by their deeds of gift from me, I now give and bequeath to them, two shillings as their portion in full.
> Item: I having formerly given to my son Thomas Linkon three parcels of land, I now make and ordain him my executor of this my will and I now give to him one half of all my goods and chatles as his portion.
> Item: I give to my daughter Mary Martin and Elizabeth Linkon all the rest and residue of my goods and chatles after my debts, and ten pounds to Experience my beloved wife by an agreement before marriage.

William Chapman's first wife, Hannah Lester, whom he had married 27 March 1690, died in 1701. He married second, 11 August 1702, Lydia Lincoln. His will was dated 21 August 1734 and Lydia is named executrix.

IDENTITY OF ELLEN (——) LINDLEY

By Retta Bostwick Perry, of Lawrenceville, Pennsylvania

The identity of Ellen, wife of John Lindley of New Haven, Guilford, and Branford, Connecticut, has long been an enigma to researchers in her husband's family. She was his first wife. It is known that they were married and had two children, Sarah and John, Jr., when they moved from New Haven to Guilford in 1648. Town records of the latter place list the births of two more children: Mary, born 22 Feb. 1651 (vol. A, p. 122) and Hanna, born 1 April 1654 (ibid.). On 6 April 1654 Ellen was buried and thus passes from the stage of history.

An excellent clue to her origin is given by Donald Lines Jacobus in his "Barnes Families of Long Island and Branford, Conn.," The Register, vol. 123, pp. 88-90. He suggests that the two younger children, namely Mary and Hannah, were brought up by relatives in East Hampton, Long Island. Whose relatives? They could not have been John's as he is supposed to have had only a younger brother, Francis, then unmarried, in this country at the time. Therefore, they must have been Ellen's. *

Before we turn to East Hampton we should list some other probabilities as guidelines: (1) Ellen must have been born between 1620 and 1630; nearer the middle of the decade seem most likely. (2) While from those dates she could have been born in this country, the likelihood of her being part of an immigrant family is much greater. (3) Her family should have been in the New Haven area at the time of her marriage in 1644 or 1645 and in East Hampton, Long Island, at the time of her death in 1654.

A search of East Hampton families reveals the following: Ellen, daughter of Ralph and Alice (Goldhatch) Dayton, was baptized in Ashford, co. Kent, England, on 3 Dec. 1626. References consulted say that while it is not definitely known that she came to America with her family "it is likely". The father lived in New Haven from 1639 to 1649. From thence he went to East Hampton where he lived until his death in 1658 (Rattray, p. 268). Thus, all the right times and places are satisfied.

The clincher, though, is the will of Ralph[1] Dayton. Among other bequests he leaves "to my sonn Linly's children . . . .". Unfortunately, some early reader of this will called the name "Brinley". Later writers copied and re-copied it without verification. In the original the L is very plain. One wonders how it could have been mistaken for Br.

Therefore, it would seem that Ellen Dayton, born in England in 1626, came to America with her family by 1639, lived with them in New Haven until her marriage to John Lindley in 1644 or 1645, moved with him to Guilford, Conn., in 1648 and died there in 1654. Her two younger children, Mary and Hannah, could have been brought up in East Hampton either by her father's family or that of her sister Alice, wife of Thomas Baker, a prominent citizen of that place. We offer this solution of the three hundred year old mystery of Ellen's identity.

THE SECOND WIFE OF JOSEPH LOOMIS OF WINDSOR, CONN.—It has been stated many times that Joseph[2] Loomis, son of Joseph[1] and Mary (White) Loomis, married as his second wife Mary Chauncey. However, the contributor of this article has never found documentary proof for this statement.

On page 39 of "Some Early Records and Documents of and relative to the Town of Windsor, Conn., 1639–1703," being a true copy of the private vital records kept by Matthew Grant of Windsor and published by the Hartford Historical Society in 1930, is this record "Josep lomis mared Mary Sharwod June 28, 1659."

A Mary Sherwood, born about 1639, the daughter of Thomas[1] Sherwood by his second wife, Mary Fitch, had brothers Stephen, Matthew, and Isaac. The Mary Sherwood who married Joseph Loomis named three of her sons Stephen, Matthew, and Isaac.

Mr. A. C. Bates, Librarian of the Connecticut Historical Society, copied the signature found in the Windsor records as Mary Harwod. Due to the use of the old form of the letter "s," the name was doubtless Mary Sharwod."

Cleveland, Ohio. ELISHA S. LOOMIS.

THE SECOND WIFE OF JOSEPH LOOMIS OF WINDSOR, CONN.—For many years it has been stated that the second wife of Joseph Loomis (son of Joseph and Mary (White) Loomis) was Mary Chauncey, but the contributor never found any documentary proof of this statement.

Careful search, however, shows that Joseph Loomis married 28 June 1659 Mary Sherwood, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Fitch) Sherwood. ("Some Early Records and Documents of and Relative to the Town of Windsor, Conn., 1639–1703," 1903, p. 39.)

Thomas[1] Sherwood married secondly, about 1638, Mary Fitch, daughter of Thomas and Ann (Reeve) Fitch, by whom he had six children, Mary, Ruth, Stephen, Matthew, Abigail, and Isaac. ("Daniel L. Sherwood and His Paternal Ancestors," 1929; also "History of the Fitch Family," 1930, vol. 1.)

Mary Sherwood, the oldest of this group of six children, was born about 1639 and so was twenty years of age at the time of her marriage to Joseph Loomis. The names of her three brothers, Stephen, Matthew, and Isaac were given to three of her sons.

Mary (Fitch) Sherwood married secondly, in 1658, John Banks. In her will she mentions her children, Matthew, Mary, Ruth, and Isaac Sherwood, and "daughter" Hannah Lumis.

As Mary (Fitch) (Sherwood) Banks had no daughter Hannah Loomis through marriage, it is safe to say that "granddaughter" was meant for "daughter," thereby proving the identity of the second wife of Joseph Loomis.

Cleveland, Ohio. ELISHA S. LOOMIS.

THE SECOND WIFE OF JOSEPH LOOMIS OF WINDSOR, CONN.—The conclusion of Mr. Elisha S. Loomis (ante, p. 203) that the second wife of Joseph Loomis, Jr., was * Mary Sherwood, daughter of Thomas and Mary, is amply justified. But in quoting the will of her mother, Mrs. Mary Sherwood-Banks, he states that it mentions her "daughter" Hannah Lumis.

In April 1938 the contributor of this note examined the will and made the following abstract of that portion under discussion: "I giue to my son steuen sharwods daughtour Ruth sharwod . . . to my son mathew sharwods daughtour mary sharwod . . . I giue to hanah Lomis my Red Pluch peticot and y^e^ best of my two gren aporons and my Cearsy peticot and one pair of sheats . . . to my daughtour Ruth . . . to my sone steuen . . . to my sone Jsack . . . to my son mathew . . ."

From this abstract it is noted that Mrs. Banks gave legacies to her son Stephen Sherwood's daughter Ruth, to her son Matthew Sherwood's daughter Mary, and then to "Hannah Lumis" without specifying relationship. Hannah Loomis was the eldest surviving child of Joseph Loomis by his second wife, Mary Sherwood, and Mary (Sherwood) Loomis had been dead over a decade before Mrs. Banks wrote her will. The granddaughter was undoubtedly intended in this legacy, as Mr. Loomis concluded, but there is no reason to correct a supposed error in the will.

What, may one inquire, is the record evidence for the statement that Mary, second wife of Thomas Sherwood, and mother of the above Mary (Sherwood) Loomis, was born a Fitch? In 1886 an account of the Sherwood family appeared in Orcutt's "History of Stratford," which carefully distinguishes between the Fairfield and Stratford Sherwoods, and states the name of the second wife of Thomas Sherwood of Fairfield as Mary, without any indication as to her name at birth. Three years later, Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbell Schenck published the first volume of her "History of Fairfield," and in the account of the Sherwood family, on page 408, states the second marriage of Thomas Sherwood to Mary (without any mention of the name Fitch) and also the second marriage of this Mary to John Banks; yet on page 351, in her account of the Banks family, she states of Mr. John Banks: "His second wife was Mary Fitch wid. of Thomas Sherwood 1 of Fairfield."

This seems to be the origin of all subsequent statements that this Mary was born a Fitch. It cannot fail to strike the careful genealogist as odd that Mary was identified as a Fitch in the account of her second husband's family, but was not identified at all in the account of the family of her Sherwood husband, who was the father of all her children. It is also to be noted that Mrs. Schenck's account of the Sherwood family was supplied by W. L. Sherwood of Newark, N. J., who was engaged in compiling a Sherwood Genealogy (never published), who had worked on the family many years, and who had a knowledge of the family never equalled by any subsequent historian.

The account of the Banks family, on the other hand, appears to have been the work of the late Mrs. Schenck herself; and with all due respect to the memory of this estimable historian, her work as a genealogist was at times very erratic. It will be seen (page 351) that she presents a detailed abstract of the will of John Banks, including a legacy to his step-son Matthew Sherwood; and on turning to the Sherwood family, it will be seen that this Matthew Sherwood, the son of Thomas and Mary, did marry a Mary Fitch. In view of the many demonstrable lapses of this character which may be found in the genealogical section of Mrs. Schenck's book, it is perhaps fair to suggest that her eye was caught by this marriage of Matthew Sherwood to Mary Fitch and that in a moment of abstraction she wrote the name Fitch after the name of Matthew's mother, Mrs. Mary Sherwood-Banks.

However that may be, neither the present writer, in research in the original records covering several years while he was engaged in compiling "Families of Old Fairfield," nor the late Orrando Perry Dexter, who worked on the Fairfield records for seventeen years, and whose manuscripts are accessible at the Fairfield Historical Society, found the slightest evidence for identifying Mrs. Mary Sherwood-Banks as a Fitch. The two books referred to by Mr. Elisha S. Loomis are both based, so far as early American records are concerned, very largely on previous publications, hence the statements in them can hardly be accepted in lieu of contemporary record evidence except where the record evidence is directly cited.

WILLIAM LUDDINGTON OF MALDEN, MASS., AND EAST HAVEN, CONN., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

By James Shepard, Esq., of New Britain, Conn.

1. William[1] Luddington, born about 1607, of Malden, Mass., 1640 to 1660, by wife Ellen, born in 1619, was the first progenitor of the name in this country. Before him came, in 1635, Christian Luddington, a girl of eighteen.

Much of interest concerning William[1] Luddington is to be found in Lewis S. Patrick's leaflet, entitled "The Luddington Family, the First of the Name in America," Marinette, Wis., 1886.

He is supposed to have come to this country about 1640, settling in that part of Charlestown which afterwards became Malden, and later removing to New Haven.

He died in 1661, and, according to Pope's "Pioneers of Massachusetts," John Wayte (Waite) petitioned for administration in Middlesex Co., Oct. 1, 1661; and the inventory was filed by James Barrat, as administrator, Apr. 1, 1662. What interest, if any, either of these parties had in the estate is not known. His estate was also probated at New Haven, the inventory of Mar. 3, 1662–3, relating thereto, being found in Hoadly's New Haven Colony Records, vol. 2, p. 485.

In addition to the Colony record, we find the following:

"At a court held at New Haven, March 3, 1662–3."—"An inventory of ye estate of Willm. Luddington deceased was presented amounting to . . . . . taken ye . . . the widdow upon oath attested to ye fulness of it to the best of her knowledge. John Cooper & Mathew Moulthrop upon oath attested that the aprizamt was just to the best of their light. The widdow being asked if her husband made noe will answered yt she knew of none for she was not home when he died. Mathew Moulthrop testified that he made none. The matter respecting ye childrens portions was deferred till next court & the . . . widdow with him yt shee was to marry & all her children above fourteen years of age was ordered then to appear & the court would order the estate & consider how the childrens portion shall be" [provided]. (Proprietors' Records, vol. 3, p. 15.)

The one "yt she was to marry" was John Rose, as is shown by the New Haven records of births, etc., vol. 1, p. 29, which records the marriage of John Rose and Widow Luddington, in 1663. That this marriage took place between March 3 and May 5, 1663, is shown by the following:

March 3, 1662–3, "John Tuttle doth alineate for ever to Widdow Luddington all his part of top land meadow about Stony river," etc.

May 5, 1663, "John Rose who married widdow Luddington was called to know wt security he would give for ye childrens portions yt was not yet of age to receive ym. But most of ye children that should have appeared at Court being not well & soe not fit to come the matter was respited till another time & he told yt he must give bond when called thereto." (Proprietors' Records, vol. 3, pp. 15, 19.)

Savage, in his "Dictionary," vol. 3, says that William Luddington's "widow m. George Rose," but in the corrections at the end of vol. 4, changes the name to John. Dodd's "East-Haven Register," and Dr. Haven's MS. history of East Haven, contain the error "George" instead of John.

Dodd's "Register" makes no mention of the first William Luddington until 1662, when it speaks of his death; and we have been unable to find any record of him at New Haven of an earlier date than 1662. The inventory, however, shows that he owned a house and land there at the time of his decease; and at some time, one hundred acres of land was set out to him, as appears by a deed from his son William to Thomas Robinson, July 25, 1723, of a "part of that tract of land set out to my father William Luddington which tract contains one hundred acres." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 6, p. 305.) The name of William Luddington's wife is given as Ellen, by Savage and Wyman; but in Corey's "History of Malden, Mass.," p. 146, in a petition of Malden women for the retension of the Rev. Mr. Matthews, dated Oct. 28, 1651, it appears as Hellen.

William Luddington, age 50, his son Thomas, age 20, and John, age 17, deposed Oct. 29, 1657. William, age 51, deposed again Feb. 5, 1659; and his wife Ellen, age 40, deposed the next day. James Barret and William Luddington brought suit for slander, Mar. 27, 1660; and Ellen Luddington, relict of William, and Thomas his heir, gave a release to James Barret, administrator of William's estate, May 25, 1662. (Mr. Patrick's notes, from Middlesex County files.)

The iron works, where William Luddington died, were on the river that divides East Haven from Branford, and the records show that his real estate was in that vicinity, on that side of the river, which was then a part of New Haven. These iron works, established in 1655, were the first in Connecticut, and were continued for about twenty-five years. The furnace was supplied with bog ore from North Haven. (Barber's "Hist. Coll. of Conn.," p. 204.) All servants, workmen and others employed there were under the jurisdiction of New Haven. (Proprietors' Records, vol. 2, p. 243.) Shepard's Geological Survey of Connecticut, p. 28, in speaking of beds of bog ore formerly worked until exhausted, says: "This was the case in North Haven and Branford and some other towns bordering the sound." That their supply of ore was cut off, was the probable cause of stopping the works, about 1680.

New Haven, Dec. 14, 1665, "An inventory of the Estate of Wm. Shepheard deceased taken the 7th of December . . . and upon oath attested by the wife of John Rose."

New Haven, Feb. 5, 1666, "Edward Preston Attornie on the behalfe of John Hathaway of Trenton, as administrator to ye estate of Wm. Shepheard deceased . . . Patrick Moran and John Rose called to give account of ye sd estate according to Inventory (onely yt which was payd to John Rose for his wives attendance on ye sd Shepheard w^{n} he was sick) and engaged to give bond," etc. (Proprietors' Records, vol. 3, pp. 77, 98.)

What interest, if any, Patrick Moran and John Rose, or their wives, had in the estate of William Shepard, and why they took possession of the said estate, is not known; but the facts indicate relationship of some kind, as yet not proved. This John Rose we suppose to have been the son (born in 1619) of Robert Rose, who came in the Francis in 1634; and if so, Widow Luddington was his second wife; and she must have died before

2. i. THOMAS,[2] b. 1637; removed to Newark, N. J.
   ii. JOHN, b. 1640; supposed to have been one of the brothers referred to in the settlement of his brother Henry's estate as living in 1676. It is thought that all the early references to John Luddington in Dodd's "East-Haven Register" relate to his nephew John,[3] the son of Thomas.[2] The only record of John[2] in New Haven, aside from that of his brother Henry's estate, is Dec. 12, 1664, when John and Thomas Luddington testified in Town Court and Thomas called John "his brother." (Proprietors' Records, vol. 3, p. 4.) Mr. Patrick thinks John removed to Vermont.
   iii. MARY, b. Feb. 6, 1642–3; supposed to have been one of the sisters referred to as living in 1676.
   iv. HENRY, d. 1676. Inventory of the estate of "Henry Luddington late of N. haven slayne in ye warre taken & apprised by Mathew Moulthrop & John Potter Janry. 3, 1676." "Upon exhibiting of ye above sd inventory & acco[t] for settlement & distribution this court settles ye administration upon Wm. Luddington onely brother p[e] sent to ye deceased & for the distribution (there being two brothers & sisters besides the sd William). This court doe order four pounds thirteen shillings four pence a piece to ye sd four & the rest of the estate to W[m] Luddington for his part & trouble & paynes about it. As attests James Bishop Clerk." (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 1, part 1, p. 174.)
   v. HANNAH; supposed to have been one of the sisters referred to as living in 1676.
3. vi. WILLIAM, b. about 1655; d. Feb. 1737; m. (1) Martha Rose; m. (2) June, 1690, Mercy Whitehead.
   vii. MATTHEW, b. Dec. 16, 1657; d. Jan. 12, 1657–8.

2. THOMAS[2] LUDDINGTON (William[1]) born in 1637, removed to Newwark, N. J., in 1666. On Apr. 16, 1689, he sold ten and a half acres of land, with old house and barn thereon, at the New Haven Iron Works, to John Thompson, at which time he described himself as of "Newark, New Jersey, Husbandman." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 1, p. 452.) The following, concerning his life at Newark, is from a Luddington MS., compiled by Mr. Patrick.

At a town meeting May 13, 1672, Martin Tichenor and Thos. Luddington each had allowed them one and a half acres of land for staying on their place the first summer, when most of the settlers returned to Connecticut for the winter. In 1667, he was one of the persons appointed to make a rate of every man's estate. Thomas Luddington's estate at that time was put down at £122, and £81 after the deduction had been made. On Feb. 6, 1667, he was granted lot No. 60, probably three acres; and more land was granted to him in 1669, '70 and '73. He was the surveyor of the "land and swamp" in 1680; surveyor of highways in 1681; and also committee in laying out the third division of land, and other lands in 1682, '83 and '84. On May 1, 1692, he sold three and a half acres of his home lot to Thomas Brown. After the town meeting in Aug., 1672, all trace of him is lost.

One Thomas Luddington was at Hanover, N. J., in 1721. In 1731, a Thomas Luddington and his wife Sarah sold salt meadow, but it is not probable that this was the Thomas who was born in 1637.

Children:

4. i. JOHN,[3] m. Rebecca Clark.
   ii., etc. [Perhaps Thomas of Hanover, N. J., and others.]

3. William[2] Luddington (William[1]), born about 1655, died Feb., 1737. He married first, Martha, daughter of John[2] Rose (Robert[1]), and second, by the Rev. Samuel Russell, June, 1690, Mercy, daughter of John and Martha (Bradfield) Whitehead. (Branford Church Records.) The parentage of his first wife is proven by the will of John Rose of New Haven, which mentions "wife phebe" and "daughter Martha Luddington," dated April 18, 1683. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 1, part 1, p. 190.) For the parentage of his second wife, see Register, ante, vol. 55, page 184. On Mar. 26, 1683, William Luddington had three persons in his family, estate £52, and land 24½ acres. In 1702, he had eleven persons in his family, estate £54, and land 27 acres. In the land division of 1709 he was rated at 8 persons, estate £70, and land 11½ acres. (Dodd's East-Haven Register, pp. 34, 38, 46.)

Records show that he must have been a man of intelligence and ability, and that he had the confidence of the parish in which he lived.

Dodd's "Register" puts the age of William[2] Luddington as 51, at the time of his death in 1737, which is evidently a mistake, perhaps a misprint for 81. William Luddington was appointed administrator of his brother Henry's estate in 1676, and must have been 21 at that time, therefore born as early as 1655.

His estate was probated Feb. 7, 1736–7, and the distribution to the several parties named in the will was made July 4, 1737, and is recorded in New Haven Probate Records, vol. 6, p. 222. The widow's thirds appear to have been insufficient for her support, as is shown by a deed from her to Gideon Potter of New Haven, dated Oct. 19, 1739, in which she tells that "having by the providence of God been brought unto needy circumstances yt by many witnesses doth and may approve." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 11, p. 86.) Widow Mercy Luddington died Nov. 23, 1743, aged 75. (Dodd's East-Haven Register, p. 169.) Her will, made Jan. 7, 1742–3, was presented Dec. 5, 1743, when James Way, her son-in-law, was appointed executor. The will names son Eliphalet; grandchildren, viz.: John Dawson's children, Benjamin Mallory's children; granddaughter Elizabeth Goodsell; grandchildren, viz.: John Luddington's children, Jude Luddington and Elizabeth Rose; granddaughter Mary Mallory; and daughter Dorcas Way. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 6, p. 528.) An agreement was made Feb. 6, 1743–4, between James Way, executor, and Eliphalet Luddington whereby he took certain lands and paid all debts and legacies (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 6, p. 543); after which there was land to the amount of £20. 14. 2. set to each child or their heirs, with the exception of the heirs of John, the division being made Sept. 3, 1744 (ibid, vol. 6, p. 565). Whether John's heirs were in fact omitted, or whether it was only an omission in copying, does not appear. The Elizabeth Goodsell named in connection with the estate of Mercy Luddington is the Elizabeth Penfield named in the will and distribution of William Luddington's estate.

He remained in New Haven after his father removed to Newark, N. J., and was located in East Haven at "Bridge swamp," where his son James succeeded him. In 1683, he had only one person in his family, and four acres of land; and in 1702, he was listed as one person, with two acres. (Dodd's East-Haven Register, pp. 18, 60, 34, 38.) On July 8, 1731, "Rebecca Luddington Relict and Widow of John Luddington, late of East Haven decd.," and James Luddington, each of East Haven, deeded land to Gideon Potter "that descends to us the said Luddingtons by the Decd John Luddington." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 9, p. 68.) On Apr. 6, 1737, the widow deeded land to her "son in law Edward Canodise." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 10, p. 353.)

He was a soldier in the French and Indian War, from Apr. 23, 1755, until his death Sept. 3, 1756. (Conn. Hist. Society Collections, vol. ix., pp. 27 and 127.) Administration on his estate was granted to his widow Eleanor, the first Monday in Mar., 1757. The distribution was made Mar. 30, 1757, to widow Eleanor, to only son Lemuel, Elizabeth, second daughter Hannah, and Eunice. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. ix., pp. 40 and 48.) Children: 1. Elizabeth,[5] b. Apr. 23, 1737; m. June 18, 1760, Zachariah Deanes, b. Sept. 28, 1737, according to Prof. F. B. 5. Henry[3] Luddington (William,[2] William[1]) married, Aug. 20, 1700, Sarah, daughter of William Collins. According to Dodd, he was a carpenter. On Feb. 25, 1755, William Luddington of Branford (son of Henry[3]), cordwainer, deeds "right that falls to me by my Hon[rd] Mother Sarah Collins Ludinton of New Haven decd, Daughter of William Collins decd." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 18, p. 562.) In the land division of Sept. 18, 1705, he was rated at £25 estate, with 4 persons in family, and received 10 acres of land. (New Haven Proprietors' Records, copy vol. 4, p. 158.) Administration on his estate was granted July 3, 1727, to "Sarah Luddington Relict and Widow of the Decd." Nathaniel, Moses, and Aaron Luddington, his three minor sons, "made choice of their ——— for their guardian." (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 5, p. 379.) The inventory, taken Aug. 7, 1727, with an addition thereto Apr. 10, 1728, amounted to £201. 18s. Sarah Luddington chose her mother as guardian, June 27, 1728; Henry did the same, May 4, 1730; and Thomas the same, July 5, 1731. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 5, pp. 392, 432, 450; vol. 6, pp. 5, 6.)

She died May 31, 1748. His family record is found at Guilford, where he and his wife were living Aug. 29, 1738, when they deeded land to their son-in-law Jonathan Blakeslee of Guilford, which was "our Honoured ffarthers William Luddington Deceased." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 11, p. 2.) Jan. 18, 1743–4, she was "Relict widdow of Nathaniel Baly late of Guilford," when she deeded land from her father's estate to her "son-in-law Cornelius Dowde of sd Guilford." On Dec. 11, 1723, he subscribed to an agreement to live in Waterbury four years and build a house there; and in 1729 he was among the new inhabitants, with a wife and four children. He bought land in the north part of the town in 1738, and Oct. 8, 1740, was one of the signers, of Northbury (now Plymouth), of a petition to the General Assembly against building a new meeting house "at present," and offering to give a building for public worship. (New Hist. of Waterbury, vol. 1, pp. 295, 300, 363, 663.) Ebenezer and his wife Mercy were living at New Haven, May 2, 1739, when they sold land from their father's estate; and at Scotland, Windham Co., Conn., when they sold more land, Oct. 11, 1744. (New Haven Land Records, vol. 11, p. 59; vol. 12, p. 297.) He was a member of the church at Hampton, Conn., Dec. 28, 1729; and Ebenezer and Mercy Dean were among the original members of the church at Scotland, at its organization in 1735. The other children are according to Weaver's MS.

He was living at New Haven, Feb. 22, 1721–2, when William Luddington deeded land to his "son Isaac Penfield." (New Haven Land Records, vol. 8, p. 418.) He died Oct. 22, 1754, age 70. JOHN[3] LUDDINGTON (William,[2] William[1]), born Jan. 31, 1694, died Oct. 30, 1726, married, before Apr. 10, 1722, Elizabeth, born Sept. 24, 1697 (Patrick's MS.), daughter of John and Elizabeth (Holt) Potter of East Haven. PRE-REVOLUTIONARY McLOUDS IN CONNECTICUT

By Robert M. and Helen C. Search, of New Harbor, Maine

This article is presented not as proven fact, but, rather, in the hope that others may be interested in studying the problem and have some of the answers to the many questions. It is the accumulation of several years work collecting items relating to "McLoud" in the hope of proving the identity of Angus McCloud who married in the First Ecclesiastical Society, Hartland, Conn., 18 Feb. 1784, Sarah[5] Giddings (Joshua,[4] Thomas,[3] John,[2] George[1]). This couple were the grandparents of the Rev. Anson McLoud, Minister of the Congregational Church, Topsfield, Mass., 1841-1869. Besides consulting many genealogies and histories, research was carried on in the Connecticut State Library and in various towns in Connecticut. Invaluable help was rendered by Miss Frances Davenport, Head of the Reading Room in the Connecticut State Library in Hartford, and special credit must go to Mrs. Gloria M. Meurant of Tolland, Conn., whose patient and friendly help made this article possible.

1. Daniel McCloud, of Norwalk, Conn., parentage, place and date of birth not known, died probably in Norwalk between 1745 and 1750. He married, probably about 1736, Elizabeth ———, whose identity has not been definitely proved.* Elizabeth married, secondly, about January 1752, as his second wife, Samuel[3] Buck (Samuel,[2] Henry[1]) of Wethersfield, Conn., by whom she had one son, William, born 21 Nov. 1752. (Heman R. Timlow,Ecclesiastical and other Sketches of Southington, Conn., 1875, part 2, p. xxxvi; Henry R. Stiles, History of Ancient Wethersfield, Conn., 2:144, in which by error her name is given as Elizabeth M. Lead).

Only one direct reference to Daniel McCloud of Norwalk has been found, that of the birth of what is presumed to be his fifth child, Sarah, born in Stamford, Conn., 28 Sept. 1745. He is referred to in the probate records when his widow is appointed guardian of his son Daniel in 1750 (see footnote), again in 1755 when his daughter Anne, age 14, chose "her father" Samuel Buck to be her guardian (Manwaring, op. cit., 3:594). Charles Thornton Libby in his genealogy of the Knowles family (THE REGISTER, 80:130) refers to Mary McCloud, who married Samuel[4] Knowles, as "daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth of Norwalk." Thus it seems definitely established that there was a Daniel McCloud of Norwalk, that his wife's name was Elizabeth and that they had several children. Of those listed below all but Elizabeth and Michael are referred to in one or more of the records as children of Daniel of Norwalk. In this connection it may be significant that Mary (McCloud) Knowles named her only daughter Elizabeth after her sister.

Children:

i. MARY, b. about 1737; d. in Hartford 1 Oct. 1769; m. in Wethersfield, 6 Oct. 1757, SAMUEL[4] KNOWLES (John,[3] Samuel,[2] Richard[1]). Children (surname Knowles): 1. Elizabeth. 2. John (THE REGISTER, 80:130; Stiles, op. cit., 2:476; F. W. Bailey, Early Connecticut Marriages, Book 3, p. 10).

ii. ELIZABETH, b. about 1738; d. in Wethersfield 28 Oct. 1771, "In her 34th year" (gravestone); m. there, by Rev. James Lockwood, formerly of Norwalk, 18 Oct. 1759, WILLIAM[4] GRISWOLD (Caleb,[3] Michael,[2] Michael[1]). Children (surname Griswold): 1. Elizabeth. 2. Caleb. 3. William. 4. James (Gene E. Griswold, Griswold Family, 1935, 2:243; Stiles, op. cit., 2:400; Bailey, op. cit., Book 3, p. 10, where she is referred to as a "London Lady;" and records in the Town Clerk's office, Wethersfield).

iii. ANNE, born about 1741; d. in West Hartford, Conn., 10 March 1805; m. in West Hartford or Wethersfield, 9 May 1765 (intention West Hartford 28 April 1765), STEPHAN[6] WEBSTER (Isaac,[5] Stephan,[4] Jonathan,[3] Robert,[2] John[1]). Children (surname Webster): 1. Mary. 2. Theodore. 3. Stephan. 4. Norman. 5. William. 6. William. 7. Allen. 8. Anna. 9. McCloud. (W. H. and M. R. Webster, History and Genealogy of the Gov. John Webster Family of Connecticut, 1915, p. 216; Stiles, op. cit., 2:494; Bailey, op. cit., Book 3, p. 12).

*Charles William Manwaring, Early Connecticut Probates, 3:594: "Court Record, p. 135: - 3 July 1750. Daniel McCleod, 7 years of age, son of Daniel McCleod, late of Norwalk decd.: Elizabeth McCleod, late of Norwalk, now of Wethersfield, appointed to be his guardian. Recog. £400 money, with John Welles of Wethersfield." This shows that Elizabeth removed to Wethersfield after the death of her husband. It is reasonable to assume that she returned to her native town. Since it was customary for close relatives to be co-signers of bonds of this type, the fact that John Welles signed with her may indicate that her maiden name was Welles, or at least a relationship with him.

2. iv. DANIEL, b. about 1743.
v. SARAH "McClough," b. in Stamford, Conn., 28 Sept. 1745 (Stamford vital records, 1:67); presumed to have d. young.
vi. ? MICHAEL. Fairfield County (Conn.) Probate Record 4000, 2 Aug. 1748, shows a Micael MacCloud, a minor in the Town of Norwalk, became a ward of Nathaniel Benedict. Nathaniel Benedict is frequently mentioned in the records, but no further reference to Michael was found.

2. DANIEL McCLOUD (MacCloud, Cloud), of Pomfret, Conn., born perhaps in Norwalk about 1743, died in Pomfret 19 Nov. 1771, AET. 28 (Pomfret vital records, 2:9; gravestone). "Daniel McCloud, Carpenter, fell from a staging and survived but a few hours at Pomfret" (Providence Gazette, 30 Nov. 1771; James Arnold, Vital Records of Rhode Island, 14:96). He married in the Congregational Church in Brooklyn, Conn., 13 May 1764, MARY[4] CLEVELAND (Samuel,[3] Edward,[2] Moses[1]), born in Pomfret 4 Dec. 1740, died perhaps in Brooklyn before 3 April 1787, when her youngest son was made ward of William Smith (E. G. and H. G. Cleveland, Cleveland-Cleaveland Genealogy, 1:156; Bailey, op. cit., Book 1, p. 389). Mary married, secondly, in Brooklyn, 24 Oct. 1779, Samuel Whittaker, by whom she had at least two children, Lemuel and Polly (Bailey, op. cit., Book 1, p. 41; will of Eli Cloud, 27 June 1811).*

There is no proof that Daniel McCloud of Pomfret was the son of Daniel of Norwalk. However, he would have been the right age and there were very few McClouds in Connecticut at this time. A thorough search of the records in the Connecticut State Library failed to reveal any other Daniel McCloud who could have married Mary Cleveland in 1764. In the record of their marriage in the Brooklyn Church he is called Daniel Cloud (Bailey, op. cit., Book 1, p. 38). All of the Pomfret records call him MacCloud and this spelling and MaCloud are used in the Cleveland genealogy. Mary is called McCloud when she gives bonds with her brother, Joseph Cleveland, as guardian for her four sons 22 July 1772. On 27 Feb. 1772 Josiah Fasset and Joseph Holland, "apprisers," returned the inventory of the estate of Daniel Cloud (Records in the Connecticut State Library).

H. R. Stiles in his History of Ancient Wethersfield, 1:408, shows a Daniel McCloud in the Canadian Campaign in 1759. The Connecticut Historical Collections, 10:108, 191, 244, show him in this campaign and others in 1760 and 1761. Ellen D. Larned in her History of Windham County, Connecticut, 2:12, lists Daniel McCloud as one of twenty-one voters in Brooklyn signing a petition against building a new meeting house. These were the supporters of the "Malbone Church" (i.e. the Episcopal Church), and Richard M. Bayles in his History of Windham County, Connecticut, 1889, p. 593, shows that in April 1770 Daniel McCloud was one of those who petitioned to be relieved of his Church Taxes for this reason.

*The Inscriptions Index in the Connecticut State Library lists a Mary Cloud of Brooklyn, Conn., who died 13 Aug. 1783, aged 41. It is not known to whom this record refers.

Daniel and Mary (Cleveland) McCloud had four sons, all of whom used the name Cloud and removed to Vermont. The records of their deaths are on file in the office of the Secretary of State in Montpelier. The will of the youngest son, Eli, who died in Waterford, Vt., 13 Jan. 1812, proves that the Mary Cloud who married Samuel Whittaker was his mother for he mentions his "brother" and "sister" Lemuel and Polly Whittaker. It would also seem from his will, a copy of which is on file in the Connecticut State Library, that he was at one time a resident in that part of Pennsylvania the jurisdiction of which was so hotly contested between Pennsylvania and Connecticut, since he leaves "unto Nabby Fasset of Brantrim in the State of Pennsylvania, all of the property that Josiah Fasset Esq. of sd. Brantrim has of mine in his hands."* The inventory of Eli Cloud, also on file in the Connecticut State Library, includes a note against Eddie Winslow given in Pennsylvania in 1808.

Joint land owner with Jeptha Cleveland in Norwich in 1797 (Cleveland, op. cit., 3:2281). Mentioned in will of his brother Eli 27 June 1811. Called father of Rufus Bailey Cloud (E. M. Lovejoy, History of Royalton, Vermont, 1911, p. 728). Ten children (L. C. Aldrich and F. W. Holmes, History of Windsor County, Vermont, p. 596).

iii. DANIEL, b. 25 July 1769; d. in Charleston, Vt., 18 Sept. 1847, aet. 78, buried in Bly Cemetery, Charleston. No record of his marriage has been found, but the will of Eli mentions him and his son Harvey "of Waterford." Made ward of his mother 22 July 1772.

iv. ELI, born 2 Sept. 1771; d. in Waterford, Vt., 13 Jan. 1812, apparently unmarried or a widower without direct heirs since he leaves his real estate to Zenas Goss, son of Abel Goss of Waterford, with instructions to pay his debts and funeral charges, erect a pair of gravetones at his grave ($40.00), give to the Congregational Society of Waterford $200.00 toward a new meeting house to be erected within two years of his death, and buy a burying cloth ($20.00) for those buried in the graveyard on his farm. Made ward of his mother 22 July 1772, when he is called Eli McCloud; and later, 3 April 1787, ward of Capt. William Smith of Brooklyn, when he is called Eli Cloud; Joseph Cleveland, again, signing the bond with William Smith. Will and inventory on file in the Connecticut State Library.

The only other person of this name found in the Pre-Revolutionary records of Connecticut is Norman McLeod who died at the home of Elisha (or Elijah) Hurlburt in Chatham, Conn., 1 Jan. 1769.

*"Brantrim" is Braintrim, Westmoreland Co., Conn. See William Brewster, History of the Certified Township of Kingston [Pa.], p. 186, for a list of towns in Westmoreland County which now lie in the Counties of Luzerne, Wyoming and Bradford, Pa.

Norman McLeod was a sea faring man who was apparently taken sick on board ship in Chatham and went to the home of Elisha Hurlburt "for to be taken care of." The account of the expenses of Elisha Hurlburt (Middletown Probate District file 2269) show various charges: "to going for the docktor, to two quarts rum, to boarding him and tending him a fortnet and a day, and to sending to danbury for to try and get that note settled that is against John mcclane." The last item is "to one winding sheet, etc." From the inventory of his estate (Middletown Probate, 2:146) it would seem that Norman was master or mate of a vessel since he had a compass and quadrant, and that he was a man of some learning. In the list of his books were a "small old bible of French dialogues, homens Illiad, Ollids Art of Love, New Journale Cook, Hudebrats," and the note against John McLean (John McLean was selectman of Danbury at this time (cf. Susan H. Hill, History of Danbury, 1896, p. 91). No further reference to Norman McLeod has been found. Anne (McCloud) Webster and Daniel McCloud of Pomfret each named a son Norman and the name is found frequently among the descendants of Angus McCloud of Hartland.

PRE-REVOLUTIONARY MCLOUDS IN CONNECTICUT: CORRECTION.—In THE REGISTER for April 1962, p. 98, will be found Sarah "McClough," b. in Stamford, Conn., 28 * Sept. 1745 (Stamford vital records, 1:67); presumed to have d. young.

I submit the following in reference to Sarah, fifth child of Daniel McCloud of Norwalk, Conn.: "Joshua Risley, b. ca. 1742; d. at East Hartford, 12 Oct. 1822; . . . m. (1) at Wethersfield, 17 Feb. 1765, Sarah MacLeod (McCloud), b. ca. 1745, d. at East Hartford, 6 Sept. 1800, aet. 55" (American Genealogist, 25:242). H. R. Stiles, The History of Ancient Wethersfield, Conn., 1904, 2:548, shows this marriage but gives the bride's maiden name as "[Maitland ?]." Undoubtedly this is the Sarah referred to in the April issue of THE REGISTER as "presumed to have d. young."

Joshua and Sarah (McCloud) Risley had a daughter Esther who married Reuben Roberts of Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Beatty is a descendant of this marriage.

Baltimore, Md. JOSEPH M. BEATTY.

Hall, op. cit., p. 39). "Mabel McKean, wife of Barnabas, died September 26, 1819. United with the Church May 3, 1806" (Register of the First Presbyterian Church, Durham, Greene Co., N. The 1790 Census of Guilford Town, New Haven Co., Conn., lists Barnabas McKean as head of a family of 1 male over 16 [himself], 4 males under 16, and 6 females. He removed thence, with other Connecticut families, to Durham where in the 1810 Census he appears as head of a family of 6 (History of Greene County, New York, 1884, p. 41). But he does not appear in the 1820 Census and the settlement of his estate is not found in the surrogate's records in Greene County. Inquiries have been made of the surrogates of several adjacent counties without success.

3. BARNABAS HENRY[3] MCKEAN was born in Guilford, Conn. (according to the death certificate of his daughter Sarah Ann, although there is no entry in the Connecticut vital records). As "Harry M'Kean of Durham" he married 21 Sept. 1806 SUSAN TOWNSEND of Greenfield, N. Y. (Register of Presbyterian Church of Greenfield (now Greenville), Greene Co., N. Y.).

Barnabas McKean was listed as head of a family of 5 in the 1810 Census of that County, but was not listed in that of 1820; and the probate of his estate has not been found in the surrogate's records of that or any adjacent counties in New York. Although his daughter Sarah Ann was married evidently in New York City or Brooklyn in 1836, Barnabas H. McKean is not found listed in the city directories there. His wife Susan was born in Fishkill, Dutchess Co., N. Y., 10 Oct. 1788, daughter of John and Sarah (Tappen) Townsend, formerly of Poughkeepsie and later of Greenfield, N. Y. (New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, vol. 89, p. 151 et seq., July 1958). Susan McKean, wife of Barnabas, died at 715 North 20th Street, Philadelphia, Pa., 29 Nov. 1864, apparently visiting there and was buried in or near Catskill, Greene Co., N. Y., according to her death certificate. No gravestone has been found in the village cemetery there with the name of McKean.

H., 9 March 1836, founder of the "Cochranites" religious sect) and wife Abigail Stephenson Colcord (THE REGISTER, vol. 110, p. 233, July 1956). John Webster Cochran was an internationally famed inventor of fire-arms. The family resided in Paris, France, from 1846, when the eldest daughter, Helen, was placed in a boarding school there, and at the outbreak of the French Revolution in 1848 took refuge in England and soon returned to New York City.

PETER MALLORY, NEW HAVEN, CONN., 1644, AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS.

By James Shepard, New Britain, Conn.

1. Peter Mallory signed the planters' covenant at New Haven, Conn., 1644. The name is variously spelled in the early records there as Mallery, Malery, Mallary, Malary, Mallorye, Malorie, Mallory and Malory, but in later years it most frequently appears as "Mallory." The wife of Peter Malary united with the first church of New Haven in 1663. On Jan. 2, 1687, Peter Mallery of New Haven, planter, gives land to his son Peter, "whereof I the said Peter Mallary with Mary my wife have hereunto put our hands and seal," both signing by mark, his mark consisting of his initials, P. M., a step higher than signing with a simple cross. [New Haven land records, vol. 1, p. 370.] This Mary was probably the only wife he ever had. His home lot and most of his land was near the Milford town line at a place commonly called West Side Farms, now West Haven, in the town of Orange. The deed to his son John, dated March 25, 1687, was of "land lieing within New Haven township on the west river at the West farms, containing one acre and half, bounded by the highway that runneth from the Oyster point on the north, on the East by land of John Clark, on the south by land belonging to my son Thomas Mallery, on the west by a path that runneth between it and my other land whereon I dwell." [New Haven land records, vol. 1, p. 339.] That he was a large land owner is evidenced by numerous deeds on record in vol. 1. He repeatedly gave land to his sons John, Peter and Thomas. He also gave land "by way of portion in part with my loving daughter Rebecca Bunnell, to my loving son-in-law Benjamin Bunnell," dated July 2, 1684, and to his "daughter-in-law Mary Mallery widow, relict of Thomas Mallery my son lately deceased, * * * during the nonage of her son Thomas" with the proviso that if he die before he is twenty-one, then it shall go to her son Daniel at lawful age, and if he die then to her son Aaron, and if they three all die then "it be and remain unto my said daughter, * * * Signed with consent of my son Peter Jr." April 28, 1691.

On Aug. 30, 1697, he deeded all his "estate undisposed of * * * moveable, real or personal, to his son Peter Husbandman and son John Cordwainer" in consideration of life support. [Vol. 1, p. 729.] This deed and one or two others about the same date are signed by a simple P instead of P. M., his usual mark. He was undoubtedly in feeble health and perhaps had been feeble for many years. In the County Court Records, vol. 1, p. 45, Nov. 8, 1671, we find "This Court upon y^{e} allegations p^{r}sented on behalf of Peter Mallory Sen^{r} for freedom from training doth free him from y^{e} sd service." He died after Aug. 30, 1697, when he disposed of the balance of his property, and before Nov. 24, 1701, when John Malary conveys to John Smith "land belonging to y^{e} heirs of Thomas Malary * * * leading down to y^{e} dwelling house formerly belonging to peter malary my deceased father." [New Haven land records, vol. 2, p. 53.]

Eleven children are recorded to Peter Mallory on the New Haven records, born on the dates here given.

MALTBY-MALTBIE-MOLBY

By the late DOROTHY (MALTBY) VERRILL, of North Vancouver, B. C.

The first two generations of Maltby in New England were given at length in the "Maltby-Maltbie Family History", published in 1916, by Birdsey L. Maltbie and compiled and edited by Dorothy Maltby Verrill. Consequently the present article begins only with records of the third generation.

7. JOHN[3] MALTBY (John,[2] William[1]), born in Saybrook, Conn., 10 Sept. 1698, probably died at Guilford, Conn., 17 Sept. 1778. He married in Saybrook, 12 Nov. 1724, MEHITABEL CLARKE. John Maltby was of Wallingford in 1753, 1763.

It is believed he had a son, John, born about 1730-1, who is the following: (Ref. New York Hist. Society, 1891) "[John?] Maltby of Wallingford, Conn., enlisted April 19, 1759 in the New York Provincial Troops, aged 28." If he is John[4] (John,[3] John,[2] William[1]), his brother, William, born in 1727, was, in 1757, in Col. Lyman's Regt., 13th Company, Capt. Preston (Conn. Hist. Soc., vol. 9, 193). His sister, Mehitable, is called "of Wallingford" in 1755.

The compiler believes that John,[3] born in 1698, and a son, John, born about 1730-1, have been confused, and that the latter is the John who married in 1761, Jane Smith, widow of David Smith. John is called "of Wallingford". David Smith was of Saybrook and his will was probated at Guilford in 1760; Jane was living in 1790. A note received states: "John Maltby's estate was settled by his brother-in-law, Jonathan Osborne. While in 1763, Wallingford deed of John Maltby, names his son-in-law Jonathan Osborn".

John Davenport and first wife, Martha (Gould) Selleck, granddaughter of John Davenport and Abigail Pierson. In 1735 Captain Maltby's widow married Rev. Eleazer Wheelock, of Lebanon, N. H., founder of Dartmouth College.

That William Maltby was a Captain is proved by the death of his widow, as follows, "Mrs. Sarah Maltby relict of Capt.

Yale College, 1747; 2nd Presbyterian Minister at Bermuda, 1750. Rev. Jonathan Maltby, born in 1759, wrote a genealogy of the Maltby family (owned by the compiler) in which he states that the above (his second cousin) "came to New Haven in 1771, from South Carolina to my Father's in Northford, on his way to Dartmouth College to succeed President Wheelock. In two weeks he was a corpse" . . . . . "President Stiles" (of Yale) "said of him, 'he was the best Hebrewisher of the age' ". From Bermuda he went as minister to the Presbyterian Church at Wilton, S. C.

Children (possibly list is incomplete), order of birth unknown:

i. Elizabeth,[5] m. Dr. W. Smith Stevens, Charlestown, S. C.; had a daughter, Susan Eliza, living in 1809.
ii. William, supposed to be he of Papers of First Council of Safety, Rev. War Party in South Carolina. "June-November, 1775, William Maltby, 8 (St. Helena, 26 October)".
iii. John Davenport. A deed, 16 Sept. 1787, gives him of Warwick (Bermuda), Mariner, and Hester his wife, to Dr. Richard Bell of Southampton, 1st Party sells to 2nd, one undivided 3rd part in several tracts of land.
John Davenport Maltby's father was ordained by the New York Presbytery. Possibly he is the following. 1st and 2nd Presbyterian Churches, New York. "John Maltby and Esther Johnson his wife had a son, Daniel, b. Aug. 5, 1786, bapt. 15 Aug. 1786". (Query as to whether Hester of Bermuda record was Esther of New York.)
iv. Margaret, m. Stow Wood, merchant of Bermuda.

19. Joseph[4] Maltby (Joseph,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), born in Branford, Conn., 21 May 1738, living in 1799, in the vicinity of Whitesboro, N. Y. In 1766, of Goshen, also 1770, 1773, 1774; of Lenox, Mass., 1776; son, Chandler, born in 1779, in Goshen; of Harwinton, 1780; of Caanan church, 1782; Litchfield, 1790; of Goshen church, 1795.

It is thought that the wife of Joseph Maltby might have been a Crittenden. His brother, William Maltby, of Lenox, in a deed, 1779, to James Richardson, was signed in the presence of Aaron Adams and Huldah Crittenden, while a deed of Joseph Maltby, Lenox, executed 1776, is to Stephen Crittenden of Lenox. This is evidently Stephen, born in 1752, in Guilford, Conn. He and his brothers, Timothy and Seymour, were of Lenox, and Timothy Crittenden married Huldah Adams, Canterbury, Conn.

22. Jonathan[4] Maltby (Joseph,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), born in Branford, Conn., 10 July 1746, died 3 Oct. 1801. He married Lydia Bartholomew.

He was of Goshen, 1770, when his brother, Joseph Maltbie, sold him "three acres, Dwelling House and Shop . . . "

Revolutionary War Rolls record him as "Jonathan Malby, residence not given, served as a private in Company commanded by Capt. Josiah Yale, of Lee or Lenox, in 1781, on an alarm at Stillwater. Enlisted Oct. 10, 1781. Discharged Oct. 20, 1781. Service 12 days".

In 1782 there was a Jonathan Maltby in Lenox, Mass. He may have been Jonathan[4] (Joseph,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), or he may have been Jonathan[4] (Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]). The records of Vershire, Vt., cited by the present town clerk of Vershire (1955), assure us that Jonathan[4] (Joseph,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]) and his brother, William, were among the first settlers of Vershire, and that this Jonathan was the 1st Clerk of the Proprietors of Vershire, 28 Aug. 1783, and that he continued in that office for a number of years.

27. Rev. Jonathan[4] Maltby (Benjamin,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), born in Branford, Conn., 21 April 1759, died in Fair Haven 14 Sept. 1850. He married in North Branford, 17 June 1787, Submit Taintor, died 18 Dec. 1848, daughter of Nathaniel and Submit (Tyler) Taintor.

Graduated Yale College, 1779. Studied Theology with Rev. Benjamin Trumbull of North Haven. Went to Savannah, Ga.; to New Haven; and later taught in an Academy in Killingworth. Then he spent three years in Vernon, N. Y., and returned to Fair Haven. He was a student at Yale in 1775, and wrote a lengthy article "In Time of the Revolution". He wrote: "Some of the first young men, the flower of Northford, fell in the contest". Names mentioned include: "Capt. William Douglas, Sergt. Levi Munson, Corporal Josiah Fowler, Jun., Benjamin Henshaw, privates Nathaniel Bunnel, Caleb Cooke, John Elwell, Samuel Cook, Joseph Hawkins, Abner Tharp" (Thorp)"from Northford". "News of the capture of St. John's, Canada, was brought to New Haven by a brother of Gen. Ethan Allen. Col. Fitch ordered out the cannon . . . The gallant Allen, soldier like, leaped on the cannon at the last fire, swung his hat and cried 'God save the Continental Congress'. 'Three Cheers', O, it was done to the life. It was my first term in Yale College. January 17, 1776. Another detachment under Major Douglas of three months men was ordered to New York. Ensign Titus Monson (died on Long Island March 1776), Joseph Bunel, Solomon Linly and my brother Thaddeus Maltby were a part. Again in May 1776, Lieut. Ambrose Baldwin, Sergeant Benjamin Norton, Corporal Thaddeus Maltby and Dan Bartholomew, Peter Farnham, Factor Monroe and Dick Negro, seven men from that little village marched to the Northern army. Four of these fell victims to the cause of their country. Thaddeus Maltby, Dan Bartholomew, Factor Monroe and Dick Negro and two of the militia to New York, Edwin Foot and Dan Page . . . After decease of Col. Douglas, May 1777, the Reg. was commanded by Col. Meigs . . . Sergt. Levi Munson and Ser. Benjamin Norton early entered the army and retired 1783. Lieut. Serg. Munson was captured with Gen. Allen and was with him in prison two years in England. . . . . (Munson was appointed Lieutenant and served during the war. Capt. Isaac Foote was a warm and active officer, commanded a detachment of the troops to New York, 1776. Jonathan Maltby* and Solomon Talmage of the same troop, with others, were dispatched under Capt. Treat of Milford to the capture of Burgoyne . . . . Mr. Josiah Fowler and others were with Major Meigs in the expedition to Long Island, when ninty of the enemy were captured. They were guarded one night in the Episcopal Church in Northford on their way to Hartford.

Mr. Elihu Fowler was in the battle of White Plains (was a marksman) . . . . Jonathan Fitch served during and Peter Lyon were at the taking of Cornwallis . . . Capt. Jonathan Munson, Capt. Solomon Talmage, Mr. Elihu Foot, Squire John Potter and Mr. James Linly were pensioners . . . "

Another article is headed "Maltby Place, April 21, 1848. Birthday of my 90th Year," which deals largely of July 1779, when "Tryon and Traitor Arnold with three or four thousand British troops entered New Haven. After one night in town they cross next morning to East Haven . . . on Tuesday I was one of a————" [illegible] "party on East Haven hights, where balls were whistling constantly. A cannon ball took off all upper part of a Mr. Pardee's head, several men were wounded . . . While in New Haven three of my class went out with Capt. Hillhouse, David Austin, Elizur Goodrich are wounded. Austin bringing in a prisoner".

Rev. Jonathan Maltby was the first to write a genealogy of the Maltby family. The original MS. is owned by the compiler. It is particularly important due to the fact that some of the Revolutionary War Rolls are missing.

In this MS. he writes, "Squire Samuel Maltby, Yale College, Class 1712; was father to Samuel of Northford. He and my father were first cousins. He had three sons, Samuel, James, and Jonathan* . . . . Jonathan married a Culver. He and Sol. Talmage were detached from the troop under Capt. Treat of Milford and were with him at the Capture of Burgoyne; went to Lenox, Mass."

It will be evident that Jonathan's memory was excellent, and as he lived at Northford in early life, and must have known well this second cousin, Jonathan, it seems certain that he did know the war record of Jonathan, son of Samuel.

The 2nd Regt. of Militia was composed of companies from New Haven, Milford, Branford and Derby. Not all the Company rolls have survived; hence the importance of the written statements of Rev. Jonathan Maltby.

29. Col. Stephen[4] Maltby (Benjamin,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), baptized in Northford 20 Aug. 1769, died 22 Jan. 1812. He married there, 27 Sept. 1788, Abigail Williams, daughter of the Rev. Warham and Anne (Hall) Williams, of Northford.

Abigail's grandson (grandfather of the compiler) was seventeen when his grandmother died. He said "She was a very beautiful woman . . . When she married Stephen, the folks all said they were the handsomest couple ever stood up in Northford". Rev. Jonathan Maltby, his elder brother, wrote of him: "Stephen was an eminent teacher of music and was much employed at home and abroad". He was appointed Deacon, 31 May 1804; he was one of the Grand Jurors for Branford, or Northford, in 1794. Grandsons of Stephen Maltby always referred to him as "Colonel". Apparently he belonged to some local regiment.

32. Jonathan[4] Maltby (Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]), born in Branford, Conn., 21 Oct. 1751, died in New York State after 1804. His second cousin, Rev. Jonathan Maltby, wrote of him, "he married a Culver. Went to Lenox, Mass."

(Land records of County of Berkshire, Middle District Registry, Pittsfield, Mass.) 23 March 1786, a Jonathan Maltby of Lenox purchased land in the town of Pittsfield. Deed recorded 4 April 1787. On 3 April 1787 Jonathan Maltby of Pittsfield sold land of the identical description. Deed recorded 4 April 1787.

William Maltby acknowledged a Deed of Sale of land located in Lenox, before a Notary and witnessed in Orange County, Vt., 8 Nov. 1784. Had the above Jonathan been Jonathan of Vershire, he would have acknowledged the Deed of Sale before a Notary in Orange County. We assume that the 1786-87 transactions were executed by Jonathan[4] (Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]), and that he later went to Hebron Town, Washington Co., N. Y. Land records of Washington County, and of Onondaga County, N. Y. (including mortgages), leave no doubt that the Jonathan of Camillus, Onondaga Co., N. Y., was the Jonathan of Hebron Town (P. O. Salem), Washington County.

In 1774, the distribution of estate of his father, Samuel Maltbie, late of Branford, mentions "land bounded West by Caleb Calver's land". Calver is evidently Culver, and we find: "Caleb Culver, b. 1754, Wallingford, went to Lenox, Mass." In 1782 a Lenox deed from Jonathan Maltbie to Jonathan Hinsdale, mentions: "land bounded South by Rev. Samuel Munson and Dan Culver". Dan Culver, born in 1756, was brother of above Caleb. He removed to Aurelius, N. Y. It would seem probable that Jonathan's wife was a near relative of these Culvers. Unfortunately, there was another Jonathan Maltby, a contemporary, who was also in Lenox, a second cousin, born 10 July 1746 (Joseph,[3] Daniel,[2] William[1]), and it has been impossible to determine in some Lenox records which Jonathan is intended. Jonathan, born in 1751, may have had a second wife, as a descendant states, "he married Polly Foote". A deed recorded in Branford, 1 Jan. 1781, is by Jonathan Maltbie of Branford to his brother James. He appeared personally and signed this deed, 26 Dec. 1780. By 2 Aug. 1790 a Jonathan Maltby* was in Salem, N. Y. In 1792 Jonathan Molby of Salem bought land from George Guthrie in Hebron Town, N. Y. In 1804, in Camillus, Richard Rosa and Nancy Rosa his wife, deed land there to Jonathan Molbey. In 1810 he and his family are recorded in the Census (Town of Camillus, Onondaga Co., N. Y.), as Maltby. Of his four sons, two retained the spelling "Maltby" and two took the spelling "Molby".

Proof that he took part in the Revolutionary War is furnished from manuscripts written by his second cousin. Rev. Jonathan Maltby, who also resided at Northford. (This MS. is owned by the compiler.)

*Williams Papers, Albany, New York, State Library, vol. 3, p. 28 "Salem, August 2, 1790 Mr. John Williams Sir: Please to let the bearer thereof Mr. Jonathan Maltby have one Sickle and charge the same to me and you will oblige your humble Sarvt Thomas Collins".

In the MS. "In Time of the Revolution", he wrote: "Jonathan Maltby" (son of Samuel) "and Solomon Talmage of the same troop, with others were dispatched under Capt. Treat of Milford to the Capture of Burgoyne".

This follows: "Capt. Isac Foote . . . commanded a detachment of troops to New York, 1776". "Capt. Treat" was Samuel Treat, later Major in this same Regiment, the Second, part of second Brigade. They fought in the battles of 19 Sept. and 9 Oct. 1777. Upon General Burgoyne's surrender, General Gates referred to them as "two excellent militia regiments from Connecticut". (Ref. from Assist. Ref. Librarian, Dorothy W. Bridgwater, Yale University.)

In his manuscript genealogy of the Maltby family, Rev. Jonathan Maltby records: "Squire Samuel Maltby, Yale College, class 1712, was father to Samuel of Northford. He and my father were first cousins. He had three sons, Samuel, James and Jonathan . . . Jonathan married a Culver. He and Sol Talmage were detached from the troop under Capt. Treat of Milford and were with him at the Capture of Burgoyne, went to Lenox, Mass."

Children of Jonathan Maltby (or Molby), of Camillus, N. Y.:

i. Lucy,[5] said to have died aged about 16 to 18.
81. ii. Jacob Maltby, "born in Connecticut" probably 28 Feb. or 1 March 1782.
82. iii. Chester Molby, b. 8 Dec. 1788.
83. iv. William Maltby, b. 4 July 1800.
84. v. Isaac Molby, probably b. about 1805-6.

33. Capt. Jonathan[4] Maltbie (Jonathan,[3] Jonathan,[2] William[1]), born in Stamford, Conn., 17 Dec. 1744, died in Fairfield 11 Feb. 1798. He married there, 23 Oct. 1768, Elizabeth Allen, daughter of Lieut. David and Sarah (Gold) Allen. He is recorded in "Sketches of Bunker Hill and Monument" as "Capt. Jonathan Maltbe".

In 1775 (Civil and Military List of Rhode Island), is recorded: "Capt. Dudley Saltonstall, 1st Lieut. John Paul Jones", and among three other lieutenants, "Lieut. Jonathan Maltbie".

In 1776 a letter from Col. Gurdeon Saltonstall, NewLondon, 23 Jan. 1776, to Silas Dean, delegate to the 1st and 2nd Congress at Philadelphia, mentions: "Second Lieut. Maltbie's crew". His commission as Lieut. is dated 12 Oct. 1776. Signed by John Hancock. In 1777, he was 1st Lieut. of Connecticut Continental Frigate "Trumbull". His commission as Captain is in possession of a descendant. It is dated 21 March 1791. Signed "G. Washington. By the President Thos. Jefferson". At this time he became Captain of the "Trumbull". Later he was appointed Master of the Argus, a cutter in the service of the United States for the protection of the revenue.

NOTES ON NEW HAVEN FAMILIES

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., of New Haven, Conn.

Mansfield

1. Richard[1] Mansfield, of New Haven, married at St. Mary Archer, Exeter, England, 10 Aug. 1636, Gillian Drake, and died at New Haven 10 Jan. 1665. His widow married secondly Alexander Field, and died in 1669.

2. Joseph[2] Mansfield (Richard[1]), the elder of his two sons, was born about 1638, and died 15 Nov. 1692. He married Mary Potter, daughter of William and Frances (Register, vol. 54, p. 24). In Mansfield's "Descendants of Richard and Gillian Mansfield," published in 1885, is a very incomplete account of Joseph's family, and it says of his daughters Mary and Elizabeth that they "probably died unmarried." An entry in the New Haven County Court Records (vol. 1, p. 210), dated 14 June, 1693, mentions Joseph's widow Mary and his children, Mary Tirhan, Martha Sperry, Marcy Bristow, Silence Wilcocks, Elizabeth Johnson, Comfort Benham, Joseph Mansfield, Ebenezer Mansfield, and Japhet Mansfield. *

Children:

3. i. Mary,[3] b. 6 Apr. 1658.
   ii. Martha, b. 18 Apr. 1660; m. Richard Sperry, b. 20 Jan. 1652, d. 1734.

William and Elizabeth Johnson of New Haven, she being daughter of Joseph Mansfield, dec., acknowledged receipt of their portion from their uncle, Nathaniel Potter, Sr., he being brother to their mother, Mary Mansfield, dec. (New Haven Deeds, vol. 5, p. 131, recorded 1718).
   vi. Comfort, b. 6 Dec. 1668; m. John Benham, b. 15 Sept. 1664, d. 1744.

   x. Japhet, b. 8 July 1681; d. 1745; m. 16 Jan. 1703, Hannah Bradley, who d. 27 Oct. 1768.

3. Mary[3] Mansfield (Joseph,[2] Richard[1]) was born 6 Apr. 1658. In the County Court record referred to above, her married name is given as Tirhan, a variant for Turhand. The only man in the vicinity bearing this uncommon name, who could be her husband, was Thomas Tirhan of Guilford, Conn., who died in 1696, leaving a widow Mary and children Henry, Samuel, and Abigail (New Haven County Court Records, vol. 1, p. 241). But Mary had been married before, as administration on the estate of Henry Wise of Guilford, deceased, was granted, 11 June 1684, to his widow Mary (County Court Records, vol. 1, p. 147), and in June 1686, there is further record of this estate, mentioning the widow Mary, Thomas Terhan present husband to the relict, and two children, unnamed (County Court Records, vol. 1, p. 160). John Hill of New Haven, who was born 10 Jan. 1650, and died 1710, married for his second wife, Aug. 1703, Mary Turhan. Consequently Mary married first HENRY WISE of Guilford; secondly THOMAS TURHAND of Guilford; and thirdly JOHN HILL of New Haven. In 1712, administration on the estate of Mary Hill of New Haven, deceased, was granted to Henry Turhand of Wallingford; and the estate was distributed to her son Henry, daughter Mary wife of Israel Barnes, and the heirs of her daughter Sarah Wright, deceased (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 4, pp. 55, 89).

Children by first husband:

i. SARAH[4] WISE, m. ——— WRIGHT.
ii. MARY WISE, d. after 1756; m. 31 Dec. 1707, ISRAEL BARNES of New Haven, b. 22 Apr. 1680, d. 1751.

Children by second husband:

iii. HENRY TURHAND, of Wallingford; m. 7 Nov. 1712, ELIZABETH MERRIMAN, b. 4 May 1693.
iv. SAMUEL TURHAND, not named in the distribution of his mother's estate.
v. ABIGAIL TURHAND, not named in the distribution of her mother's estate.

4. SILENCE[3] MANSFIELD (Joseph,[2] Richard[1]) was born 24 Oct. 1664. The Mansfield Genealogy says she married a Chatfield, and there is plenty of evidence to prove that her second husband was a CHATFIELD; but the County Court record previously mentioned gives her name, in 1693, as Wilcocks. The Wilcox and Wilcoxson families of Connecticut descend from William Wilcoxson of Stratford, one of whose sons, Obadiah, settled in East Guilford, and died in 1714, leaving widow Silence. The comparative infrequency of the name Silence, together with the fact that Silence Mansfield's sister Mary married two Guilford men, make it probable that OBADIAH WILCOXSON was her husband; and furthermore, Obadiah's daughter Jemima married Rev. John Merriman of Southington, and had a grandson Norman Mansfield Merriman, whose name helps to substantiate the theory; but the following would seem absolute proof. In 1750, Samuel[4] Mansfield (Ebenezer,[3] Joseph,[2] Richard[1]) died without issue, and his estate, excepting the widow's dower, reverted to his uncles and aunts (of whom Silence was one) or their representatives. On 22 May 1753, John Merriman and his wife Jemima of Farmington, and Mindwell Hill and Thankful Norton, widows, of Guilford, deeded to Joel Bradley of New Haven one-fifth part of land that was Samuel Mansfield's, deceased (New Haven Deeds, vol. 17, p. 358). As Jemima, Thankful, and Mindwell were daughters of Obadiah Wilcoxson by his wife Silence, and as this deed proves them to be heirs of Samuel Mansfield, their mother must have been this Silence Mansfield whose name in 1693 is given as Wilcocks. She was Obadiah's third wife, and considerably younger than he. By his first wife, Mary ———, he probably had Ephraim and Janna (cf. Savage's "Genealogical Dictionary," and Wilcox's "The Descendants of William Wilcoxson," published in 1893); and according to Savage, his second wife was Lydia ———. She was Lydia Alling of New Haven, daughter of John and Ellen (Bradley), born 2 Aug. 1656, an identification which is proved by the fact that John Alling, in his will of 6 May 1689, names his grandchildren Ebenezer and Mary Wilcocks (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 2, p. 80). By Lydia, Obadiah had: Mary, born 1676, married Thomas Munson of New Haven; Lydia, born 1678, died young; Obadiah, born 1679, died young; Ebenezer, born 1682. By Silence, Obadiah had Children:

i. Timothy[4] Wilcoxson, b. 15 Nov. 1690; d. before his father, without issue (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 4, p. 295).
ii. John Wilcoxson, b. 9 Nov. 1692: d. 1 May 1753; m. 11 Jan. 1719, Deborah Parmelee.
iii. Joseph Wilcoxson, b. abt. 1694; d. 15 July 1770; m. 1722, Hannah Goodale.
iv. Mindwell Wilcoxson, m. 20 Apr. 1714, Daniel Hill of Guilford.
v. Jemima Wilcoxson, b. 30 Oct. 1699; m. at Wallingford, 24 Feb. 1726, Rev. John Merriman of Southington, b. 16 Oct. 1691, d. 17 Feb. 1784.
vi. Thankful Wilcoxson, b. 4 Apr. 1702; m. 6 Sept. 1722, Samuel Norton of Guilford.
vii. Silence (?) Wilcoxson, for whose existence Savage is authority.

Munson–Ferns

Samuel[3] Munson, son of Samuel[2] and Martha (Bradley), and grandson of Capt. Thomas[1] and Joanna, was born 28 Feb. 1669, resided in Wallingford, Conn., and died 23 Nov. 1741. According to Munson's "The Munson Record" (p. 90), his first wife was Martha ———, who died 7 Jan. 1707, leaving eight children. The following facts shed some light on this lady's identity, which has hitherto remained a mystery. In May 1704, administration on the estate of Samuel Ferns, Sr., of New Haven, deceased, was granted to Thomas Sperry. Later in the same year, an agreement was made by Thomas Sperie and Sam[ll] Munson, sons-in-law to Samuel Ferns of New Haven, deceased, providing for the disposal of his estate and for the maintenance of Samuel Ferns [Jr.] (New Haven County Court Records, vol. 2, pp. 152, 173). Since Samuel Munson's first wife, Martha, was living at this time, it seems certain that she was a daughter of Samuel Ferns. Her birth and marriage are not recorded in the vital records, where we find the births of three of his children: Samuel, Elizabeth, and John. As Samuel, Jr., had to be maintained by his brother-in-law, it is likely that he was an invalid or an imbecile. Although he was heir to some property, he executed no deeds, and there is no probate of his estate. Probably it went to Thomas Sperry in return for maintenance. As for the son John, he seems to have died in his father's lifetime. In 1705, Widow Sackett and her son John were appointed guardians to John, son of John Ferns, deceased (New Haven County Court Records, vol. 2, p. 202). On 26 June 1712, James Ferns, minor child of John Ferns, late resident at Woodbury, deceased, chose Serj[t] Samuel Mundson of Wallingford to be his guardian (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 4, p. 54). In 1724, on the death of James Ferns of Milford, some dispute arose as to whether his estate should go to his uncle, Samuel Ferns of New Haven, or to John Olmstead of Norwalk, whose wife was sister of the half blood to the deceased (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 5, pp. 200, 216). As the court decided in favor of the uncle, it is assumed that the estate came from the father's side, and that Olmstead's wife was half-sister on the mother's side; and this is substantiated by the Norwalk records, which show that John Olmstead's wife was Mary, daughter of Robert Small, "transient, sometime of Norwalk." From these facts and conjectures it is possible to construct this pedigree of the family:

1. SAMUEL[1] FERNS, of New Haven, died in 1704.
   Children:
   - i. SAMUEL,[2] b. 2 July 1663; living in 1724; probably d. unm.
   - ii. ELIZABETH, b. 7 Dec. 1665; d. 22 Apr. 1718; m. 18 Nov. 1684, THOMAS SPERRY, b. 13 July 1658, d. 1722.
2. iii. JOHN, b. 3 Mar. 1668.
   - iv. MARTHA, b. abt. 1670; d. 7 Jan. 1707; m. abt. 1688, SAMUEL MUNSON of Wallingford, b. 28 Feb. 1669, d. 23 Nov. 1741.

2. JOHN[2] FERNS (Samuel[1]), born 3 Mar. 1668, died before 1705, and probably before his father. He lived at Woodbury, Conn., and married the widow of Robert Small, who, by her former husband, had a daughter Mary Small, who married, 29 Feb. 1718, John Olmstead of Norwalk, Conn.
   Children:
   - i. JOHN,[3] must have d. unm. before his brother, unless his name, which appears only in the modern copy of the court records, be a clerical error for James.
   - ii. JAMES, of Milford, Conn., d. unm. 1724.

RECORD OF THE MARCY FAMILY.

Com. by Prof. Oliver Marcy, LL.D., of the Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

THERE are two families by the name of Marcy in the United States. One family is descended from John Marcy, of whom the first written notice appears in Elliot's Church Record in Roxbury, Mass., as follows: "John Marcy took the Covenant March 7, 1685." Among his descendants are the late Secretary of State, William Larned Marcy, General Randolph B. Marcy, and Erastus E. Marcy, M.D., now well known to our history and literature.

The other family is represented by the Hon. Daniel Marcy, of Portsmouth, New-Hampshire, and Peter Marcy and descendants, of New Orleans. The father of Daniel and Peter Marcy came to this country about eighty years ago from the island of Marie Galante, W. I. His father went to that island from France.

De Marcy, or, simply Marcy, is now a name quite common in France and its colonies. The name appears to have come into Normandy with Rollo (A.D. 912), thence it went to England with William the Conqueror (A.D. 1068), and became very common in Cheshire, where the orthography is now universally Massey or Massie. In this form (Massey) it is common in the English and Irish Peerage.

In evidence that the present French form of the name obtained somewhat in England, I find in "The Patents of King John" (A.D. 1208) mention made of one "Radus de Marcy."

We propose to trace only the family of John Marcy, whom we find at Roxbury.

1. John Marcy was the son of the high sheriff of Limerick, Ireland.* He was born about the year 1662; joined Elliot's church in Roxbury, Mass., March 7, 1685. In April, 1686, he with Benjamin Sabin, Jonathan Snithers, Henry Bowen, John Frizzel, Mathew Davis, Nathaniel Gary, Thomas Bacon, Peter Aspinwall, George Griggs, Benjamin Griggs, Ebenezer Morris and John Lord, took possession of Quatosett (Woodstock, Conn.), granted (1663) by the colony of Massachusetts to the town of Roxbury. He married Sarah Hadlock, daughter of James and Sarah (Draper) Hadlock, of Roxbury. She was born Dec. 16, 1670. They lived and died in Woodstock. He died Dec. 23, 1724, aged 62 years. She died May 9, 1743, aged 73. Their children were:

i. Anna, b. in Roxbury, Oct. 11, 1687; m. Ebenezer Grosvenor, of Pomfret.
2. ii. John, b. Nov. 17, 1689; m. Colburn.

* The authority for this statement is a memorandum made by the Rev. Laban Ainsworth, of Jaffrey, N. H., about the year 1785. The memoranda were given him by his mother, the daughter-in-law of John Marcy. The date of his birth is computed from data on his tombstone now seen at Woodstock, Conn.

* "Experience, wife of John Marcy, owned the covenant, April 6, 1727."—Ch. Rec.

married Prudence Morris. He moved to Sturbridge, Mass., in 1732, where he became "the principal man in the colony." * He was the first justice of the peace; the first representative to the general court from the town; was moderator at 70 town meetings. During the French war he fitted out soldiers for the army at his own expense, but was afterward remunerated by the town. At a meeting of the church, held March 18, 1752, to compromise with the "separatists," Moses Marcy was moderator, and the historian speaks of the "excellent spirit displayed by the excellent and venerable moderator." He died Oct. 9, 1779, "leaving an honorable name, a large estate, and a numerous family." A list of persons married by himself includes 55 marriages; the list beginning in 1755 and ending in 1776, a period of 21 years. In this list we have the following, probably his children:

GENEALOGICAL SKETCH

OF THE DESCENDANTS OF REINOLD AND MATTHEW MARVIN, WHO CAME TO NEW ENGLAND IN 1635.

[Compiled from authentic sources, by T. R. MARVIN, Boston.]

The following sketch is necessarily imperfect, from the fact that the records to make it complete are not within the reach of the compiler. It was originally commenced by him with the hope of tracing the direct line of his ancestry to the first emigrant to this country; in this he has been entirely successful. If those of the name will communicate to the compiler correct lists of their families, he will hereafter make use of them.

In some of the following records there are apparent discrepancies in regard to the ages of persons, arising from the fact that their birth was recorded for old style, and their death for new style.

The first family by the name of MARVIN, who came to New England, consisted of two brothers, Reinold and Matthew, and one sister, Hannah, who probably came over from England with her brother, Reinold. I have not been able to ascertain in what year Reinold came to New England. Matthew, and his family, came in 1635, as will be seen by the following statement:

During the summer months of 1842, Hon. James Savage of Boston, Mass., who was on a visit to England, was chiefly occupied with searching for materials to illustrate the early annals of New England. He was richly compensated for his toil. The result of his investigations was published in the 8th vol. Mass. Hist. Coll., 3d series, under the title of 'Gleanings for New England History.' From this article I extract the following:

"Perhaps the acquisition most valuable, in the opinion of our local antiquaries, is my copious extracts from a MS. volume in folio, at the Augmentation Office (so called), where the Rev. Joseph Hunter, one of the Record Commissioners, presides, in Rolls Court, Westminster Hall. It contains the names of persons, permitted to embark at the port of London, after Christmas, 1634, to the same period in the following year, kept generally in regular succession. This was found a few months since, and may not have been seen by more than two or three persons for two hundred years."

Under date of 15th April, 1635, is the following entry in the above named volume:

"Theis parties hereafter expressed, are to be transported to New England, imbarqued in the Increase, Robert Lea, master, having taken the oath of allegiance and supremacy, as also being conformable, &c. whereof they brought testimony per certif. from the Justices and ministers where there abodes have lately been."

The following names are included in the list above referred to:

Husbandman	Matthew Marvyn,	35 yrs.
uxor	Elizabeth Marvyn,	31
	Elizabeth Marvin,	11
	Matthew Marvyn,	8
	Marie Marvyn,	6
	Sara Marvyn,	3
	Hanna Marvyn,	½

The brothers Matthew and Reinold were among the original settlers of Hartford, Conn., and both were proprietors of land in that ancient town.

Matthew resided on the corner of Village and Front streets, Hartford, for some years. He was among the pioneers in the settlement of Norwalk, which town he represented in the General Court in 1654. Matthew, his son, represented that town in 1694 and 1697; Samuel, his grandson, in 1718, and John, his grandson, in 1734 and 1738. He died at Norwalk, in 1687.

Reinold* sold his land in Hartford and removed to Farmington, and was probably among the first settlers of that town. About 1648, he sold his property in Farmington to John Warner. The property sold to Warner consisted of a homelot of five acres, a new house, and other lands, which are recorded at Farmington. This "was a prominent homelot, having Mr. Willis of Hartford, on one side, and Mr. Hopkins on the other; it was on the west side of the main street." From Farmington he removed to that part of Saybrook, which is now Lyme, where he died in 1662. He had two children, Reinold and Mary. His daughter Mary married William Waller of Saybrook; they had sons William, John, Samuel and Matthew. The early town records of Saybrook have been unfortunately destroyed by fire,—and the Farmington town records do not extend back farther than 1646; so that it is only by collateral evidence that some of the foregoing dates and conclusions have been arrived at. His will is recorded on the Colony Records at Hartford, in which he directs that to each of his grandchildren, "there be provided and given a Bible as soon as they are capable of using them." The inventory of his estate amounted to over £800.

Hannah married Francis Barnard, at Hartford, in 1644; and removed from thence to Hadley, Mass. She died in 1676. Farmer says, that Francis Barnard is the ancestor of all the divines of the name of Barnard, who have graduated at Harvard, excepting John of Marblehead, and Jeremiah of Manchester, N. H.

Reinold Marvin (son of Reinold, preceding), born about 1634, married, about 1663, Sarah Clarke, daughter of George Clarke, Jr., of Milford, Conn., husbandman. She was baptized Feb. 18, 1644. He is known on the town records as Lieutenant Reinold Marvin. He was one of a committee appointed to divide the town of Saybrook, in the year 1665. That part of the town lying east of Connecticut river, was named Lyme, from Lyme Regis, in the south-west of England. Lieut. Marvin was a large landholder, and a prominent man in the town. He represented Lyme in the General Court in 1670, and from 1672 to 1676. He had three sons,—John, born 1664–5; Reinold, born 1669; and Samuel, born 1671: and two daughters, Mary and Sarah. Mary married Richard Ely of Saybrook. He died in 1676, aged 42 years. His widow, Sarah Marvin, married Capt. Joseph Sill, Feb. 12, 1677–8. She was his second wife, and had children—Joseph, born Jan. 6, 1678–9; and Zechariah, born June 1, 1682. Capt. Sill had formerly lived in Cambridge—his first wife was Jemima Belcher, daughter of Andrew Belcher, by whom he had several children. He had distinguished himself in Philip's Indian war. He died Aug. 6, 1696, aged 60.

Reinold Marvin, second son of Lieutenant Reinold, was born in 1669. He was famous as Lyme's Captain. He was a deacon in the Congregational Church. He represented Lyme in the General Court from 1701 to 1728. He was first married in 1695, to Phebe ——; she died Oct. 21, 1707; married the second time in 1708, to Martha Waterman, daughter of Thomas Waterman of Norwich; she died Nov. 1753, aged 73. He died Oct. 18, 1737, aged 68 years. The following is inscribed on his tombstone:

This Deacon, aged sixty-eight,
Is freed on earth from serving;
May for a crown no longer wait, Lyme's Captain, Reinold Marvin.

The above inscription, as also that on the gravestone of his first wife, was executed by an illiterate artist, and with bad spelling, and the effects of time, is now rather obscure. The following is the inscription on the gravestone of his first wife:

Here lies the body of
wife of Reinold Marvin, who died October 21, 1707,
in the 31 year of her age.

Her body only resting here,
Her soul is fled to a higher sphere.

Samuel Marvin, third son of Lieutenant Reinold, represented Lyme in the General Court, in 1711 and 1722.

Reinold Marvin, first son of Captain Reinold, was known and spoken of as Deacon Marvin. A great many anecdotes are related concerning this Deacon Marvin—which have generally been attributed to Captain Reinold. I am fully convinced, however, that they all belong to his son Reinold; both being Deacons, and both having the same Christian name, the mistake could easily be made. This son Reinold was unquestionably the poet who composed the epitaphs on his father's and mother's tombstones, and the odd genius of whom a multitude of anecdotes and queer sayings and rhymes, are still related; the most of them are positively known to apply only to the son of Captain Reinold.

Reinold Marvin, first son of Deacon Reinold, graduated at Yale College, 1748; studied law; resided in Litchfield. He left a daughter who married Ephraim Kirby, who prepared the first volume of Law Reports published in the United States. Major Reinold Marvin Kirby of the U. S. Army, son of Ephraim Kirby, was twice breveted for gallantry in the war of 1812, and died in the service in 1842.

Richard Pratt Marvin, a great-grandson of Deacon Reinold, was a Member of the 25th and 26th Congresses of the United States. Is at this time one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the State of New York.

William Marvin, brother of Richard P., is a District Judge in the U. S. Court for the District of Florida, and resides at Key West.

Dudley Marvin, a great-grandson of Lyme's Captain, was twice elected a Member of Congress from Ontario county, N. Y., and in 1846, a Member from Chautauque county, N. Y.

William Marvin, another great-grandson of Lyme's Captain, was for several years a Judge of Probate, for the District of Lyme, Conn.

Mary E. Marvin, dau. of William Noyes Marvin, m. Ammi Filley, 1831. Their son, William, b. in 1832, was lost among the Indians, an interesting account of which, and his recovery, prepared by a gentleman in Granville, Mass., was published in the newspapers of the day, and is here subjoined.

In 1835, Mr. Ammi Filley of Windsor, Conn., having in 1831 m. a dau. of Capt. William Marvin of Granville, Mass., removed with his family to the town of Jackson, in the state of Michigan. In this town, then a wilderness, he located himself, and by his industry, economy and perseverance, he soon found himself in possession of a productive and profitable farm, and by the accession of settlers, the town from an uncultivated desert, became a flourishing and populous village. Although in the vicinity of numerous hordes of savages, and often visited by wandering families of the natives with whom the citizens occasionally traded, yet no hostility was ever manifested, all was peace and quietness, and every thing conspired to render their abode pleasant and happy.

On the 3d of August, 1837, his little son, then a child of five years old, went out to a swamp in the vicinity of their dwelling with a hired girl to gather whortleberries. The swamp was in the direction from Mr. Filley's to the dwelling of a Mr. Mount, the father of the girl, whither they expected to go to spend the night, and the scene of their amusement was about a mile from the house of the former and some twenty or thirty rods from the dwelling of the later.

Having satisfied himself with picking berries, the child discovered a desire to return, whereupon the girl conducted him to the road and placed him in the direction to the house of Mr. Mount, not doubting, as the house was in plain view, and only a few rods distant, but the little fellow would reach it in perfect safety. The girl returned to the swamp, and after completing her supply of fruit, went home to the house of her father, and found to her astonishment, as well as that of the family, that William had not arrived. Notice was immediately communicated to the parents and an alarm given through the settlement, and the whole population rushed at once to the assistance of the almost distracted family. Day and night, for weeks, witnessed the praiseworthy exertions of his neighbors, and the whole country in every direction to an extent of more than twenty miles, was searched with untiring vigilance. Every stream of water and pond was examined and dragged, and every rod of ground scrutinized for many successive days, and no trace could be discovered of the absent child. As an inducement to continue the search, notice of the event was published in the papers, and Mr. Filley offered a reward of two hundred dollars for a recovery of the child, either dead or alive.

As suspicions were entertained that foul play had been practised by the Indians, inquiries were made of the different tribes and families in the vicinity, and pecuniary offers tendered to their chiefs and head men, and Mr. Filley himself traversed for months, the wilds of Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa, but his efforts proved ineffectual; no discovery could be made and no tidings received, and he returned to his heart-broken family with the sad conclusion that their little William was lost!

For seven long years this stricken family endured the agony of an affliction which seldom falls to the lot of humanity to experience. "Months of vanity and wearisome nights were appointed to them." If the shaft of death had smitten down their first-born while under their fostering care, and they had seen him laid in the grave of their own churchyard, time would have tempered their grief and mitigated the anguish of their bereavement, but the painful suspense, the awful uncertainty that hung over his fate, was an abiding sorrow which time could not soften and earth had no balm to heal. As time rolled on, hope became more and more extinguished, William was not forgotten. The mournful event, with its aggravating circumstances, was a corroding canker upon every comfort of the family—a fatal disease seized the mother and she sunk into an untimely grave.

Since the decease of his wife, Mr. Filley has visited Connecticut, the place of his nativity, and while here, by a mysterious course of events beyond the comprehension of human wisdom to fathom, his long lost child has appeared and been restored to his fond embraces.

It seems that the lad before reaching the house of Mr. Mount, was overtaken and kidnapped by a band of Indians, who in their wanderings, happened to pass that way at that time. In this family he lived, and traveled with them in all their migratory movements from the time he was captured until the autumn of 1843. About this time, this family visited Albany, N. Y., and while there this white child was discovered among them.

The municipal authorities of the city becoming acquainted with the circumstance, at once caused their arrest, and took measures to compel them to disclose the means by which they became possessed of the child. They were alternately flattered and threatened, but no disclosure could be obtained. They manifested their native obstinacy and resolved to submit to any punishment rather than make any communication by which the paternity of the child could be ascertained. They were therefore discharged, the child retained, and very humanely placed in their Orphan Asylum.

Subsequently, in the spring of 1844, Mr. L. Cowles of Tolland, Mass., being in want of a boy in his family, was recommended to this place, and was furnished with this lad, whom he brought home with him to his residence in Tolland.

In the month of Dec. 1844, by a series of events unequivocally bespeaking the intervention of Divine benevolence, the facts that transpired at Albany in relation to this boy, came to the knowledge of the Rev. Dr. Cooley of Granville. The Doctor having frequently heard the circumstances under which the child was lost, immediately communicated the intelligence he had obtained to Mr. Marvin, the grandfather of the child, and he made known the tidings to Mr. Filley, who was then with his friends in Connecticut.

From the knowledge thus obtained, Mr. Filley was prompted to call without delay on Mr. Cowles, and examine the child—although time and exposure had changed his countenace and somewhat obliterated his youthful features, yet in his personal appearance he found a correct counterpart of the other members of his family. His size, his age, the complexion of his eyes and hair, and all his prominent characteristics, resembled those of his child, and upon appealing to a known scar upon his head and an indubitable mark in the hair of his head, his identity was plainly recognized, and with emotions of unspeakable joy he pressed to his bosom his long lost Son.

From the story of the boy, it appears he has constantly continued in the same family, consisting of four Indians, Paul Pye and Phebe Ann Pye his wife, Martha Ann Pye their daughter, and Thomas Williams, who seemed to be an inmate in the family. They adopted him as their son, and he was taught and believed that Paul and Phebe were his parents, and Martha his sister. He supposed himself an Indian boy, and was not aware of any difference of complexion or distinction of nation until his deliverance at Albany. It seems he felt an instinctive repugnance to their manners, and attempted once or twice to run away, in consequence of which they cut off one of his toes, by which means they could more readily reclaim him by his track. He has an indistinct recollection of attending school, but when or where, he knows not. This seems to be the only remaining fact in his memory that he can recognize as having transpired prior to his capture, and he does not seem to associate this with any other fact indicative of his home, except that he did not go to school with Indians.

The first place which he remembers to have visited was Green Bay, of the scenery of which he gives a faint, though correct description. In traveling to that place they probably either went or returned by water, as he remembers sailing in a steamboat. He was compelled to accompany them in all their migrations, and was used as a mendicant to beg clothes at the white settlements through which they passed, and furnish the family with food when their indolence prevented their obtaining it in any other way.

In the summer they made their peregrinations back and forth through the states of Michigan and New York, and sometimes visiting Connecticut, and at one period encamped themselves for several weeks in Stonington. In the winter they generally quartered themselves in wigwams in the vicinity of some village, and lived on small game, such as rabits, skunks and bullfrogs, the latter of which they deemed a sumptuous repast.

Occasionally they made a few baskets and taught the trade to the boy, and also instructed him into the art and mystery of bartering the commodity for whiskey.

He recollects living near Detroit, Utica, Brothertown, Catskill and Hudson, and several months at Hillsdale, N. Y.

In all their rambles, in summer and winter, he traveled barefoot, suffering in winter from the cold, and at all times from hunger and fatigue. His little Indian sister was his only solace, and like a second Pocahontas, her tender assiduities contributed essentially to render his captivity endurable.

Although he can not recognize his new friends, he rejoices in the felicity of a civilized and permanent home, and all parties feel a grateful sense of the kindnëss of the Author of all good for this marvelous display of his benevolence in "redeeming us from our enemies, for his mercy endureth forever." C. MATTHEW MARVIN AND HIS SECOND WIFE, WIDOW ALICE BOUTON.

By William T. R. Marvin, A.M., of Boston, Mass.

In the Genealogy of the Marvin Family, printed in the Register (Vol. XVI., p. 250 et seq.), which was furnished by my father, the late Theophilus R. Marvin, and in the Marvin portion of the "Family Memorials," published by Mr. and Mrs. Edw. E. Salisbury, of New Haven, and compiled by myself, it is stated (p. 91) that the first Matthew Marvin, who came to New England in the "Increase," Capt. Lea, in 1635, and settled in Hartford, and later in Norwalk, Ct., married as his second wife "Mrs. Alice Kellogg." I have recently found that this was an inference made by one of his correspondents,—whether based on an inspection of the will of Alice Marvin, or from some other source, cannot now be determined. The discovery of this will by the late Allyn S. Kellogg, while searching for his own ancestry—he being a descendant of Alice Marvin—seems to show that the inference was made from the will, because it mentions her "daughter Briggit Kellock," who was the wife of Daniel Kellogg, and it was known that Bridget was the daughter of a John Bouton; and no other John being known than the husband of Abigail Marvin, then living, it was thought that Daniel was her own son, and not her son-in-law. This will, of which I give an abstract, is recorded in the Fairfield Probate Records, Vol. III. (1675–89), page 61. It is so important as bringing to light facts hitherto unknown, and as completely disproving the statements concerning the man supposed to be the first John Bouton in New England, which are given in the "Bouton-Boughton Family," that it seems desirable to place these facts in the hands of genealogists, and to correct the errors noted.

The abstract is as follows:

Will of "Alce (sic) Marvin of Norwocke . . . . being aged seaventee years or thereabouts."

"Imprimis, I doe will and bequeath the sum of twenty pounds to my sonn John Bowton and to my daughter Bridgit Killock, to be equally devided between thos two: That is to say, ten pounds apiece."

"Item, I doe give after my decease, to my daughter Briggit Kellock my scarfe and my best cloath waskcot and my best serg coat and my best green apron and the best of my two under cotten coats and my spectacles."

"Item, I doe give unto my daughter Abigal Bowton my best hat and my best cloke and my serge wastcoats and my under cotten wastcoat and a pair of lether gloves, 2 brass small wayts."

"Item, I doe give to my daughter Rachell Smith my penne (stone?) coat and my flannel wastcoat, and to my grandchild Sarah Brinsmead my Cheast; and to my grandchild Ruth Bowton my brass kettle 3 old pewter dishes and a brass Chafendish and a gilpot: and to my grandchild Rachell Bowton my Bible."

Remainder; "my will is shall be devided between my two dafter (sic) Brigget Kellock & Rachell Smith. The hetchell my will is, half to my sonn John Bowton and half to my daughter Brigget Kellock, etc."

*Pages 503-507, this volume.

It is to be noticed first, that the testatrix remembers with gifts of money her "sonn, John Bowton" (who married Abigail Marvin), rather than his wife, and her "daughter Briggit Kellock," who it is certainly known was Bridget Bouton when she married Daniel Kellogg, rather than her husband; thus giving to those who were her children by blood, and not by marriage, legacies amounting to £20 which had been the property of Alice before she married Matthew Marvin, as I shall presently show, while Daniel Kellogg is not named.

In the will of Matthew Marvin, dated Dec. 20, 1678 (Fairfield Probate Records, III., p. 58, et seq.), who died before his wife, he first of all bequeathes "unto my dearly beloved wife Alice Marvin, the sum of twenty pounds as her owne true and proper estate: for her to will and order as she pleaseth, etc." Clearly we have here the £20 which she gives to her sole surviving children by her first husband, and which she felt in duty bound to leave them. She remembers her son's wife, Abigail, and Rachel Smith, who I believe was her daughter by her second husband, Matthew Marvin, as there were at least four and probably five of Matthew's daughters by his first wife living when Alice's will was made, but not mentioned therein, viz: Elizabeth Olmstead, Sarah Curtis, Mary Adgate, Hannah "Semer," and Rebecca Clarke. (The latter is not named in either of the articles on the Marvin Family named above, but I have lately obtained information concerning this daughter and she is mentioned in Matthew's will.)

We may well believe that the reason why Rachel received no more was because she and her husband, Samuel Smith, had already been provided for by Matthew; on Dec. 23, 1674, about four years before his death, he gave her "50 pounds worth of my comonage lot, halfe my home-lot, etc." (See Norwalk Land Records, folio 61; the volume has no index, and is badly out of binding.)

The next person mentioned in Alice's will is her grandchild, Sarah Brinsmead, the married daughter of Bridget,* who does not concern us, and finally we have "my grandchild, Ruth Bowton." This last Mr. Kellogg aptly calls "a most illuminating reference." This Ruth was the posthumous daughter of Richard Bowton and Ruth Turney; the latter was a daughter of Benjamin Turney, of Concord and Fairfield, born Jan. 28, 1643-4. The reference therefore proves that the said Richard Bowton was the son of Alice Marvin by her previous husband. As both Bridget and John are called on different Norwalk records the children of a John, and on Fairfield records Abigail's husband John is called the "uncle" of Ruth, we have the name of Richard's father, and the proof that Alice's first husband was a John Bowton, facts hitherto unknown. These facts are corroborated by other documents on the Fairfield Probate Records, which I will next cite.

I. On page 1, Vol. II., is the "Inventory of Richard Bowton, lately deceased," dated June 27, 1665, in which we find "Coopers Tools, 3: 5: 0." He left no will, but on the day he died said to Joseph Middlebrook and his wife Mary (who I believe was the widow of Benjamin Turney and if so was Richard Bowton's mother-in-law), that he "would give his estate to Ruth, his wife, excepting his tools." The Court approved this as his will; "Only it is provided that if the said Ruth shall now be with child, the said child shall have its part of the estate as the Courte shall hear after think meet, yf there be occasion. And yf ther be no issue of the deceased, then it is ordered by the Courte that John Bowton, sonn of John Bowton, shall have the said deceaseds tools, the Court apprehending it was the will of the deceased it should be so."

Here we find that John[2] Bowton who married Abigail Marvin, was the "son of John," for although John[2] had a son John[3] in 1665, he was then a mere child (born Sept. 30, 1659), and it is hardly supposable that Richard[2] in dying would have passed over his brother and left his tools to a boy six years old, or that the Court would have approved such an act.

II. Richard's widow, Ruth, died shortly after, leaving an infant child Ruth, of whom more hereafter, who is the Ruth mentioned in Alice's will. The inventory of widow Ruth is given under date of November 7, 1666; it amounts to £91: 06: 7, and mentions "meadow and uplands, £10." (Ibid, II, 16.) Reference to this land appears below.

III. On page 17 is still a more important document. It is an agreement signed by Matthew Marvin, Senr., Rob: Turney, and John Bowton,[2] November 8, 1666, the day after the inventory was entered; I have a full copy of this, but it is too long to quote in full: it begins "Wee whose names are underwritten being Realations to Ruth Bowton, the daughter of Richard Bowton and Ruth his wife, late of ffairfield, deceased, etc." It goes on to provide for the care of the infant child, and her support out of the estate left by her mother; in case of her death the land was to "reaturn to Benj. Turney of ffairfield:" £7: 17: 6 was to go to Thomas Morehouse, and the rest of the estate to be divided. Ruth was to be placed with Matthew Marvin (husband of her grandmother) until she was eighteen; if he died before that time she was "to be put to John Bowton of Norwocke, the childs Unkle, etc."

This proves my statement above, that John[2] was her uncle, and hence her father's brother: that this is the Ruth whom Alice calls her grandchild is also proved by several other documents on record, of which I have copies, and to which brief reference will be made below, but not necessary to quote in full. That this is the Ruth who survived her grandmother is further shown by the inventory of Matthew Marvin's estate; the "meadow-land etc.," is mentioned on III., 59, of Fairfield Probate Records, which say that July 13, 1680, the land in Fairfield was not valued, "but remains to be prized. This land as we understand did formerly belong to the estate of Richard Bowton." Again, on page 60, "The land at Fairfield is found to be in Ruth Bowton's Inventory to be (sic) Ten pounds." I have traced it further, but it seems needless to give its history here: it is constantly recognized as belonging to Alice's grandchild.

From the foregoing documents I think these points are fully established, viz:

I. That the second wife of Matthew[1] Marvin was not a Widow Alice Kellogg, but the widow of John[1] Bowton, who has hitherto escaped the knowledge of genealogists entirely.

II. That by her first marriage to John[1] Bowton, she was the mother of the Richard[2] Bowton who married Ruth Turney and died in 1665; of Bridget Bowton, who married Daniel Kellogg; and of John[2] Bowton who married Abigail Marvin.

III. That her first husband's name was John Bowton appears not only from the Agreement cited concerning the infant Ruth, but from the Norwalk Records cited by Hall, p. 187, which say Bridget Bowton, wife of Daniel Kellogg, was daughter of John. This latter statement is what has misled previous writers into believing that John who married Abigail had been previously married, and that Bridget was his daughter (instead of being his sister) by that earlier marriage.

IV. That by her second marriage to Matthew Marvin, Alice became the mother of his youngest child, Rachel, who married Samuel Smith, baptized Sunday, Dec. 30, 1649, at Hartford, and probably of Samuel, baptized Sunday, February 6, 1648, at Hartford, who is supposed to have died young, no further reference to him having been discovered. I mention here that between this Samuel and Abigail who was born about 1636, we should place Rebecca, who married John Clarke, of Farmington, and had John, Matthew, Elizabeth, Rebecca, and probably others; Mr. W. S. Porter also mentions a "Lidia," but I have been unable to learn on what authority. These dates may however help us to approximate the date of the marriage of Matthew and Alice.

If the first John Bowton was the one who sailed for Virginia in the "Assurance" (see Hotten, p. 111, and Savage, etc.), and the first husband of Alice Marvin (and no evidence whatever has been adduced that I can discover, to show that such was the case), he must have died before 1647, and left nothing by which to identify him as such. It is clear, however, that the John of the "Assurance" is not the John who married Abigail Marvin. On the title-page of the "Bouton-Boughton Family" the claim is made that that John was "a native of France, who embarked from Gravesend, England, and landed at Boston in December, 1635, and settled at Norwalk, Conn." He seems from Hotten to have sailed July 25, 1635, aged 20, and therefore, if the theory of the compiler of that book were true, was five months on the ocean, and was a widower of over 40 when he married Abigail Marvin, a girl of about 18! What authority that compiler has for his further statements, that "the Government of England were offering to send emigrants to America, on condition that they would swear allegiance to the crown of England," I know not; it has been generally believed that instead of offering to send them, they did their best to prevent many from coming. I think the liberal offer here announced will be news to most of your readers. The author continues: "A registry of such emigrants was kept at London, a copy of which has been examined by the compiler of this work [The B.-B. Family], and as only one person by the Bouton name is found on that registry, embracing a period of one hundred years from 1600 to 1700, it is supposed that said person [the John who sailed from Gravesend] is the John Bouton of whom this account is traced." That is, the John who married, as he believes, Abigail Marvin, is the same as the emigrant, for he knew nothing about the John who was Alice's first husband. The "copy examined" was probably Hotten, which as every genealogist knows, is very incomplete.

But I have neither time nor inclination, nor have you the space to waste in pointing out the numerous errors in the "Bouton-Boughton Family" concerning the person there given as the first of the name. I content myself with showing that the attribution of the children Bridget and Richard to the husband of Abigail Marvin, by an earlier marriage with one "Joan Turney," not mentioned elsewhere so far as I have been able to discover, and said to have died in Norwalk (B.-B. Fam., p. 7), is proved false by the documents cited above: that his statement that Abigail died at Norwalk about 1672, is shown to be an error by the will of Alice: and that his further statement that John "married as his third wife at Norwalk, about 1673, Mrs. Mary, widow of Jonathan Stevenson, who was killed in the Swamp-fight with the Indians near Norwalk," is rubbish, first, because Abigail was living in 1680; second, the Swamp-fight was in Rhode Island, December, 1675; and third, because Jonathan Stevenson was alive in 1677, on Feb. 20 of which year land was granted him for his services in that fight! (See Hall's Norwalk.)

But the compiler has mixed up three Johns—the first, the husband of Alice; the second, the husband of Abigail, and the third, the son of John[3] and Abigail, who died in Danbury, before his father, and made a will in 1700; while the will of the second John, the copy and the original of which I have examined at Fairfield, is dated Dec. 25, 1706, and the year is written out in words in the instrument. But enough of this. Some of the errors are those of carelessness in copying, by one not familiar with the writing of the period; some are due, like one just mentioned, to ignorance; and some to the confusion caused by the identity of names; while the statement that the John who came in the "Assurance," aged 20 in 1635, was the son of Count Nicholas Bouton, of France, said in the "History of Fairfield County" to have been born in 1598, is as absurd as it is impossible, if the date of the birth of Nicholas given in the "History" be correct. It is at least equally probable that he was a relative of John Bowghton, of Colchester, Essex, who was summoned before the Vicar-General, March 2, 1527. (See Annals of Non-Conformity in Essex, by Rev. T. W. Davids, London, 1863, and Strype, Ecc. Mem., I., 119.) Finally, for amusement, in this dreary waste of blunders, let the reader familiar with French heraldic terms peruse the farrago concerning the Bouton arms [in the B.-B. Family], and the explanation given of the blazon.

Marvin-Bradley.—Knowing that corrections of genealogical matter in the Register are desired, I send the following. My informant was Judge Ulysses L. Marvin, son of the lady.

In vol. 57, page 138, Elizabeth Clara,[5] dau. of Arba[4] and Esther (Chamberlain) Bradley, should be Elizabeth Chloe, and she married, not John, but Ulysses Marvin. One of her daughters was Chloe Bradley Marvin. *

I have the same name from several sources, and Judge Marvin is good authority. I have full particulars of the whole family. Elizabeth Chloe died 28 June, 1884. W. T. R. Marvin.

[Communicated by Hon. Reuben H. Walworth, of Saratoga Springs.]

I Gen. Major John Mason, born in England, about 1600, was a Lieut. in the army, and served in the Netherlands under Sir Thomas Fairfax. He emigrated to America about 1630, settled in Dorchester, and represented that town in the General Court. In Oct. 1635, he removed to Windsor, Ct., in company with the Rev. John Warham, Henry Wolcott, Esq., and others of the first settlers of that town; where he was elected an Assistant or Magistrate of the colony in 1642. In May, 1637, he commanded the successful expedition against the Pequots, near New London. He m. about 1640, Anne ——, and in 1647 removed his family to Saybrook. Addenda.

J. Hammond Trumbull has given me the name of the first wife of Major Samuel Mason; and furnishes me with evidence that Elizabeth the youngest dau. of Major John Mason was the first wife of Major James Fitch; and that the clerk at Stonington was incorrect in stating that Hezekiah Mason was a son of the second wife of Daniel Mason. This, with information from other sources and a memorandum I have of the children of Major James Fitch, &c., enables me to make, to my notes of the Mason family, the following addenda and corrections.

1. Major Samuel Mason (No. 1) m. June, 1670, Judith Smith of Hingham, Mass. (2 N. E. Hist. Gen. Reg., 253). And he brought her home to Stonington, 22 June, 1670; and he had by her, two dau. (who died in childhood) in addition to the children mentioned before (Miner's Diary).

2. Hezekiah Mason, b. 3 May, 1676, at Roxbury, was a son of Margaret Denison, the first wife of Daniel Mason (No. 6) who was sent to her mother's at Roxbury, to be delivered, in March, 1676 (2 Col. Rec. of Conn., 418). Daniel Mason's first wife died, and was buried at Stonington, 13 May, 1678 (Miner's Diary). Rebecca Hobart was therefore the second wife of Daniel Mason.

3. Elisabeth Mason (No. 7) b. Aug., 1654, at S.; m. Jan., 1676, Major James Fitch, b. 2 Aug., 1649, at Saybrook, eldest son of Rev. James Fitch, the first minister of Norwich, by his first wife Abigail Whitfield, they settled at Norwich, where he was elected one of the assistants of the Colony of Conn. in 1681; and where she d. 8 Oct., 1684. He had by her 4 children: 1, James, b. Jan., 1678; died when a week old. 2, James 2d, b. June, 1679, died early and unm. 3, Jedediah, b. 17 April, 1681; who was living at Nantucket in 1736. And 4 Samuel, b. 12 July, 1783; who m. Mary ——, and removed to Maidenhead, N. J., where he died previous to 1736, and she was living at Flushing, N. Y., in 1736; and they had 7 children, James, Samuel, and Sarah, who were then living at Maidenhead; and Mary, John, Esther and Elizabeth, who were then living with their mother at Flushing.

After the death of his first wife, Major James Fitch removed to Canterbury, Conn., and m. 8 May, 1687, Mrs. Alice (Bradford) Adams, dau. of Major William Bradford of Plymouth, and his first wife Alice Richards; and grand dau. of Gov. William Bradford of the Mayflower, and his second wife Mrs. Alice Southworth. She was the wid. of Rev. William Adams, minister of Dedham, Mass., who d. 17 Aug., 1785, and was the mother of Elizabeth Adams the wife of Rev. Samuel Whiting the first minister of Windham (see No. 14). Major James Fitch d. 10 Nov., 1727, at Canterbury. By his second wife he had 8 children: Abigail, b. 22 Feb, 1688; Ebenezer, b. 10 Jan., 1690; Daniel, b. Feb., 1693; John, b. 1695; Bridget, b. 1697; Jerusha, b. 1699; William, b. 1701; and Jabez, b. 1703.

I was wrong in supposing that Ebenezer Fitch d. 29 May, 1755, grandson of Nathan Fitch (No. 64), was the President of Williams College, as that Ebenezer Fitch was born a year too early. President Fitch removed to Bloomfield, N. Y., where d. 21 March, 1833, aged 77, as Allen states. He should have said in his 77 year; for for President Fitch was b. 26 Sept., 1756. He was a son of Dr. Jabez Fitch and Lydia Huntington of Canterbury, and grandson of Col. Jabez Fitch above named, who was b. 1703, youngest son of Major James Fitch, by his last wife, Alice (Bradford) Adams.

4. I have also became satisfied that Capt. John Mason (No. 3) m. Abigail Fitch, b. 5 Aug., 1650, at Saybrook, the eldest sister of Major James Fitch; though I have not been able to find any conclusive evidence of the fact.

5. The name of Major Mason's first wife, to whom he was m. July July, 1639, was Anne Peck. From the statement of Savage, I think Major John Mason had, by his first wife, a daughter named Judith, who m. 17 June, 1658, John Bissell of Windsor, who afterwards removed to Lebanon, and they had 8 children: 1, Mary, b. 1659; 2, John, b. 4 May 1661; 3, Daniel, b. 1663; 4, Dorothy, b. 1665; 5, Josiah, b. 1670; 6, Hezekiah, b. 1673; 7, Anna, b. 1675; and 8, Jeremiah, b. 1677. (See 1 Sav. Dic., 187.)

MORRIS FAMILIES OF WESTERN CONNECTICUT

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., of New Haven, Conn.

I. The Thomas Morris Family of New Haven

A book published in 1853 and entitled "Memoranda of the Descendants of Amos Morris, of East Haven, Conn.," gives the line of Amos[4] Morris (James,[3] Eleazer,[2] Thomas[1] of New Haven, Conn.). A more recent compilation, "Genealogy of the Morris Family," purporting to give the descendants of Thomas[1] Morris of New Haven, deals principally with the line of James[3] Morris (Eleazer,[2] Thomas[1]) and the progeny of female lines. It is the purpose of the writer of the following account of the family of Thomas Morris to correct the inaccuracies of the last-mentioned volume and to set forth the lines omitted therein.

1. Thomas[1] Morris of New Haven,* who died 21 July 1673, married Elizabeth ———, who died, as his widow, in 1681. He was one of the founders of New Haven, and owned land in that part of East Haven which was named Morris Cove for his family.

Children, recorded at New Haven:

i. Hannah,[2] bapt. 14 Mar. 1642 [? 1641/2]; m. in 1662 Thomas Lupton of Norwalk.
ii. Elizabeth, bapt. 10 Dec. 1643.
2. iii. John, bapt. 8 Mar. 1646 [? 1645/6].
3. iv. Eleazer, bapt. 29 Oct. 1648.
v. Thomas (twin), b. 3 Oct. 1651; d. young.
vi. Ephraim (twin), b. 3 Oct. 1651; d. young.
4. vii. Joseph, b. 25 Mar. 1656.

2. John[2] Morris (Thomas[1]), baptized at New Haven 8 Mar. 1646 [? 1645/6], died 10 Dec. 1711 (gravestone at New Haven). He married, 12 Aug. 1669, Hannah Bishop, born 29 May 1651, died 12 June 1710, daughter of Deputy-Gov. James and Mary. The "Morris Family" states (p. 74) that prior to this marriage he married first Ann ———, who died 4 Dec. 1664; and secondly, 29 Mar. 1665, Elizabeth Harrison, widow of John [sic] Lyne and John [sic] Lampson; and that by this second wife he had a son John[3], born 16 Dec. 1666, founder of the Morris family of Newark, N. J. A large section of the book is devoted to the descendants of the Newark family.

* All places mentioned in this article are situated within the present limits of the State of Connecticut, unless another State or region is indicated in the text or may be easily inferred from the context.

But, in reality, it was another John Morris who settled in New Haven and married first Ann ——— and secondly Elizabeth Harrison, widow of Henry Lyne and Thomas Lampson. With his second wife he removed to Newark, where he died in 1677, leaving two sons, John and Philip. In 1670 John Morris and his wife Elizabeth, of Newark, conveyed to Jonathan Lampson of New Haven land formerly belonging to Thomas Lampson, father to said Jonathan (New Haven Deeds, vol. 1, p. 29). Since this was subsequent to the marriage of John[2] Morris (Thomas[1]) to Hannah Bishop, it proves that John Morris of Newark was a separate individual from John[2] Morris of New Haven. That John[2] (Thomas[1]) left only daughters as surviving issue is abundantly proved by probate and land records.

Children, recorded at New Haven:

i. A DAUGHTER,[3] b. 19 June 1670; d. in 1670.

He was living at Salisbury in 1756–1758, and appears in Litchfield County in the Census of 1790. He married, 15 Oct. 1742, Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Thomas and Abigail (Potter).

Children:

i. Abigail,[5] b. at New Haven 13 Aug. 1742; according to "Morris Family" m. ——— Gaylord, though this statement is probably due to confusing her with her aunt (5, iii). Perhaps she was the Abigail Morris who m. (intention recorded at Great Barrington, Mass., 23 Feb. 1762) Eliathah Rew.
ii. Elizabeth, b. at New Haven 19 Oct. 1743.

xi. LEVI.

12. DANIEL[4] MORRIS (Thomas,[3] Joseph,[2] Thomas[1]), born at New Haven in Apr. 1715, removed to the parish of Stratfield (now Bridgeport) in the town of Fairfield, and later to Newtown, where he died 1 Mar. 1792. He married first, 19 July 1741, SARAH (FAIRWEATHER) MACKHARD, who d. 16 Apr. 1761, widow of Matthew; secondly, 29 Dec. 1761, PRUDENCE (SOMERS) CURTIS; and thirdly ELIZABETH ———. In 1740 Daniel Morris of Fairfield, with Amos, Asa, Esther, and Elizabeth Morris of New Haven, conveyed to their brother Thomas their rights to lands of their father Thomas, deceased (New Haven Deeds, vol. 17, p. 3). The town records of New Haven, Stratford, and Fairfield prove conclusively the parentage of Daniel Morris of Fairfield; but, despite this, the "Genealogical and Family History of the State of Connecticut" (1911) states (p. 711) that he was born at Bridgeport 7 May 1715, the son of Daniel and Polly (Benjamin), and that the elder Daniel was born at Boston, Mass., 13 Feb. 1672, and died at Bridgeport in 1749, the son of Dorman and Elinor Morris of Boston. The birth of a Daniel, son of Dorman Morris, is recorded in Boston in 1671,* but there is nothing to prove that Daniel of Boston or any other Daniel Morris settled in the neighborhood of Fairfield until Daniel of New Haven moved to that place about 1740. To him and his descendants their correct ancestry is here for the first time assigned.

Children by first wife, born at Fairfield:

i. MARY,[5] b. 1 Dec. 1742; d. 30 Nov. 1776.
ii. SARAH, b. 1 Sept. 1745; d. 21 Nov. 1771.
iii. AMOS, b. 30 Nov. 1747; d. 7 Dec. 1747.

16. v. DANIEL, b. 13 Dec. 1750.

* Mrs. Lucia R. Fellows of Salt Lake City, Utah, has records showing that this Boston family was not a Morris family at all. Its progenitor was Dorman Mahoone, an Irishman who died in Boston in 1661; and members of the family appear on record under the names of Mathue, Maroone, Mareen, and Morris. The publication of these records has given rise to a controversy, the outcome of which cannot affect the validity of the statements in the text above.

II. The Richard Morris Family of Milford

1. Richard[1] Morris first appears at Newport, R. I., and it is believed that his mother was Margaret[3] Painter, daughter of Shubael[2] and Mercy (Lamberton) (cf. Register, vol. 68, p. 275). His father * may have been of the family of Capt. Richard Morris, a man of note in early Newport; but the partial destruction of the records of that town makes anything more than conjecture impossible. According to the records of Trinity Church, Newport, he married first, 22 Dec. 1717, Elizabeth Auxeny; and secondly, 24 May 1721, Jean Eddy, daughter of John. In 1726 he was still of Newport (cf. Register, ut supra), but on 30 Apr. 1738 Jane, wife of Richard Morris, joined the Congregational Church at Milford, Conn. In his will, dated 24 Mar. 1759 and proved in May 1759, he named his wife Jane and his son John, and referred to other children, unnamed (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 9, p. 247). In Apr. 1767 administration on the estate of Jean Morrice of Milford was granted to Samuel Basset in right of his wife Susanna, daughter of the deceased (ib., vol. 10, p. 399). Her estate was insolvent, and among the debts was a sum due Mercy Morris for nursing.

Very little pertaining to this family is on record at Milford; and since Samuel Morris (4, ix) of the New Haven family resided there for a time, it is difficult to identify Richard's children with certainty. For the benefit, however, of future genealogists the following brief sketch is appended.

Children:

i. Susanna,[2] m. Samuel Bassett of Milford.
2. ii. John.
3. iii. Thomas (probably s. of Richard).
4. iv. Joseph (probably s. of Richard).
5. v. George (probably s. of Richard), b. abt. 1731.
vi. Mercy, d. at Milford 25 Mar. 1778.
vii. David (probably s. of Richard). On 4 Mar. 1780 a private recorder of Milford mortality noted that he had heard of the death of David Morris in captivity.

2. John[2] Morris (Richard[1]) lived in that section of Milford later incorporated into the town of Woodbridge. He married at Woodbridge, 12 Nov. 1750, Sybil Newton. The record of his family is incomplete. Clarania, daughter of a John Morris, was baptized at New Milford in 1769.

Children:

i. Richard[3] (probably s. of John), d. at Milford in 1825, aged 63; m. Sarah ———, who d. at Milford, as his widow, in May 1847, aged 94.
6. ii. Newton John.

3. Thomas[2] Morris (? Richard[1]) died at Wallingford 21 Apr. 1777. He married Sarah ———, who was buried at Wallingford (Cheshire), as his widow, 7 Aug. 1777. He lived in that part of Wallingford which later became the town of Cheshire, and his burial is recorded in the Cheshire church records under date of 22 Apr. 1777. On 4 May 1777 the Milford recorder of deaths noted the death of Thomas Morris, "once of Milford," thus proving that he belonged to the Milford family.

Children (record incomplete):

i. WILLIAM,[3] m. at Wallingford, 16 Oct. 1777, REBECCA PERKINS, dau. of John and Dorcas (Brooks). He removed from Cheshire to Waterbury, where he appears in the Census of 1790 with six males under sixteen years of age and two females in his family. About 1800 he removed to Hampton, N. Y. Children: 1. Thomas,[4] b. 10 Apr. 1778. 2. Shubael, b. 17 Nov. 1779.

ii. SOLOMON, m. at Cheshire, 24 Feb. 1780, KEZIA MOSS. In 1778 he and William Morris bought land in Waterbury (Waterbury Deeds, vol. 17, p. 277), but it is doubtful if he removed thither. He settled at Warsaw, N. Y.

4. JOSEPH[2] MORRIS (? Richard[1]) probably married SARAH ———, who married secondly John Marchant of Waterbury. Joseph Morris served in 1762 in the French and Indian War. The death is recorded at Milford of a Joseph Morris at Seabrook, 10 Nov. 1776, and of another Joseph Morris, 3 Jan. 1778. On 9 Feb. 1796 Sarah Marchant of Milford and David Morris of Waterbury conveyed to James Rylee their rights in the house and garden of Joseph Morris of Milford, deceased (Milford Deeds, vol. 19, p. 425). On 10 May 1796 David Morris of Waterbury conveyed to James Rylee the rights that John Morris had in the house and garden of Joseph Morris of Milford, deceased (ib., vol. 19, p. 424). On 14 Nov. 1796 Elisha Morris of Milford conveyed to Bryan Gillett his rights in a house and garden (ib., vol. 20, p. 553). It seems likely that the names of the widow and three sons of Joseph Morris appear in these deeds. It is known that the Sarah Marchant of the first-mentioned deed was mother of David Morris of Waterbury, for on 7 Feb. 1796 (two days prior to the date of this deed) the latter conveyed to his mother, Mrs. Sarah Marchant, the east room in his house (Waterbury Deeds, vol. 25, p. 335).

The death of a wife of a Joseph Morris, aged 22, is recorded at Milford, 12 Apr. 1805; but the identity of this Joseph has not been established.

Children:

7. i. DAVID.[3]

ii. JOHN. In 1791 he conveyed land in Salem (Waterbury Deeds, vol. 23, p. 31), then a parish in Waterbury, now the town of Naugatuck.

iii. ELISHA, m. ———, whose death is recorded at Milford, 27 Aug. 1821, aged 54. The death of a child is recorded in 1812. Children, bapt. at Milford 4 Sept. 1808: 1. Aaron.[4] 2. Jared. 3. Melinda. 4. Andrew.

5. GEORGE[2] MORRIS (? Richard[1]), born about 1731, died at Milford 10 Mar. 1776. He married EUNICE PLUMB, daughter of John and Kezia (Alling). On 30 Apr. 1754 John Plumm conveyed land to his daughter Eunice, wife of George Morris (Milford Deeds, vol. 12½, p. 555); and he also left to her a legacy in his will, dated in 1762 and proved in 1763 (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 10, p. 51). In Oct. 1773 it is recorded that George Morris of Milford, by the long illness of his wife, was reduced and had come to want; and that he, his wife, and two small children had been under the care of the selectmen (Colonial Records of Connecticut, vol. 14, p. 200). The death of a Widow Morris is recorded at Milford, 9 Sept. 1781.

Children:

i. JOHN,[3] b. at Milford 4 Apr. 1754 and bapt. in the Second Church, Milford, 19 May 1754. On 15 Aug. 1804 David Morris of Derby mortgaged his home to John Plumb Morris of New York, N. Y. (Derby Deeds, vol. 17, p. 100); and on 7 May 1819 John P. Morris of New York, with his wife Abigail, quitclaimed this property to the widow and children of David (ib., vol. 22, p. 34).

III. An Unplaced Family

William Morris of Oxford was possibly a son of George Morris of the Milford family (5). In 1795 he was chosen as guardian by Leverett Lines of Oxford, whose mother is said by descendants to have been Anna Morris. He married first, 28 Mar. 1792, Elizabeth Thomas, born about 1772, died in 1808, daughter of Reuben and Rhoda (Clinton); and secondly Amelia Thomas, born about 1771, died in 1853, sister of his first wife.

Child by second wife:

MORSE, EVERETT, JONES, AVERY.—Abigail[3] Morse, daughter of John[2] and Annis (Chickering) Morse, was born in Dedham, Mass., March 2, 1646-7, and baptized March 8, 1646–7. She married for her first husband Israel[2] Everett, son of Richard and Mary (Winch) Everett, who was born in Dedham July 14, 1651, and died there December 23, 1678. To them were born in Dedham Tabitha[3] Everett June 11, 1676, and Josiah[2] Everett August 3, 1678. She was married a second time, October 18, 1687, by Rev. John Bayley of Watertown, Mass., to William Jones, a tailor, then of Watertown. He was a son of Dep. Gov. William and Hannah (Eaton) Jones of New Haven, Conn.; date and place of birth unknown; died May 23, 1700, Guilford, Conn. To them was born in Watertown, Caleb Jones, December 20, 1688.

The wife survived her second husband, and died in Guilford, Conn., Sept. 23, 1737.

William Jones, with his wife Abigail, appear to have lived in Watertown from their marriage in 1687 until about 1690, when the family, with the three young children, removed to Guilford, Conn., and thenceforth resided there. The two children by the first marriage retained their father's name under the spelling of "Avered," grew up and were married in Guilford.

Tabitha[3] Avered married January 5, 1705, Benjamin Dudley, a twin son of Joseph and Ann (Robinson) Dudley, who was born June 11, 1671, and died February 20, 1720, in Guilford. She married secondly February 21, 1723, Jasper Saxton, whose birth and death are unknown. Her death is recorded in the Guilford Church records: "Tabitha Avered Saxton, widow Jasper, Sept. 27, 1755." By the first marriage there were four daughters and one son.

Josiah[3] Avered married Dec. 20, 1703, Elizabeth Cook, daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Mason) Cook. She was born in Guilford February 22, 1684. To them were born in Guilford five sons and two daughters: Elizabeth,[4] Nov. 5, 1704; Israil,[4] May 4, 1708; Josiah,[4] Aug. 4, 1710; Reuben,[4] Nov. 7, 1712; Sarah,[4] July 18, 171—; Abner,[4] April 7, 1721; Timothy,[4] May 9, 1727.

Josiah[3] Avered, or Everett, the father, removed to the adjoining town of Durham about 1728 or 9, and in 1732 moved again to the adjoining town of Wallingford, where he was living in 1747, when he deeded a farm to his son Abner[4] Avered, in consideration of love and good will to him.

Caleb Jones, the son by the second marriage, likewise grew up in Guilford, and was married there July 15, 1723, to Mary Bishop. He died May 24, 1754.

Israil[4] Avered, born as above stated May 4, 1708, in Guilford, removed as a young man with his parents to Durham, where he was married Aug. 25, 1731, to Abigail Beach. Between the years 1736 and 1740 he removed to Torrington, Conn., where he died about 1794. In his early years of married life he resided in Durham or Wallingford, probably the former, where, on the town records, the name is spelled Avered, Avored, Averd, and Auered. After the removal to Torrington it became Averet, Everit, and Everett, and all of his descendants have followed the last. Their children were: Mical,[5] born July 29, baptized Aug. 21, 1732, in Durham; Abigail,[5] born March 1, 1733–4, in Durham, and living unmarried in 1796 in Torrington; Samuel,[5] born Feb. 6, 1739, and died Nov. 1, 1821, in Granville, Ohio; Anna,[5] born Jany. 15, baptized Jany. 18, 1740–1, in Durham, and living unmarried in 1796 in Torrington; Sarah,[5] baptized May 6, 1744, in Durham, married a Mr. Green, and was living in 1796 in Clarendon, Rutland Co., Vt.; Hannah,[5] born May 7, 1747, in Torrington, and baptized July 26, 1747, in Durham, living unmarried in 1796 in Torrington; Eunice,[5] baptized Sept., 1750, in Torrington, and died in infancy; Israel,[5] born June 16, baptized July 19, 1752, in Torrington, and died about 1800-10, in Ballston, N. Y.; Eunice,[5] born April 16, 1755, in Torrington, married Titus Andrews, and they were living in 1796 in Stillwater, Albany Co., N. Y.

Josiah[4] Avered, the second son, born Aug. 4, 1710, in Guilford, died Feby. 23, 1765, Bethlehem, Conn.; married March 20, 1740, Hannah Hinman, daughter of Andrew and Mary (Noble) Hinman. She was born Dec. 5, 1714, in Woodbury, Conn,, and died May 19, 1803, in Winchester, Conn. To them were born in Woodbury five sons and five daughters, one of whom, Rev. Noble[5] Everett, was the settled pastor in Wareham, Mass., for nearly fifty years. With this branch the spelling of the name changed from Avered to Everett.

Abner[4] Avered, the fourth son, born April 7, 1721, in Guilford, accompanied his parents to Durham and Wallingford, and died in Wallingford about 1804. He married in Wallingford Dec. 5, 1744, Eunice Hall, daughter of Ensign Amos and Ruth Hall. She died there Jany. 21, 1776. To them were born: Amos,[5] Sept. 25, 1745; Abner,[5] April 21, 1748; Edmund,[5] Nov. 22, 1750; Ambrose,[5] Dec. 7, 1752; Eunice,[5] May 22, 1760. This branch has split in spelling the name. Amos and Ambrose, who removed to the present town of Plymouth, Conn. (formerly part of Watertown and Waterbury), spelling it Avered in 1791, and Everit in 1794, while Edmund and Eunice, who remained in Wallingford, and Abner, who removed to Northampton, Mass., spelt it Avery.

The daughter Sarah[4] Avered was married in Wallingford June 12, 1735, to Ebenezer Lewis.

Of the other sons, Reuben[4] and Timothy,[4] I have no history, and would like information if there is any one to give it.

This statement of the ancestry of Abner[4] Avered shows the incorrectness of the claim put forth in the "Averys of Groton," recently published, where he is called Abner Avery (No. 61, pp. 419-20), the son of a Josiah Avery of Stonington (No. 20, p. 410). My attention during the past year has been given to Josiah and Tabitha Avered of Guilford, Conn., and their descendants, two branches of which, Josiah and Israel, I now have nearly in full. While following the Abner branch, I found, in examining the Wallingford records, that the spelling of the name began to change about 1750 to Avery, and that since 1800 one portion of this branch were all Averys, while another portion were all Everetts. The most complete evidence of this claim is the deed signed in 1785 by the four sons and one daughter, wherein by the beginning Amos Avered of Watertown, Ambrose Avered of Watertown, Edmund Avered of Wallingford, Abner Avered, Jr., of Wallingford, and Eunice Avered of Wallingford, deed land descended to us from our honorable mother, deceased, twelve acres, near where Ens[n] Amos Hall lately lived, and bounded N. and S. on heirs of Amos Hall, deceased; W. on land deeded this day to Abner Avered, Jr.; E. on land of Bartholomew Andrews. This deed was signed Amos Avered, Abner Avery, Jr., Edmond Avery, Ambrose Avery, Eunice Avered. In 1797 the father made his will, which was presented to the Probate Court in 1804, when all the names were spelt Avery. At the same time Amos and Ambrose wrote their names in 1791 as Averet, while Edmond and Eunice became Avery. This shows clearly that Abner was an Everett and no Avery.

An examination of the records of Guilford, Durham and Wallingford will confirm these points. My abstracts of these, together with other references, are now on file, bound, in the library of the New-England Historic Genealogical Society in Boston, where they can be examined.

A GENEALOGY OF THE FAMILY OF MULFORD.*

Communicated by WILLIAM REMSEN MULFORD, Esq., Counsellor at Law, Member of the N. Y. Genealogical and Biographical Society of New York City.

AWAY to the eastward on Long Island, is a region where the waves roll in with unbroken force to the silent and thinly populated shore, and where with diapason roar the wintry blasts from the ocean sweep in to howl and whistle over the wild wastes. Here, to this wilderness, in 1649 came a band of pioneers and founded the old, quaint, traditional East Hampton. The majority came from Salem and Lynn, Mass., via Connecticut, to Long Island, and the land was purchased, of the aborigines, from this place as far east as Montauk, for £38. 4s. and 8d. sterling.

"It was then," says an admiring writer, in a descriptive sketch published in New York some eight years since, "an unbroken wilderness, and the Indians were numerous on every side. On the east, at 'Montaukett,' the royal Wyandanch swayed the sceptre; on the north, at Shelter Island, his brother Poggotacut ruled the tribe of 'Manhassetts;' and a third brother ruled over the 'Shinecocks.' And here in the dark and gloomy forest, in silence unbroken save by the Indian war-whoop, the cry of the wild beasts, or the solemn roar of the ocean, they made their earthly home. * * *

"'Amidst the storm they sang,
And the stars heard and the sea,
And the sounding aisles of the dim woods rang
To the anthem of the free.

The ocean eagle soared
From his nest by the white wave's foam,
And the rocking pines of the forest roared—
This was their welcome home.'"

This village was afterwards the birthplace of J. Howard Payne, author of "Home, Sweet Home," and it is thought that when he wrote so affectingly of "home," he had in mind this quaint village, with its wide, grassy main street, and the old shingled Church with its spire pointing heavenward, surmounted by the rusty weather vane, and the picturesque surroundings with their legends relating to the once formidable Montauk tribe.

Among these pioneers were Judge John Mulford and his brother William. They came to Long Island from Salem, Mass.

It is the object of the following sketch to give a brief account of some of the descendants of John and William Mulford, two of the first settlers of East Hampton, Suffolk County, N. Y.

* Compiled from MSS. in the possession of Robert L. Mulford, Esq., of New York, Charles Hervey Townsend, Esq., of New Haven, and from other sources.

The English pedigree of the Mulfords will be given at some future time.

I. Descendants of John Mulford.

Prepared by Robert L. Mulford, Esq., of New York City.

John and William Mulford, brothers, probably from Devonshire, England, where the name is often spelled Molford, settled in South Hampton, Long Island, going there via Connecticut, of which colony it was then a part. By the records of South Hampton, published 1874, Vol. I. page 29, May 29, 1643, "it was ordered that John Mulford shall have two acres of land on the plain." On page 55, sold his house in South Hampton, Feb. 8, 1648, and in that or the following year was one of the nine persons who settled East Hampton; his name appears many times in the Council Minutes of Connecticut, Vol. 2, 4, 6, and he was commissioned Judge in 1674. In attending to the town affairs, keeping peace with the Indians, representing the eastern towns in Hartford, and afterwards in New York, he was the foremost man until his death in 1686, æt. 80. John Mulford had:

   ii. John, b. 1650; d. 1734.
   iii. Mary, who m. Jeremiah Miller.
   iv. Hannah, who m. Benjamin Conkling.

2. Capt. Samuel[2] Mulford (John[1]), b. 1644 and d. in East Hampton, Aug. 21, 1725; m. first, Esther, who d. Nov. 24, 1717, æt. 64, by whom he had four children. Second, m. Sarah Howell, d. April 6, 1760, æt. 97. Childless. By first wife had:

   iii. Elias, b. 1685; d. 1760; m. Mary Mason.
3. iv. Matthew, b. 1689; d. April 28, 1774; m. Elizabeth Chatfield, Dec. 25, 1712.

Capt. Samuel Mulford was at an early age a town officer, and a member of the Provincial Assembly of New York from 1705 to 1720, from which he was expelled for exposing the abuses of Gov. Hunter's administration, and sent back by the votes of his county. He also served as a captain in the colonial militia. He went to England in 1716, appeared before a committee of the House of Lords, and by his pleading, the duty on whale oil was removed. A long sketch of his career is given in Vol. 1, p. 517, of Hollister's History of Connecticut, 1857; also in Thompson's Long Island, 1843, Vol. 1, p. 315; also in Hedges's East Hampton, 1850.

3. Capt. Matthew[3] Mulford (Samuel,[2] John[1]) and Elizabeth Chatfield his wife, m. Dec. 25, 1712. She died Sept. 11, 1754, æt. 67. He served as captain in the colonial militia;* was a landholder in East Hampton.

* Among the old papers in possession of his lineal descendant (Robert L. Mulford, of New York), is his commission as captain from John Montgomery, Capt. Gen. and Gov. of New York and New Jersey, dated Nov. 29, 1728, "to Matthew Mulford Gentleman."

iii. Esther, b. July 10, 1719; m. first, Jonathan Hunting, who died Sept. 3, 1750, leaving 2 children, Jonathan and Matthew. Second marriage, John Darbe. She died Sept. 24, 1757.

4. iv. David (Col.), b. Sept. 10, 1722; d. Dec. 18, 1778; m. Phebe Hunting, June 16, 1751.

5. v. Mary, b. April 9, 1725; d. June 30, 1729.

4. Col. David[4] Mulford (Matthew,[3] Samuel,[2] John[1]), like his ancestors John and Samuel, was a leading man in his town of East Hampton. His descendant Robert L. Mulford, of New York, has now his commission, signed by Gov. Clinton (colonial governor of New York), dated Oct. 13, 1748, and another dated Feb. 13, 1758, by Lieut. Gov. James DeLancey, appointing him to offices in the colonial militia. When the colonies commenced to resist the stamp act and other taxation of Great Britain, he was the guiding star in his part of the state. Onderdonk's Rev. Incidents of Suffolk Co. (1849) states on pages 13, 14, that Col. M. and others composed a standing committee to correspond with other committees and agree not to import from Great Britain until the blockade of the port of Boston was raised. Page 19, July 8, 1775. Appointed muster master of troops to be raised in Suffolk Co. P. 29, in list of field officers his name appears as first colonel, and he reported to the Provincial Congress, March 5, 1776, that his regiment consisted of 670 privates and 98 officers. He was executor of David Gardiner (dec.) of Gardiner's Island, and Aug. 25, '75, complained to Congress of depredations by Gen. Gates's army, made on that island.

July 22, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed at the several places of parade, and his descendant has the copy from which it was first read to his regiment. He was on the march to Brooklyn at the head of his troops when the battle of Long Island decided the fate of that part of the state, and his men dispersed and went to their homes or to Connecticut, by orders of the commanding General.

On page 43 of Onderdonk it is noted, "After the capture of Gen. Woodhull by the British, Col. Mulford was written to come to Huntington and take command of the regiments."

On page 46. "Col. Abm. Gardiner surrounded the house of Col. Mulford in East Hampton, Sept. 7, 1776, and forced him to take the oath." P. 58, after the whole island was possessed by the English 3 casks of powder and 2 boxes of lead were taken from Col. Mulford's house, and via Sag Harbor carried to Connecticut.

Page 70. "Col. Mulford's negro Jack was permitted to return from Connecticut to L. Island." Col. Mulford died before the war closed, leaving an unstained reputation. Children, all born in Easthampton, N. Y.:

age of 20 he was 1st sergeant in Capt. Ezekiel Mulford's company 12, of 1st Suffolk Reg't, Col. Smith commanding, as appears in printed records, and was present at the battle of Long Island. In Onderdonk's Suffolk Co., pp. 28 and 9, Aug. 12, 1776, Col. S. writes his regiment was on the march. It was engaged while in the fort near Brooklyn, and the writer has heard Sergeant Mulford relate his experience as a soldier, and tell of seeing a comrade's head shot off by a British cannon ball, and of hearing Gen. Washington give orders while both were in the fort. He was in the receipt of a pension from the U. S. government for many years. II. Descendants of William Mulford.

By the Compiler.

1. William[1] Mulford, as before stated, was one of the first settlers of East Hampton, L. I., 1649. His name appears on the "Town Records" of South Hampton, L. I., in 1645, which town was settled a few years before East Hampton. Unlike his brother, he seems to have taken no part in the government of the colony, but appears to have turned his attention to agriculture. His name appears on the "Estimate of East Hampton," dated "September ye 8th," 1683. He married Sarah ——. His demise occurred in March, 1687. Issue:

2. i. Thomas, d. 1727–31, æt. 77 years; m. Mary Conkling.
ii. William.
iii. Benjamin. He was a resident of E. Hampton in 1699, but afterwards removed to Cape May, N. J., and left descendants in that state, among whom was Isaac S. Mulford, Esq., M.D., late of Camden, author of a History of New Jersey, published in 1848.
iv. Sarah, d. April 16, 1790, æt. 95.
v. Rachel.

2. Thomas[2] Mulford (William[1]), born at East Hampton. He m. Mar[illegible], dau. of Jeremiah and Mary (Gardiner) Conkling. It is an interesting circumstance that the mother of Mrs. Thomas Mulford was born in the Saybrook Fort. She was the daughter of Lieut. Lyon Gardiner, its valiant commander, and patentee and first Lord of the Manor of Gardiner's Island. Mrs. Mulford was also of the third generation of the Conkling family of East Hampton, her father Jeremiah being the son of Ananias Conkling, who came from Nottinghamshire, England, to Salem, Mass., in 1637–8, and from thence to E. H. Thus the later Mulfords of this branch are descended from Lieut. Lyon Gardiner, renowned in the colonial annals of Connecticut, and from one of the children born in the Saybrook Fort. Thomas Mulford died at E. H. in 1727 or 1731, aged 77 years. In his will, dated Feb. 14, "172$\frac{6}{7}$," he is described as a yeoman. By this instrument, rec. Liber 11 of Wills, p. 511, in the office of the Surrogate of the City and County of New York, he gives to his well beloved wife Mary, the use of the east end of his dwelling house and one third of all his lands and privileges situated within the bounds of East Hampton, during widowhood, and one half of all his household goods, his two Indian servants, et cetera, et cetera, to dispose of as she shall "think fitt." Mary (Conkling) Mulford died his widow, June 15, 1743, æt. 85 years. Issue :

J., a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Union County, and a member of the New Jersey State legislature during the years 1860 and '61.

4. BARNABAS[4] MULFORD (Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) returned to Connecticut and settled at Branford in that state, about 1740, where he was married to Hannah, daughter of Edward Petty, of that place, by the Rev. Jonathan Merrick, on the 30th of April, 1740. She was descended from Edward Petty, an early settler of Southold, L. I., and the progenitor of the Pettys after whom Petty's Point, which juts out from the northern shore of Long Island into the Sound near Mulford's Point by Orient, was named. Hannah Mulford died 1781. By her will, bearing date June 6, 1788, after devising lands she bequeaths gold buttons, gold beads and wearing apparel

* Among other children Jeremiah had a son, Capt. Ezekiel Mulford, and the compiler feels that he must diverge from the thread of this sketch to give a few facts relating to this remarkable man. He lived to the advanced age of 94 years in perfect health. His eyesight good; reading his bible and offering family prayer to the day of his death ; and after hearing a sermon could repeat it with verbal exactness, and recite sermons and speeches to which he had listened half a century previous. His judgment was reliable and his decision prompt. In addition to his retentive memory, he was very well educated for the times. He was exceedingly fond of equestrian exercise, insomuch that at the age of 85 years he took pleasure in breaking and subduing a most vicious horse. He was captain of the 12 Co. of Col. Smith's Suffolk Co. Reg't, and while in active service on Long Island, he received directly from Gen. Washington the highest compliment, in leading a dangerous ambuscade, for his daring and fearless intrepidity. He told the father of the late William R. Mulford, of Sag Harbor (who was his son), that his grandfather (William[1]) was one of three brothers who came from England; one going to Virginia and two settling on Long Island, and that they had been soldiers in the English civil wars in the time of Charles the first.

5. Barnabas[5] Mulford, Jr. (Barnabas,[4] Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) was born Feb. 13, 1745, at Branford, Conn. He was married by the Rev. Dr. Jonathan Edwards, on Sunday evening, Nov. 10, 1771, to Mehitable, dau. of Timothy and Mary (Punchard) Gorham, who was born in 1746. Mrs. Barnabas Mulford, Jr., was a descendant in the fifth generation of Capt. John Gorham, baptized at Benefield, Northamptonshire, England, January 28, 1621, who married, 1643, Desire, eldest dau. of John and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland of the Mayflower. Elizabeth, dau. of John Tilley, was m. to John Howland, says Gov. Bradford in his History of New Plymouth, and R. Hammett Tilley, Esq., in his "Genealogy of the Tilley Family," published in 1878. But other historical writers say that John Howland married the daughter of Gov. Carver of the Mayflower. As before stated, the daughter of John and Elizabeth Howland, Desire, married Capt. John Gorham. He served as a captain in the King Philip Indian war, and died of fever on service at Swanzey, Feb. 5, 1676. His wife died Oct. 13, 1683. One of the captain's sons, Jabez, born at Barnstable, Mass., Aug. 3, 1656, m. Hannah ——.* He was wounded in the King Philip war, and was one of the early settlers of Bristol, R. I. The Plymouth Court granted 100 acres of the tract called Papasquash Neck, near Bristol, R. I., to the heirs of Captain John Gorham in recognition of his services in the Indian war. Isaac, the son of Jabez, the Bristol settler, b. Feb. 1, 1689, bought land in New Haven. He m. first, Mary ——, who d. Sept. 11, 1716, and secondly Hannah Miles, of New Haven, on the 23d of May, 1717, by whom he had, with other children, a son Timothy, who m. Mary Punchard, by whom he had Mehitable, who m. Barnabas Mulford, Jr., aforesaid. Thus the latter members of this branch of the Mulford family are descended from two of Philip's war heroes, and from two of the Mayflower pilgrims, John Howland and John Tilley or Gov. Carver. Barnabas Mulford was for many years a resident of New Haven. He was one of the signers of the agreement (signed by many N. H. residents) to pay Edward Burke the sum of £3 per month to teach the military exercise, which forms the first entry on the record book of the Second Company Governor's Foot Guards of Connecticut. This agreement is signed by Judge Pierpont Edwards and Benedict Arnold, who was the first captain of that organization. Barnabas Mulford died Aug. 19, 1827, æt. 82 years and 6 mos. Mehitable his wife died April 26, 1835, æt. 89 years 4 mos. and 1 day. The remains of both are interred in the Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Issue:

6. Hervey[6] Mulford (Barnabas,[5] Barnabas,[4] Thomas,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]) graduated from Yale, taking his degree in 1794, and became a merchant, carrying on quite an extensive business in New York and New Haven. He lost heavily by seizures on the high seas by French vessels of war during the trouble between France and England, when American commerce was so seriously interfered with. The United States afterwards made a claim for losses sustained by American merchants at that time, which was admitted and duly adjusted by the French government. Nevertheless, these just claims have never been satisfied by our government. Notwithstanding the fact that the appropriation bill has twice passed both houses of Congress, all the efforts of these merchants to obtain what was justly due them have failed through the withholding of the President's signature. The first passage of this bill was largely due to the efforts of Mr. Mulford, who resided in Washington several winters for the express purpose of engineering this matter. His losses with interest amounted to, at a loose calculation, between $60,000 and $100,000. Hervey Mulford was married on Wednesday evening, March 29, 1797, by the Rev. James Dana, to Nancy, daughter of Abraham and Amy (Hemingway) Bradley, born Sept. 19, 1778. Mr. Bradley, the father of Mrs. Hervey Mulford, was a descendant of Isaac Bradley, who first settled at Branford in 1667, but removed to East Haven in 1683. Of others of his name some settled at Guilford and some in New Haven. Family tradition says the Bradleys emigrated from Bingley, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, England. Mr. Bradley was a successful merchant in New Haven, a founder of the New Haven Bank and one of its first stockholders. His wife's remains are interred in the beautiful crypt under the Centre Church at New Haven, prepared by the liberal efforts and at the expense of Thomas Rutherford Trowbridge, Jr., Esq., of that city. Mrs. Nancy (Bradley) Mulford died Aug. 19, 1841, æt. 62 years 11 mos. Her remains are interred in the Grove Street Cemetery, New Haven. Hervey Mulford was married to second wife Hannah B. Barker, wid. (Miss Mulford, his cousin), by the Rev. Leonard Bacon, D.D., on October 22, 1845, by whom he had no family. He died Feb. 16, 1847, æt. 69 years 7 mos. and 8 days. His remains are also interred in the Grove Street Cemetery by those of his first wife. Issue:

NICHOLAS MUNGER OF GUILFORD (CONN.) AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

Compiled by the Hon. R. D. Smyth and communicated by Bernard C. Steiner.

1. Nicholas[1] Munger was a step-son of Henry Goldam, an early settler of Guilford, and probably came thither with his step-father. He was probably the son of Frances, the wife of Henry Goldam and had a half-sister, Susannah Goldam, who married John Bishop, Jr. of Guilford. Goldam had no other children, and by his will (Town Records, Vol. c., folio 104) dated July 9, 1661, left to Nicholas Munger, his "son in law," "all my land in the Neck, paying myself, if demanded during my life time, one barley corn by the year by way of acknowledgement, and, after my death, if my wife shall survive and shall demand the same, the sum of five bushels of whete by the year, but if she miss demanding in or at the very expiring of the year, then to be free from any payment that present year, and at the death of my foresaid wife, to be to him fully and freely and to his heirs forever." Mrs. Frances Goldham survived her husband and died on January 13, 1671. The land left Nicholas Munger was situated on the north bank of the Neck River on the public road, and he is supposed to have settled thereon as early as 1651. He married Sarah Hull on June 2, 1659, and died on October 16, 1668. His age is not known, but he was probably not beyond middle life. His widow married Dennis Crampton in 1669 and died on January 31, 1689. Munger was one of the poorer planters and seems to have been somewhat disorderly in his youth. The following letter, dated October 4, 1668, is interesting. It was copied by the writer, Dr. Bray or Bryan Rossiter, on a fly leaf of one of his medical books—"Francisci Valesii Covarrobiensis in Libros Hippocratis de Morbis popularibus Commentaria," which book is now in the library of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut. "Deacon George Bartlett : I have been often sollicited to doe for Nico. Monger in his sad condition, and have oft visited him and administered in time of his distemp : since his sores breaking out and running I have seen them, used meanes to clense them and have from time to time informed them that he must have constant attendence, and be under a course of phisick if his life be saved, if meanes be not used he will live long in misery, if much meanes be used it is not for one man to beare the burden neyther is one only called to shew mercy. I have not refused to attend him, but rather desyre some other and I will be double my pportion towards the expence. Whoever attends him, it will be double the charge to attend him in the place where he is, wherever comfortable dyet must be sutable to his weaknes and distress and attendance added beyond wt his wife can doe, a society of Indians ioyne helpfullnes to one of there owne in distress, he must take a course of phisick to Divert the currant of humors if one running sore be healed, the humors will have vent at another place, and prsently will be another swelling they say he is to weake to take phisick, but tis a stronger thing to dy then to take phisick, and if he becomes tenn times weaker, yet then he must take phisick or dy. these things I write to discharge myself and let the loss of life and neglect of mercy ly at the right doore."

In addition to the land on the Neck, Nicholas Munger bought from George Hiland the homelot, containing an acre and an half bought by Hiland or Highland from Thomas Betts, "lying in the Plaine, fronting up to the street near agt Mr. Whitfields rearing back to the swamp, the lands of the sd Mr. Whitfield lying next on the South."

WILLIAM MUNROE OF LEXINGTON, MASS., AND DESCENDANTS

Compiled by the late LEE MONROE of Topeka, Kansas

1. WILLIAM[1] MUNROE, a Scotchman, brought to America as a prisoner of war, reached Cambridge Farms, now Lexington, Mass., in 1652 and remained there until his death in 1717. According to Alexander Mackenzie's comprehensive "History of the Munros", published in Inverness in 1898, he was a lineal descendant from Donald, founder of the clan Munro, who is said to have come, with his adherents, from Ireland to Scotland in the year 1025 to assist King Malcolm in his war with the Danes. His lineage is traced, not only by Mackenzie but also in "The Munroe Genealogy" by John G. Locke, "The Munro Clan" by James Phinney Munroe, "The Genealogy of Josiah Munro" by Rev. G. S. Northrup and Hudson's

"History of Lexington" (first edition) from the above Donald Munro through eleven chiefs of the clan, ten of whom were Barons of Foulis and five succeeding generations of Scottish ancestry down to his birth in Aldie, Scotland, in 1625. His father, Robert Munro, was a great-great-great-grandson of Sir George Munro, tenth Baron of Foulis.

The Battle of Worcester was fought by the adherents of King Charles II, against the forces of Cromwell, in which the latter were victorious, in September 1651. William and three other Munros, Robert, Hugh and John, were shipped from London to America in the John and Sarah 1 Nov. 1651. Upon his arrival he was bound out to a farmer in Cambridge Farms for whom he was required to work until he earned and repaid the cost of his passage. It is said of him and his family life in Hudson's "History of Lexington" (first edition), published in 1868, page 147:

"William Munroe, the ancestor of all the Munroes of Lexington and this vicinity, was born in Scotland in 1625 and descended from the Munro Clan in Scotland of which we have already spoken. He came to America in 1652 and consequently was at that time twenty-seven years of age. . . . He settled at the Cambridge Farms about 1660 in the northeasternly part of the town bordering on Woburn. Several of his sons lived with or not far from him at first and it was said by Mrs. Sanderson, his great-granddaughter who died in 1853, aged 104 years, that his old house looked like a rope walk, so many additions had been made to it to accommodate his sons as they settled in life. By adopting the custom of the Scottish clans, he, in a manner, confined the Munroes together, and made them for some time, as it were, a distinct people. . . . Though he came to the country under unfavorable circumstances, and set up for himself rather late in life, he appears to have been quite successful in his worldly affairs, and to have been blessed with a large, prosperous family. . . . He was made freeman in 1690 and the subsequent tax bills from 1693 to 1698 show that in taxable property he was among the first half dozen men of the parish thus showing conclusively he was a man of enterprise and force of character."

William Munroe married first MARTHA GEORGE; secondly MARY BALL; and thirdly ELIZABETH JOHNSON.

According to a booklet entitled "Lexington Epitaphs", published by the Lexington Historical Society, his tombstone and that of his second wife bear these inscriptions: "William Munro Died Jan. 27, 1717–18 Aet. about 92 yrs." "Mary Munro, Wife William Munro Aet. 41 yrs. d Aug. 1692."

He is first noticed in the Lexington records as "William Row" by which surname some of his descendants were subsequently known in Connecticut. While he is generally designated "Munroe" the surname of his descendants appears on the records in Connecticut, New York and elsewhere variously spelled "Munrow", "Monrow", "Mon Row", "Row", "Munroe", "Munro", "Monro" and "Monroe" with no apparent reason for the difference. Since the latter spelling is most commonly used it will be followed generally throughout this sketch.

All of his children were born in Lexington. All of them, except his son David, remained and died there. They are noticed at length in each of the above-mentioned works by Mackenzie, Locke, Northrup and James Phinney Munroe, also in Cutler's "Genealogical and Family History of Connecticut", therefore they will be referred to but briefly here.

2. DAVID[2] MUNROE (William[1]), born in Cambridge Farms, now Lexington, Mass., 6 Oct. 1680 and baptized there in 1699, died in Canterbury, Windham Co., Conn., 19 June 1755. He married DEBORAH HOW, born 19 Oct. 1685, died in Canterbury 1 Sept. 1748, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Nutting) How of Concord, Mass.

The Lexington records mention only the birth of David Munroe, but Connecticut was then being settled by emigrants from the colonies of Plymouth and Massachusetts Bay, and in April 1705 he and his wife are found in Canterbury, when their first child was born.

The town of Canterbury contained but ten families when it was endowed with town privileges in 1703. In 1714 Samuel Adams and Obadiah Johnson conveyed a farm of 136 acres to David Monroe, by deed recorded in Canterbury. In 1722 David and Deborah joined the church in Canterbury. In 1723 a division of common lands was made among those residents of Canterbury "who were settled inhabitants and paid to ye building of ye meeting house and minister's home", which were completed in 1711. In this allotment David received one and one-half shares. In 1743 a controversy arose among the members of the Canterbury church over a sermon by its minister which did not meet the views of many of them. A committee recommended the minister's dismissal. David and five others made written protest against the committee's report, severely criticising its motives. The committee retaliated by recommending that David and his associates be expelled from the church. The matter was finally settled by the dismissal of the minister, with David and the other protestants remaining in the church.

The identity of David Munroe of Canterbury as the son of William Munroe of Cambridge Farms was questioned by one writer upon the ground that not being mentioned in William's will it indicated that David probably died young. Later, however, Rev. Mr. Northrup and Dr. Will S. Monroe, author and prominent educator, for many years professor of psychology in the Montclair, N. J., State Normal School, in their preparation of the "Genealogy of Josiah Munroe", after much careful research became convinced, and so stated in their publication, that David of Canterbury was, without doubt, the son of William of Cambridge Farms. Their conclusions were based upon the following, among other circumstances: David, appearing as he did, among the early settlers of Canterbury, must have emigrated there from some other place, but the records of emigrants to New England prior to that time and the published vital statistics of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut, disclosed no one bearing that name who could have been identified with him other than William's son David; between the time of his baptism in Lexington in 1699 and the birth of his first child in Canterbury in 1705, he was of the age when one might expect him to marry and establish a home in a new community; also, there was a family tradition that he came from Cambridge; his grandson, John Munroe, who lived and died in Canterbury, left a written family record which passed to John's granddaughter, Mary Munroe Collins, who retained it until it was destroyed by a fire which burned the Collins home in 1890, but she well remembered its contents which told of the coming of William from Scotland to Massachusetts and the settlement of his son, David, in Canterbury, all of which she related to Doctor Monroe when he visited Canterbury in 1912 collecting material for their work. Moreover, it appeared that four of David's seven daughters, viz., Mary, Eleanor, Elizabeth and Sarah bore the given names of four of his sisters; and of his four sons, one, William, bore the name of his grandfather and his uncle. It would be quite unreasonable to presume that such a coincidence of names would occur except in immediately related families. In addition to all this Mrs. Collins told Doctor Monroe and after her death her son informed the writer of this sketch that his mother had told him that David Monroe's wife came from Concord. A search of the published vital statistics of that place disclosed only one woman named Deborah, born there of marriageable age for David, viz., Deborah How, daughter of Samuel and Mary How. Upon further search it was found that Samuel How had joined the tide of emigration to Connecticut. According to the "Howe Genealogies" published by the New England

Historic Genealogical Society he resided in Concord until shortly after 1700 when he moved to Plainfield, a new town in Windham County, Conn. It is also there stated that his daughter Deborah married David Munroe and the Probate Records of Plainfield, where he died, show that David Munroe in 1725 receipted for his wife's share of Samuel How's estate. The same records show the distribution of the estate of Mary How who died in 1727 and refer to Deborah Munroe as her daughter.

If David Munroe had died in Lexington, his death would probably have been recorded in the vital statistics of that town and his remains would have rested in the family burying ground with a tombstone marking his grave as do those of his father and mother. The absence of these is further corroborative proof of the correctness of Rev. Mr. Northrup's conclusion as to the identity of David Monroe of Canterbury as William's son of that name. In 1913 the Lexington Historical Society published a revised edition of Hudson's "History of Lexington" in which David Munroe was shown as a son of William. The correction relating to him, appearing in Vol. II, after the index at page 6 of Additions and Corrections, reads as follows: "Before Joseph No. 6 on p. 461 insert: 'David[2] Munroe (see G. S. Northrup's "Genealogy of Josiah Munroe", 1912), David[2] Munroe (William[1]) b. Oct. 6, 1680; d. June 19, 1755. He moved to Canterbury, Conn. and bought land Feb. 22, 1715. In 1723, received 1½ shares of land, as one who paid towards the meeting house and ministers' house, which were completed in 1711. His will was probated Sept. 8, 1755.'"

3. Samuel[3] Monroe (David,[2] William[1]), of Canterbury and Willington, Conn., born in Canterbury 9 Sept. 1720 and baptized there 1 April 1721, died 15 Jan. 1777, while serving with Connecticut troops in the Revolutionary War. He married Abigail Read, born 29 April 1723, died in Chenango County, N. Y., 4 June 1817, in her 95th year (gravestone), daughter of Isaac and Abigail (Leonard) Read of Norwich, Conn.

Abigail (Read) Monroe was admitted to the First Church of Christ of Canterbury in May 1745, upon letter of recommendation and later was admitted to the church at Willington, upon letter from the church at Canterbury.

Samuel Monroe served in the French and Indian War in the company commanded by Capt. Jedediah Fay of Ashford, Conn., from 10 April to 3 Sept. 1758, and in the campaign of 1759 under Captain Slap of Mansfield, Conn. In the Revolutionary War he served in the Fourth Company, Eighth Regiment of Connecticut Volunteers, from 8 July to 30 Nov. 1775 and re-enlisted 14 May 1776 for one year in Capt. Oziah Pettibone's company of Colonel Ward's regiment. He died in the service 15 Jan. 1777, as shown by a certificate filed in the Archives in the Connecticut State Library as follows:

"This may certify all whom it may concern that Samll Munrow was in the Continental service the last campaign and in Capt. Oziah Pettibones company in Col. Andrew Wards Regt., was going into the Jersies about three miles over the North River from Kings Ferry, was taken sick and died, the 15th day of January, and there being no officer nor soldiers left with him, nor none of same Regt. within sixty miles of him when he died, his gun and cartouch box, blankets and cloths were left viz: [here follows a list of his clothing and accoutrements with appraised value] Windsor, November 29th, 1777 The above clothing we the subscribers were knowing to the sd Munrow having and were left at the above place. Witness our hands George Griswold 1st Lieut"

His widow, Abigail Munroe, was appointed administratrix of his estate in August 1777. She filed a claim for the above clothing and accoutrements which is also on file in the above archives and bears the following endorsement:

"Alld Wid Abig Munro £12–11–6 March 7, 1778 Loss Ward's Regt"

Afterwards she and her sons Isaac, Leonard and William moved to Chenango County, N. Y., where she died and was buried beside her son William. The headstone marking her grave bears this inscription: "In memory of Widow Abigail Monroe, died June 4, 1817 in the 95 year of her age"

4. ISAAC[4] MONROE (Samuel,[3] David,[1] William[1]), born in Connecticut in 1745, died at the home of his son, Dan Monroe, in Plymouth, N. Y., 1 Aug. 1825. He married in Pomfret, Conn., 25 July 1768, SARAH FASSETT, daughter of John and Lydia (Warren) Fassett. Through her mother Sarah (Fassett) Monroe was a descendant of the pioneer families of Bushnell and Leffingwell.

Isaac Monroe was residing in Pomfret from 1768 until after 1785, in Brooklyn, in 1800 and in Greene, Chenango Co., N. Y., in 1818.

He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, first in 1775. When the Lexington Alarm sounded he responded and served with the militia near Boston for twenty days, afterwards he enlisted in Pomfret, 1 Jan. 1776, and served one year in Capt. Grosvenor's company of Col. John Durkee's regiment.

In May 1798 he purchased a fulling mill in Lebanon, Conn., from his son Dan and sold it to James Sexton the following year by deed witnessed by his son Dan and daughter Lucy.

In 1818 he applied for a pension which was granted in 1820. His application was supported by affidavit of his brother William and his comrade in arms, Jonathan Crane. His own affidavit, sworn to in June 1820, states that he was a saddler by trade, with no family, unable to labor, in indigent circumstances and residing with and supported by his son Joseph in Greene.

His name appears on the records in Pomfret and Brooklyn and on the index to the deed records in Lebanon as Isaac Row. In the body of the Lebanon deeds his surname is spelled Mon Row and Munrow. The latter spelling of his surname appears in his signature, also in that of his son Dan and daughter Lucy, witnessing the deed to James Sexton. Notwithstanding these discrepancies in the spelling of his surname upon the records, his identity is amply proven by the above-mentioned affidavit of William Monroe, stating that he and Isaac were brothers, also by existing family records, among which are his son Joseph's family Bible in the possession of E. L. Monroe in Columbus, Pa., stating that Joseph was born 25 Sept. 1776 and separate family records prepared by each of his grandsons, Dyar Monroe and James Sexton Monroe, the former now in the possession of Dyar's granddaughter, Mrs. Estella Hughes in Plymouth, N. Y., the latter with James Sexton's daughter, Mrs. Ella M. Axline of Ada, Ohio, until her death in 1930. Each of these two records state that their father, Dan, son of Isaac Monroe, was born in Pomfret 22 Aug. 1774. These dates exactly correspond with the dates shown by the Pomfret records when sons named Joseph and Dan were born to Isaac Row.

5. LEONARD[4] MONROE (Samuel,[3] David,[2] William[1]), born in Willington, Conn., 11 Oct. 1757 and baptized there in 1764, died in Delaware County, Ohio, 3 Aug. 1827. He married first, in Pittsfield, Mass., ELIZABETH PECK, daughter of Israel and Sarah (Marsh) Peck. He is reported to have married three times after the death of his first wife. He appears to have been a widower in November 1807 when he conveyed land by deed recorded in Book 1, page 556, Delaware County Deed Records, containing no mention of a wife, while deeds subsequently made by him in 1814 and 1815 recorded in Book 3, pages 185 and 512 were signed by his wife Hannah Monroe.

Leonard Monroe enlisted as a private in Captain Ball's company, Col. Samuel B. Webb's Fourth Connecticut Regiment in East Windsor, Conn., 14 March 1777, was later transferred to Captain Whitney's company, same regiment, where he was appointed sergeant. He remained in the service until honorably discharged in Morristown, N. J., 17 March 1780.

Later he, his mother and his brothers Isaac and William, his uncle David Welch and David's sons, John, Aaron and Ebenezer Welch moved to Chenango County, N. Y. While there Leonard Monroe was commissioned lieutenant in the State Militia in 1793, and captain in 1798. He was placed on the Revolutionary soldiers' pension roll 21 June 1819. His application states that he was a tailor by trade.

In 1804 he and John, Aaron and Ebenezer Welch moved to Liberty Township, then in Franklin, now in Delaware County, Ohio. The Monroe and Welch families were closely related by marriage. David Welch married Ammitty Read, sister of Samuel Monroe's wife Abigail. John Welch married his cousin, Deborah Monroe, sister of Leonard.

He married first, 5 July 1781, SALLY BARNEY, b. in Swansea, Mass., 9 Sept. 1765, died 19 Feb. 1811, in 46th year, daughter of Benjamin and Hannah (Hix) Barney. Through her mother she was descended from John and Eleanor Billington of the Mayflower Party. Her tombstone in the family cemetery in Chenango County, N. Y., bears this inscription: "In memory of Mrs. Sally Monroe, consort of Col. William Monroe, died 19 Feb. 1811 in the 46th year of her age." William Monroe married secondly, REBECCA (FOSTER) PRENTICE, daughter of Rev. Dan Foster.

He served nearly four years as a soldier in the Revolutionary War, first from 6 April to 23 May 1777 under Capt. Edward Griswold in Col. Thomas Bilding's regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, when he was discharged in Peekskill, N. Y. He next enlisted for three years in Captain Harmon's company of Col. John Durkee's Fourth Regiment of Connecticut Volunteers from which service he was honorably discharged in 1780 in Morristown, N. J. During his first year he served as a private, then was transferred to Capt. Seth Phillips' company of the same regiment, in which he served as a fifer for two years. He engaged in the battles of Germantown, Fort Mifflin, Monmouth and Stony Point. After his discharge in 1780 he served for six months as orderly sergeant to his old Colonel John Durkee. Later he served a three months' term on a sloop in New York. His interest in military affairs did not abate with the Revolution.

He subsequently moved in 1792 from Windsor, Conn., to Chenango County, N. Y., and settled on the tract on which the court house in the city of Norwich now stands. He there joined the State Militia, serving as ensign, lieutenant, major and lieutenant colonel between 1797 and 1809. By reason of this service he became generally known as Colonel Monroe.

Later William Monroe moved to a farm in the nearby town of Plymouth, N. Y., where he built a log house and lived until he died. He, his mother and other members of the Monroe family were buried in a cemetery on his farm between Norwich and the village of Plymouth.

His first business venture of which we have an account was the purchase of a fulling mill in Lebanon, Conn., which he operated until he sold it to his father in May 1798. He remained in Lebanon until near the close of 1800, when he moved to Berkshire County, Mass., where he remained until 1816, residing first in Pittsfield, next in Sandisfield, and lastly in Tyringham. At Pittsfield he bought, in 1800, from Valentine Rathburn, Sr., an antiquated fulling mill which Rathburn had owned since 1770, of which it is said in Smith's "History of Pittsfield": "It was none of your new-fangled German inventions, but an old fashioned, double-action crank-mill, driven by a three-foot, open-bucket water-wheel, only warranted to run in a high freshet or a long spell of weather." He equipped the mill with new and improved machinery and sold it to Daniel Stearns in 1801. In 1816 he and his family moved to Plymouth, N. Y., where he built and resided in a log house, one of the first dwellings in the town. He built a carding mill there, which he and a partner operated, under the firm name of Monroe & Locke, until after the year 1839. He also built another carding mill at the neighboring village of Sherburne Four Corners.

GENEALOGY OF THE WINDSOR FAMILY OF MUNSELL.

By Mr. Frank Munsell, of Albany.

THE first immigrants of this name located in the eastern part of Connecticut, but the time of their coming from England is not well settled. They soon separated, and no communication having been kept up between them, their personal history is only to be gathered from town records and tombstones. Early in the last century, Jacob Monsell, one of their descendants, came to East Windsor, and is the progenitor of the families which have ever since been known in the towns and parishes embraced in ancient Windsor; and his posterity is now widely scattered over the United States. The orthography of the name is various upon the records and monuments, but is now written Munsell by all the families in America.

Notwithstanding the diversity of orthography in England, the family history, as well as the escutcheons of the different branches, show that they are all of one lineage, originating in Sir Philip de Maunsell, who came from Normandy, one of the companions of William the Conqueror, and on whom was bestowed the manor of Oxwiche in Glamorganshire. His grandson, Sir John Maunsell, was constituted lord chief justice of England in the time of Henry III.; his eldest son, Sir Thomas, knight bauneret, fell in the Barons' wars, at Northampton, in the 48th Henry III., and was succeeded by his son Henry, who was the ancestor of the extinct Lords Mansell and baronets of Margram. This family omitted the u in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and in 1711 dropped the second l. A branch of the family emigrated from the neighborhood of Frome, in England, and settled in Ireland early in the reign of Charles I., and is now known as Monsell of Tervor. The name is written Maunsell, Mansell, Monsell, Munsell, Mansel, Moncil, Munsel, Muncil. Descendants of other branches than this of Windsor are frequently met with. We give the device of one of the English families, by way of illustration, which will probably be a novelty to the descendants here; and the technical description below exhibits all the difference that exists in the arms of the branches, so far as we have been able to discover.

Arms.—Arg., a chevron between three maunches, sable.

By Richard Henry Greene, Esq., of New-York, N. Y.

THIS name, it is said, is made up of "Mon," the abbreviation of Edmund, and son, and therefore means the son of Mon or Edmund: this is not an unusual formation; for instance: Richardson, Dickson, Edmundson, Monson.

1. Thomas[1] Monson or Munson, for the name is written in both ways in this family, was the emigrant and ancestor of most of the name in this country. When he landed, or where, is not exactly known; but he is first heard of in New-Haven, June 4, 1639, when he signed the original agreement, of all the free planters of New-Haven. He removed to Hartford, where he resided in 1641; but returned to N. H. the following year. On the 10th of March, 1646, the committee of the First Church seated Thomas Monson and five others in "No. 5 cross seats," and "Sister Munson" was seated in "second of seats on the side for women." Oct. 5, 1669, the Hon. James Bishop, Lt. Thomas Munson, and three others were appointed commissioners to meet five from Branford to establish boundaries between the two towns. In September, 1675, Lieut. Munson commanded the New-Haven troops ordered, by the council at Hartford, to Norwottock and up the river to defend the plantations against the Indians. Susan Munson, who was probably his wife, came in the Elizabeth, to Boston, in 1634, aged 25; from which we may conclude that her husband had preceded her, and probably landed at the same port. Mrs. Munson's maiden name is unknown; but she was born about the year 1609. There are no data by which we have been able to fix the time of his birth; but a trans-Atlantic search would undoubtedly disclose it. He was a representative in the general court 1666, 1669, 1670, '1, '2, '3, '4 and '5, and died ten years later, in 1685. In the division of his estate, three children are named; the births of two of whom appear on the records, and are as follows:

2. i. Samuel, bapt. Aug. 6, 1643.
3. ii. Hannah, bapt. June 11, 1648.
4. iii. Elizabeth.

2. Samuel[2] Munson (Thomas[1]), lived in New-Haven; married, Oct. 26, 1665, Martha, daughter of William Bradley; was made freeman in New-Haven in 1669; ensign in Wellingford 1675; is called a proprietor in N. H., before his removal, and again in 1685, after his return from Wallingford, which took place in 1681 or '2. Ensign Samuel Munson died in New-Haven 169$\frac{2}{3}$, and his widow, Mrs. Martha Munson, married Mr. Preston. The children of Ens. Samuel[2] and Martha (Bradley) Munson were :

i. Martha, b. May 6, 1667, in New-Haven.
ii. Samuel, b. Feb. 28, 1668–9. " "
iii. Thomas, b. March 12, 1670–1. " "
iv. John, b. Jan. $2\frac{6}{8}$, 1672–3. " "
v. Theophilus, b. Sept. 1, 1675. " "
vi. Joseph, b. in Wallingford.
vii. Stephen, b. "
viii. Caleb, b. Nov. 19, 1682, in New-Haven.
ix. Joshua, b. Feb. 7, 1684, " "
x. Israel, b. March 6, 1686, in New-Haven ; the only one not living in 1698.

3. Hannah[2] Munson (Thomas[1]), married Joseph Tuttle, Mar. 2, 1667. He was son of William Tuttle, who came to Boston in the Planter, in 1635, aged 26, with his wife Elizabeth aged 23, and three children. They had two more children before 1639, when they removed to New-Haven, and seven born afterward, of whom Joseph, mentioned above, was baptized Nov. 22, 1640, made freeman 1669, a proprietor in 1685, and died 1690, aged 62. Hannah (Munson) Tuttle married second, in 1694, Nathan Bradley, and died the next year 1695. The children were :

i. Joseph Tuttle, b. March 18, 1668.
ii. Samuel, b. July 15, 1670.
iii. Stephen, b. May 20, 1673.
iv. Joanna, b. Dec. 13, 1675.
v. Timothy, b. Sept. 30, 1678 ; died young.
vi. Susanna, b. Feb. 20, 1680 ; " " vii. Elizabeth, b. July 12, 1683. viii. Hannah, b. May, 1685 ; died young.
ix. Hannah, b.

4. Elizabeth[2] Munson (Thomas[1]), married Richard Higginbotham, a tailor. He was a proprietor in New-Haven in 1685, but removed before 1692 to Elizabethtown, N. J., and a few years later returned to Connecticut and settled in Stamford. She may have been older than Hannah, or even Samuel, which would account for her birth not being on the New-Haven records. Richard and Elizabeth had one child :

i. Rebecca.

MUNSON.—A Stately Record Contradicted.—The most ancient volume of vital statistics in New Haven is a great blessing to the genealogist, and he is disposed to regard its statements as authoritative. But the writer finds occasion to impeach an important record which has stood unchallenged upon its pages for more than a hundred and fifty years. This error relates to the birth of 'Squire Baszel Munson, who appears to have been the most prominent citizen of that part of New Haven which became Hamden in 1786.

This man was born in 1730. According to the venerable record which I have mentioned, he was the son of Sergeant John Munson, Jr. But it is certain that he was the son of John's brother Joel. Some of the elements of this certainty may be seen in the following facts.

1. The estate of John's widow was distributed (Pro. Rec. vii. 337) to three sons and two daughters, surviving children; there is no mention of a Baszel. 2. Two of the three sons were minors, and the eldest became their guardian (vii. 134); there is no mention of Baszell, aged 17. 3. In a deed (Land Rec. xliv. 528) Baszel mentions "my mother Mary Munson." Joel married Mary Morriss; John, Jr., married Esther Clark. 4. In another deed (xxxviii. 393) Baszel names "my sister Mary Mallery." John had no Mary; Joel had a Mary who married Peter Mallery. Add that Mary Mallery in a conveyance (xxxiv. 217) speaks of "my brother Baszel Munson." 5. In another deed (xxxii. 92) Baszel names "my Honrd father Joel Munson." 6. And finally, in yet other deeds (xvii. 315; xviii. 320), Joel makes mention of "my son Baszel Munson."

As the error which I have brought to view relates to the ancestry of a large group of families, and as it has been published in various genealogical works, I have thought it desirable that the correction, and the data which support it, should be made known through the pages of the REGISTER. MYRON A. MUNSON.

NORTHRUP GENEALOGY.

By Hon. A. JUDD NORTHRUP, of Syracuse, N. Y.

1. JOSEPH[1] NORTHRUP, probably from Yorkshire, England, was one of the first settlers of Milford, Conn. The first planters of the town were enrolled Nov. 20, 1639; but, Joseph not then being in church fellowship, his name (with others) appears in the list immediately after the "free planters." A part of the settlers were from Wethersfield, Conn., whither they had come from Watertown, Mass. They were part of Sir Richard Saltonstall's company. Having become attached to their pastor, Rev. Peter Prudden, from Egerton, Yorkshire, England, they accompanied him to Milford. Another part of the settlers were of Eaton and Davenport's company,—"of good characters and fortunes,"—who landed in Boston, July 26, 1637, and settled at New Haven in April, 1638. They were mostly from Yorkshire, Hertfordshire and Kent. The Hertfordshire families seem to have tended to Milford.

The surname Northrup was spelled, as here given, in the earliest deeds and records and inscriptions on tombstones, rup, sometimes rupp. About the time of the Revolution, apparently, many families changed it to North*rop*. (That spelling will be followed in their cases, in the genealogy to be published.) Jan. 9, 1642, Joseph united with the First Church in Milford. Married Mary, dau. of Francis Norton, who came to Milford from Wethersfield with Rev. Peter Prudden. Died Sept. 11, 1669. Will dated Sept. 1, 1669; mentions only Joseph, Samuel, Jeremiah and John. Codicil to will: "My mother shall have a living in my house as long as she lives,"—perhaps meaning Mrs. Norton. His wife survived him, and made her will Jan. 24, 1683; mentions Joseph, Samuel, Jeremiah (omits John, who probably was dead), Zophar, Daniel, William and Mary,—the two latter as being in their minority,—also her mother Norton. Abigail was convicted of murder, sentenced to death, and after one or two reprieves the sentence was executed. While in prison she gave birth to a posthumous child which she named Mercy. Thomas Thompson was the son of Thomas Thompson of Farmington, and Ann Welles his wife, daughter of Thomas Welles, Governor of Connecticut Colony.

4. JOHN[4] NORTON (John,[3] John,[2] John[1]), was born in Kensington Society (now Berlin), in the town of Farmington, Nov. 16, 1715; died in East Hampton, Conn., March 24, 1778, a victim to the small pox. He was graduated from Yale College in 1737, studied theology and was ordained Nov. 25, 1741 (at Deerfield), the first pastor of the church at Falltown (now Bernardston) on the northern border of Massachusetts. He remained in charge of this church for some time after the breaking out of the five years French and Indian war in 1744. The new settlement, struggling for existence, exposed as it was to the inroads of the savages, with difficulty supported a minister and in 1745 he severed his connection with the church and accepted the post of chaplain to the three forts, Shirley, Pelham and Massachusetts, built by the Massachusetts government on the north-western boundary of the province, to protect her frontier from the incursions of the French and Indians from Canada, by way of Lake Champlain and Wood Creek. Norton placed his wife and children in Fort Shirley and divided his time among the three garrisons according to their needs.

On August 14, 1746, the chaplain left Fort Shirley in company with the surgeon, Dr. Williams, and fourteen soldiers, and went to Fort Pelham, and on the following day to Fort Massachusetts where he expected to remain about a month. This fort was situated on the Hoosac river in what is now the town of Adams. It was a wooden enclosure formed of squared logs, laid one upon another and interlocked at the angles. This wooden wall rested upon a foundation of stone designated as the "underpinning." A block house, crowned with a tower which served as a lookout and was supplied with means of throwing water to extinguish fire-arrows thrown upon the roof, stood in the north-west corner. There were other buildings in the enclosure, and one—a large log house on the south side—overlooked the outer wall and was probably loopholed for musketry. The commander of the fort, Captain Ephraim Williams (founder of Williams College), with a large portion of his force, had gone to take part in the proposed invasion of Canada, leaving Sergeant John Hawks in charge of the fort. On Saturday, August 16th, Hawks sent Dr. Williams to Deerfield with a detachment of fourteen men to get a supply of powder and lead. This reduced the entire force, including Hawks himself and Norton the chaplain, to twenty-two men, half of whom were disabled with dysentery from which few of the rest were entirely free.* There were also in the fort three women and five children.

On July 23, 1746 (old style), Rigaud de Vaudreuil, town major of Three Rivers, left Montreal with a fleet of canoes carrying a large war party. Their objective point was Fort Frédéric (Crown Point), which was threatened by the English. Rigaud reached Fort Frédéric on the first of August, and in a few days received a reïnforcement of sixty Frenchmen and a band of Indians commanded by the elder of the brothers Du Muy. They had just returned from an incursion towards Albany, and reported that all was quiet in that direction and that Fort Frédéric was in no danger. This left Rigaud free to take the offensive. The question was, where to strike. The Indians held a number of councils and decided upon nothing. Rigaud made them a speech and giving them a wampum belt told them he meant to attack Corlaer (Schenectady). At first this pleased them, and then they changed their minds. Saratoga was proposed, but finally at the suggestion of some of the Indians they decided on Fort Massachusetts. Leaving the canoes at East Bay, just north of the present town of Whitehall, in charge of a guard, they proceeded southward on foot along the base of Skene mountain. The force numbered about seven hundred men, of whom five hundred were French and two hundred were Indians. They reached Fort Massachusetts between eight and nine o'clock on the morning of August 19th. Rigaud had planned a night attack, but was thwarted by the impetuosity of the young Indians and Canadians, who became so excited at the first glimpse of the watch tower of the fort that they dashed forward, firing their guns and yelling. They prudently kept themselves out of reach of the guns of the defenders, however, and surrounding the fort they sheltered themselves behind stumps and opened a distant and harmless fire, accompanied by unearthly yells and howlings. The situation of the little garrison was now a perilous one indeed. Beset by sixty times their effective force and nothing but a log fence between them and the enemy. The men were armed with smooth bore hunting pieces, but so short of ammunition were they that Hawks was obliged to order them to fire only when necessary to hold the enemy in check. Yet so stout was their defence and so effective their fire, that the assailants made no attempt to carry the fort by assault. Norton writes, "about this time we saw several fall to rise no more." Among those who fell was the chief of the St. Francis Indians, shot through the breast by Sergt. Hawks. Rigaud, the French commander, ventured too near the fort and received a shot in the arm which sent him to the rear. In addition to the Indian killed by Hawks, Rigaud reports sixteen Indians and Frenchmen wounded, "which, under the circumstances," says Parkman, "was good execution for ten farmers aud a minister; for Chaplain Norton loaded and fired with the rest."*

* "Lord's day and Monday (Aug. 17 & 18). The sickness was very distressing . . . Eleven of our men were sick and scarcely one of us in perfect health; almost every man was troubled with the griping & flux."—Norton. The Redeemed Captive.

All that day until nine in the evening the enemy continued their firing and yelling, and then placing a line of sentinels around the fort to prevent messengers from carrying the alarm to Albany or Deerfield, they withdrew to prepare for a night attack. It was Rigaud's intention to open trenches to the foot of the wall, place fagots against it, set them on fire and deliver the fort a prey to the fury of the flames; but a rain coming on he determined to wait till morning.

Hawks filled all his tubs and pails with water and posted his men to repel an assault. Two men had been wounded, thus farther reducing his effective force. Throughout the night they kept the watch, the enemy frequently raising their hideous outcries as though about to attack.

The firing was quickly renewed in the morning, but no attempt was made to open trenches by daylight. About eleven o'clock one of the men in the watch tower, Thomas Knowlton, was shot through the head. The number of effectives was now reduced to eight, including the chaplain. About noon Rigaud sent an Indian with a flag of truce to say he desired to parley. Hawks consented to it, and he with Norton and one or two others met the French commander outside the gate. Rigaud offered honorable terms of capitulation. Hawks promised an answer within two hours and with his companions returned into the fort to consider their means of defence. He found that they had but three or four pounds of powder and about as much lead. Norton prayed for divine aid and guidance. "Had we all been in health or had there been only these eight of us that were in health, I believe that every man would willingly have stood it out to the last. For my part I should," writes the manful chaplain. But besides the sick and wounded there were the three women and five children to be considered. If the fort were taken by assault these would undoubtedly be murdered. Hawks determined therefore to make the best terms he could. Rigaud agreed to the conditions of surrender submitted to him, which were in brief—that all in the fort should be treated with humanity as prisioners of war and exchanged at the first opportunity, and that none of them should be given to the Indians. At three o'clock the gates were opened, the prisoners were conducted to the French camp, the fort given over to plunder and burned to the ground. Notwithstanding his agreement, Rigaud delivered a portion of his prisoners to the Indians, at which Norton made a vigorous protest. The captives were well treated, however, Rigaud having given the Indians presents to induce them to treat their prisoners with humanity. The retreat began the next morning, the force marching back as they had come. They moved slowly, encumbered as they were with the sick and wounded.

The wife of one of the soldiers, John Smeed, was taken in labor. Some of the French made a seat for her to sit upon and carried her into camp where about ten o'clock that night "she was graciously delivered of a daughter and was remarkably well. * * * Friday: this morning I baptized John Smeed's child. He called it's name Captivity." The French made a litter of poles, spread over it a deer skin and a bear skin on which they placed the mother and child and so carried them forward.

The march was long and dreary. The prisoners were kindly treated by the victors, some of whom were sorely wounded, and four Indians died within a few days. In due time they reached Quebec, and in course of a year those who remained alive were exchanged and returned to New England. Mrs. Smeed and her infant daughter, Captivity, died in Canada.

Mr. Norton reached Boston, Aug. 16, 1747, where he was received and entertained by Col. Winslow. He published his "Redeemed Captive" in 1748 in Boston. Copies of it are very rare. Drake in his "Particular History of the Five Years French and Indian War," prints it verbatim.

During his captivity his wife and children continued to reside at Fort Shirley and just about the time of his return to Boston his little daughter, Anna, died at the fort and was buried in a field a little to the west of it. The stone which marked her grave is now preserved in the museum of Williams College. His wife applied to the Massachusetts government for the wages due him as chaplain and at one time received one pound sixteen shillings and six pence then due. In October, 1747, the Connecticut Assembly appropriated one hundred pounds to be paid him in consideration of his services and loss and damage, and in February, 1748, the Massachusetts government allowed him £37. 10s. for his services as chaplain to the prisoners while in captivity in Canada.

On Nov. 30, 1748, he was settled minister in the parish of East Hampton, in Middletown, Conn., which position he held for thirty years to the time of his death.

In August, 1755, he was appointed chaplain to the forces sent by Connecticut against Crown Point. In March, 1756, he was again appointed chaplain to the forces sent against Crown Point, and in March, 1760, he was appointed chaplain of the Third Connecticut Regiment in the expedition against Canada, in the campaign which resulted in the capitulation of Vaudreuil by which Canada passed to the British crown.

John Norton was married in Springfield, Mass., August 28, 1738, to Eunice, daughter of Luke and Elizabeth (Walker) Hitchcock. She was born in Springfield, March 2, 1712/3, and died in East Hampton, May 27, 1796.

The children of Rev. John Norton, so far as known, were:

i. Asenath,[5] b. ———; d. Jan. 2, 1810; m. Dea. James Bill.
ii. Elizabeth, b. Dec., 1740; d. May 18, 1770; m. Nathaniel Clark.

Reverend John Norton of Middletown.—In my article in the Register * for January, 1899, the statement is made that the children of John Norton, the first, iv John, born March 24, 1651, died January 15, 1657, and that the next child was v John, born October 14, 1657, who became John Norton, the second. This statement was questioned, and after a careful study of both town and church records, I am satisfied that a mistake has been made, not only by myself, but by Mr. Albert B. Norton and by Judge C. C. Baldwin, both of whom have published this family record. The Branford town records do not give the double dates for the year, between January 1 and March 25, as was customary, and the above death recorded as of January 15, 1657, occurred in 1657–8, or as we now write the year, 1658. Much study has been given to the name of the child born October 14, 1657. It has been pronounced John, Joseph and Joshua. I am satisfied it is not John, and I am further satisfied that the entry of January 15, 1657–8 records the death of this child. John Norton, the second, was therefore born March 24, 1651–2. His son Isaac married Elizabeth Galpin of Stafford, not Hartford as written, and the wife of his son Thomas was Elizabeth McIan, daughter of Robert and Sarah (Wilcoxson) McIan.

THE DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS NORTON OF GUILFORD, CONN.

Compiled by Hon. R. D. Smyth and communicated by Dr. Bernard C. Steiner.

Thomas Norton came to Guilford with Rev. Mr. Whitfield in 1639, was a signer of the Plantation Covenant, and served the town as its miller until his death in 1648. He is stated to have been a church warden of Mr. Whitfield's parish at Ockley in Surrey, England, and has been thought to have been connected with the Mortons of Sharpenhow, Bedfordshire. (Register, vol. xiii., p. 225.) Dea. L. M. Norton of Goshen identified him with Thomas, son of William Norton and his second wife Dennis Chelmsby, and put the date of his birth as about 1582. His home lot in Guilford contained two acres and was on the west side of Crooked Lane (now State Street). This lot fell to his son John, on Thomas Norton's death, and afterwards was occupied by Lieut. William Seward, his son-in-law. Thomas Norton also owned seventeen and one-half acres of upland in Norton's quarter, a parcel of four and one-half acres of "upland in the plaine" and a parcel of one and one-half acres of marsh land by the seaside. His wife was named Grace and her maiden name is supposed to have been Wells. [Note. In the Register for April, 1897, vol. li., p. 221, is a note by Elliot Stone, calling attention to the fact that Thomas Norton and Grace Wells were married in Shelton Parish, Bedfordshire, on May 5, 1631, and that their daughter Grace was baptized Jan. 13, 1632, in the neighboring parish of Deans. A son, John, was baptized Feb. 15, 1634. (See Blaydes' "Genealogica Bedfordiensis.") Mr. Smyth gave the birth of his children as follows: 1, Anne, about 1625; 2, Grace, about 1627, and 3, John, in 1640. Also that Thomas Norton of Ockley, Surrey, married Judith Howell in 1637. No explanation of his tangle can as yet be given.—B. C. S.]

The children of Thomas[1] and Grace Norton were:

i. Anne,[2] m. John Warner of Saybrook and Hartford, 1649.
ii. Grace, m. William Seward of Guilford, April 2, 1651. (See Register, July, 1898, vol. lii. p. 323.)
iii. Mary, b. about 1635; m. Dea. Samuel Rockwell of Windsor, April 9, 1658.

The children of John Norton were:

i. JOHN,[3] b. Nov. 18, 1666; d. Jan. 10, 1666–7.

vi. MARY, b. 1680.

3. THOMAS[2] NORTON, JR. (Thomas[1]) of Saybrook, was a farmer in prosperous circumstances. His education was good for the period. Dea. L. M. Norton thought that he was born as early as 1626. He left Guilford early, never being made a freeman there, and with fourteen others, on Sept. 9, 1662, signed a writing on the records at Saybrook, agreeing to sustain John Clark, Sr., and others in opposing the settlement of Killingworth at the Hammonassett river. He was made free at Saybrook, Sept. 9, 1668. The connection of the Nortons with Saybrook began early and when Mary Norton, his sister, was married in 1658 to Samuel Rockwell of Windsor, she is described in the records of the latter place as of Saybrook. After the death of his wife he lived for a while with his son Thomas in Saybrook, and later with his son Joseph in Durham. By instrument dated May 8, 1706, in the Saybrook records, he appoints Dea. William Parker and Dea. Nathaniel Chapman of Saybrook, and John Parmelee of Guilford, "overseers of all his estate and affairs," as well during life as after his decease, "to see the several settlements of his children performed, etc., on account of his "Inability and Incapacity by reason of old age." He owned extensive tracts of land at Saybrook, Cochinchauge (Durham), Middletown, and probably at Killingworth. He married Elizabeth Mason, daughter of Nicholas, May 8, 1671. She died Jan. 31, 1699.

Their children were:

By Frederick Stam Hammond, Esq., of Oneida, N. Y.

1. Capt. Richard[1] Olmstead was born in England, perhaps at Fairstead, Co. Essex, in 1608. His parentage has not been learned, but his "cousin" Nicholas[1] Olmstead, who is mentioned in his will, was a son of James Olmstead, of Cambridge, Mass., and Hartford, Conn., and was baptized at Fairstead, Feb. 15, 1612.

Richard Olmstead came to Fairfield about 1639, and probably settled in that part of the town which was incorporated into the town of Norwalk, in 1651. Fairfield originally embraced the territory which is now comprised in several towns, and extended so far north as to take in the present town of Redding, which was set off from it in 1677. His descendants became very numerous, and lived in nearly every town in the county. The records of many of these towns are very incomplete, and much material has been collected relating to this family which could not be used in this article on account of missing evidences of the proper connection.

So far as is known, Capt. Richard had but two children, James and John, but with him came one Nehemiah Olmstead, presumed to have been his brother, who died leaving an only daughter, Sarah. James Olmstead, of Cambridge and Hartford, also had a son named Nehemiah.

No record of the marriages of Capt. Richard has been found. He had large grants of land in Fairfield, which then embraced a considerable territory, and some of his lands were included in what were known as the "Long lots," which were narrow strips of land running from the coast line back some six or seven miles. The north line of these lots was in about the centre of the present town of Redding, and thus his heirs came into possession of lands at Chestnut Hill and Buckingham Ridge. He also had large grants in Norwalk after its incorporation, the record of his first grant being found on page i. of Vol. 1, Norwalk Land Records.

The original of his will, dated Sept. 5, 1684, is on file at Fairfield, but the seal is so nearly obliterated that no copy of it can be made. It is also recorded in Book III, page 217, Fairfield Probate Records. The following is an abstract:

*This genealogy has been compiled entirely from original records and documents in Fairfield County, Conn. No reference has been had to any printed work. The compiler has quite a collection of evidences from land records in the towns of Fairfield County, and also quite a collection of data relating to later generations of this interesting family.

No record of his death or of the births of his sons is found at Fairfield. Children:

2. i. JAMES,[2] b. about 1645–8.
3. ii. JOHN, b. about 1650.

2. LIEUT. JAMES[2] OLMSTEAD (Richard[1]) was born perhaps in Fairfield, Conn., before 1650. At the time of his marriage, and for many years prior to 1700, he held the office of Commissioner of Deeds at Norwalk. He married in Norwalk, May 1, 1673, Phebe Barlow of Norwalk, and died there in May or June, 1731. His will, dated Apr. 28, 1731, proved in Fairfield, June 12, 1731, gives to wife Phebe "all ye Real Estate which I am this day possessed of," which his sons Joseph and John were to have at their mother's decease. It adds, "My son Nathan, now deceased, has had his full portion of my estate."

His sons James and Samuel are not mentioned, and they probably died young.

Children, recorded in Norwalk:

i. JAMES,[3] b. Aug. 17, 1675.
ii. JOSEPH, b. Mar. 10, 1676–7; living in 1731; probably married and had a family.
4. iii. NATHAN, b. Apr. 27, 1678.
iv. SAMUEL, b. May 13, 1683.
5. v. JOHN, b. Aug. 14, 1692.

3. LIEUT. JOHN[2] OLMSTEAD (Richard[1]), perhaps born at Fairfield, about 1650, married first, July 17, 1673, Mary, daughter of Thomas Benedict of Norwalk; and married second, Elizabeth, widow of Thomas Gregory. No record of his marriages, the death of his first wife, or the births of his children, has been found. It is probable that his first wife died soon after the birth of his daughter Eunice, and that Elizabeth was the first child of the second wife. He died in Dec., 1704. His will does not appear on record, but an inventory of his estate was presented by the widow Elizabeth, Dec. 22, 1704, and in this inventory the names of the children appear with approximate ages; but the ages as given are not correct, as for example, the age of Mary is stated as about 18 years, while the records show that she had been married eight years at the time the inventory was made. The ages undoubtedly do indicate, however, the order of birth. The record of distribution, in Fairfield Probate Records, dated Apr. 17, 1705, shows that the widow Elizabeth was formerly the wife of Thomas Gregory. The others sharing in the estate were Daniel Olmstead, eldest son, Thomas Reed, Benjamin Wilson, Anna Olmstead, Jonathan Abbott, Samuel St. John, Richard Olmstead, John Olmstead, Elizabeth Olmstead, Eunice Olmstead, Deborah Olmstead, and Abigail Olmstead. A Joseph is mentioned, but whether Joseph St. John or not does not fully appear, as the language is rather ambiguous.

6. i. MARY,[3] b. about 1675.
   ii. JANE, b. about 1677; probably m. Benjamin Wilson.
7. iii. SARAH, b. about 1679.
   iv. REBECCA, b. about 1681: probably m. Samuel St. John.
8. v. DANIEL, b. about 1683.
   vi. RICHARD, b. about 1685.
   vii. EUNICE, b. about 1687; probably m. Joseph St. John.

Children by second wife:

9. viii. ELIZABETH, b. about 1690.
   ix. DEBORAH, b. about 1693.
   x. ABIGAIL, b. about 1696.
   xi. ANNA, b. about 1698.
10. xii. JOHN, b. about 1700.

4. NATHAN[3] OLMSTEAD (James,[2] Richard[1]), born in Norwalk, Conn., Apr. 27, 1678, married, Dec. 17, 1702, Sarah, daughter of Ralph Keeler of Norwalk, as shown in the will of Ralph.

Nathan died in Norwalk, Jan., 1716/17. The inventory of his estate, presented to the Probate Court in Fairfield, Jan. 12, 1716–17, by the widow Sarah, names children: Nathan aged 13, Samuel aged 10, James aged 8, Mary aged 6, Hannah aged 4, and Lydia aged 1 year last May.

Feb. 2, 1725/6, Samuel and James, sons of Nathan Olmstead, late of Norwalk, chose their uncle Moses Comstock as their guardian; and Oct. 14, 1757, they discharged their uncle Moses Comstock of Norwalk "from all the cares and concerns yt he did take of us" (Fairfield Probate Records).

Sept. 6, 1727, Mary, Hannah, and Lydia, daughters of Nathan Olmstead, late of Norwalk, chose their brother Samuel Olmstead as their guardian.

Children:

   i. NATHAN,[4] b. in Norwalk, Dec. 4, 1703; probably m. before 1727. Nothing has been learned about his family. In 1727, Oliver Arnold, a minor, of Norwalk, chose him as his guardian.
11. ii. SAMUEL, b. 1706.
   iii. JAMES, b. 1708; living in 1750. In 1748 he was on the bond of Hezekiah Deforest, Guardian of the children of David Deforest late of Norwalk. In 1750 he was one of the committee appointed by the Probate Court to make a division of the estate of Joseph Rockwell, late of Norwalk, among his heirs. Nothing has been learned about his family.
   iv. MARY, b. 1710.
   v. HANNAH, b. 1712.
12. vi. LYDIA, b. May, 1716.

5. JOHN[3] OLMSTEAD (James,[2] Richard[1]), born in Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 14, 1692, married, Feb. 29, 1717/18, Mary, daughter of "Robert Small, transient, sometime of Norwalk." He died in Norwalk, Oct., 1748; and Nov. 1, 1748, Gardner and Reuben Olmstead, of Norwalk, were appointed administrators of his estate.

Apr. 4, 1749, Nehemiah Gruman, of Norwalk, was appointed guardian of John Olmstead; and on the same date, Reuben Olmstead was appointed guardian of his younger brothers, Ichabod and Justice.

Jan. 12, 1748/9, in a distribution of the estate of John Olmstead, late of Norwalk, the following children are named: Sylvanus, Phebe the wife of Gardner Olmstead, Reuben, David, James, John, Ichabod, and Justice. It appears that the son recorded as Small was afterward called James.

Children:

i. SYLVANUS,[4] b. Nov. 25, 1718.
ii. PHEBE, b. Aug. 5, 1720; m. Gardner Olmstead.

7. SARAH[3] OLMSTEAD (John,[2] Richard[1]), born in Fairfield, Conn., about 1678 or 1679, married, June 5, 1696, Jonathan Abbott of Norfolk.

Children, recorded in Norwalk:

i. JONATHAN ABBOTT, b. Apr. 6, 1697.

8. DANIEL[3] OLMSTEAD (John,[2] Richard[1]), born in Fairfield, Conn., about 1683, married Hannah, daughter of Joseph Ketcham of Norwalk, as shown in the settlement of Joseph's estate. He resided in Ridgefield, Conn. Nothing has been learned about his children.

9. ELIZABETH[3] OLMSTEAD (John,[2] Richard[1]), born in Fairfield, Conn., about 1690, married, June 14, 1710, Henry Whitney.

Child, recorded in Norwalk:

i. Elizabeth Whitney, b. Aug. 24, 1711.

10. John[3] Olmstead (John,[2] Richard[1]), born in Fairfield, Conn., about 1700, married Mindwell ———, of Fairfield, who was born Sept. 8, 1696, and was admitted to the Church at Greenfield Hill, Conn., by letter from the First Church of Fairfield, Feb. 22, 1729/30. No. 49 in the Church record of deaths is Mindwell, wife of John Olmstead, but the date is not given. They probably lived in the north part of Fairfield, that part which later became Weston. No record of his death appears on the Church records. The baptisms of their children are found on Greenfield Church Records. Their children lived later in Weston, Redding, and Ridgefield.

In Fairfield Probate Records it appears that John Olmstead, of Fairfield, was chosen as guardian by Benjamin, son of Elijah Crane, deceased, in 1739, so his wife may have been of the Crane family.

Children:

i. Mindwell,[4] bapt. Mar. 3, 1727–8; d. young.
ii. Sarah, bapt. May 25, 1729; d. young.
iii. John, bapt. Oct. 10, 1731; probably m. 11. Samuel[4] Olmstead (Nathan,[3] James,[2] Richard[1]) was born in Norwalk, Conn., in 1706. He probably had a family, and lived to old age.

There were no less than five Samuel Olmsteads living in Norwalk at the same time, prior to 1800, known as Samuel, Samuel[2d], Samuel [3d], Samuel [4th], and Samuel [5th]. Three of these were nearly of the same age, and were married within a few years of each other. Nothing could be found on Norwalk Town Records to definitely fix the parentage of any of these.

Samuel [2d] married, Nov. 25, 1773, Anne Dunning of Norwalk, and had: Samuel, b. Dec. 17, 1774; Sarah, b. July 27, 1776; Hannah, b. Feb. 12, 1779; Stephen, b. Dec. 7, 1780; and Noah, b. Oct. 3, 1786.

Samuel [3d] married, Aug. 9, 1793, Betsey Disbrow of West Farms. (West Farms Church Records.)

Samuel [4th] married, Mar. 16, 1797, Rachel St. John of Norwalk, and had: Marillus, b. Oct. 15, 1797.

Samuel [5th] married, Nov. 12, 1795, Mercy, daughter of Rufus Keeler of Norwalk, and had: Lewis, b. Feb. 25, 1797; and Rufus Keeler, b. Oct, 27, 1799.

Perhaps one of these last two Samuels was son of Samuel [2d].

12. Lydia[4] Olmstead (Nathan,[3] James,[2] Richard[1]), born in Norwalk, Conn., May 1716, married in Norwalk, Dec. 7, 1738, as his second wife, Matthew Fitch. His first wife was Jemima St. John, who died at the birth of a daughter Jemima, Dec. 25, 1735.

JOHN OWEN OF WINDSOR, CONN., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

By William Arthur Owen of New York City

The surname Owen was borne by several of the early immigrants in Virginia, Pennsylvania, and other American Colonies, most of whom are believed to have come from Wales. Among the Owen settlers in New England, in the seventeenth century, were Thomas Owen, a merchant of Boston and a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in 1639, John Owen, who was at Windsor, Conn., as early as 1650, William Owen of Braintree, Mass., a freeman in 1657, whose children were Daniel, born 1 Aug. 1651, Deliverance, born 15 Feb. 1654/5, and Ebenezer, born 1 May 1657, and Samuel Owen of Springfield and Brookfield, Mass., who married in 1681 Ann, widow of John Pettee. It is the purpose of the compiler of this article to present, in genealogical form, an account of John Owen of Windsor, Conn., and some of his descendants.*

1. John[1] Owen, of Windsor,† born, probably in Wales, about 1622, died 18 Feb. 1698, the inscription on his gravestone in the old cemetery by the Congregational Church in Windsor reading: "John Owen aged 76 years dyed February y^e^ 18^th^: 1698:" The town records of Windsor, however, state that he was born 25 Dec. 1624, "so that in December 25, 1664 he was 40 years old," and they give his death as occurring 1 Feb. 1698/9, æ. 76. He married at Windsor, 3 Oct. 1650, Rebecca Wade, who died 3 Dec. 1711.

As to John Owen's ancestry, early life, emigration to America, and date of settlement at Windsor no information has been found; but the town records show his presence there in 1650. Since no town records prior to 1650 exist, much information as to the early history of Windsor has been lost. In a list of early settlers at Windsor, with the location of their home lots, prepared for the Hartford County Memorial History in 1883 by Jabez H. Hayden, a reliable list of all those persons who can be traced to Windsor before 1650, it is stated that John Owen, 1650, bought a lot, 12 x 29 rods, on the south side of the road leading west from Palisado, bounded east by Hosford's Lane, which was probably a little west of and parallel with the present railroad track, resided on this lot about twenty years, and then removed to a lot granted at the lower end of Strawberry Meadow. His house stood where the late Nathaniel Owen's residence was, the locality being formerly known as Wales, from John Owen's nationality. In the Windsor land records are entered a number of conveyances of land to John Owen and from him to his sons and others. His name is in the list of those who made voluntary contributions for the poor of other Colonies in 1676.

*A brief genealogical outline of some of the Windsor families descended from John[1] Owen may be found in Stiles's Ancient Windsor, vol. 2, pp. 544–547.

†All places mentioned in this genealogy are situated within the present limits of the State of Connecticut, unless another State or region is indicated in the text or may be easily inferred from the context.

Josiah Owen moved from Windsor to Simsbury, where he became one of the proprietors; and from 1679 on numerous grants and conveyances of land to and from him are entered in the Simsbury records. The baptisms in Simsbury in 1698 of Isaac, Mary, Abigail, Elizabeth, John, and Rachel, children of Josiah Owen of Windsor, are recorded in the church records by Rev. D. Woodbridge. About 1697 Josiah Owen returned to Windsor, where he lived until his death, which is recorded there. i. Daniel,[3] b. 25 Nov. 1682 (Wells's Early Land Records of Connecticut).

5. Joseph[2] Owen (John[1]), of Windsor, Simsbury, and Lebanon, born at Windsor 23 Oct. 1660, probably died at Lebanon between 1735 and 1746. He married, as various conveyances show, Esther ———.

He settled in Simsbury, probably about 1683, when, on 7 May, he was given 20 acres on Samon Brook, the same as other Samon Brook men. He was subsequently given other pieces of land, on Samon Brook, Manatuck, etc. In 1687 he was one of the forty-nine inhabitants of Simsbury who agreed to call and pay Edward Thompson as minister; and for this he and other subscribers received in 1688 grants of land to run from Simsbury east bounds over the mountain, his lot being No. 18. In 1688 he was one of the fifteen men who received land at Hopp Meadow, for agreeing to build there and to settle families there, his lot being No. 11. In 1692 Joseph Owen, then of Windsor, sold his lands on Samon Brook to Samuel Wilcoxen, Jr., of Simsbury; and in 1708 Joseph Owen, Sr., of Lebanon sold his Lot No. 18, from Simsbury over the mountain, to Isaac Owen of Windsor. Joseph Owen's name appears on the Windsor records in several conveyances of land in 1701 and 1703. On 21 Nov. 1703 the land records of Lebanon show conveyance of a tract of land at that place to Joseph Owen of Windsor by Daniel Mason of Lebanon; and in 1707 land was conveyed to Joseph Owen, then of Lebanon. In 1721 a tract of 40 acres on the westerly side of the highway was laid out by the proprietors of Lebanon to Joseph Owen, Sr., for his common right in the village land. In 1735 Joseph Owen of Lebanon, in consideration of good will and the expectation of comforts and support for himself and his wife Esther from his son, Joseph Owen, Jr., conveyed to him certain of his lands and property in Lebanon; and during the same year also he conveyed for good will certain of his lands in Lebanon to his sons Joshua, Moses, Caleb, and Aaron.

It is apparent from the above-mentioned records that Joseph Owen, Sr., was settled in Simsbury from about 1683 to 1692, when he returned to Windsor, and that he settled in Lebanon about 1703. About 1746, probably after the father's death, his son Joseph moved to Salisbury. The births of his children Ann, Joseph, and Moses are recorded in Simsbury. No record of the births of the others has been found.

In 1759 he acquired of Jacob Redington 25 acres in Lebanon. Other conveyances of land to and from him as a resident of Lebanon are dated in 1759, 1760, and 1762. In 1695 his father gave him a parcel of land in Windsor, called Poquonock; and in 1697 the father made over to his sons Isaac and Obadiah other lands. 5. Rev. John Jason, D.D., b. 13 Aug. 1803; d. 18 Apr. 1869; m. (1) Elizabeth B. Webb; m. (2) Lavinia B. Heath. He was a well-known clergyman, classical scholar, writer, and teacher; and his career is given briefly in Stiles's "Ancient Windsor," vol. 2, p. 547, and in various biographical dictionaries. His first two children by his first marriage died in infancy, and the third, Edward Jason,[7] b. 28 Nov. 1835, was a lawyer in New York City.
6. Edward Hezekiah, of New York City, lawyer, b. 10 Dec. 1808; m. (1) Jane Augusta Livingston; m. (2) Sarah Seymour Nash. Three children by first wife and two children by second wife.
7. Roger Leonard, b. at Watertown, N. Y., 2 Apr. 1812; d. unm. at Houston, Tex., 8 Nov. 1839. He enlisted in the Texan war for independence, and served until its close.

22. JONATHAN[4] OWEN (Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] John[1]), born at Lebanon 27 Oct. 1718, died not later than 11 Sept. 1759, when administration on his estate was granted by the Sharon probate court to Patience Owen, his widow. He married at Lebanon, 1 May 1740, PATIENCE VALLANCE, living 3 June 1777, daughter of William and Joanna Vallance.

Jonathan Owen's father conveyed land to him in Lebanon in 1740 and in Salisbury in 1746, and other conveyances to and from Jonathan Owen are recorded in Salisbury from 1746 to 1757. The Salisbury land records show that Patience Owen of Salisbury purchased in 1767, from Isaac Bentley, a house and small piece of land, which she sold 3 June 1777 to Daniel Bradley. In the deed to Bradley she was described as a resident of Westmoreland Township, Litchfield Co., Conn., a place in the Wyoming Valley, near the present site of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in the part of Pennsylvania then claimed by Connecticut under the old charter of the Colony. Anning Owen, a son of Eleazer Owen, who fell in the Battle of Minisink (N. Y.) in 1779, is frequently mentioned as a pioneer minister in the early days of the settlement in the Wyoming Valley; but further trace of Patience Owen and her family at Westmoreland has not been found.

Children:

i. WILLIAM,[5] b. at Lebanon 7 Apr. 1741 (recorded also at Salisbury); m. in Sept. 1766 LOIS CALKINS of Sharon, b. 20 May 1745, daughter of John and Elizabeth Calkins. On 7 Feb. 1760 he chose John Gay of Sharon to be his guardian.

ii. JONATHAN, b. at Lebanon 18 Mar. 1742/3 (recorded also at Salisbury). He chose David Owen for his guardian, 26 May 1761. He is apparently the Jonathan Owen who served in the Revolution in the New York Militia, in the Second Regiment of Ulster County, under Col. James McCloughry.

iii. MARY, b. at Salisbury 16 Apr. 1745.

iv. OLIVER, b. at Salisbury 24 Sept. 1748; d. at Jamesville, Onondaga Co., N. Y., about 1802; m. ———. He chose John Gay, Esq., to be his guardian, 22 Nov. 1762. He served in the Revolution in the New York Militia, in the Second Regiment of Ulster County, under Col. James McCloughry. The United States Census of 1790 gives him as residing in Mamakating Township, Ulster Co., and the Census of 1800 in Manlius, Onondaga Co., N. Y. He was an early settler in Onondaga County, at Jamesville, where he erected a sawmill in 1795. His son, Nathaniel[5] Owen, administered his estate in 1802. The Onondaga County records show that on 12 Nov. 1794 Lot No. 92 was granted to Oliver Owen of the township of Manlius by Peter Townsend of Goshen, Orange Co., N. Y., and that on 30 July 1817 John B.[6] Owen, son of Oliver Owen, deceased, was a party to a transaction with George Holbrook of Manlius, N. Y., about this Lot No. 92. It appears that Oliver Owen and his brother Solomon served together in the Revolution, and that both were early settlers in Onondaga County.

v. JOSEPH, b. at Salisbury 20 Feb. 1750/1.

28. vi. AMASA, b. at Salisbury 10 Feb. 1753.

vii. ELEAZER, b. at Salisbury 16 Apr. 1755 (recorded at Sharon). He is probably the Eleazer Owen who served in the Revolution in the New York Militia, in the Second Regiment of Ulster County, under Col. James McCloughry.

viii. SOLOMON, b. at Salisbury 14 Apr. 1757 (recorded at Sharon); living in 1810; m. in what is now Lafayette Township, Onondaga Co., N. Y., in 1793 (the first marriage in the township), LOIS ROUNDS, living in 1799, daughter of Comfort Rounds. With several of his brothers he served in the Revolution in the New York Militia, in the Second Regiment of Ulster County, under Col. James McCloughry. He was a resident of Mamakating Township, Ulster Co., N. Y., in 1790, and of Pompey, Onondaga Co., N. Y., in 1810. He settled in Sherman Hollow, in what is now Lafayette Township, Onondaga Co., in 1793, being one of the earliest settlers there. John Wilcox was the first white settler in the town, in 1791, and Comfort Rounds the second, in 1792. The Onondaga County records show that in 1799 Lot No. 75 in Pompey was granted to Solomon Owen and Lois his wife. The land records of Sharon, Conn., show that in 1806 Solomon Owen and Nathaniel Owen (son of Oliver), heirs of Jonathan Owen, sold to Adonijah Morum their interest in 15 acres in Sharon owned by Jonathan Owen at the time of his death and not sold by the order of the Court of Probate by which his estate was settled, the deed being acknowledged before a justice of the peace of Onondaga County in 1809.

ix. SARAH, b. at Salisbury 16 May 1759 (recorded at Sharon). The Sharon probate records, in naming the children for whom their mother, Patience Owen, was appointed guardian on 11 Sept. 1759, name this one as Submit, born 16th of May last. She is recorded in the vital records of Sharon as Sarah.

23. ELEAZER[4] OWEN (Moses,[3] Joseph,[2] John[1]) was born at Lebanon 24 Jan. 1720/1. He married at Ashford, 20 Feb. 1744, JERUSHA RUSS.

25. ELIJAH[4] OWEN (Elijah,[3] Isaac,[2] John[1]) was born at Windsor in 1738/9. He married, 8 Mar. 1762, LYDIA CLARK, who died at Lee, Mass., 28 Nov. 1838, aged 95, daughter of Joel Clark and granddaughter of Samuel Clark and his wife Abigail, who was a daughter of Josiah[2] Owen. (Cf. 2, iv, 1.)

In her will, made at Otis, Berkshire Co., Mass., in 1835 and proved in 1839, Lydia (Clark) Owen names her son Elijah Owen, his wife Hannah, and their son Harvey, the heirs of her deceased daughter Lydia Adams, her daughter Hannah Sutliff, the heirs of her late sons Shem and Silas Owen, and her sons Daniel, Erastus, Joseph, Pelatiah, Joel, and Oliver.

The probate records for the Hartford District show that on 2 June 1741 Asahel Owen, a minor, aged 15, son of Asahel Owen, late of Sheffield, Mass., chose Maj. William Pitkin to be his guardian.

*Henry had children: Mary,[8] Harvey, and William Henry.
†Elijah had children: Charles H.,[8] George H., and Edward. The family of Charles Hunter Owen reside at Hartford, Conn.

27. Edward[5] Owen (Asahel,[4] Josiah,[3] Josiah,[2] John[1]), born probably at Bolton, Conn., or at Sheffield, Mass. (cf. supra, No. 17), died prior to 14 Apr. 1787. He married at Sheffield, Mass., 2 Oct. 1759, Elizabeth Joy (Sheffield records).*

He moved from Sheffield, Mass., to Pittsford, Vt., in 1774 (Caverly's History of Pittsford). The town records of Pittsford show that Edward Owen of Pittsford purchased 55 acres of land adjoining that of Joshua Woodward, part of the second division of the original right of David Oaks, 23 May 1776 (vol. 1, p. 135). The names of Edward Owen, Abdon Owen, and Abraham Owen appear in the published record of Vermont Revolutionary soldiers. Abdon Owen of Pittsford sold and conveyed, 14 Apr. 1787, to Josiah Eddy his equal part of the 55 acres of land which had been owned by his father, Edward Owen, deceased.

Children:

i. Rebecca,[6] b. at Sheffield, Mass., 30 Mar. 1761.
ii. Abdon, b. at Sheffield, Mass., 25 Nov. 1762; m. ———, and moved to Valley Falls, N. Y. (cf. Caverly's History of Pittsford, Vt., p. 717).

v. Ursula, m. William Ward of Pittsford.
vi. Thursey, m. Asbond Polley, who was drowned 12 Apr. 1790 (Pittsford records).
Child (surname Polley):
1. Ephraim, b. at Pittsford 19 Jan. 1790.

28. Amasa[5] Owen (Jonathan,[4] Joseph,[3] Joseph,[2] John[1]), born at Salisbury 10 Feb. 1753, died on a farm near Neville, Clermont Co., Ohio, in 1817, and was buried on the one acre of the farm set apart as a burial ground and reserved for that purpose when the farm was sold by his heirs in 1822. He married Sarah Osborn, born at Salem, Westchester Co., N. Y., 13 June 1763 and baptized there 17 July 1763, second child of John and Eunice Osborn. Sarah (Osborn) Owen married secondly, 3 Jan. 1819, Solomon Dill of Clermont County, who died in 1820. After the marriage of her son Joseph Owen, who went to a farm nearby on Bear Creek, she made her home with him. Her name appeared on the tax rolls of Clermont County until 1846, which was probably the date of her death. She was buried by the side of her first husband, in the burying ground on the farm which had been their home.†

*According to Caverly's History of Pittsford, Vt., p. 47, Edward Owen m. at Sheffield, Mass., Elizabeth Torrey.

†The family tradition that the maiden name of Amasa Owen's wife was Sarah Osborn and that she came from New York State is confirmed by the Osborn family record in her mother's Bible, according to which Sarah Osborn was married to Amasa Owen; but the date of the marriage was not recorded, and the Osborn family appear to have had no further record of Sarah and her husband.

John Osborn, of the Osborn family of Ridgefield, Conn., and his wife Eunice, the parents of Amasa Owen's wife, lived at Salem, Westchester Co., N. Y., just across the line from Ridgefield. He died at Salem in 1782, leaving a widow and twelve children, who, within a few months after his death, moved to Mamakating Township, Ulster Co., N. Y., near the present site of Otisville, Amasa Owen was left fatherless at the age of six, and his mother, Patience Owen, was appointed guardian for him and her other younger children. Later she moved to the Wyoming Valley (vide supra, p. 56). In 1770, when nearly seventeen years of age, he chose for his guardian Elijah Foster of Sharon.

The published records of New York in the Revolution show that Jonathan Owen, Oliver Owen, Amasa Owen, Eleazer Owen, and Solomon Owen served in the Ulster County Militia, in the Second Regiment, under Col. James McCloughry, Maj. Moses Phillips, and Capt. Benjamin Vail and Capt. Abraham Cuddeback, and that Amasa Owen served also in the levies of New York under Col. Frederick Wassenfels. The published records of Connecticut in the Revolution do not appear to show that these brothers served from their native State. The information given above about Oliver Owen (22, iv) and Solomon Owen (22, viii) shows that they, who settled in Onondaga County, N. Y., about 1793, were the sons of Jonathan Owen of Salisbury, deceased, and that they came to Onondaga County from Mamakating Township, Ulster Co., N. Y., whence they had served in the Revolution. It therefore seems reasonable to assume that Jonathan, Amasa, and Eleazer Owen, who served in the same regiment, were their brothers. The records of the War Department, in the Adjutant General's office in Washington, show that Amasa Owen's service in the Second Regiment of the Ulster County Militia was during 1778 and 1779. The original manuscript roll (vol. 1, p. 139), in the State files at Albany, N. Y., shows his service in the levies of New York in 1781 under Lieutenant Colonel Wassenfels, Capt. Henry Brewster, Lieut. Charles Stewart, and Lieut. George Harsen.

In the United States Census of 1790 are found the names of Jonathan and Joseph Owen in Cannon Township, Columbia Co., N. Y., Jonathan Owen and Jonathan Owen, Jr., in Walkill Township, Ulster Co., N. Y., Oliver and Solomon Owen in Mamakating Township, Ulster Co., N. Y., William Owen in New Cornwall Township, Orange Co., N. Y., Jonathan Owen in Clinton Township, Dutchess Co., N. Y., and Jonathan Owen in Philipstown, Dutchess Co., N. Y.

In the Old Records Division of the Adjutant General's office, in Washington, was found the payroll of Paymaster Daniel Britt, for the troops of the United States in the Western Department from 1 Jan. to 31 Dec. 1790, the roll of the First Regiment, under Lieut. Col. Josiah Harmar, containing the in what is now Orange County, N. Y. A list of their children, with their birth dates, is contained in the records of the South Salem Presbyterian Church.

This John Osborn was a descendant of Capt. Richard Osborn, who sailed from London, 17 Feb. 1634, aged 22, in the ship Hopewell, bound for Barbados (Hotten's Original Lists, p. 39). In 1635 Richard Osborn was one of the company who met with Rev. Peter Hobart and drew for home lots in the settlement of Hingham, Mass. In the Pequot War in 1637 he was a volunteer from Windsor, and for service in that war the General Court at Hartford, 4 June 1639, granted to him 80 acres of land, which was set off by Peter Burr and another man in the town of Ridgefield.

names of 674 privates, in 12 companies. In Capt. Erkurius Beatty's company one of the 55 names enrolled was that of Amasa Owen, which was on the roll for the full twelve months, indicating that he had apparently enlisted prior to the first of the year and continued in the service after the close of the year. On the cover was written: "This Regiment of Infantry was in the Expedition against The Miami Indians in Sept. and Oct. 1790" (at Fort Washington). Much has been written as to the early settlements at Fort Harmar (Marietta), Fort Washington (Cincinnati), and along the Ohio Valley about this time, and of the forces under General Harmar who were engaged in defense of the settlers against the hostile Indians; but little has been found as to the personal history of those who filled the ranks. It seems, however, that this Amasa Owen is the one referred to above and in the following lines.

Amasa Owen was an early settler in Clermont County, Ohio (about thirty miles east of Cincinnati), where he was an elector in 1803 in Washington Township, in the first election of which the poll books were preserved. A family tradition is that he and his family came West from Pennsylvania, where his home was on Owen's Island, near Fort Pitt, from which he was driven by Indians. In 1806 he bought from John Obannon 101 acres of land near Neville, on what was then called Bear Creek, but is now known as Maple Creek, a little below and on the same side as McKendrie church, now the Longworth farm, being a part of Survey No. 834 for 700 acres, originally made to Alexander Parker 26 Dec. 1787.

In his will, proved in Aug. 1817, Amasa Owen names his wife Sarah, his sons Elijah, Daniel, Amasa, John, Jacob, and Joseph, and his daughters Delilah Gregg, Sarah Crosiar, and Eunice Owen.

Children:*

i. Solomon,[6] b. 26 Nov. 1783; perhaps d. young, as he is not mentioned in his father's will.

ii. Elijah, b. 18 Mar. 1785; died about 1837, when his estate was administered by his widow, Mary Owen; m. (1) in Pendleton County, Ky., 29 June 1811, Polly Hendricks; m. (2) Ann ———, who joined with him in 1822 in conveying inherited land in Clermont County, Ohio; m. (3) in Campbell County, Ky., which until 1840 included Covington and what is now Kenton County (marriage bond dated 9 June 1827, with Platt Kennedy as bondsman), Mary Holland, who survived him, widow of Ashiba Holland. On 8 June 1842 Mary Owen, late Mary Holland and widow of Ashiba Holland, and the latter's daughter, Elizabeth Holland, conveyed to John B. Casey Lot No. 154, on Scott Street, Covington, Ky. (Kenton County records).

Children, probably by first wife:

1. Amasa,[7] living 3 Jan. 1839; m. Polly ———. On 3 Jan. 1839 Amasa Owen and his wife Polly and James Owen and his wife Sarah conveyed to M. M. Benton property in Covington, Ky., which had been acquired 12 Jan. 1832 by

*The births of these children are recorded in the family Bible of Amasa Owen. Vide infra, pp. 69–70, Addendum.

Elijah Owen from Stephen Lancaster and which was described as property that had descended to the grantors as children and heirs at law of Elijah Owen, deceased.

2. James, living 3 Jan. 1839; m. in Campbell County, Ky. (marriage bond dated 13 Nov. 1832, with Elijah Owen as bondsman), Sally E. Bright. (Cf. supra, 28, ii, 1.)

iii. DELILAH, b. 3 Oct. 1787; m. ——— GREGG.

iv. POLLY, b. 3 Nov. 1789; perhaps d. young, as she is not mentioned in her father's will.

v. DANIEL, b. 10 Jan. 1791; living in La Salle County, Ill., in 1850; m. POLLY ———, who joined with him in 1822 in conveying inherited land in Clermont County, Ohio. He is apparently the Daniel Owen who appears in the United States Census of 1840 as head of a family in La Salle County, Ill., consisting of himself, aged 50 to 60, a male, aged 15 to 20, and two females, aged respectively 30 to 40 and 10 to 15. The Census of 1850 gives in La Salle County Amasa Owen, a native of Indiana, aged 30, and head of a family that included a wife, three children, and Daniel Owen, a native of Ohio, aged 61. In the United States Censuses of 1860, 1870, and 1880 this Amasa Owen and family who were in La Salle County, Ill., in 1850 are found in Brown County, Kans., but without the elder man, Daniel Owen. A grandson of Eunice (Owen) Holland (28, i, x), named Isaac Myers, who knew Amasa Owen of Brown County, Kans., states that he was of the family of Owens of Clermont County, Ohio. It is evident, therefore, from the data here assembled, that he was the son of Daniel Owen.

Child:

1. Amasa,[7] b. in Indiana about 1820; living in Brown County, Kans., in 1880; m. Maria ———, b. in Indiana about 1826. Children: Daniel,[8] b. in Illinois in 1845, Eunice, b. in Illinois in 1849, Benjamin, b. in Illinois in 1855, George, b. in Kansas in 1858, Isaac, b. in Kansas in 1861, Alfred, b. in Kansas in 1863.

30. vi. AMASA, b. 26 Mar. 1793.

vii. JOHN, b. 3 Sept. 1795; probably the John Owen who m. in Clermont County, Ohio, 31 Dec. 1817 (Joseph Larkin, J.P., officiating), ANN JAMES (Clermont County records). His wife "Nance" joined him in 1822 in conveying inherited land in Clermont County.

viii. SARAH, b. 15 Feb. 1798; d. at Utica, La Salle Co., Ill., in 1871; m. 29 Jan. 1817 (Joseph Larkin, J.P., of Clermont County, Ohio, officiating) SIMON CROSIAR, b. near Pittsburgh, Pa., d. at Utica in Nov. 1846. He had migrated from Pennsylvania to Ohio in 1815, and with his family went from Clermont County, Ohio, to Illinois in 1819, settling finally in Utica. They were pioneers in that region, and the Crosiar family has since then been a prominent family in La Salle County.*

Children (surname Crosiar):

1. Amasa O., b. in Clermont County, Ohio, 12 Oct. 1817; m. (1) Sarah Brown; m. (2) 16 Oct. 1853 Lavinia Brown, b. at Crawford, Ind., in 1833, sister of his first wife. One daughter by first wife and at least nine children by second wife.†

*For a sketch of this family and for the early history of Utica see "The Past and Present of La Salle County, Illinois," pp. 333 and 457–460, published by H. F. Keer & Company in 1877, and also "History of La Salle County, Illinois," by Elmer Baldwin, 1877, pp. 354–360.

†Children of Amasa O. Crosiar: — Child by first wife: 1. Zulekiah, b. 16 Mar. 1852; m. Bedford Fisher, who d. in 1913 in California, whither they moved in 1907. A son, George Amasa Fisher, b. in 1879, lives at Los Angeles, Calif. Children by second wife: 2. Ella, b. 2 Sept. 1854; m. William E. Turner, who d. at Eugene, Oreg., 9 Apr. 1925. ISAAC OWEN OF HEBRON, CONN., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

By Mrs. Clifford J. Huyck of West Brookfield, Mass.

In the Register for January 1929 (vol. 83, pp. 39–70) appeared* an article entitled "John Owen of Windsor, Conn., and Some of His Descendants," by William Arthur Owen of New York City.

The following article concerns Isaac[4] Owen (No. 8, vi.) and some of his descendants.

1. Isaac[4] Owen (Josiah,[3] Josiah,[2] John[1]), of Hebron, Conn., born 28 July 1710 (Hebron records), died at Hebron 30 May 1761. He married, 20 July 1738, Rebecca Tilden, born 7 Mar. 1716/17, daughter of Isaac and Rebecca (Mann) Tilden.

In his will, dated 27 May 1761, Isaac Owen named his dearly beloved wife Rebecca, and his children, Elijah, Abel, Elizabeth, Jonathan, John, and Isaac. The inventory of his estate was made 13 June 1761, the allotment to the heirs was allowed on 23 Dec. 1762, and the distribution of his estate was made 6 Mar. 1763.

On 4 Apr. 1763 Eliphalet Case, husband of Martha Owen (a sister of Isaac), was made guardian of Jonathan, John, and Isaac Owen, the three minor sons of Isaac[4] Owen. Amos Owen (a brother of Isaac) became bondsman for Eliphalet Case. (Probate Records at the State Library at Hartford, Conn.) On 1 Apr. 1773 Eliphalet Case was acquitted as guardian of the three children and Amos[4] Owen, brother of Isaac Owen, took the bond and care and trust into his own hands (op. cit.).

"To the Honorable Joseph Spencer, Judge of the Court of Probate for the district of East Haddam; Sir: This may inform you that Eliphalet Case was appointed guardian over the three sons of Isaac [Signed] Amos Owen. May 29, 1775" (op. cit.).

Children, born at Hebron:

i. ELIJAH,[5] b. 24 Feb. 1739/40; m. 21 Oct. 1762 DEBORAH HOLDRIDGE of Hebron.

Elijah Owen, with his brothers Abel and Jonathan, settled at King's District, later Canaan, Albany Co., N. Y.,* where he bought the Erastus Rowley farm.

Children:

1. Hannah,[6] b. 18 June 1763.
2. Elijah, m. Mehitable Nash. Child: (1) Augustus Holdridge,[7] b. at Lennox, Madison County.

v. JOHN, b. 22 Jan. 1758.

"To the Honorable Joseph Spencer, Esquire, Judge of the Court of Probate, for the District of East Haddam, this may certify that John Owen, a minor, in the 16th year of his age, son of late Isaac Owen, of Hebron, deceased, personally appeared this day before me the Subscriber for Hartford County, and made choice of his brother, Elijah Owen of King's District in the County of Albany, for his guardian. Dated Hebron, Oct. 4, 1773. John Phelps, Justice of Peace." (Probate Records at the State Library at Hartford, Conn.)

vi. ISAAC, a soldier in the Revolution, b. 15 Nov. 1760.

On 17 Feb. 1775 Isaac Tilden was bonded in the sum of £200, English money, and was elected guardian of Isaac Owen, a minor, of the town of Hebron, to make a true account of guardianship to ward, when arrived at full age, then this above obligation to be void. [Signed] Isaac Tilden, Richmond, Berkshire Co. Massachusetts; Elijah Buel of Colchester. (Probate Records at the State Library at Hartford, Conn.)

2. ABEL[5] OWEN (Isaac,[4]), born at Hebron, Conn., 3 Apr. 1743, died in Cortland County 25 July 1827, aged 84 years. He married first, possibly at Old Canaan, Berkshire Co., Mass., about 1766, ———, who was living in 1777 and probably died at New Lebanon; and secondly, ELIZABETH ABBOTT of Stephentown, daughter of Nathan and Hulda Abbott.

Abel Owen was living at New Canaan, Albany County, as early as 1 Oct. 1777, when Isaac Preston of New Canaan sold for £31 to "Jonathan Owen and Abel Owen of the same County, town and provence" a lot of land. About 1784 Abel Owen sold his share in this lot to his brother Jonathan and went to Stephentown.

Abel Owen served in the Revolution as a soldier "in the Line, 2nd Regiment, Col. Phillip Van Cortland, General Stephen Van Renssalaer." (New York in the Revolution, p. 36.)

*All places mentioned in this genealogy are situated within the present limits of the State of New York, unless another State or region is indicated in the text or may be easily inferred from the context.

Soon after the close of the [Revolutionary] war, Abel Owen, a Revolutionary soldier [then living in New Lebanon] received 200 acres of land in Stephentown from General Stephen Van Renssalaer as an inducement to settle there. (See History of Renssalaer County, p. 547.) He went to Grafton, built a home, and moved his family there.

"Abel Owen, a Revolutionary soldier, is belived to have been the first settler in Grafton." (Landmarks of Renssalaer County, p. 562.)

On 19 Feb. 1790 Abel Owen of Stephentown bought from Matthew Vischer of Albany for £25 lot 76, consisting of 600 acres, in the town of Pompey (then in Herkimer County), a part of the "Military Tract." It was on this land that Solomon Owen, son of Abel Owen, settled the next year.

According to the 1790 Census it is evident that Abel Owen was living at Stephentown in 1790 and that his family consisted of himself, his two oldest sons Solomon and Lewis, both over 16, his daughter Lucy, his son Roderick (under 16), children by his first wife; also his second wife, Elizabeth, whom he had probably married at Stephentown about 1784, and their three children, Hannah Maria, Anna, and Almond, all born at Stephentown. Charlotte his oldest daughter had been married to Ebenezer Hill, Jr., of Grafton, and was living with her family near her father, Abel Owen.

Abel Owen occupied his farm until about 1795, when he sold his place to Lemuel Steward, Esq., and with the rest of the Owens removed to Lysander, Onondaga Co., and settled on a lot which was awarded to him as a Revolutionary soldier. (See History of Renssalaer County, p. 547.)

The Abel Owen home in Grafton is now (1935) Mountain Top House, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moon, on the road between Petersburg and Troy. The History of Renssalaer County states: "Abel Owen, being a somewhat prominent citizen, the old road running from Petersburg to Grafton is called in all the old leases 'Owen Road.' It is now a part of the Taconic Trail."

The will of Abel Owen, dated 16 Feb. 1827, mentions "my three children by my present wife, that is to say, Anna Owen, Almond Owen, and Hannah Maria Owen," "my four children, Solomon Owen, Roderick Owen, Charlotte Hill, the wife of Ebenezer Hill, and Lucy Demmon, the wife of Jason Demmon," "my wife Elizabeth" and "Eunice Weld, the daughter of my last wife."

Jonathan Owen, a minor, was bound out 18 Oct. 1766 to Ezra Strong. The same year he, together with his brothers Elijah and Abel, and Ezra Strong, John Strong, and Isaac Tilden went to Richmont [now Richmond, Berkshire Co.] in western Massachusetts.

On 1 Oct. 1777 Jonathan Owen and Abel Owen, his brother, both residents of New Canaan, Albany County, bought land there from Isaac Preston. About 1784 Jonathan Owen bought his brother's share in this land.

On 14 May 1791 Abraham Havens of Canaan, Columbia County, sold to Jonathan Owen, of Canaan, for £100, "a certain piece or parcel of Land, lying and being in Canaan, County of Columbia and State of New York, butting and bounding as follows—West on Lands of the said Jonathan Owen, Southerly by said Owen's Land to Land of Ebenezer Darling to a White Oak Tree, then Easterly on said Darling's land to the Land of Abel Mott then northerly to the road, from thence northerly to Joshua Green's Land thence westawardly on the said Green's Land to the first mentioned Bounds to the same, more or less butted and Bounded."

Solomon Owen went to Pompey in 1792 with James Sherman, a Revolutionary soldier, of Berkshire County, Mass., and later of Stephentown, and built a home on Lot 76, where he raised his family.

He owned a brickyard on his farm between his home and the home of Ebenezer Hill, and made high-grade bricks for building purposes. Two Colonial-style houses built of these hand-made bricks about 1810 for Solomon Owen and Ebenezer Hill by John Woodruff, Sr., contractor, still stand on Lot 76, which is now in the town of Lafayette. The Hill home is owned by Florence H. Hill and Robert Hill, great-grandchildren of Ebenezer Hill, and the Cherry Valley turnpike crosses their beautiful meadow not far from the house.

Solomon Owen and his family lived at their home (which was in that part of Pompey which became Lafayette in 1825) until 1836, when he sold the brick house and 225 acres of land to Calvin Cole, and with his family and married children went to Palermo. The old farm at Lafayette was in 1935 the home of George Palmer.
